

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 40.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1827.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 1424 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter, May 12, 1879.
Post Office No. 425.
Telephone: Quincy 1910.

Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust

LAND FOR SALE

—AT—
MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Wollaston Farm

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building. Tel. 847-W
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street. Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1820 by
W. PORTER
Insurance effected in reliable and safe
stock and Mutual offices.

By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 70 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hanover Street, Quincy

ETNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual

Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1914.
Cash Capital,	$5,000,000.00
Net Surplus,	6,290,200.83
Surplus for Policyholders,	$11,290,200.83
Reserve for Re-Insurance,	$1,000,000.00
Reserve for Unpaid Losses,	$22,208.94
Reserve for Other Claims,	$72,622.34
Total Assets,	$22,411,232.94

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk,	$9,591,223.10
Cash Assets,	$18,000.00
Total Assets (including re-insurance),	$18,018.00
Amount of Cash Surplus,	$101,946.58
Contingent Assets,	$101,946.58
Total Available Assets,	$217,964.58

Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies 40 per cent; on three-year policies 30 per cent; on one-year policies 20 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS—Treston R. Mansfield, Dedham; Frederick D. City, Dedham; Samuel Gannett, Milton; Charles M. Farnum, Boston; William E. Smith, Dedham; Joseph H. Schell, Dedham; Samuel H. Capen, Dedham; Andrew R. Bodelin, Dedham; George L. Barnes, Weymouth.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk,	$28,053,937.57
Cash Assets,	$44,739.67
Total Assets (including re-insurance),	$28,108,677.24
Amount of Cash Surplus,	$338,602.00
Contingent Assets,	$338,602.00
Total Available Assets,	$1,099,244.42

Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies 40 per cent; on three-year policies 30 per cent; on one-year policies 20 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary

DIRECTORS—Stephen M. Weld, Dedham; Thomas P. Draper, Canton; William E. Smith, Boston; James K. Noyes, Dedham; George W. Wiggins, Franklin; Asa P. French, Quincy; Herbert M. Thompson, Needham; Clifford J. Baker, Dedham

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
INCORPORATED 1855
HOME OFFICE, 10 CENTRAL STREET

Telephone, Main 1040.

William A. Muller, President
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer

DIRECTORS—Paul R. Blackburn, Attorney
Clarence Burgh, Treas. Quincy Savings Bank
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
J. F. Felt, Pres. Mass. Bonding and Ins. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower & Weeks
Louis R. Liggett, Pres. United Drug Company
Wm. J. McGaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas W. G. Plant Co.
Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Solicitor
William A. Muller, William A. Muller & Company
Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests
P. F. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Street Railway Co.
John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons
John A. F. Wild, Pres. Wellington-Wild Cost Co.
Sardell J. Willis, Blue Hill National Bank

We reduce your Insurance Rate One-Fifth.

ORDER YOUR KINDLING WOOD NOW

We have it now: we shall be out of it very soon

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices:
Neponset, Boston
166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

With footstep drawing near:
The beckoning of our Saviour's hand we follow;
His loving voice, in faith, we hear Saying, henceforth no death, no tear.
—Joseph F. Brown.

When U Want
Plumbing and Heating
Work Done

In any part of your home, store or factory, and want it done in first class style.

SEND FOR US

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.
Sanitary Plumbing
GAS FITTING
FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK
No. 5 Maple St.,
Quincy, Massachusetts

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue,
Neponset. Telephone
1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

QUINCY COMMANDERY

Em. Sir Albert W. Fay, received a cordial greeting Monday evening when he entered the asylum of Quincy Commandery, Knights Templars of which he had the honor of being the first commander, and whose institution was due in a great measure to his indefatigable work. Em. Sir Fay has been ill and this was the first time for many months that he has been able to attend a convocation of the commandery.

It was the annual convocation of Quincy Commandery and after the reading of annual reports of the treasurer, recorder, finance committee and trustees, the following organization was perfected for the coming year, Commander John Morgan and all of the elective officers being re-elected. The elective and appointive officers: Commander—John Morgan; Grand Master—Otis B. Oakman; Captain General—Dr. Edward H. Bushnell; Senior Warden—John H. Whitehead; Junior Warden—George L. Cole; Prelate—Hartley L. White; Associate Prelate—Rev. Dr. Isaiah W. Sneath; Treasurer—Jonathan S. Swingle; Recorder—Alfred H. Richards; Standard Bearer—Charles A. Chase; Sword Bearer—George B. Deschamps; Warder—Waldo R. Fay; Captains of the Guard—Arthur S. Bryant, James Christie, Henry R. Terhune; Assistant Guards—James McDonald, Mark L. Read, Jr., James A. Black; Organist—Herbert V. Follett; Sentinel—Arthur Crowley; Adjutant—Charles H. Ferguson; Trustee Permanent Fund, 2 years—Albert W. Fay.

After the election the presence was announced of Rt. Em. William H. H. Seale, past grand commander of the Grand Commandery of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, and an honorary member of Quincy Commandery, who was present for the purpose of installing the newly elected officers. He was accompanied by Em. Sir Henry P. Farnham, grand commander of the Grand Commandery of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, and an honorary member of Quincy Commandery, who was present for the purpose of installing the newly elected officers. He was accompanied by Em. Sir Henry P. Farnham, grand commander of the Grand Commandery of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, and an honorary member of Quincy Commandery, who was present for the purpose of installing the newly elected officers.

Commander Morgan presented the Right Eminent with a Quincy Com-

mandery badge, and box of confectionery, which he was enjoined to take home as a peace offering. Em. Sir Farnham also received a box of confectionery for the same purpose. Then the Right Eminent had his innings and he presented Commander Morgan with a Past Commander's Jewel.

At the conclusion of the convocation refreshments were served and there was a social hour.

WHEELER-BOUCHARD

Miss Yvonne Ernestine Bouchard, daughter of Mrs. Wilhelmina Bouchard of 278 Water street, one of Quincy's prettiest girls and until a week ago one of the information operators at the Quincy exchange, on Monday evening became the bride of Ernest A. Wheeler, office manager of Swift and Co., at Lynn, Mass., and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wheeler of Lewiston, Maine.

The ceremony was performed at St. John's parish house by Fr. Michael J. Owens, pastor. Miss Emma Bouchard, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Albert Cowett of Quincy was best man.

The bride was gowned in white lace over white satin. Her bridal veil, of tulle was caught up with orange blossoms and she carried bride roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a pink crepe meter, trimmed with lace and a picture hat of black velvet trimmed with pink roses. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses.

The parents of the bride and groom assisted in receiving at the reception at the home of the bride. Nearly a hundred were present, among them being guests from Attleboro, Melrose, Boston, Beverly, Beaumont and Medford and Lewiston, Me.

They were the recipients of many gifts of cut glass and silver, together with a substantial check from the employers of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler's honeymoon will be spent at Lewiston, Me., the home town of the groom, after which they will reside at 445 Essex street, Lynn.

ACROSS THE STORE COUNTER

A lady entered a store where hats and caps were kept, and turned over the whole stock. Nothing seemed to suit her taste.

"Have you none of a subdued mouse color?" she asked at last.

For a moment the salesman was staggered but he recovered his breath. "No madam," he replied, "but we have some in enraged rat color—YOUTH'S COMPANION."

COMING AND GOING

"All mortal life is out coming and going."—Gladstone.

Coming from out the far abyss behind us.
We entered here:
No word came with our coming to remind us
What wondrous world was near;
No dread, no fear.

Going, what can we carry beyond death's portal?
No gold, no gains;
Of all the tolling of our souls immortal,
No hoarded wealth remains,
Only sins and stains.

Going, what may we take into the vast forever!
Admits no earnings of our long endeavor;
No royal crowns we wore,
No garnered lore.

Going, into the great unknown before us.
All alone we glide;
No hand has mapped the conciliar ways of our
No loved one at our side,
No chart, no guide.

Yet fearless of that midnight, dark and hollow,
With footstep drawing near:
The beckoning of our Saviour's hand we follow;
His loving voice, in faith, we hear Saying, henceforth no death, no tear.
—Joseph F. Brown.

THE DELFT TEAPOT

Ada Rose laid the soft folds of the white gown across a chair. Her fingers touched it caressingly; upon her face came a half smile.

"To think," she said softly to herself, "to think after all it's going to come true." Again her hands fell to smoothing the white stuff. "Only two weeks now," she finished, "of two dreams in her eyes."

She had often wondered when it would be possible for the dream to come true—it was so long since the white stuff had been bought—it was even longer since she and David had agreed that waiting was the only way.

David Thurston was one of those men who pass through youth on the road to middle age, and he was determined to adjust his own desires and ambitions to the needs of those dependent upon him. His father and mother were both old, the former helpless, and his farm was but half cleared. Then there was the father of Ada Rose. It was quite plain that David must keep on his feet, and he was determined to do so.

The bright sunshine seemed to mock her as she sat there in the old rocker that had been her mother's and her grandmother's before her. But at last the glare of light softened into evening shadow and night came. After the dishes were washed she sat down again by the window. She was sitting there when the stage from the station stopped in front of the house, and a shrill, piping voice cried, "Don't you touch me—I can get out alone. You see to the trunk."

Ada Rose went to the door. A tall, bent, old woman was toiling up the path. She had a cane in one hand and a bundle heavily upon it; in the other hand she carried a Delft teapot. She looked up and saw Ada Rose standing in the doorway.

"Be you my niece, Hazard's girl?" The sharp, deeply set eyes played over her face like a rapier.

"Ada Rose held out her hand. "You are Aunt Miranda?" she said. "Come in, on must be tired."

"The old lady's left of her," growled the old woman. "What with the railroad drivers, it's a shinin' wonder I'm alive! For land sake, light a fire and make me a cup of tea. I'm all beat out."

Ada Rose swung open the door into the room that had been her father's. "Take off your things," he said in a dull voice. "I'll make the tea."

She could hear the groans of her father as he moved about in the next room. "If the woman had appealed to her warm heart she might have felt a little more as though she could muster up strength to face the situation; but to give up all that life held dear for this was more than she could bear."

Before many hours had passed it became quite evident that Aunt Miranda had a will of her own, and a most decided one. She immediately cleared the kitchen shelf and placed upon it the Delft teapot that she had carried in her hand all the way from Melton.

"Don't you touch it," she admonished Ada Rose with uplifted finger. "I'll see to dustin' it myself. It's valuable."

Ada Rose listened to the history of the precious relic that had been brought over from Holland by Aunt Miranda's grandmother and had been so miraculously preserved that not even a crack had appeared to disfigure its appearance. She noticed with a dull sort of curiosity that her aunt carried it into her bedroom every night where it could be under her watchful eye. But, important as was the welfare of the Delft teapot to Aunt Miranda, Ada Rose was unable to muster up much enthusiasm upon the subject.

Her harassed mind ran upon David and her she should tell him. It seemed to her that she could never do it. In the meantime she went about with white face and was so silent that Aunt Miranda melted a little and suggested composition tea in a manner intended to be kind and considerate.

The days went by until the one arrived when David was expected home. It was late afternoon and Ada Rose sat idly by the south window. She looked up as Aunt Miranda appeared from the spare room. Over her arm she carried a white dress, and as Ada Rose saw what it was she grew white to the lips. It was her wedding dress that she had laid away in the lower bureau drawer only a few days before the wedding dress that she had made with tender fingers, and now could never wear. She opened her mouth to speak, but no words came. Aunt Miranda advanced.

"Here's a dress I found in a bureau," she said. "I don't see what business it's got lying in there, when it might be made over plain and do you some good."

An articulate cry came from the white lips of Ada Rose. With a spring she snatched the dress from the arms of her astonished relative, and, opening the door of the bedroom, flung it upon the bed. Then she rushed from the house.

Down the path she fled and up the hill to the orchard, where she flung herself down under a great tree. It was the place where she had often found a haven when childish troubles were to be faced alone, and today she instinctively sought it as a refuge.

Then she steeled herself with both hands against the casing, for talking with Aunt Miranda was David.

Had Aunt Miranda told him she had come to stay? If so, his face did not show any evidence of disappointment and grief. There was only one thing to do. She must go in and get it over. After that nothing would matter any more. She made her way to the door and opened it.

As she entered both David and Aunt Miranda rose to their feet. David stepped forward, but she waved him back.

"Wait—no, come into the next room; I've got to tell you."

She swayed a little, and David, placing a gentle arm about her, led her over to the rocker by the south window. But the greatest change was in Aunt Miranda. She came and bent over Ada Rose.

STREET RAILWAY FARES

A 44-page pamphlet has been completed by the Bay States Street Railway Company, for the general public, giving a schedule of the proposed increase in fares, which the company proposes to put into effect Oct. 1. It is planned by the Public Service Commission to give the public ample time to study the schedule, before beginning its hearings.

For all of the divisions a uniform increase of one cent in the five-cent cash fares is asked and a provision for the sale of nine tickets for 50 cents is made, these tickets, however, only to be good within certain transfer limits. In all of the divisions the new schedule provides for the withdrawal of special transfer privileges granted during workmen's hours and the withdrawal of all reduced rate tickets except school tickets sold at one-half the regular rates. With the increases the transfer privileges are extended.

The proposed increases in through fares run from 1 cent to 18 cents, and in some cases the proposed fares are more than double the present fares. The present transfer privileges are in many instances cut down and the fare zone greatly shortened. In some cases the transfer privileges are extended.

The changes in the local transfer limits and its fare collection point that relate to Quincy and Braintree are as follows:

Neponset-Nantasket
Transfer privileges at branch to Squantum line—Transfer privileges to and from Squantum to Quincy square instead of Quincy-Weymouth line, to through and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Quincy Corner—Transfer privileges to and from Weymouth Centre instead of Weymouth Centre and Quincy-Weymouth line, to through and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Hingham square—Transfer privileges to and from Weymouth Centre and Hingham-Weymouth line instead of Weymouth Centre and Quincy-Weymouth line, to through and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Quincy square—Transfer privileges to and from Weymouth Centre and Quincy-Weymouth line, to through and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Braintree depot—Transfer privileges to and from Braintree-Weymouth line and Newcomb square to South Braintree square instead of Braintree-Holbrook line, to through and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at South Braintree square—Transfer privileges to and from South Braintree depot to Braintree-Holbrook line, to through and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Lincoln square—Transfer privileges to and from Weymouth Centre and Quincy-Weymouth line, to through and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Central square—Transfer privileges to and from North Weymouth postoffice, instead of New Downer Landing, Fort Point and Back River Bridge to the Weymouth-Braintree line, to transfer and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Jackson square—Transfer privileges to and from Lovell's Corner instead of South Weymouth depot and the Weymouth-Hingham line to the Weymouth-Braintree line, to transfer and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Braintree depot—Transfer privileges to and from South Braintree instead of Braintree-Randolph line and Braintree-Holbrook line to Braintree-Weymouth line, to transfer and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Lincoln square—Transfer privileges to and from Weymouth Centre and Quincy-Weymouth line, to through and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Central square—Transfer privileges to and from North Weymouth postoffice, instead of New Downer Landing, Fort Point and Back River Bridge to the Weymouth-Braintree line, to transfer and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Jackson square—Transfer privileges to and from Lovell's Corner instead of South Weymouth depot and the Weymouth-Hingham line to the Weymouth-Braintree line, to transfer and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Braintree depot—Transfer privileges to and from South Braintree instead of Braintree-Randolph line and Braintree-Holbrook line to Braintree-Weymouth line, to transfer and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Lincoln square—Transfer privileges to and from Weymouth Centre and Quincy-Weymouth line, to through and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Central square—Transfer privileges to and from North Weymouth postoffice, instead of New Downer Landing, Fort Point and Back River Bridge to the Weymouth-Braintree line, to transfer and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Jackson square—Transfer privileges to and from Lovell's Corner instead of South Weymouth depot and the Weymouth-Hingham line to the Weymouth-Braintree line, to transfer and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Braintree depot—Transfer privileges to and from South Braintree instead of Braintree-Randolph line and Braintree-Holbrook line to Braintree-Weymouth line, to transfer and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Lincoln square—Transfer privileges to and from Weymouth Centre and Quincy-Weymouth line, to through and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Central square—Transfer privileges to and from North Weymouth postoffice, instead of New Downer Landing, Fort Point and Back River Bridge to the Weymouth-Braintree line, to transfer and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Jackson square—Transfer privileges to and from Lovell's Corner instead of South Weymouth depot and the Weymouth-Hingham line to the Weymouth-Braintree line, to transfer and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Braintree depot—Transfer privileges to and from South Braintree instead of Braintree-Randolph line and Braintree-Holbrook line to Braintree-Weymouth line, to transfer and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Lincoln square—Transfer privileges to and from Weymouth Centre and Quincy-Weymouth line, to through and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Central square—Transfer privileges to and from North Weymouth postoffice, instead of New Downer Landing, Fort Point and Back River Bridge to the Weymouth-Braintree line, to transfer and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Jackson square—Transfer privileges to and from Lovell's Corner instead of South Weymouth depot and the Weymouth-Hingham line to the Weymouth-Braintree line, to transfer and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Braintree depot—Transfer privileges to and from South Braintree instead of Braintree-Randolph line and Braintree-Holbrook line to Braintree-Weymouth line, to transfer and local passengers.

Transfer privileges at Lincoln square—Transfer privileges to and from Weymouth Centre and Quincy-Weymouth line, to through and local passengers.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

By Q. W. C. T. U.

OUR PLEDGE.

I hereby promise, God helping me, to abstain from all distilled, fermented, and malt liquors, including wine, beer, and cider as a beverage and to employ all proper means to discourage the use of and traffic of the same.

FOR VALUE RECEIVED

The liquor interests have unwittingly given prohibition in West Virginia much valuable publicity. Their frantic efforts to prove that a deficit in the state treasury is due to the loss of liquor revenue has called forth from loyal citizens of the "little mountain state" strong testimonials on the subject. In the light of the moral, social and economic benefits derived from the prohibitory law, testified to by men of every class, a deficiency of a few thousand dollars seems comparatively little important.

As a matter of fact the loss of the $600,000 a year in revenue to West Virginia as a result of the adoption of the constitutional prohibition amendment does not impose upon the individual taxpayer any burden worth considering. In a letter written by the state auditor, which has recently been made public, he shows that five cents additional state taxes on the hundred dollar valuation will take care of the money loss on liquor licenses. This would cost a man whose property was assessed at $1,000, fifty cents; if he has $2,000 worth, he would have to pay one dollar, and if he had $10,000, he would be obliged to expend five dollars. So much for the enormous load of taxation being thrust upon the property owners of the state because of prohibition! The payment of such insignificant amounts would certainly appeal to a level-headed business man as a mighty good investment.

COUNCIL FIRE

A grand council fire of the Camp Fire Girls was held at Faxon park September 24th at four o'clock with four Quincy Camp Fires participating. They were Wampatuck Camp Fire, Miss Ruth Bass, guardian; Quisset Camp Fire, Miss Marie Bass, guardian; Passonagessit Camp Fire, Miss Beatrice Morrison, guardian, and Chickatawbut Camp Fire, Miss Alice Brooks, guardian.

The twenty girls who took part in the ceremonial made a very pretty picture as they sat, dressed in the ceremonial costumes of khaki with head bands and strings of colored honor beads, in a wide circle around a real fire. A special feature was the singing of a new song by the Chickatawbut Camp Fire, the words of which were written by Miss Lucille Snow, one of its members. The Quisset Camp Fire welcomed 24th new members, Miss Odile LaBrecque, Miss Augusta LaBrecque, Miss Grace Gooding and Miss Madeleine Macarty. There were several guests present.

After the ceremonial, the girls had a picnic supper and enjoyed bacon and marshmallows cooked over the fire.

LUTHER S. PHELPS

The funeral of Luther S. Phelps, who died at the home of his sister, Mrs. L. T. Smith, 127 Hickman avenue, Squantum, was held September 24th at the home of Mrs. Smith. Rev. James DeNormande of the First Parish (Unitarian) of Roxbury, officiated. He also officiated at Mr. Phelps' marriage twelve years ago, to Ida S. Leighton, who now survives him.

The casket was covered with handsome flowers. There were beautiful sprays of cut flowers and bouquets from the Ladies Aid of the First Church of Squantum, Mrs. Luther S. Phelps, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Smith, George W. Smith, Herbert N. Phelps, Mrs. Fred Phelps, Marshall Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Phelps of Athol, Mrs. Helen Phelps of Hingham, Mrs. Susan Phelps of Townsend, Mrs. Clara Lane of Waltham, J. P. Hargraves of West Groton, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Leighton of North Andover, Luther P. Leighton, George W. Knowlton of Boston and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Paul of Squantum. Burial was in North Abington.

Mr. Phelps was a native of Sterling where he lived for 72 years in the house in which his father Stuart Phelps was born. For many years he was in the cooperative business in Lunenburg. He was married 12 years ago to Ida S. Leighton. Besides a widow he is survived by one brother, Herbert S. Phelps, and five sisters, Mrs. Clara Phelps of Waltham, Mrs. Lizzie Spaulding of Townsend Harbor, Mrs. Charles H. Andrews of West Groton, Miss Susan Phelps of Townsend Harbor and Mrs. Fred Marshall Lane of Leominster.

HACKETT-ROSS

Rodney B. Hackett, of Quincy, a former resident of Biddeford, Maine, was united in marriage at Biddeford, September 24th, to Miss Angeline Louise Ross, daughter of Mrs. Carrie Ross of that city. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride, Rev. William Y. Morrison, of Jefferson Street Baptist church, officiating.

Miss Cora Roberts of Kennebunk was the bridesmaid and Carl Ross a brother of the bride was the best man. A reception followed the ceremony after which the bridal party left for a wedding trip. They will reside in Quincy.

The bride is a graduate of the Kennebunkport High school. She is a graduate nurse of the Maine General Hospital. The groom is a graduate of the Biddeford High school and is an electrician.

The Seen and Heard men in the Record suggests that public drinking fountains, which are going out of use, be used, as Henry Phillips of the charity of the wealthy may be lavished on the automobilist of slender means who becomes stalled in the midst of his trip for want of the fluid.

FUNERAL MRS. TARBOX

The funeral of Mrs. William Tarbox of 161 Grand Avenue who died Saturday at the City Hospital was held Monday from her late home. The service was held at the City Hospital, where she died, by Rev. Dr. Isaiah W. Sneath of the Wollaston Congregational church. The burial was at Mt. Hope cemetery where the committal service was read by Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra of St. Chrysostom's church.

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, October 2, 1915

SQUANTUM TO PROTEST

Members of the Squantum Improvement association voiced their protest against any increase of fares on the Bay State Street Railway at their regular meeting in Richards Memorial hall this week. It was voted to send a committee to take the organizations which are protesting the fare increase in Quincy, also to work independently in sending a committee to protest the fare rate.

Former President William N. Kenyon called attention to the fact that the Bay State Street railway had its present tracks and line to Squantum presented to it by the late Mr. Titus when he sought to attract business to the Squantum Inn when it was first built.

Mr. Kenyon declared that after receiving the property as a gift, the company now sought to increase fares on one of the shortest lines of the whole Bay State Street railway.

Most of the Squantum residents used the cars to travel to and from Atlantic station a distance of a little over a mile and a half. The running time is about 7 minutes. The Bay State proposes to charge 6 cents for a seven minute ride or at the rate of a cent a minute.

Mr. Kenyon declared that the car put on the Squantum line were the refuse of the entire system and that they were all ready to fall apart. He could not see why any commission would ever justify an increase in the fare rate on such a short haul and such a poorly equipped line.

James Hagan seconded the remarks of Mr. Kenyon and said that there was not a section of line on the entire Bay State system where the patrons of the road received so little for their money as on the Squantum line.

President James H. Sumner presided at the meeting and William Whitely read the report as secretary. The street car committee reported that the street cars had agreed to hold the school car at Squantum from 1 to 1.30 P. M. daily so as to give the school children 10 minutes additional time for their lunch at home.

Mr. Kenyon of the banquet committee reported that all preparations had been made for a fine time at Nelson hall Saturday night. It is expected that Mayor Campbell will attend and speak. The postal service committee reported that an extension of service had been granted until Nov. 1. The Board of Health will be asked by the association to continue the collection of garbage and rubbish during the winter months.

It was voted that the secretary send letter of sympathy to the family of the late John Jepson, Sr., who died recently. Mr. Jepson was a member of the Squantum Improvement association.

COOK-PINKHAM

Dr. James H. Cook of South Quincy and Miss Marion Louise Pinkham, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Benjamin E. Pinkham of Boothby Harbor, Me., were united in marriage Wednesday evening. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride, Rev. E. Lewis Wall, officiating.

County Atty. James B. Perkins was best man and Mrs. Perkins matron of honor. Margaret and Janet Morgan were ring bearers and the ribbon bearers were Grace Tibbets, Mrs. E. C. Blake, Miss Nina J. Lincoln, Allen Morang, Millicent Maddocks and Grace Pinkham.

Dr. and Mrs. Cook held a reception from 8.30 to 10 o'clock. They were assisted in receiving by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Cook of Brookline, Mass.; the bride's mother and Mrs. E. C. Blake. The ushers were George Dudley and Leslie Blake.

Dr. Cook was graduated from Brookline High School and Tufts College, after which he spent a year in hospital work and is now practicing in East Braintree and Quincy. The bride has been employed in the local Postoffice for eight and one-half years and for the past three and one-half years has been assistant postmaster.

Dr. and Mrs. Cook left at 10.30 for a week's trip and will be at home after Nov. 1 at 128 Franklin street, Quincy.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CLUB

There was a good attendance Wednesday evening at the weekly meeting of the Young Women's club in the Adams Academy building. The evening was given up largely to completing plans for the Community day next Saturday afternoon and long-distance telephone. They listened on a 2500 party line, one of the largest ever installed, to a band at the Exposition playing "The Star Spangled Banner."

William Hurley of 16 Elm street, the 15 year old high school boy who discovered the fire in the tailor shop in the Greenleaf block at midnight Friday and promptly sounded an alarm from Box 24, the hero of the fire, was the guest of honor. He was presented with a certificate of appreciation for his heroic deed.

Next week Thursday evening the open reception to the classes of the club will be held.

Everybody will want to hear the varied vaudeville program which will be given in the community hall on Saturday evening. The afternoon program will be from 4 to 5 and the evening program from 7.30 to 8.30 and will include new and old favorites.

Among the attractions will be a ladies' quartette, a costume song and dance by "Miss Greenway" and a skit by Miss Lillian Ruff and Bert Budd entitled "First Aid to the wounded." Miss Florence Barker, whose solo dances have been so much enjoyed will dance and the young favorites Miss B. Morrison and Bruce Saville will give a little curtain raiser, entitled "The Happy Pair."

MCLEOD-HADDEN

Miss Jean Hadden, daughter of Mrs. Susan Hadden of Intervale street was united in marriage Wednesday evening to J. Daniel McLeod of this city. Rev. Edward Norton, pastor emeritus of the Bethany church officiating. The bride's parents were present and left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip to New Hampshire, returning from which they will make their home on Goddard street, South Quincy. The bride wore a brown travelling suit with hat to match.

BRIEFS

Hon. Russell A. Sears of Glendale road has gone to California on a month's trip.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Dyer have returned from a month's visit pleasantly spent with his sister in Maine.

Junior Auxiliary of Christ church will hold its first meeting of the season in the parish house Saturday.

Christ Church Women's Guild is to hold a business meeting in the parish house Thursday afternoon at half past two.

The annual meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery association is to be held Tuesday afternoon at half past two at the Quincy Women's clubhouse.

Mrs. Forest B. Royal is prolonging her stay in Quincy being a guest of the H. Gerrish Smiths of Presidents hill.

Mrs. Russell P. Keene, and Mrs. Herman L. Keene and children of Francis road, have returned from Winthrop, Maine.

Court Officer William M. Marden resumed his duties at the District Court Monday after a three weeks' vacation, spent at his farm at Hanson, Mass.

The building occupied by the Walker-Stetson Company on Essex street, Boston was slightly damaged by fire early Sunday morning.

James Connell, chauffeur of steamer No. 1 and Mrs. Connell are receiving congratulations on the birth this morning of a ten-pound son.

An important business meeting of St. Margaret's Guild of Christ church is scheduled for Tuesday evening which it is hoped the gifted young women of the parish will attend.

The new granite sidewalk on Upham road looks as though it had been down ten years instead of a few days. It is so scratched and marred by children with roller skates.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sanborn who are occupying Miss Prescott's house on Russell park have leased one of the steam heated suites in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street.

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. McCue of 115 Upham road on the birth of an eight pound boy at noon Saturday. They are now the parents of two boys.

Louis Ross, manager of the Wardwell alleys leaves Sunday for New York on a short trip. He plans to attend the sailing of 3000 Italian reverts on Monday.

The organization of the Quincy Trust Company which was granted a charter Tuesday will be completed next Tuesday. It is reported that all of the stock has been subscribed for at $125 a share.

Mrs. Carman, mother of W. F. Carman of Edwards street, returned Tuesday to her old home in California after several years residence in this city. She was accompanied by her brother.

Mrs. H. Gerrish Smith of Presidents hill is making an extended visit in Washington, D. C., going on to visit her son Raymond Smith at Annapolis and to place her daughter Miss Betty Smith in school at the Chevy Chase seminary.

E. W. B. Willey, aged 60 years, formerly of Quincy, a well known genealogical writer and employed by the biographical publishing company to secure data for a work on Massachusetts families died suddenly Saturday at Pittsfield.

Rev. Dr. Archibald of Newton Center occupied the pulpit at the Bethany church Sunday preaching at both the morning and evening services. Next Sunday the parishioners of the church will welcome Rev. Edward Norton, pastor emeritus who will preach at the morning and evening service.

Carl F. Prescott of Farrington street, Wollaston, sailed for New York Saturday by way of the Panama canal for California to attend the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco. He expects to be away some time his address being the San Francisco Y. M. C. A.

Russell T. Anthony who has served as treasurer of the Republican City Committee tendered his resignation last week at the regular meeting and ex-Mayor Eugene R. Hays was unanimously elected his successor. Mr. Anthony resigned because business engagements will require his absence from the city.

John F. Hyland, William J. Hadley, Joseph E. Lund and J. Frank Scott of the local telephone exchange were among the 5000 who gathered in Mechanic's building Monday evening, to hear Boston and San Francisco exchange greetings over long-distance telephone. They listened on a 2500 party line, one of the largest ever installed, to a band at the Exposition playing "The Star Spangled Banner."

William Hurley of 16 Elm street, the 15 year old high school boy who discovered the fire in the tailor shop in the Greenleaf block at midnight Friday and promptly sounded an alarm from Box 24, the hero of the fire, was the guest of honor. He was presented with a certificate of appreciation for his heroic deed.

BRIEFS

A meeting of the Adams Chapter, D. R., will be held next Monday at the birthplace of President John Adams.

Notices have been posted on the John Quincy Adams farm prohibiting the shooting of pheasants.

Mrs. Nellie Pratt and Mrs. Sarah C. Williams were the winners of the matinee whist party of Maple lodge, K. L. of H. in Electa hall on Tuesday.

The Primary Department of the Bethany Sunday school held a supper and social in the chapel Tuesday evening.

Auto combination three, the latest addition to the fire department, responded on its first bell alarm Tuesday at 9.15 from Box 41.

Miss Julia E. Underwood of Codding street is returning today from a four weeks' visit to her niece in North Adams.

George Pawsey and family for many years residents of Rock Island farm have rented the apartment at 141 Upham road.

There will be a Suffrage street rally at the corner of Hancock and Chestnut streets tonight at seven-thirty.

Joseph B. Grossman, of the registrars of voters and Mrs. Grossman are receiving congratulations on the birth Thursday of a daughter.

John E. Johnson of Germantown, on a business trip to Chicago; Danforth, Iowa and the great middle west.

The alarm from Box 432 at 3.30 A. M. Friday was a false alarm. The firemen found two policemen at the box when they arrived, but no signs of a fire.

Henry P. Kittredge has been appointed a member of the committee on ballots for Norfolk county, at the Republican state convention in Tremont Temple Saturday.

Col. Henry L. Kincaide of Quincy and Hon. Guy Ham were the speakers at an informal dinner party of the Tinsboro Club held at the Boston City Club Thursday evening.

Rev. George E. Leighton, state superintendent of Universalist churches of Massachusetts is to preach at the Universalist church Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

A pipe which contained lighted tobacco started a fire Tuesday in a bureau drawer in the house at 237 Granite street occupied by Mrs. C. E. Nelson and owned by B. S. Wallin.

Several members of Quincy Loyola Orange Lodge received second degrees at the meeting in Protection hall Tuesday night. The degrees were conferred under the direction of M. I. Jones, master of ceremonies.

Jacob E. Shield, C. S. B. and member of the Board of Lecturers of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, will lecture on "Scientist Science" at Braintree town hall, Sunday at 3.30.

Five souvenirs were awarded at the Monday evening whist party of 30, Wollaston Club in I. O. O. F. hall. The high scores were Albert W. Prescott, Albert J. Williams, Mrs. Martha A. Jones, Elmer Sprague and H. Yeager.

Mrs. William R. Thomas is seriously ill at her summer home at Nantasket. Mrs. Thomas, who is the wife of former Rep. William R. Thomas of Quincy, was stricken ten days ago. A trained nurse has been in constant attendance since then.

Joseph Fishery of 185 School street and his bride, Ellen Wallin of Watertown, are on their honeymoon after which they will make their home in Quincy. They were married at Watertown by Rev. William J. Duffy on Sept. 26. The groom is a track foreman and well known in Quincy.

The yacht Albatross which was ashore on Sheep Island Sunday night during the gale was brought back by her moorings off the Quincy yacht club house Monday. Her stem was somewhat damaged where she was upon the rocks, and she was badly wrecked.

Miss N. W. Paine of Winthrop and Miss A. B. Smith of Roxbury gave a week-end party at the bungalow of Dr. C. A. Highland of Rock Island, Quincy. Among those present were Miss Agnes Ferron, Miss Nurino Doyle, the Misses Evelyn and Edith Winchester, Dr. Walsh, Dr. O'Connor of Worcester, John A. Gilman, Thomas McGarrity, John Chase and William Bowman. Mrs. Wilson Hubbell of Winthrop, chaperoned the party.

There is much interest manifested in the Dirigible War Plane, to be shown at the Brockton Fair this year. There has been so much in the press in the recent weeks of the Zeppelins and the fighting machines of the air, this opportunity will be appreciated by many. The Fair management have engaged one of the best Dirigible Aviators in the country, Frank Goodale, who will make two flights each day of the Fair, illustrating the various war maneuvers, and also bomb dropping. In addition to this feature, there will be Balloon ascensions and parachute drops each day.

The Auto Show, which is a new feature this year, and the first to be held at the Brockton Fair, is the Massachusetts Dealers' Association, bids fair to be a most interesting exhibition. The cars will not be shown in tents, as at some fairs, but in well-appointed and commodious buildings, attractively decorated.

WEST QUINCY

Miss Ellen O. O'Connell and Miss Kathryn M. Shea of Common street are returning Tuesday from a ten days stay at Plymouth, New Hampshire.

The prompt discovery of an incendiary fire in the granite plant of Cole & Cole on Centre street a few minutes after midnight Saturday prevented the destruction of the work, and blocked the attempt of a foreigner to satisfy a grudge he bore the owners. The police are making an investigation. The flames were first seen by a person who lives in the neighborhood. He telephoned for the fire department and the blaze was extinguished before much damage was done.

Mrs. W. F. Pyany, 15 Buckley street left Tuesday for Centre Harbor, N. H., where she has obtained employment. Her daughter Martha, 14 years of age, will remain in Quincy.

Hanna Johnson of 20 Copeland street and Eric E. Norling of 27 Wollaston street were married at City Hall Thursday. City Clerk Emory L. Craze officiated. The groom is a carpenter by trade. After a honeymoon trip the couple will live in Quincy.

James Doyle of Marsh street, fell at his home on Sunday morning and sustained a fracture of his right wrist. He is at his home and is reported as being comfortable.

Mary A. Connor, widow of Patrick Connor, and a long time resident of South Quincy died Thursday morning at the family home, 54 Payne street. She is about 80 years of age and was the mother of Mrs. Katherine Howard, Miss Annie Connor, James P. and Timothy Connor.

Mrs. Ella C. Phillips and grandson, Garfield Holbrook of 163 Independence avenue, have returned from a visit to the Panama Exposition, and some of the western states.

SQUANTUM

Miss Lora Churchill of Ocean street is spending her vacation in Maine.

Mrs. John R. Nelson and son, Richard and Nelson, have returned from an extended stay at Caribou, Maine.

A vested boys' choir has been added to the First Church of Squantum under the direction of James H. Foster and made a very creditable showing at its first appearance at the church last Sunday. The members of the choir are: Harold Moseley, Joseph Uppling, Jr., Oscar Friberg, Walter Grant, Roy Olson, Arthur Olson and Robert Grant. It is assisted by Joseph Uppling, Sr., James H. Sumner and James Foster.

The Electric Boat Company of Quincy, was the low bidder for the submarines to be built for the United States on the Atlantic coast. The bids which were opened Tuesday called for the construction of eight or more on the Atlantic coast at $523,000 each, the first to be completed within seven months.

The new submarines are to be of the coast defense type, displacing from 150 to 500 tons. They will measure less than 200 feet in length, will have a speed of 14 knots on the surface and 11 knots submerged. Each will carry a three-inch gun of the disappearing type recently perfected at the Naval gun factory.

The specifications call for quarters for about 20 men on each boat and space for stores to permit the craft to remain away from base for 30-day periods.

The maximum cost of each vessel, of armament and submarine signaling and radio outfits was fixed by Congress at $550,000. The act provides that under certain conditions five of the boats shall be built on the Pacific Coast.

Joseph Fishery of 185 School street and his bride, Ellen Wallin of Watertown, are on their honeymoon after which they will make their home in Quincy. They were married at Watertown by Rev. William J. Duffy on Sept. 26. The groom is a track foreman and well known in Quincy.

The yacht Albatross which was ashore on Sheep Island Sunday night during the gale was brought back by her moorings off the Quincy yacht club house Monday. Her stem was somewhat damaged where she was upon the rocks, and she was badly wrecked.

Miss N. W. Paine of Winthrop and Miss A. B. Smith of Roxbury gave a week-end party at the bungalow of Dr. C. A. Highland of Rock Island, Quincy. Among those present were Miss Agnes Ferron, Miss Nurino Doyle, the Misses Evelyn and Edith Winchester, Dr. Walsh, Dr. O'Connor of Worcester, John A. Gilman, Thomas McGarrity, John Chase and William Bowman. Mrs. Wilson Hubbell of Winthrop, chaperoned the party.

There is much interest manifested in the Dirigible War Plane, to be shown at the Brockton Fair this year. There has been so much in the press in the recent weeks of the Zeppelins and the fighting machines of the air, this opportunity will be appreciated by many. The Fair management have engaged one of the best Dirigible Aviators in the country, Frank Goodale, who will make two flights each day of the Fair, illustrating the various war maneuvers, and also bomb dropping. In addition to this feature, there will be Balloon ascensions and parachute drops each day.

The Auto Show, which is a new feature this year, and the first to be held at the Brockton Fair, is the Massachusetts Dealers' Association, bids fair to be a most interesting exhibition. The cars will not be shown in tents, as at some fairs, but in well-appointed and commodious buildings, attractively decorated.

The Horse Show will be up to the usual high standard, and the entries forecast a large collection of blue-blooded exhibits. The Stage Show, twenty-five star acts, over one hundred performers; the Athletic Meet; Marathon Run; music by three bands and five vocalists; the Firemen's Muster, and the Governor's reception, will all be larger and more interesting than ever. The Cape Battalion, C. A. C., will act as escort of the Governor, and will give their usual drills; these are always interesting to the patrons. The dates of the Brockton Fair are October 5, 6, 7, and 8. In other words, the big Fair commences next Tuesday.

Rev. George T. Dowling, rector of St. James' Episcopal church, told the story of the Irishman who said he was an ancestor of the distinguished man he had been talking about. He had a lot to say about heredity, and cited, as an instance of physical transmittance of ancestral traits, the case of a red-headed boy he saw once. After he saw the boy he met the father, who had red hair too, and the boy had been talking about it.

That, he said, was heredity. Though, he added, "In that case heredity proved to be red-headed."

Rev. George T. Dowling, rector of St. James' Episcopal church, told the story of the Irishman who said he was an ancestor of the distinguished man he had been talking about. He had a lot to say about heredity, and cited, as an instance of physical transmittance of ancestral traits, the case of a red-headed boy he saw once. After he saw the boy he met the father, who had red hair too, and the boy had been talking about it.

That, he said, was heredity. Though, he added, "In that case heredity proved to be red-headed."

PARK AND DOWNS.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Crossley of Billings road who have been enjoying September at Lake Boon, Hudson where they have a cottage for the month came home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Napier of Warwick street have returned from a very pleasant auto trip along the North Shore to Rye beach, visiting friends in New Hampshire and returned home through the Berkshires.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Foster of Allston were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paul of Rawson road.

Miss Mary Morse of Middleboro spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Alton Barstow of Rawson road. Attorney Alva I. Stinson of the Boulevard is spending the week at Lenox.

Mrs. Henry Ellis of Apthorp street has had her guests Mrs. Alta Briggs of Middleboro and Mrs. L. Cole of New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Curry have closed their summer home on Carle road, Wollaston and returned to their winter home in Jamaica Plain.

Miss Helen M. Farrell came from Sterling where she is teaching, to spend the week end with her mother, Mrs. Charles G. Farwell of Phillips street.

Arthur Curtis of Faxon road who has recently left town to live in Brookline spent the week-end as the guest of Robert Knapp of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Jones of Philadelphia who motored on in their auto and have been visiting Mrs. Charles Weeks of Elm avenue concluded their visit last week. On their return Mrs. Weeks accompanied them as far as New London.

Miss Doris Oliver of Vassall street was hostess Monday evening at an informal dancing party.

The Frederick B. Smiths of Willow street have moved to the house at the corner of Apthorp street and the Quincy reservation. George Damon and family of Kenner street are to move into the house occupied by the Smiths during October.

IN NEW TEMPLE

Wollaston Masonic lodge will hold its first regular communication in the new Masonic Temple on Beale street, next Tuesday evening, at which time a large number of applications for degrees will be acted upon.

Miss Ethel M. Pfaffmann of Worcester spent the week end with her aunt, the Miss Pfaffmanns of city street. Miss Pfaffmann is enrolled at Miss Garland's school, Chestnut street, Boston, which opens next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert H. Rhodes of Old Colony avenue, Wollaston returned Saturday from a three weeks' visit to Oak Bluffs. Miss Edna G. Rhodes was with her parents for several weeks coming up to resume her studies at Simmons college where she is a senior.

Thirty children of the Junior Endeavor Society of the Wollaston Congregational church were brought to Wollaston beach in automobiles early Saturday morning to enjoy an all day outing. Games were played on the sand until noon, when a basket lunch was enjoyed. During the afternoon many went in swimming and a story hour was held, through the generosity of Anna Leard, the children were supplied with chocolate bars as a surprise.

The ladies who were in charge were Mrs. Weinschenk, Mrs. Hutchins, Mrs. Blake and Mrs. Saxon.

Miss Rachel Spaulding of Jaffrey N. H. was the week end guest of Mrs. Herbert L. Packard of Standish avenue. Miss Packard is a teacher in the Hanover High school.

Benjamin C. Tilton of 111 Elmwood avenue, is a petitioner in bankruptcy. His liabilities are given as $15,228. Assets nothing.

Miss Cherry Newell of Everett street, Wollaston was surprised with a child, a shower Monday evening at the home of Miss Florence Le Wall and accepted the position of day supervisor at St. Luke Hospital, Newburg, N. Y., beginning Oct. 1.

M. F. Baker of Walker street is on a business trip to Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. John Abbott of Ocean street is spending a few days with her daughter Mrs. Henry J. B. Stitt of Pawtucket, R. I.

The flags given to the Sunday schools of the Episcopal Church and the Atlantic Memorial Church by Paul Revere Women's Relief Corps will be presented Sunday by Mrs. Kate A. Blaisdell, patriotic instructor. The presentation to the Episcopalian Sunday school will be at 9.30 and to the Memorial Church Sunday school at 12.30.

A week ago the North Quincy Catholic Club announced that their base ball season had finished, but because of the good weather Manager Flynn had decided to postpone the season game for Saturday with Neponset Wanderers at three o'clock. The players are rivals and the game should be a warm one. It will be the only base ball game of its kind in the city, and will be played at the Atlantic playground.

Mrs. Charles L. Cole of Billings street is convalescing from her illness.

WOLLASTON

Mrs. Elizabeth W. Grant of Farrington street has been entertaining relatives for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Nowlan and young son who have been at Wollaston, Nova Scotia for the summer and stopped over en route to their home in New York.

The Wollaston Woman's club holds its first regular meeting of the year 1915-1916 Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 5 at half past two in the new Masonic Temple on Beale street. The new president Mrs. William Rowe will preside and there will be the regular business with Federation reports as well as reports of committees.

Mrs. James Royal of Belmont street is the guest for several weeks of relatives in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Edward J. Badger, chairman of hospitality, and her committee are arranging a luncheon to be given in the Wollaston Unitarian parish house Friday, Nov. 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Badger of Park street are leaving Wednesday for the White mountains where they will register at the Mount Pleasant house. Before their return they are to visit their daughter Mrs. J. E. Booth at Burlington, Vermont.

Warren J. and Chester F. Barlow of Wollaston are spending two weeks at Woodland, Maine guests of their brother Benjamin H. Barlow who is assistant manager of the St. Croix Paper Co., of that town.

Mrs. James M. Hutchinson of North Central avenue is entertaining Mrs. Emma W. Anderson and son Frederick of Rogers park, Chicago.

The Herbert V. Folletts of Park street are returning next week from their summer cottage at Nantasket beach.

Miss Elizabeth Vialle Morrison of Waverly was the guest this week of Mrs. Herbert L. Packard of Standish avenue.

Mrs. Frances Renwick of Hancock street, Wollaston has returned from Buffalo, New York when she was the guest for two weeks of her sister Mrs. Charles F. Johnson.

Mrs. Edward Morris, Grant street, Wollaston is spending the week in New York.

Mrs. James A. Horton and daughter Mrs. Mary A. Arlington street have been spending a fortnight at Oak Bluffs.

Miss Francis G. Cain of Standish avenue has gone to Harrisville, R. I. to resume her duties there as a teacher.

Miss Ethel M. Pfaffmann of Worcester spent the week end with her aunt, the Miss Pfaffmanns of city street. Miss Pfaffmann is enrolled at Miss Garland's school, Chestnut street, Boston, which opens next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert H. Rhodes of Old Colony avenue, Wollaston returned Saturday from a three weeks' visit to Oak Bluffs. Miss Edna G. Rhodes was with her parents for several weeks coming up to resume her studies at Simmons college where she is a senior.

Thirty children of the Junior Endeavor Society of the Wollaston Congregational church were brought to Wollaston beach in automobiles early Saturday morning to enjoy an all day outing. Games were played on the sand until noon, when a basket lunch was enjoyed. During the afternoon many went in swimming and a story hour was held, through the generosity of Anna Leard, the children were supplied with chocolate bars as a surprise.

The ladies who were in charge were Mrs. Weinschenk, Mrs. Hutchins, Mrs. Blake and Mrs. Saxon.

Miss Rachel Spaulding of Jaffrey N. H. was the week end guest of Mrs. Herbert L. Packard of Standish avenue. Miss Packard is a teacher in the Hanover High school.

Benjamin C. Tilton of 111 Elmwood avenue, is a petitioner in bankruptcy. His liabilities are given as $15,228. Assets nothing.

Miss Cherry Newell of Everett street, Wollaston was surprised with a child, a shower Monday evening at the home of Miss Florence Le Wall and accepted the position of day supervisor at St. Luke Hospital, Newburg, N. Y., beginning Oct. 1.

M. F. Baker of Walker street is on a business trip to Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. John Abbott of Ocean street is spending a few days with her daughter Mrs. Henry J. B. Stitt of Pawtucket, R. I.

The flags given to the Sunday schools of the Episcopal Church and the Atlantic Memorial Church by Paul Revere Women's Relief Corps will be presented Sunday by Mrs. Kate A. Blaisdell, patriotic instructor. The presentation to the Episcopalian Sunday school will be at 9.30 and to the Memorial Church Sunday school at 12.30.

A week ago the North Quincy Catholic Club announced that their base ball season had finished, but because of the good weather Manager Flynn had decided to postpone the season game for Saturday with Neponset Wanderers at three o'clock. The players are rivals and the

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, October 2, 1915

Single Copies & Cents.
For Sale at
 The Patriot Office, Quincy,
 Brown & Co., Quincy,
 H. P. Kittredge, City Square,
 J. P. O'Brien, 28 Hancock St.,
 C. F. Carlson, near Quincy Depot,
 L. A. Cook, Quincy Point,
 H. H. I. Smith, Quincy Point,
 Sprague & Hobart, Quincy Point,
 Shunk's Periodical Store, Wollaston,
 Thomas Gurney, Atlantic,
 Bransfield & Martens, Atlantic,
 Bransfield & Martens, Norfolk Downs,
 Peter L. Littlefield, Quincy Adams,
 E. H. Doble & Co., West Quincy,
 Edward F. Drohan, West Quincy,
 Mrs. Lark's Store, Brewer's Corner,
 J. J. Hammers, East Milton,
 South Terminal Station, Boston.

RAND CLASS ANNUAL

The annual meeting and banquet of the Rand class of the Wollaston Baptist church, Tuesday evening, opened the winter social activities of this organization. The following board of officers was elected:

President—James P. Cahill.
 Vice-President—Arthur Bullock.
 Treasurer—Stuart Walther.
 Secretary—James Horton.
 Teacher—John Sparrow.
 Associate Teacher—Elford L. Duran.

Membership Committee—Edward Bullock, Ralph Ruggies and Percival Foss.

Devotional Committee—Ernest Pletsch, Harold Neal and Percy E. Social Committee—William Bullock, Ernest Roberts and Elsworth Smith.

Athletic Committee—Charles M. Robert, Gaston and Clarence Burton.

At seven o'clock a large crowd of fellows sat down to a supper of steamed clams, green corn and other delicacies. In the absence of the president, the business meeting that followed, was in charge of Charles M. Robert. The newly elected president responded to the call for a speech and Elford L. Duran made a few remarks in which he spoke of the opportunities for young men in touching the other fellow and building character.

The teacher, J. Arthur Sparrow, also spoke briefly. During the evening several cornet solos by L. C. Benson, accompanied by Percival Foss were enjoyed. The speaker of the evening was Herbert Scott Sylvester, teacher of the large men's class at the Middleboro Baptist church. He took for his subject "Big business and its opening door." He spoke of the big business of the present day. After speaking of the 55 million dollar United Fruit business, the 17 million dollar Royal Baking Powder business, the 10 million dollar Ivory Soap business, and many others, he took up the American flag and said "Here is a big business, also."

"We are in the time of big things. We can do almost anything we set out to, these days, but nothing but the real thing. We have conquered every law but we haven't conquered life. We can't make men unless you and I take hold. This is the biggest business I know of. Let us make men. It is a big business to make a life. To the chemist a man is worth five cents a pound. If he is a good man, he is worth a fortune. Let us make men. Let us bring up and educate the average fellow. Is it worth it?"

"These are humming times. There is not one law for business and another for religion. If we sow liberally, we will reap liberally, whether we sell corn or wheat. For God, we can't ask for power to equal our task but a task to ask our powers." Mr. Sylvester closed with the poem that is a favorite of Howard Elliot, about "the thing that couldn't be done and the man that did it."

KATHRYN CRANE CLUB

The first meeting of the season of the Kathryn Crane Memorial Club was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Emory L. Crane on Wilbur road. The officers for the year 1915-1916 are as follows:

President—Florence L. Mead.
 Vice President—Dorothy Miller.
 Secretary—Lillian Schenckelberger.
 Treasurer—Miss Carrie A. Crane.

Committee on—Natalie Saville, Dorothy Hall and the directors. Miss Jennie Purchase of the Quincy Associated Charities spoke to the members, telling them what she did this summer with money which the girls donated for the purpose of helping destitute families and children.

INCENDIARY FIRES

Two incendiary fires, the first before midnight and the second at 3.30 A. M. Tuesday resulted in the destruction of an unoccupied five room cottage house on West Squantum street and started anew the search for the firebug who has been successfully applying his torch in the Montclair district during the past few days.

The house, situated almost on the Quincy-Milton line was discovered in flames at 11.40 Monday night by a person who lives in the vicinity. The fire department was notified and the apparatus of Wollaston and Atlantic and the auto chemical (Centra) station responded to a still alarm. Several lines of hose were laid and the fire was extinguished before much damage was done.

The department left about 12.30 after over a hundred gallons of water played into the house.

Although thoroughly drenched another fire was started later in the night, fed probably with gallons of kerosene so that the dampness caused by the water used in extinguishing the first fire could be overcome.

When again discovered word was sent to Central station but when the department reached the scene they found the house practically destroyed. Acting Chief McKay who responded on the first alarm made an immediate investigation and then ordered his men to be on the lookout for the firebug. The property was owned by Mrs. Bell of Fifth street, South Boston, and was valued at $500.

The cottage is situated a short distance to the north of the Whelan property which was so badly damaged by incendiary fires it was necessary to tear it down. It is the belief of the police that the same person is responsible for all of the fires set in Montclair since last spring.

GOOD REASON

He—The train was so crowded this morning that I couldn't get a seat.

She—Goodness, what was the matter?

He—The train was four minutes late and nobody missed it.—Philadelphia Ledger.

CITY COUNCIL

The only discussion at the special meeting of the City Council, Monday evening was on the matter of school plans for the proposed two new buildings. The question came before the meeting in a communication from the School Committee. This is the communication which should have gone to the council at the meeting Sept. 13, but because lost by the wayside. The communication was the same as that published in the Ledger at that time.

It set forth that the School Committee are unanimous that the system of ventilation which should have gone to the council at the meeting Sept. 13, but because lost by the wayside. The communication was the same as that published in the Ledger at that time.

The letter goes on to say that the committee has visited these schools and has been unanimously convinced that better ventilation can be secured by this system than can be secured by any system now in use in Quincy. In conclusion the letter says:

"The School Committee feels that when an expenditure of so great amount of money is to be made by the city, it is unwise to follow blindly a beaten path without securing competent and disinterested advice from scientists, whose life work it is to conserve the health of humanity."

Accompanying the letter was a communication from the Mayor setting forth his reply to the School Board, which was as follows:

Quincy, Mass.
 Sept. 25, 1915.
 President of City Council,
 Quincy, Mass.

Dear Sir:

I am enclosing you a copy of the report which I have received regarding the Ventilating System recommended by the School Committee.

A copy of this report was mailed to the Chairman of the School Board. Since receiving this report I have personally had a talk with Capt. Pope of the State Police, which department represents the Commonwealth in the matter of ventilation of all schools. Capt. Pope tells me that he has not approved the Canton School system of ventilation, and that while they were going to put the system to official tests his opinion at this time was not favorable to same for school purposes, he considering the same was still in the experimental stage.

I am also informed that Dr. Snedden who has been referred to by the School Board is not in the fullest sympathy with the proposed method, although he is working on a plan of fresh air ventilation of his own which in time he hopes will prove successful.

As the proposed plan seems to be in the theoretical or experimental stage I feel that I do not care to approve of the expenditure of City funds except we are positive of results. I trust the Council will see its way clear to go on record as opposed to the adoption of the recommendation of the School Board.

Very truly yours,
 Chester Campbell,
 Mayor.

The report of the Mayor's expert is as follows:

Your representative spent several hours at the Canton Hospital for Crippled and the Canton school inspecting the heating and ventilating systems in both institutions as desired by you.

The Canton School is a small bungalow type of structure composed of four (4) rooms and a center room used as a Rest room. It was erected at a cost of over $20,000, and the ventilation and heating plants are operated as follows:

Heating: Direct steam encircling room below the windowsills. 3 sides of the room are exposed to the open air, and the only ventilation obtained is by lowering the upper sash as desired, or in hot weather the lower sash also, the air rising under a pitched roof leading up to a monitor roof, in the sides of which are placed small windows. This school is a single story affair, the side walls being but 8 feet in height and the center of the room of course being higher.

To utilize this system in a proposed 16 room school building after the style shown at Canton, namely: a single story would occupy an immense area of land.

It is possible to design a two story brick building using the system as shown at Canton, but it is not the radical different style of architecture.

"The Chief of the State Police—Captain Pope—at the State House, authorized us to say that he will not allow a school building to be erected and accepted in the name of the city with the system of ventilation as at Canton; that he has not approved the Canton School as it does not fulfill the requirements, nor will he pass any school without vents at the floor and a forced system of circulation to carry off the impurities."

In reply to the question as to whether he approved of the overhead and open air system he replied, he would approve of the Monitor system of over-head ventilation provided the mushroom system was utilized throughout the building under the seats.

As this would require a mushroom over every other seat and the enlarging of the space between the doors for the numerous ducts, the added expense to the building of the proposed school house would be enormous, and it is doubtful if the City of Quincy could bear the expense involved.

Councilman Griffin then asked Chairman Mackay of the School Board in regard to the communication from the Mayor and in reply said: "The Board has received a reply from the Mayor but it does not state whether he himself is in favor of it or not."

In reply to a question if the School Board considered the answer of the Mayor satisfactory, Chairman Mackay replied: "The Board has not had an opportunity to consider it."

Mr. Mackay also in reply to a question denied the published statements that the Board did not consider the architects who had submitted plans, men of professional standing. "The School Board has not passed on the qualifications of the architects."

Councilman Griffin: "Are any plans submitted satisfactory outside of the ventilation question?"

Chairman Mackay: "The Board has not concluded its study of the plans."

Chairman Mackay then addressing the council said: "The School Board received last June, Sept. 10, a resolution was passed calling the attention of the Mayor and Council to the new system. The Board felt that it would be remiss in its duty if it did not investigate, and obtain as much information as possible. Three of the four physicians of the Board visited the schools at Canton and later all of the members of the School Board visited the buildings and the system was explained by Dr. Fish. The members came back thoroughly convinced it was the proper system to adopt. We do not ask you to adopt our recommendation. We do ask you to give enough respect to our recommendation, which represents study on our part and a desire for better conditions. The present system of ventilation in the schools is inadequate and unsatisfactory. We ask you to study it and if necessary get expert advice."

"There is no opposition to the system except from the Mayor and Council. We know it is the best. It is an anonymous communication as far as you are concerned, and on that you are expected to reject the recommendation of the School Board. We ask you to visit these buildings and fully go into the subject. If you saw fit to keep the School Board waiting until June for the plans, you can afford to wait another week before passing on the question. In the securing of plans the City Council delegated its right to the Mayor."

Chairman Mackay was asked a number of questions by President Whiton, Councilman Beeman, Gessler, MacDonald and Craig.

Councilman McGrath then offered an order authorizing the Committee on Public Buildings to investigate the new system of ventilation as advocated by the School Board and authorizing the committee to expend a sum not exceeding $100. The committee to report to the council not later than the second meeting in October.

The order was adopted.

Councilmen Nelson and Richards were the absent members. After reading the call the Mayor, City Clerk and Councilman Wiley drew the following jurors: James Freeman, Aloys Burkard, Oscar S. Sandberg, John Gilcoin, Henry C. Hallows, Frank Burgess, Joseph L. Whiton, Frank Osmond.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the Commissioner stating that 365,002 linear feet of street had been watered during the season at a cost to abutters of $7,312.93. Referred to Executive.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the Commissioner stating that Cypso Moth work done on private property amounted to $959.65. Councilman Griffin offered an order assessing the cost of work done on private estates to the owner of said estate. Adopted.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the City Treasurer requesting a temporary loan order for $50,000.

Councilman Griffin offered the necessary order which was referred to the Finance Committee.

The meeting adjourned at 8.37.

MOTOR FIRE APPARATUS

Quincy's newest piece of motor fire apparatus a handsome auto chemical, has been put into commission at the central station and is to be known as Combination three. The three horse combination which it replaces will be sent to the city and the new machine will take the place which has been in use there since the station was built will be brought to central station and used as a fire alarm repair and emergency wagon.

The purchase of the apparatus was authorized by the city council which appropriated $10,500 for two new pieces of motor fire apparatus. The auto chemical was delivered three weeks before the time specified in the contract and the ladder truck, the second piece provided for, is to be delivered early in October.

William Hinkley, one of the experts of the White Co. who brought the combination over the road from Lawrence and was at the wheel during a series of test runs made about the city, will remain with the department for several weeks, breaking in several drivers and acquainting the men with technical parts of the apparatus.

Absolute satisfaction with the performance of the combination was expressed by Chief Billings who says all of the step hill of Wollaston and Great Hill, Hough Neck were negotiated without difficulty and that the machine responded to every test. It was given its first official run Saturday morning to the Fore River shipyard where a fire broke out in the pipe shop and was extinguished before much damage was done.

The combination is the most advanced piece of fire apparatus designed by the White Co. It is larger than Auto Combination 1 of the Central station, built by the La France Motor Co. and quite as good as the Auto Combination 2 at Atlantic, built by the Kissel Motor Co. It weighs close to four and a half tons and has a left hand drive.

It is driven by a six cylinder 60 horse power White engine which is very powerful and is probably the speediest piece of motor apparatus owned by the city.

Its self starter, electric headlights, and searchlights are operated by electricity generated by a motor. The Firestone tires which it carries, single on front and dual on back, are pneumatic and are blown up by a pump connected with the engine.

It is equipped with two thirty five gallon chemical tanks and two three gallon hand chemicals. It carries 250 feet of chemical hose and 1400 feet of regular fire hose, a 12 foot ladder and a twenty foot extension ladder.

A decided improvement over the other two combinations is two rows of seats, with brass railings, which run along both sides where the men can ride and beneath the seats are places where hats, boots, coats and a first aid kit can be carried.

In a heavy basket, attached to the lower side of the body a full set of tools, lantern, door openers, crow bars, axes and plaster hooks are carried. The machine is painted in the standard fire department color. Its bell is deep toned and can be heard a distance of nearly half a mile.

It is equipped with two thirty five gallon chemical tanks and two three gallon hand chemicals. It carries 250 feet of chemical hose and 1400 feet of regular fire hose, a 12 foot ladder and a twenty foot extension ladder.

A decided improvement over the other two combinations is two rows of seats, with brass railings, which run along both sides where the men can ride and beneath the seats are places where hats, boots, coats and a first aid kit can be carried.

In a heavy basket, attached to the lower side of the body a full set of tools, lantern, door openers, crow bars, axes and plaster hooks are carried. The machine is painted in the standard fire department color. Its bell is deep toned and can be heard a distance of nearly half a mile.

It is equipped with two thirty five gallon chemical tanks and two three gallon hand chemicals. It carries 250 feet of chemical hose and 1400 feet of regular fire hose, a 12 foot ladder and a twenty foot extension ladder.

A decided improvement over the other two combinations is two rows of seats, with brass railings, which run along both sides where the men can ride and beneath the seats are places where hats, boots, coats and a first aid kit can be carried.

In a heavy basket, attached to the lower side of the body a full set of tools, lantern, door openers, crow bars, axes and plaster hooks are carried. The machine is painted in the standard fire department color. Its bell is deep toned and can be heard a distance of nearly half a mile.

It is equipped with two thirty five gallon chemical tanks and two three gallon hand chemicals. It carries 250 feet of chemical hose and 1400 feet of regular fire hose, a 12 foot ladder and a twenty foot extension ladder.

A decided improvement over the other two combinations is two rows of seats, with brass railings, which run along both sides where the men can ride and beneath the seats are places where hats, boots, coats and a first aid kit can be carried.

In a heavy basket, attached to the lower side of the body a full set of tools, lantern, door openers, crow bars, axes and plaster hooks are carried. The machine is painted in the standard fire department color. Its bell is deep toned and can be heard a distance of nearly half a mile.

It is equipped with two thirty five gallon chemical tanks and two three gallon hand chemicals. It carries 250 feet of chemical hose and 1400 feet of regular fire hose, a 12 foot ladder and a twenty foot extension ladder.

A decided improvement over the other two combinations is two rows of seats, with brass railings, which run along both sides where the men can ride and beneath the seats are places where hats, boots, coats and a first aid kit can be carried.

LAWN FETE.

Large numbers attended, both afternoon and evening, a very successful lawn fete held Saturday on the broad lawn of James A. Boone of Mulrhead street under the auspices of the primary department of the Park and Downs Sunday school. Two very pleasing entertainments were given and all who attended felt they had been amply repaid for the small admission.

The chief interest of the evening was directed to the one act farce entitled "Frank Glyn's wife" or "An American harem." The play, which was held on an impromptu stage on the lawn, was ably presented and developed some very humorous situations which called forth much laughter.

The action opens with the quarrel of a newly married couple and results in the weeping wife's departure to her mother. News comes of the expected arrival of the husband's old chum on his first visit. So that nothing may be suspected the husband calls on the wife and tells her of the real wife during the chum's visit.

The husband's sister, cousin and mother are in turn called upon to act the part of the absent wife, each adding a little to the bewilderment of the visiting chum. The denouement comes in the form of the real wife and the complete collapse of the husband's chum.

As Frank Glyn, the perplexed husband, George R. Ford added much to the success of the play. Mr. Ford is a new comer to this city and while this was his first appearance at a Wollaston audience it is safe to assume he will be seen many times in the future. Mrs. James Christie, as Alice Glyn, made a most temperamental wife and ably supported the lines of Mr. Ford.

Victor Barrie took the part of Ed Ashbury, Frank's chum, and as a very susceptible young man left nothing to be desired. Nora, the maid, was taken by Mrs. Fred B. Robinson, whose Irish brogue and queer antics gave added action to the piece. Mrs. Edward Chapman, as Sister Sister, and Mrs. W. E. Bickerton as Cecilia Gertie, all of which were good, completed the cast.

In addition to the farce a pleasing musical program was rendered. The opening number was an instrumental consisting of Mr. F. A. Arenberg, Nester Arenberg and Celia Arenberg. Next came a cante song "Doest thou love me, sister Ruth?" by two little tots, Ruth Broadbent and Doris Blaisdel. A cornet and violin duet was contributed by Harold Bickerton and Fred Wymouth accompanied by Mrs. Merrill.

Miss Daisy Brown, accompanied by Miss Emily Bjorkman, contributed a vocal solo "Perfect day." As an encore she successfully essayed "Mother Macree" without a hitch. The pretty dance by Irene and Doris Shay and a violin solo by Miss Lechebure brought the program to a close. A shorter entertainment by some of the same artists was given in the afternoon.

Owing to the goodness of the evening the ice cream booth was practically deserted, while Mr. Ford as a vendor of hot coffee did a rushing business. In charge of the ice cream were: Mrs. Mayfield, Mrs. R. C. Holton and Mrs. L. H. Payne.

Mrs. Eugene Blaisdel presided at the house and table while those in charge of the candy were: Mrs. George R. Ford, Mrs. S. A. Hasbrouck, Miss Melish and Miss Daisy Brown. Auto rides proved popular, those furnishing cars being: S. C. McIntyre, Dr. J. A. Zwicker and Mrs. Russell T. Jones.

S. S. Hasbrouck was an able and generous of the program. John Dingwell and Ralph Patton were responsible for the brilliant electric lights. Much of the success of the affair was due to Mrs. James A. Boone, superintendent of the primary department, who was in charge.

A section of Third Hill, south of the pine grove and just beyond the estate of Harry L. Rice will probably be chosen for a rifle range for the members of the Machine Gun Co. of Quincy.

William Hinkley, one of the experts of the White Co. who brought the combination over the road from Lawrence and was at the wheel during a series of test runs made about the city, will remain with the department for several weeks, breaking in several drivers and acquainting the men with technical parts of the apparatus.

Absolute satisfaction with the performance of the combination was expressed by Chief Billings who says all of the step hill of Wollaston and Great Hill, Hough Neck were negotiated without difficulty and that the machine responded to every test. It was given its first official run Saturday morning to the Fore River shipyard where a fire broke out in the pipe shop and was extinguished before much damage was done.

The combination is the most advanced piece of fire apparatus designed by the White Co. It is larger than Auto Combination 1 of the Central station, built by the La France Motor Co. and quite as good as the Auto Combination 2 at Atlantic, built by the Kissel Motor Co. It weighs close to four and a half tons and has a left hand drive.

It is driven by a six cylinder 60 horse power White engine which is very powerful and is probably the speediest piece of motor apparatus owned by the city.

Its self starter, electric headlights, and searchlights are operated by electricity generated by a motor. The Firestone tires which it carries, single on front and dual on back, are pneumatic and are blown up by a pump connected with the engine.

It is equipped with two thirty five gallon chemical tanks and two three gallon hand chemicals. It carries 250 feet of chemical hose and 1400 feet of regular fire hose, a 12 foot ladder and a twenty foot extension ladder.

A decided improvement over the other two combinations is two rows of seats, with brass railings, which run along both sides where the men can ride and beneath the seats are places where hats, boots, coats and a first aid kit can be carried.

In a heavy basket, attached to the lower side of the body a full set of tools, lantern, door openers, crow bars, axes and plaster hooks are carried. The machine is painted in the standard fire department color. Its bell is deep toned and can be heard a distance of nearly half a mile.

It is equipped with two thirty five gallon chemical tanks and two three gallon hand chemicals. It carries 250 feet of chemical hose and 1400 feet of regular fire hose, a 12 foot ladder and a twenty foot extension ladder.

A decided improvement over the other two combinations is two rows of seats, with brass railings, which run along both sides where the men can ride and beneath the seats are places where hats, boots, coats and a first aid kit can be carried.

In a heavy basket, attached to the lower side of the body a full set of tools, lantern, door openers, crow bars, axes and plaster hooks are carried. The machine is painted in the standard fire department color. Its bell is deep toned and can be heard a distance of nearly half a mile.

It is equipped with two thirty five gallon chemical tanks and two three gallon hand chemicals. It carries 250 feet of chemical hose and 1400 feet of regular fire hose, a 12 foot ladder and a twenty foot extension ladder.

A decided improvement over the other two combinations is two rows of seats, with brass railings, which run along both sides where the men can ride and beneath the seats are places where hats, boots, coats and a first aid kit can be carried.

In a heavy basket, attached to the lower side of the body a full set of tools, lantern, door openers, crow bars, axes and plaster hooks are carried. The machine is painted in the standard fire department color. Its bell is deep toned and can be heard a distance of nearly half a mile.

It is equipped with two thirty five gallon chemical tanks and two three gallon hand chemicals. It carries 250 feet of chemical hose and 1400 feet of regular fire hose, a 12 foot ladder and a twenty foot extension ladder.

A decided improvement over the other two combinations is two rows of seats, with brass railings, which run along both sides where the men can ride and beneath the seats are places where hats, boots, coats and a first aid kit can be carried.

In a heavy basket, attached to the lower side of the body a full set of tools, lantern, door openers, crow bars, axes and plaster hooks are carried. The machine is painted in the standard fire department color. Its bell is deep toned and can be heard a distance of nearly half a mile.

It is equipped with two thirty five gallon chemical tanks and two three gallon hand chemicals. It carries 250 feet of chemical hose and 1400 feet of regular fire hose, a 12 foot ladder and a twenty foot extension ladder.

A decided improvement over the other two combinations is two rows of seats, with brass railings, which run along both sides where the men can ride and beneath the seats are places where hats, boots, coats and a first aid kit can be carried.

In a heavy basket, attached to the lower side of the body a full set of tools, lantern, door openers, crow bars, axes and plaster hooks are carried. The machine is painted in the standard fire department color. Its bell is deep toned and can be heard a distance of nearly half a mile.

It is equipped with two thirty five gallon chemical tanks and two three gallon hand chemicals. It carries 250 feet of chemical hose and 1400 feet of regular fire hose, a 12 foot ladder and a twenty foot extension ladder.

A decided improvement over the other two combinations is two rows of seats, with brass railings, which run along both sides where the men can ride and beneath the seats are places where hats, boots, coats and a first aid kit can be carried.

SCHOOL BOARD MEET

The election of teachers to take charge of the evening schools of the city was the principal item considered Tuesday evening by the School Committee. Several communications were received and filed, among them a letter from Warren and Campbell, who asked that their firm be given a public hearing on the plans they submitted for the new school house at Ward two.

It was also voted to open a naturalization school for Syrians in the room of the Syrian-American club, to provide room and light for the Italian drawing school in the Lincoln school. The following appointments were made:

Master's assistant at John Hancock—Blanche Brown.

Teachers for the Adams Evening school—Arthur S. Townsend, principal; Charles Kouray, Angelo Bizzozzi, Genevieve Egan, Bertha Bartlett, Ruth H. Wilkes.

Teachers at the Willard Evening school—David H. Goodspeed, principal; J. Elizabeth Sullivan, Martha Isaacs, Marjorie A. Miller.

Commercial subjects at High school—Harry W. French.

Evening drawing classes at High school—Charles B. Thompson.

Evening trade classes—Joseph Larkin, principal; dressmaking and millinery, Marion Wilkins; drawing for plumbers, Samuel Crosby; electrical classes, Fred B. Kolb; shoe making, desing, Roland Linfield; drawing for machinists, William S. Cleaves.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

	Expended	Balance
Administration	$4,341.56	$2,158.44
Instruction	91,024.55	65,260.45
Text Books	912.37	3,837.63
Stationery and Supplies	3,531.85	2,963.15
Operation of Plant	17,882.52	5,341.48
Maintenance	92.42	157.58
Miscellaneous	1,877.12	1,222.88
Evening Schools	1,162.21	1,486.79
Total	$120,826.60	$82,533.40

Independent Evening School—$249.94 3,275.06

Industrial Evening School 999.29 550.71

Grand Total $129,175.83 $86,359.17

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES

Axel G. Ahlstrom to Annie H. Ricker, Hough Neck road.

Catherine Berio to Catherine A. Center, Sea avenue.

Quincy Patriot

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 41.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNINGS BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED).

OFFICE, No. 1424 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone: Quincy 425.
Quincy 1910.

Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1880.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

BRAINTREE OBSERVER

Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust

LAND FOR SALE

AT MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Wollaston Farm

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
Tel. 847-W
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.
Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1859 by
W. PORTER

Insurance effected in reliable and safe
Sack and Mutual offices.

By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 20 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

ETNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual

Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

Cash Capital, $5,000,000.00
Net Surplus, $600,280.80
Surplus for Policyholders, $1,000,280.80
Reserve for Re-insurance, $600,280.80
Reserve for Unpaid Losses, $22,000.00
Reserve for Other Claims, $78,000.00
Total Assets, $7,480,561.48

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.

AGENTS FOR QUINCY.

Incorporated 1837

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $2,000,000.00
Cash Assets, $100,000.00
Total Assets, $2,100,000.00
Total Liabilities, $2,100,000.00
Amount of Cash Surplus, $100,000.00
Contingent Assets, $100,000.00
Total Available Assets, $200,000.00
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policyholders 60 per cent; on three-year policyholders 50 per cent; on one-year policyholders, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer
DIRECTORS:—Preston B. Mansfield, Dedham; Frederick D. Ely, Dedham; Samuel Bennett, Milton; Charles M. Faxon, Boston; James V. Noyes, Dedham; Joseph H. Sullivan, Quincy; Samuel H. Capen, Dedham; Andrew B. Hodgdon, Dedham; George L. Barnes, Weymouth
GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $2,000,000.00
Cash Assets, $100,000.00
Total Assets, $2,100,000.00
Total Liabilities, $2,100,000.00
Amount of Cash Surplus, $100,000.00
Contingent Assets, $100,000.00
Total Available Assets, $200,000.00
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policyholders 60 per cent; on three-year policyholders 50 per cent; on one-year policyholders, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary
DIRECTORS:—Samuel Gannett, Milton; Stephen W. Wells, Dedham; Thomas H. Draper, Canton; William E. Lincoln, Brockton; James V. Noyes, Dedham; George W. Wright, Franklin; Asa F. French, Randolph; Alfred J. Thompson, Norwood; Clifford P. Baker, Dedham
GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
INCORPORATED 1835

HOME OFFICE, 11 CENTRAL STREET

Telephone, Main 1040.

William A. Muller, President
W. D. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer

DIRECTORS:
Paul R. Blackmar, Treasurer
Clarence Burgh, Attorney
George W. Wright, Attorney
W. D. Curtis, Vice-President
T. J. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and
L. C. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower &
Weeks
Louis K. Liggett, Pres. United Drug
Company
Wm. J. McGaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas
G. Plant Co.
Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Solicitor
William A. Muller, William A. Muller &
Company
Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests
P. F. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State
Realty Co.
John P. Sullivan, John P. Sullivan & Sons
Realty Co.
John P. Sullivan, John P. Sullivan & Sons
Realty Co.
John P. Sullivan, John P. Sullivan & Sons
Realty Co.

ORDER YOUR KINDLING WOOD NOW

We have it now: we shall be out of it very soon

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices:

Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester

166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

When U Want
Plumbing and Heating
Work Done
in any part of your home, store or factory, and want it done in first
class style,
SEND FOR US

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.

Sanitary Plumbing
GAS FITTING
FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK
No. 5 Maple St.,
Quincy, Massachusetts

STeam and HOT WATER Heating

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES

John F. Anderson to Justina E. Anderson, Cranston street, Whitwell street.

Annie M. Angell to Clara C. Hunt, Putnam street, Greenleaf street.

Annie M. Angell to Eben W. Shepard et al, Woodward avenue, Greenleaf street, Cedar place.

Annie M. Bates to Lydia J. Doyle, Madison avenue.

Arthur F. Capen to Louis S. Cleaves, Beach street.

Arthur F. Capen to Louis S. Cleaves, Franklin avenue.

Clement H. Drake to Mt. Washington Co-operative Bank, Bellevue avenue, Sumach road.

John A. Duggan to Ethel F. Howe, Atlantic street.

Wilton A. Dunham to Frank Weglin, Ski, Houghton Neck.

William H. Faxon et al to Mabel McQuade, Woodbine street, Beale street and Greenwood avenue.

Charles F. Lancaster et al to Quincy Women's Riverside club Inc., Love street.

James M. Nowland to John D. Buckingham, Edgemoor road.

Iris S. Prichard to Frank C. Commons, West Elm avenue.

Henry E. Ramsdell et al to Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Hancock street.

William Reid to Lydia E. Nagel, Channing street.

John K. Ruggles to Martha E. Ruggles, Washington street.

Matthew Swanson to Drusilla Crankshaw, Phillips street.

Mary P. Tilly to Michael J. Walsh, Sea street, Bird street.

Genevieve R. Tobey to Robert L. Sheraton et al, Lincoln avenue.

Anna W. Weston to Bertha Kelley, Newport avenue.

Fred W. Wood to A. Linde Fowler, Quincy Shore Reservation.

Fred W. Wood et al to John W. Matthews, E. Elm avenue.

Fred W. Wood et al to John W. Matthews, Athol street.

PRESENTATION OF FLAG
"There are three things in life which are intimately connected," declared Rev. William Grainger, rector of Christ Church, in accepting the American flag presented to the Sunday school Sunday by Mrs. Kate A. Blaisdell, patriotic instructor of the Women's Relief Corps, "and they are God, home and country."

"All exist with each other and a perfect harmony brings about a state of contentment which affects all people living under the protection of the flag."

After the presentation all the children of the Sunday school gave the salute to the flag.

AN AMBITION

The person to be envied most in this world of life is not the one who counts his gains. A man from whom strife is not yet the potentia who wears a crown upon his brow. It is the man who stands around and tells the others how.

And if the project finds success. The benefits he'll share. And if it fails, he'll simply say "Twas none of my affair."

He joins the triumph every time. And dodges every row. The man who simply stands around and tells the others how.

I would not be a warrior great. Nor hold a sceptered sway. I would not be a bard to wake Emotions grave or gay. If fate would graciously consent My choosing to allow. I'd be the man who stands around and tells the others how. —Washington Star.

AN OLD LADY'S HOME

Mrs. Brigham was in a state of utter disgust. She had come home the week before and remarked with great complacency that she did hope Mrs. Warner would appreciate the extra efforts made in her behalf, for it had taken a good bit of diplomacy and no small amount of labor to induce the managers to accept her without the usual fee, but that finally they had been successful, and the way to the Old Ladies' home was at last open for Mrs. Warner.

It had been impossible to raise money sufficient to pay the amount required, but after much deliberation, the trustees had decided to accept Mrs. Brigham's proffer, and use the rental of a small house, of which Mrs. Warner had a life lease, as part payment.

There had been many who had said with contempt that it was a shameful thing that the widow of late Warner should be compelled to wait for anything, so generous, so liberal, had been during his life, and the whole of his comfortable provision for her was lost in one of the too common bank failures, in which his man sharks remained only to swallow the means of their victims. Although much sympathy was felt and expressed, the fact remained that Mrs. Warner had not been far from starvation during the preceding winter. She had made no complaint, but kindly disposed persons had been made known to Mrs. Brigham, who, in her capacity as director of a half dozen charitable enterprises, and contributor to a dozen others, for she was nothing if not charitable, had seemed the one to take the matter in hand. She had done her best and relieved many of her wants, without discovering that starvation would have been only a little harder to the poor woman.

Mrs. Brigham felt indignant, and no wonder, for after all her efforts to get her admitted to the Home, Mrs. Warner had cried like a child and begged to remain where she was. To do Mrs. Brigham justice, it was not alone for praise and gratitude she worked for others, but she did like to have her work appreciated, and enjoyed managing other people's affairs. If, sometimes, she over-looked individuality, and classed her poor people together, as a man would a flock of sheep, it was due to her to remember that she attempted and accomplished a great deal for others, and being human, it allows that even her good works should have a flavor of herself.

"I'll go over and get little Miss Vincent to take her in hand," she said, after a little reflection. "She'll make her listen to reason if any one can, and after all that's been said and done I'm ashamed to have the matter end like this."

Little Miss Vincent was a valuable adjunct to Mrs. Brigham, though the latter had looked askance two years before when Miss Vincent's father had sent his annual check to her with a note saying that his daughter would hereafter take his place on the board and asking that any deficiency in finances be referred to him, as he was desirous of continuing his support to the work in which his daughter had been so interested. The check was altogether too large to admit of any objection being made to his suggestion, though the mature woman felt that "that slip of a girl" was really too young to be of much value in the management of the work, but she had seen that she was devoted heart and life to the service, and in her pleasant, winning way, accomplished much that they would not attempt.

"Of course I will go," she answered Mrs. Brigham, "and I think I can put the matter in such a light that she will be glad to consent; but within a half hour after going over to Mrs. Warner's she had gone entirely over to the enemy, and was doing her utmost to contrive in some way so that the old lady need not leave her home. Mrs. Warner was taking up a few late dahlias and trying up some geraniums when Miss Vincent came, and the look upon her face, as she learned her errand, went to the girl's heart.

"Oh, if I would only let me alone, I would die before I would ask for anything," she sobbed. "I didn't ask for anything last winter; I once told them I was suffering, but oh, Miss Vincent, if you'd lived here as long as I have, and loved every stick and stone in the yard, every bit of wood in the old house, you wouldn't want to leave it. It takes so little to keep it, and I would rather have only half enough to eat here than everything over there. I hate a prison, and that's all their institutions are, but I'm ashamed, forgetting grammar in her earnestness, to forget the theatre and all knew that a sick woman had been carried out. Few, however, were aware that she had died. Mrs. Lemon had been a resident of Houghton Neck for some years. She was the mother of six children and was in her 64th year.

QUINCY ASSOCIATES

Nearly one hundred members of the QuinCY Improvement association and their friends attended the annual banquet of the association in Nelson hall Saturday night. The affair was a great success in every way and was one of the most enjoyable ever held by the association.

There was a dinner served from 7.30 to 8.30. Caterer Martin Lydon of South Boston set a fine "spread" which consisted of chicken, ham, salads, and all the other fixings.

William C. Spargo, sporting editor of the Boston Traveler, had charge of the affair and brought on some excellent musical talent that started the members until close to midnight.

Joseph Devine sang some character songs and made a big hit. John Scott of the New England Telephone company told some good stories and anecdotes.

Chas. Bostwick, Quantum star musician, played a number of cornet solos. "Bill" Sweeney, former captain of the Boston Braves and one of Boston's best known baseball stars of former days, entertained in his inimitable way. Henry Downing sang several ballads in excellent voice and Joseph O'Brien of South Boston one of the best known musicians of Greater Boston, proved a capital entertainer as usual. Donovan's orchestra of Cambridge played during the dinner and Frank Devine of South Boston proved an excellent accompanist for the singers.

It was close to midnight before the party broke up and despite the storm that raged outside the members voted the affair the "best ever."

Chairman Spargo had entire charge of the affair and took care of most of the arrangements. The other members of the committee were—William N. Kenyon, James H. Sumner, president of the association, Herbert A. Smith, Charles Bostwick, William Holmes, Fred S. Bond and John Holmes.

MT. WOLLASTON CASTLE

The installation of its officers was the chief business of the Mount Wollaston Castle, Knights of King Arthur, which holds its second meeting of the season in the vestry of the Wollaston Methodist church, Oct. 1st. The following were installed with all due ceremony of the order:

King—Harold Everett.
Merlin—Sumner F. Gaddas.
Sir Kay—Russell Adams.
Constable—William Mullen.
Sentinel—Thomas Breen.
Heralds—Lawrence Blake and Clemon Ewertz.
Chancellor of the Exchequer—Raymond Cassidy.
Chaplain—Albert Baker, Rev. Ewertz and Penner Bailey.

Chamberlains—Theodore Higgins, George Ewertz, Theodore Taylor, Thomas Breen, Cecil Brown, Elmer Atwood and Stewart Dimmock.

The organization has been divided into two teams captained by William Mullen and Penner Bailey, to see which will bring in the largest number of articles of regalia and furnishings for the castle in a given period. Castle Wollaston is beginning its second year.

FIRE DEPARTMENT BUSY

Bell and still alarms Saturday night and Sunday gave the fire department a number of runs. The alarm Saturday night was from Box 71 and was sounded at 7.40. When the department arrived at the box there was no one to direct the firemen and after remaining a few minutes Chief Billings sounded a recall, supposing it to have been a false alarm. Sunday it was learned that there had been a fire in the closet of a house on Mill street, but that the fire had been extinguished while the alarm was being sounded.

Sunday noon at 12.20 the West Quincy and Central station combination responded on a still alarm for a chimney fire in a house on Rogers street, West Quincy, occupied by a family named Rogers. There was no damage.

At 8.40 Sunday evening an alarm was sounded from Box 725. This was for a slight fire in a closet in a boarding house on Winter street. The closet was separated from the kitchen stove by a thin partition, and it is supposed that the stove, which was becoming overheated. The loss was slight.

The alarm from Box 515 at 11.50 Sunday night was a false alarm. Michael Scully of the Central station had the misfortune to sprain an ankle. When the alarm sounded several of the firemen started to slide down the pole to the apparatus floor. Scully was the first to slide down and in his haste to get out of the way of the men following he turned his ankle. He was taken to his home this morning.

W. R. C. PRESENTS FLAG

A beautiful flag was presented by the Women's Relief Corps to the Sunday school of the Atlantic Memorial church Sunday noon. The presentation was made by Mrs. Kate Blaisdell, patriotic instructor of the Corps.

She made an appropriate speech of presentation closing with a patriotic poem. Lawrence French, assistant scout master of the Boy Scouts Troop and secretary of the Sunday school, received the flag.

The Boy Scouts and the members of the Sunday school saluted the emblem. Rev. T. W. Davidson, pastor of the church, made a brief address, thanking Mrs. Blaisdell and the Relief Corps for the flag. He declared that the Bible and America were the two essentials to exalt in this age, to stir patriotism in the Sunday school and church.

MRS. HERBERT E. LEMON

Mrs. Florence Lemon, wife of Herbert E. Lemon of 7 Crosby street, Houghton Neck, was stricken suddenly while sitting in the palms theatre at 8.30 Saturday evening. She was carried out and died almost immediately in the lobby.

There was a large attendance at the theatre and all knew that a sick woman had been carried out. Few, however, were aware that she had died. Mrs. Lemon had been a resident of Houghton Neck for some years. She was the mother of six children and was in her 64th year.

CITY FINANCES

The receipts of the several departments of the city for the year up to Oct. 1, in comparison with the corresponding period for the years 1914 and 1913 are shown by the following report of the City Auditor.

WATER

1913 $112,672.31
1914 112,965.87
1915 131,530.87

TAXES

1913 $348,409.52
1914 12,941.79
1915 10,095.95

SEWER ASSESSMENTS

1913 $13,913.33
1914 12,941.79
1915 10,095.95

HOUSE CONNECTIONS

1913 $4,801.88
1914 6,260.40
1915 6,889.17

DEBT STATEMENT

1912 net valuation $34,822.50
1913 net valuation 26,506.04
1914 net valuation 40,668.24

3 years average $37,325.57 2-1-2 per cent

Debt January 1, 1915 583,735.54

Margin $340,321.16

Bonds matured Oct. 1, 1915 128,900.00

Bonds issued and authorized $68,000.00

Borrowing margin Oct. 1, 1915 $401,071.16

TOTAL DEBT JAN. 1, 1915 $18,900; street improvements, $63,800; sewer, $628,500; water, $686,500; refunding, $120,000; total $2,115,535.64.

Paid Municipal, $128,900; playground, $2,000; street improvement, $2,300; sewer, $20,500; water, $60,500; refunding, $15,000; total $244,200.

Issued, Municipal, $52,350; sewer, $25,000; water, $15,000; total $92,350.

Net debt Oct. 1, Municipal, $157,185.64; playground, $16,000; street improvement, $66,500; sewer, $623,000; water, $641,000; refunding, $105,000; total, $1,558,685.64.

Decrease in debt $121,850.

BEAN-NEWELL

A pretty wedding took place Tuesday evening at 229 Everett street, Wollaston at the home of the bride's brother Baxter Newell when Miss Cherry Luana Newell, daughter of Mrs. Abbie Gillett Newell and Byam Mason Bean of 44 Church street, Malden was married to Mr. John A. Crossley who is in the employ of the Wollaston Congregational church.

The young couple unattended entered the room at 7.30 o'clock to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Irene A. Howes of Quincy. The bride looked charming in a gown of white satin with Chantilly lace and pearl trimmings. She carried a bouquet of bride roses and her tulle veil was fastened with orange blossoms.

An informal reception followed the ceremony. The house was effectively decorated with ferns and cut flowers. There were many beautiful gifts of china, cut glass, silver and several pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. Bean left mid a shower of confetti on a wedding trip to Albany and New York. After December first they will be at home at 162 Highland avenue, Wollaston.

MARTIN-MacFARLANE

Annie Eleanor MacFarlane of 90 Walnut street, Atlantic, and Cyril Harry Martin of Somerville, were married at the parsonage of the Atlantic Memorial church Tuesday afternoon by Rev. T. R. Davidson.

The only witness to the ceremony was Mrs. J. MacFarlane, step-mother of the bride.

The bride is but 17 years of age and the groom is 20. The consent of their parents was necessary before the ceremony could be performed.

The couple presented themselves at the parsonage last Saturday but because the groom had neglected to provide himself with a certificate from Somerville, the ceremony could not be performed. That oversight was remedied however in time for the marriage Tuesday.

The bride is well known in Atlantic. She graduated from the Quincy grammar school and attended High School for two years. The groom is a clerk at the Boston manufacturing plant of the United Drug Co. They will live in Boston.

KIERMAN-DONOVAN

Miss Charlotte Frances Donovan, a popular school teacher of Quincy, and John Joseph Kierman of Jamaica Plain, a salesman in the carpet department of Houghton and Dutton, Boston, were married with a nuptial mass at St. John's church Wednesday morning.

Fr. John J. Casey, acting pastor, officiated at the ceremony and celebrated the mass. Mrs. Julia Gallant, wife of Louis Gallant, sister of the bride and a bride of but two weeks herself, was the maid of honor. Peter J. Jouanet of Brookline was the best man.

The bride wore a brown travelling suit with hat to match. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served the bridal party at the Hotel Touraine, Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Kierman are now on a two weeks wedding trip to Albany, New York City, and other points and on their return will live in Forest Hills.

The bride is very well known in Quincy. She has taught at the Adams and Washington grammar schools and is very popular. The groom also has many friends in this city.

NOLAN-DASHA

Irene Cecilia Dasha, Wellesley, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Dasha of 170 Adams street and William J. Nolan, Yale Law School, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Nolan of 58 Adams street were united in marriage Saturday morning at St. John's church, in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends.

The church was very prettily decorated for the ceremony, palms and lilies banking the altar, while white dahlias were set at the pews, making a flowery aisle through which the bridal party passed.

Rev. Fr. Andrew J. O'Brien, D. D., professor of dogmatic theology at St. John's seminary, Brighton, a cousin of the bride, officiated at the nuptial mass at 9.30 and performed the ceremony.

Seated on the altar were Mr. John Peterson, head of St. John's seminary, Brighton, Rev. Dr. John Sexton, Rev. Dr. Joseph Walsh, Rev. Dr. Dion, all of the seminary, Rev. Henry Reardon of South Boston, Rev. John P. Cuffe of the Sacred Heart church, Atlantic, Rev. John J. Casey and Rev. Walter A. Quinn of St. John's church.

Miss Esther H. Dasha, Wellesley, 18, a sister of the bride was the bridesmaid and John J. Nolan, Jr., Colgate 15, a brother of the groom was the best man.

The ushers were Joseph A. Dasha, Jr. of Noble & Greenough, and a brother of the bride, Alfred W. White of Springfield, Yale Law School 11, M. Thomas Brown, Cohasset, Brown 15, John C. Corcoran, Boston, Dartmouth 08.

The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with Carriac-Macross lace with court train of cloth of silver, and tulle veil.

The bridesmaid wore a silver embroidered American Beauty taffeta, trimmed with silver lace and ermine. She wore a black velvet hat, trimmed with a white ostrich plume.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride from 10.30 to 1.30 the bridal party being assisted in receiving by their parents and the bridesmaid and best man. After a brief wedding trip they will make their home on Goffe street.

Both bride and groom are widely known and very popular with the younger set in Quincy. The bride prepared for Wellesley at the Woodward Institute. Her father is a member of the firm of Rice & Hutchins and is the director of several large corporations. The groom's father is one of the officials of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation.

RADLY BURNED

Mrs. Mary Shaughnessy, aged 63, wife of 52 Barry street, who probably would have been burned to death had not Robert

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, October 9, 1915

ELEMENTARY TEACHERS ASSO.

The annual meeting of the Quincy Elementary Teachers' Association was held Monday afternoon in Coddington hall, the president, Miss Lillian Waterhouse, presiding.

There was a large attendance. The annual report of the secretary was read by Miss Gertrude Burke, secretary, pro tempore, who reported a membership of 129 for the year.

The president in her annual report expressed appreciation of the splendid work of her committees, and thanked members for their loyalty to the Association and its officers.

She reviewed the considerable achievements of the year, and blazed new trails of endeavor. She congratulated this Association of women teachers on the philanthropic work it had done, especially commending its donation of $12.50 to the Associated Charities of Quincy, charitable work never before having been attempted by any other teachers' association of Quincy.

The annual report of the treasurer, Miss Mary Kapples, showed a doubling of the balance on hand at the previous annual meeting.

Miss Helen Humphrey, chairman of the education committee, included in her annual report a summary of valuable suggestions made the association by Miss Annie Scollard, president of the Elementary Teachers' club of Boston.

In her annual report of the entertainment committee, the chairman, Miss Cassandora Thayer, reviewed the wonderful amount of work done by that committee. Especially commendable was the success of the Dramatic club under the able direction of Miss Mabel Lovejoy.

Miss Thayer urged that the double quartet, composed of members whose finished work had given such pleasure be continued.

Of much interest was the report of Miss Josephine Kelley, chairman of the committee on salaries. Miss Kelley had a comprehensive list of towns and cities with the salaries paid their teachers, a list which will be published later, although Quincy's position on the list is not an enviable one.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Miss Lillian Waterhouse; vice president—Miss Mary Parker; secretary—Miss Helen Humphrey; treasurer—Miss Mary Kapples.

The following committees were elected:

Education—Mrs. Humphrey, chairman; Miss Florence Howe, Miss Mary Miller, Miss Grace Lamb, Miss Marion Downey.

Entertainment—Miss Jessie Shibley, chairman; Miss Jennie Griffin, Miss Beaman, Miss Farber, Miss Olive Moody, Miss Isaacs, Miss Annie Burns, Miss Bertha Eaton, Miss Ellen Sibley.

Salaries—Miss Augusta Dole, chairman; Miss Mary Kapples, Miss Clara Thayer, Miss Alice Hatch, Miss Katherine Larkin.

Cupid had made alarming inroads on the association's membership during the year, but new members are eagerly filling the gaps.

Committees begin work at once and a successful season is assured.

GET-TOGETHER SOCIAL

A novel entertainment entitled "Father Time's Family" was the principal feature of the "Get-Together" social held in the chapel of the Wollaston Baptist church, Wednesday evening, which marked the opening of the year's social activities. The feature was a combination of tableaux and guessing games.

Twelve persons, each dressed in a costume appropriate to one of the months of the year, appeared and the audience were supposed to guess what month was represented. As each was out of its order it was sometimes taken quite a while before the brighter one hit upon it.

The part of January was taken by Allan Hixman, who appeared as a little New Year's boy. For February John Capen posed as George Washington. March was signified by a wind torn umbrella and disheveled hair. Mrs. Louise Drew took the part.

Tom Capen posed as an April Fool, with a large "For Sale" sign pinned on his back. Miss Helen Campbell took the part of May and apple blossoms were much in evidence. For June came Miss Marion Porter with college cap and gown, carrying a diploma in her hand.

July was marked by "Columbia," with Mrs. Edward Capen in the east. August was a summer girl, in the person of Miss Gladys Flieger, with her tennis racket. For September appeared Charles M. Roach with Buster Brown suit, a set of school books, an apple and a sorrowful expression.

Miss Elsa Field, dressed as a witch, represented the month of October. For November Mrs. Charles M. Roach, as a Puritan maiden, called to mind Thanksgiving time. Avard L. Walker in the counterpane of the Evening Time brought the year to a close.

Percival Foss opened the evening's program with a piano solo and other numbers to be enjoyed were vocal solos by Charles A. Kempton, accompanied by Mrs. Kempton, and a series of readings by Miss May. The series of refreshments brought the evening to a close. The committee in charge were: Mrs. Charles M. Roach, Miss Elsa Field and Mrs. Moses Brown.

PUBLIC GARAGE

Inspector of Buildings George E. Thomas issued a permit Wednesday to Councilman Charles B. Yale to erect a public garage on the corner of North and Washington streets. This is one of the public garages on which the Council held a hearing Monday evening. There was no opposition to the granting of the permit, and it was granted later in the evening.

Plans for the garage have not been filed as yet but the permit calls for a building 50 feet by 60 feet. It will be of concrete with steel girder roof. It will be of first class construction and fire proof. The estimated cost of the garage is given as $25,000.

TO HOLD EXAMINATION

The Civil Service Commissioners are to hold a competitive examination, Oct. 23, to fill vacancies in the positions of investigator and examiner under the Massachusetts Highway Commission, at a salary of from $1200 to $1500. Applications for the examination will be received up to Oct. 20, by the Civil Service Commission.

Some of the store-keepers in City square object to open air Salvation Army meetings being held in front of their places of business on the nights when their stores are open.

BRIEFS

F. W. Bent of Merrymont road who has been spending a few days at North Conway, N. H., returned Monday.

Savage & Dixon, grocers, made an assignment Tuesday to Eugene H. Sprague.

Miss Daisy Brooks is in New York, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Malcolm Hinkley, who was Miss Besie Brooks before marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Loud have returned from New York where they were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. William A. Brandau.

Lawrence Y. Spear, vice president of the Electric Boat Co., has been granted a patent for hull construction of submarine boats.

Charles H. Hardwick of Revere road left Saturday on a ten days' trip to the Adirondacks with the Appalachian club.

Dr. John A. Gordon has returned from a month's gunning and fishing trip in the Three Lakes, Province of Quebec, Canada.

The Knights and Ladies of Honor held a whist party Tuesday afternoon. Prizes were awarded to Miss M. Lizzie Fernald, and Miss Sadie Berman.

Miss Bertha Reed of Upland road left Tuesday for Philadelphia. Miss Reed is a well known nurse and has accepted a fine position in that city.

Community Day, postponed from last Saturday because of the rain, will be today. The Pet Stock Show promises to be the feature.

Councilman Frederick J. Kessler of Montclair has taken out nomination papers for re-election to the City Council from Ward Six.

The Quincy Savings Bank has declared the semi annual dividend at the rate of four percent. The bank has paid $4,247,096 in dividends since organization.

Ernest McConnell, whose leg fractured when a horse kicked him on July 1st, will be able to leave the hospital it is expected in a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Bessie Flowers Deaver and daughter Marion and Lillian of Vallejo, California, well known in Quincy, are enjoying a pleasant visit in Baltimore, Md.

Frank Cody, vice president of the Ginter Grocery Co. of Boston, and family have taken a lease of the Stoddard house on Allyn Terrace, and are to make Quincy their home.

Nine past presidents of the Paul Revere Women's Relief Corps were entertained by Mrs. Eliza Pennington of Elm street, a past president, and Mrs. Arthur Merritt on Tuesday afternoon.

Edward Murphy, for many years a resident of Quincy and believed to be about 90 years of age, died Tuesday evening at the home of his son, M. E. Murphy, with whom he has made his home.

James Nichols, Jr. of Roxbury, formerly of Quincy, entertained a party of Quincy and Dorchester friends at a dinner party Sunday in honor of his birthday anniversary. Covers were laid for ten.

The 1915 tax bills have been ready to go out. The bills have been made out and are now being placed in envelopes together with the gypsy moth notices. It is expected that the last of the week will see them in the mails.

Candidates for the city primaries are beginning to take out their nomination papers. G. B. Bates has taken out papers for the office of Mayor and Councilman-at-large Herbert G. Beaman has taken out papers for councilman-at-large.

John E. Brown, landman of Quincy, is a petitioner in bankruptcy. His liabilities are $3,158 and assets, $103. George W. Stone, stockbroker, Quincy and Brockton is also a petitioner in bankruptcy. Liabilities $1,469, assets $52.

A meeting of the special committee of the Board of Trade and the special committee of the City Council on the proposed increase in fares on the street railway is to be held at the rooms of the Board of Trade this Saturday evening.

J. Colan Stewart has been appointed by Department Commander Frederic E. Foye of the United Spanish War Veterans as inspector of John A. Boyd, Camp 2, of Quincy. The department commander has also appointed William Brennan of Camp 2 as one of the committee on Soldiers' Home.

Oscar A. Jacobson of 25 Saville street died Wednesday. The City Hospital aged 42 years. Mr. Jacobson was employed as a teamster and has been ill about four weeks. He was taken to the hospital and since then has been under the care of a specialist. He is survived by a wife.

Announcement of the marriage of Cornelius Davis Taylor, a clerk at the Adams Market and Miss Clara Stewart has been made. The ceremony was performed at the bride's home in Arlington on Wednesday evening. Both are residents of that town and graduates of the Abington High school. The groom, known in Quincy, as "Bob" Taylor, has many friends here.

The pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church has received word from the Carnegie Corporation of New York City informing the church that the Carnegie Corporation of the church that the corporation will pay half of the price of the new organ. The young people together with the congregation are indeed rejoicing these days. It will not be very long now before the church will have a fine new organ. The organ will be acquired through the efforts of the pastor.

Mrs. Ther Ruggles-Kitson, who has made her home in Quincy for some years, has bought a fifty acre farm in Sherburne, to which she intends to move next week. Mrs. Kitson is to have her studio in Sherburne and will also work with Bruce Wilder Saville in his studio in Boston. Mr. Saville has been working with Mrs. Kitson in her studio on Park lane, and last week he moved to his new studio on Boylston street, Boston, where he will also make his home.

Walter J. Neagle, son of Mrs. Ellen and the late John S. Neagle died suddenly Tuesday afternoon at his home, 77 School street. The young man had been complaining for several days and had been under the care of a physician. Tuesday afternoon about 5 o'clock he had a bad turn and soon passed away. He was 20 years of age and was employed as a shoe worker. He is survived by a mother and sister and two brothers. Funeral services were held from St. John's church, Friday. He was a member of the Holy Name society of St. John's church.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Ellen Litchfield is visiting friends in Worcester for a few weeks.

Mrs. Edward F. Conlin left last week for the South to visit friends in Norfolk, Lynnhaven and Roanoke.

Andrew W. Archibald of Newton Center, will preach Sunday at Bethany Congregational church.

Mrs. Elizabeth C. Follett who has been spending several weeks at Orleans on the Cape, returned this week to her home on Putnam street.

Tax bills for 1915 have gone out, and most people who have received them are busy making comparisons with last year's bills.

Thomas C. Hewson of Newborn place is entertaining his brother, Captain Michael Hewson, a sea captain.

Arthur Thomas a local attorney and Arthur J. McGilvray, a local pharmacist, are on a Hudson river and New York city trip. They will return Sunday.

William T. Isaac, Miss Grace M. Isaac and their mother who have been passing the season in a cottage at Clifton, have returned to their home in West Newton.

Joseph John Doran, 26 of 35 Union street and Miss Ellen Agnes Keefe of Cambridge were married at Cambridge by Fr. James P. P. Kelly Wednesday evening. The groom is an electrician.

The winners at the matinee whist party of the George L. Gill Associates in Odd Fellows hall Thursday afternoon were Mrs. Sarah P. Williams, Mrs. G. W. Sargent, Miss M. Lizzie Fernald, Mrs. William Westland.

Mrs. Annie S., wife of John Swinfin, died Thursday at her home 25 Glendale road, in her 40th year. Mrs. Swinfin has not been in the best of health, but her death was not expected. She is survived by a husband and two children.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pawsey who have made their home for many years at Rock island have moved to the Centre having rented apartments on Upland road near Saville street. Mr. Pawsey has not been in good health since his accident a few years ago on a Houghs Neck electric.

Many from Quincy will attend the dinner and rally of the Norfolk County Republican club at the American house, Boston, today. Among the speakers will be Senator John W. Weeks, Samuel W. McCall, Republican candidate, for Governor and other candidates on the Republican state ticket.

Burglars held a little party in the store of E. E. Gray in the Kincaide block Thursday night after they robbed the till of 25 cents, and to celebrate the success of their operation they opened a dozen or more packages of crackers and threw the contents about the floor and shelves.

Friday evening Oct. 15 at 8 o'clock, Dr. Frederick A. Keyes, D. M. D., of Boston is to give a lecture at the Quincy Women's club on Goffe street upon the subject of Mouth Hygiene. Its relation to Adolescence. Dr. Keyes treats this vital subject in a clear interesting way and a cordial and urgent invitation is extended to the public to attend.

The new theatre to be built on the property of Col. Kincaide on the site in City Square now occupied by the Central block, is to be built on land in the rear with active entrance and foyer on the street. There will also be stores in front of the theatre. The building will be two stories and be an addition to the Square.

Lieut. Col. Damon, field secretary of the Salvation Army, addressed nearly 800 people in the Kincaide theatre, Sunday afternoon. His welcome was a decided contrast to the reception given him by Quincy 25 years ago when he was arrested for talking without a permit, and to make the contrast all the more marked he was presented Sunday by Mayor Campbell.

The Wampatuck Camp Fire held their first business meeting of the year Saturday night at the home of their guardian Miss Ruth Bass. The following officers were elected:—Marion Peterson, president; Doris Carter vice-president; Eva Forrest secretary; Marion Allen, treasurer; and Mabel Roache, messenger. An interesting program was planned for the coming year.

Six members of Paul Revere post, G. A. R., who attended the encampment at Washington, have returned. They are Dr. C. R. Marston of Braintree, past commander; William Bird, Joseph Lappan, Jerome Thomas, Charles Barker and Albert Keating. All are in the best of health and are pleased with the trip. They speak in high terms of the interesting program.

Two of the four tank steamers under construction at the Fore River shipyard for the Texas Oil Co. are to be launched within the next two weeks. The ships are the Texas and the New York, the first two contracted for. The sponsors have not yet been selected. The ships are 289 feet in length and will have a cargo capacity of 2,500,000 gallons of oil each. Work on two other boats is progressing rapidly.

Two important amendments to the by-laws are to come up for action at the meeting of the Granite City club this evening. The first of these is to amend the by-laws so that the club may at any regular meeting elect honorary members. The second amendment is to increase the membership limit from 125 to 150. The membership limit has been 125 for some years and there has always been a large waiting list.

Mrs. Lydia C. Hultman, who has made many friends during the 32 years she has resided in Quincy quietly observed the 70th anniversary of her birth at her home 174 Hancock street Oct. 1. She received many cards during the day. Mrs. Hultman is the mother of Senator Eugene C. Hultman, Court Officer Arthur B. Hultman and Mrs. Alice B. Hultman Eckhart, who is at Lenox, Alaska, where her husband is constructing submarines for the Austrian government.

The weekly whist tournaments at the Granite City club began Wednesday evening and will continue every Wednesday evening during the winter season. Seven tables were in play at the opening session. Following the usual custom, silver spoons will be given to those making the best scores. Monthly prizes, five, ten and twenty-five rides to Boston will be given, and also a $10 and $5 gold piece for the two best yearly scores. The two best scores at the Granite City whist tournament were made by William R. Dimock and George H. Field.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Mary O'Brien of 26 Elm street announces the marriage of her daughter Mary A. O'Brien to William G. Duggan of the U. S. Navy.

Duggan is an officer on the Battleship Nevada which is being built at the Fore River shipyard.

An unidentified man was found on the Quincy Adams crossing just before midnight Thursday, fatally injured. He was unconscious when discovered by Patrolman Whelan and remains in St. till Friday.

How he happened to be on the crossing, how he suffered a fracture at the base of the skull and how his left arm was amputated above his elbow is a mystery.

Richard Rich fell from a two horse stage wagon at the corner of Hancock street and Elm avenue about seven o'clock Thursday evening and sustained a compound fracture of the nose and laceration about the head and face. He was treated by Dr. Thomas J. Dion. Rich is employed as a driver for Williams Bros. of Quincy.

The department fair of the Daughters of Veterans is to be held in Boston the first week in December, and a committee of members of Rebecca Whitwell of Quincy has been appointed, consisting of Mrs. Annie Grignon, Mrs. Mae Barry, Mrs. Exell Nason, Mrs. Millie Arthur, Mrs. Bertha Priest, Mrs. Emma Elia. The committee met at Weymouth Thursday evening with the committee of Dorothy Dix Tent. Mrs. Berry was appointed chairman of both committees.

MILTON

Announcement is made of the marriage of Norman John Stewart Simpson of Reservation road to Miss Emily Taylor Gordon of 15 White Plains, New York, Sept. 15, 1915. For a number of years Mr. Simpson has been superintendent of the Sunday school at the East Congregational church. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson will live at 60 Brookdale street, Rosindale, Mass.

The Cunningham gymnasium will not open as early as usual on account of the change in the physical director. William N. Eaton resigned as director several weeks ago and since then Managers John F. Perkins and Jessie B. Baxter have been considering applicants for the position. About twelve names have been handed in as applicants and it is probable that the selection will be made in a week. Miss Edna Carret will continue as director of the women and girl's classes.

The first meeting of the Kemp class of the East church was held at the home of James L. MacLary on Hollis street. A constitution was drawn up and Chester Whitmore and William Hecker were made members of the club. Following the business there were refreshments and a social hour.

Patrick Duggan of Sheldon street was found Monday afternoon in an unconscious condition in the rear of the home of George Coffee on Granite avenue. Mr. Duggan was removed to the hospital in the Milton Police ambulance.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Ellsworth of Eaton street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, born October 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner of Manchester, N. H., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Harlow of Belcher church.

Mrs. James Banks of Granite avenue has been taken ill suddenly. She was removed to the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Mrs. Whipple of Bunton Place is staying with friends in Providence, R. I.

Mrs. W. I. Tuckerman and daughter Susan of Brackett street have left town for Jeffrey, N. H., where they plan to spend the coming two weeks.

John H. Cushman of 405 Beale street, East Milton, while driving his auto on the highway, was struck by a night street car Miss Gail Linahan of 31 Boston street and knocked her down. She received cuts about the head and was badly shaken up. Mr. Cushman rushed her in the car to the office of Dr. Robert B. Seales 546 Washington street where she was treated and then taken home.

Mrs. Littleton R. Bolton of Bunton park has returned from her trip to Southampton, where she visited her daughter Louise who has just entered Smith college for her second year.

Mrs. Lavinia Brackett, formerly of McLean street, is now living with Mrs. Woodbury of Granite place.

The first meeting of the Belcher school association will be held on Tuesday evening, Oct. 19, at 8 o'clock. Miss Edith Randall of Quincy will speak on "Children of Other Lands."

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pendergast of Trenton are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Abbott of Adams street.

William Eaton of Pierce street fractured his wrist while cranking an auto at the Projects garage Wednesday.

On Friday evening, Oct. 15, Rev. John M. Trout of the Congregational church will give an illustrated talk on "The Live Sunday School."

The lecture there will be a general church social in the vestry, everybody being invited.

Miss Louise Bolton of Bunton park is spending the remainder of the week at her home. Miss Bolton attends Smith college.

SQUANTUM

Among Squantums to leave for city homes this week were Mr. and Mrs. William A. Reed and Mrs. James Sumner. The Reeds are to live on Norway street Boston and Mr. Sumner and family will make their winter residence in Somerville.

Mrs. Mathew McGrain who has been at the Profile house, the White Mountain all summer has returned to her home on Bayville road, Squantum.

Mrs. Jennie Aldrich of Binghamton, New York is visiting at the home of Mrs. Joseph Allen. Mrs. Aldrich is a former resident of Squantum and owns property here.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith are entertaining the latter's father and mother Mr. and Mrs. Horace Smith of Norwich, Conn.

HORRORS OF WAR

"People who have an opportunity to see the effects of war would never advocate any country entering upon one." writes Dr. D. W. Keen of Quincy from an evacuation hospital "somewhere in France."

The statement is contained in a letter received by a Quincy person. The letter treats mostly of the horrors of war and describes graphically the results of the bombardments.

A photograph of a battered section of country enclosed illustrates clearly parts of the letter.

Dr. Keen left Quincy about two months ago with the Harvard unit. The party he was a member of went to France for a brief stay, and returned to the exact location of Dr. Keen is concealed.

WOLLASTON

Mr. Granville Westcott Winship has just returned from the marriage reception of his sister Ella Frances and Mr. John Dwight Seaver on Wednesday evening, the twenty-seventh of October from eight until nine o'clock 64 North Central avenue, Wollaston.

Miss Corlew's classes in dancing open next Saturday afternoon in the auditorium of the new Masonic Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Ellsworth, nee Sherman, of East Milton are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter born October fourth.

Mrs. William E. Rowe, president of Wollaston Women's club, extended the executive committee at luncheon Thursday, following a business meeting of the committee at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Lake Hutchison of North Central avenue leave Monday on an auto trip to the White Mountains. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Anderson and son of Chicago.

Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, past president of the Wollaston Women's club, gave a lecture on "American Women's Landmark," illustrated by stereoscopic views, at the first meeting of the Monday club of East Weymouth.

The Annie Newcomb of Park street have returned from their summer home, Edison Pond camp, Rutland, where they have been since June.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Goodrich of Orange City have been guests for two weeks of their sister Mrs. Anna K. Lee of Prospect avenue.

Mrs. P. Warren, Cameron of Tewbury was the guest this week of her cousin Miss Ella F. Winship of North Central avenue.

Miss Eleanor G. Roberts of Lincoln avenue is enrolled at the Perry Kindergarten Normal school Huntington at York, Mass., which opened Tuesday.

Norman A. Hall of Highland avenue has recently been elected president of the class of 1918, Tinney Academy South Braintree, by a practically unanimous vote. This honor is doubly meritorious as not only is scholarship a determining factor in the nomination but he is the youngest member of the junior class and one of the youngest in the entire Academy.

Wollaston is fortunate in having as residents at the present time, presidents of both the 1917 and 1918 classes of the famous old Academy.

Miss Lovell of 115 Merry-mount road, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Morton and Miss Helen Georgian Durrick of 229 Beale street, Wollaston, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Burkett, were quietly married Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the parsonage of the Wollaston Congregational church, Rev. Dr. Isaiah W. Swathoff officiating.

Rev. Fred Steunstra of St. Christy's church officiated at the marriage of George R. Law of Waltham, a traveling salesman, and Fannie E. Parker of 3 Ashmont street, Dorchester, on Sept. 11. He also performed the ceremony for Paul Raymond Lyons, Fowler of 141 Phillips street and Pearl Havelock Belyea of 161 Grand view avenue, on Sept. 6.

The Delta Sigma club held its first meeting of the fall season, after a summer suspension, at the home of Miss Edna Rhodes of Standish avenue, Monday evening.

The absence of a few of the members several applications for membership were referred to the next meeting. The evening was spent in sewing and a short entertainment. A collation was served.

Whatever circuit of King's Daughters held its first meeting of the season Monday evening with Mrs. E. S. Taylor at Wollaston. The evening was largely given up to the discussion of plans for making money during the coming winter months.

A meeting of the parish school of St. Christy's church was held at the parish house Monday evening. The meeting was held to complete plans for the first meeting of the club, Oct. 25.

Irving Marshall of North Central avenue returned Monday from a business trip to the far West and Chicago.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Haskins of Taunton are guests of Mrs. H. K. Ellis of Warwick street.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown have moved from 15 Warwick street to a house in Montclair owned by Mr. Farlee.

Miss Mildred Hall of Cambridge is the guest of her aunt Mrs. William J. Voss of Marshall street after undergoing a successful operation for appendicitis in a Boston hospital.

Mrs. Fred Dewitt of Freeman street is visiting relatives in Brockton.

Mrs. Ella Merrill of Kansas City, Mo. is the guest of Mrs. H. J. Landry of 23 Warwick street.

Dr. and Mrs. Murphy of Carl road have returned to their winter home in Dorchester.

A valuable beaded hood owned by J. W. Hallett of Warwick street was badly injured by an automobile on Tuesday night on the way to the house of the small children in the neighborhood, among whom "Sport" was a great favorite.

The entertainment given on the lawn at the residence of Mrs. J. A. Boone Wollaston Park, Sept. 25, under the auspices of the primary department of the Park and Downs club, was a successful one. Many requests have been made for a repetition of the program. It is to be repeated on Oct. 12 at the church with the same cast of characters. It will be augmented by an enlarged orchestra and also trombone, violin, cornet and vocal soloists.

The C. H. society met September thirty at the home of Mrs. Stuart Sanford on Rawson road, near the all the members present. The meeting which opened with a business session, was followed by a discussion of several well defined projects which the members thought would further their good work and carry out their motto, to give and to do good where needed." In addition to these two pleasing selections were read, "Thoughts of Today," and "Don't Borrow Trouble." Following a short social period the hostess ushered the guests to a prettily decorated dining room where a dainty luncheon was served.

A fire, believed to be of incendiary origin, nearly destroyed a small building on Waterston street before midnight. It is believed that the person responsible for the fire is the same one who has been setting fire and sounding false alarms throughout the city during the past six weeks.

A business session of the Sachem Camp Fire girls was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Doris Bissett on Tyler street, at the close of which refreshments were served.

The Park and Downs club is unable to be present as it is in New York on his honeymoon. The party broke up at a late hour to wish "Jim" many happy years of married life.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

"NEAL OF THE NAVY" New Episode of this really wonderful picture. "PATHE WEEKLY" The most interesting world news in motion pictures.

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, October 16, 1915

ST. STEPHEN'S CHAPTER

At the annual convocation of St. Stephen's Royal Arch chapter Wednesday evening it was voted that the chapter should celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of its institution and a committee was appointed to take the matter under consideration and report a plan for a suitable celebration.

The chapter was instituted March 13, 1865, and is one of the oldest chapters in the state. The committee appointed to make the necessary plans for the celebration are: Ex-Com. Walter E. Piper, Ex-Com. Charles E. Monroe, Ex-Com. Edward E. Jameson, Com. Jonathan S. Swingle and Com. H. Everett Crane.

The annual reports of the secretary, treasurer, trustees of permanent fund and finance committee showed the chapter to be in a most flourishing condition. The following officers were elected and installed by Ex-Com. Charles E. Monroe, as grand high priest assisted by Ex-Com. Thomas D. Borst as grand captain of the host:

High Priest—Louis S. Cleaves
King—David Hanson
Scribe—Jacob Peterson
Chaplain—Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath
Treasurer—Edwin Hardy
Secretary—James H. Webb
Captain of the Host—Albert L. Barlow

Principal Sojourner—Arthur Newton
Royal Arch Captain—Albert H. R. Gardner
Master Third Veil—Elliott D. Healey
Master Second Veil—Philip H. Galach

Master First Veil—James Christie
Senior Steward—Lafayette Gleason
Organist—Herbert V. Follett
Tyler—George H. Dexheimer
Trustee for three years—John Moran

In connection with the installation it is interesting to note that James H. Webb was installed as secretary of the chapter for his twenty-second year.

At the conclusion of the installation the retiring high priest, Arthur P. Raymond, was presented with a most high priest's jewel, the presentation being made by Ex-Com. Charles E. Monroe.

Refreshments were served after the business of the evening.

SCHOOL MATTERS

The first monthly report of the schools shows that the average attendance was 90.1 greater than in 1914, exclusive of the gain at the industrial school. The total number of children registered in 6,828, divided as follows: High, 1019; Adams, 608; Atherton, 552; Codding, 616; Cranich, 472; Grady Bryan, 240; John F. Kennedy, 236; Lincoln, 467; Mass, 543; Montclair, 222; Quincy, 549; Washington, 555; Willard, 326; Wolaston, 464. There were 13 cases of truancy during the month, 251 of tardiness. The percentage of daily attendance was 95.5 per cent.

EVENING SCHOOL

The opening of the evening schools last week resulted as was predicted in advance. A heavy decrease was shown in the classes for foreigners and a very considerable increase in the classes at the high school and in the trade classes. There are now four classes in commercial subjects or civil service work where there were but three last year and the enrollment in the drawing classes has largely increased. The attendance at the dressmaking and millinery classes is very large, there being classes on every evening of the week and three afternoons. The class which was opened in the rooms of the Syrian-American Club has as large an attendance as any room will accommodate. Mr. Andrew Johnson, Master of the Grady Bryan district has taken this class in charge.

WOLLASTON Y. P. E. U.

The Wollaston Young People's Religious Union plans an interesting program for the season of 1915-16. The regular meetings are on the first and third Sundays of each month from October to May inclusive at seven o'clock in the vestry. Among the speakers are Hon. Sanford Bates, President of the National Y. P. E. U., Nov. 7; Rev. Carl C. Hoad, Dec. 5; Rev. Adolph L. Hudson, Dec. 19; Mr. Frank E. Parlin, former school superintendent in Quincy (Jan. 2); Mr. Fred M. Rollins (Feb. 6); Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney (Feb. 20). The subjects selected are varied and pertinent. A new kind of meeting is to be tried in the hope of encouraging the members to form and express opinions on such topics as "Habit" and "Everyday Virtues." These formal or conference meetings will doubtless awaken much enthusiasm among the young people. The discussion and debating of matters which are of general interest to all will be helpful. The music committee will provide a soloist or instrumental music at each meeting. The entertainment committee is planning several social events in the new Parish House to follow the successful party which was held there Friday evening October eighth. The cost in the amusing two act play, "A Bank Deception," given that evening, had been invited to repeat their performance at the Get-Together Supper at the Parish House, October twenty-second. All those interested in the Y. P. E. U. look forward to a successful year in which no part of the society's activities are to be neglected. Visitors at the Sunday evening meetings and new members are welcome.

BEALE STREET IMPROVEMENTS

An improvement which will be welcomed by the traveling public is about to be made at the Beale street bridge. Wollaston, it will be remembered that there is a high board fence on each side of the bridge, which prevents pedestrians, automobiles and carriages using the bridge from seeing anyone approaching from the opposite direction. The result has been that there have been many narrow escapes from serious accidents. It is not quite so bad in approaching the bridge from the east as the west side. A person coming down Newport avenue and turning into Beale street, can not possibly see anyone approaching from the other side and serious accidents are frequently narrowly averted.

Thursday the Mayor gave orders to the commissioner to make some changes in the two fences. The fences are now about six feet high and it is proposed to cut them down to about four feet.

BRIEFS

Mrs. E. C. Bumpus of Goffe street, Presidents Hill is ill at the Boothbay Hospital, Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. David R. Barry of Glendale road are receiving felicitations on the birth of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sterling of Rittier, Maine are guests of Mrs. Osborne Rogers of Hancock street.

Mrs. D. M. McFall has returned to Mattoon, Ill., after spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis of Edgemore road.

Madam Charles A. Howland and sister Miss Emily Moore of Presidents Hill are to pass the winter in Boston.

Dr. and Mrs. N. S. Hunting of Hancock street left Thursday for the Western states where they will spend a month.

Miss Margaret Carey of Upland road who left several months ago with the Harvard Unit for the war zone, is expected home soon.

John Cunningham has severed his connection with the Quincy Post Office and has accepted a position with the Citizens Gas Co.

Mrs. J. F. Welch and Miss Marjorie Welch of 1662 Hancock street returned Wednesday from New Bedford, Mass., where they have been since the middle of August.

Miss Mary Diegan of School street has resumed her duties at Woodward Institute after spending the week end and holiday at New York where she attended the reunion at Vassar College.

Eighteen stone cutters registered Monday evening at the Quincy Industrial school in the class to be conducted in monumental design under the direction of L. Whitehouse.

Three of the submarines built at the Fore River shipyard for the British government are at Provincetown undergoing trials. One has returned to the shipyard having completed its tests.

At the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City Club Wednesday evening the two best scores were made by Albert C. Bruff and Fred A. Drake, five cream and cake were served at the close of the tournament.

The funeral of Mrs. Annie S. wife of John Smith was held Sunday afternoon from her late home on Glenade road. Rev. William Grainger of Christ church officiated. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The state gunning law went into effect, as all persons desiring to hunt must have a state license there was a great rush at the city clerk's office Monday for gunning permits. During the day the city clerk issued 54 permits at $1 each.

Chief of Police Frank E. Burrell, who has been unable to perform active duty for a year or more, has made application to Mayor Campbell to be retired on a pension. A week ago Chief Burrell expected to be able to resume active duty but his attending physician refused his consent.

A whist party under the auspices of Rebecca Wiswell tent, Daughters of Veterans, was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Lena Holmans, Quincy Point. The winners were Mrs. Annie Grison, Mrs. Arthur and Miss Myra Blaisdell, William Fay, N. McDougall and John McDonald.

Miss Beatrice Morrison, guardian, Dorothy Hall, Natalie Saville, Alice Miller, Norma Johnson and Beatrice Johnson, six Passonassett Camp girls went on a hike to the Blue Hills Tuesday. They started at eleven o'clock, taking their lunches and returned at five.

The candidates class of the Girls' Friendly society of Christ church and the Junior Auxiliary has been combined into one organization and held its first meeting at the parish house Saturday. Miss Agnes McCarthy has been elected president.

Mrs. Serafino Silvestra, 58 years, a well known resident of the Italian colony, died suddenly at her home at 29, Beacon street Saturday. Death was probably due to heart disease.

The annual meeting of the Girls' Friendly society of Christ church and the Junior Auxiliary has been combined into one organization and held its first meeting at the parish house Saturday. Miss Agnes McCarthy has been elected president.

A whist party and social is to be held in the hall of St. John's parish school on Thursday evening, Oct. 21. Nov. 7; Rev. Carl C. Hoad, Dec. 5; Rev. Adolph L. Hudson, Dec. 19; Mr. Frank E. Parlin, former school superintendent in Quincy (Jan. 2); Mr. Fred M. Rollins (Feb. 6); Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney (Feb. 20). The subjects selected are varied and pertinent. A new kind of meeting is to be tried in the hope of encouraging the members to form and express opinions on such topics as "Habit" and "Everyday Virtues." These formal or conference meetings will doubtless awaken much enthusiasm among the young people. The discussion and debating of matters which are of general interest to all will be helpful. The music committee will provide a soloist or instrumental music at each meeting. The entertainment committee is planning several social events in the new Parish House to follow the successful party which was held there Friday evening October eighth. The cost in the amusing two act play, "A Bank Deception," given that evening, had been invited to repeat their performance at the Get-Together Supper at the Parish House, October twenty-second. All those interested in the Y. P. E. U. look forward to a successful year in which no part of the society's activities are to be neglected. Visitors at the Sunday evening meetings and new members are welcome.

WOLLASTON Y. P. E. U.

The Wollaston Young People's Religious Union plans an interesting program for the season of 1915-16. The regular meetings are on the first and third Sundays of each month from October to May inclusive at seven o'clock in the vestry. Among the speakers are Hon. Sanford Bates, President of the National Y. P. E. U., Nov. 7; Rev. Carl C. Hoad, Dec. 5; Rev. Adolph L. Hudson, Dec. 19; Mr. Frank E. Parlin, former school superintendent in Quincy (Jan. 2); Mr. Fred M. Rollins (Feb. 6); Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney (Feb. 20). The subjects selected are varied and pertinent. A new kind of meeting is to be tried in the hope of encouraging the members to form and express opinions on such topics as "Habit" and "Everyday Virtues." These formal or conference meetings will doubtless awaken much enthusiasm among the young people. The discussion and debating of matters which are of general interest to all will be helpful. The music committee will provide a soloist or instrumental music at each meeting. The entertainment committee is planning several social events in the new Parish House to follow the successful party which was held there Friday evening October eighth. The cost in the amusing two act play, "A Bank Deception," given that evening, had been invited to repeat their performance at the Get-Together Supper at the Parish House, October twenty-second. All those interested in the Y. P. E. U. look forward to a successful year in which no part of the society's activities are to be neglected. Visitors at the Sunday evening meetings and new members are welcome.

A regular meeting of Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps was held Tuesday night for a baby shower and a large sale to be held at Grand Army Hall, Tuesday evening Oct. 26. All children under the age of two years will be presented with a silk flag on entering the hall. Prizes will be awarded babies of the lightest and darkest complexion, the baby of the lightest weight and the baby of the darkest weight.

The funeral of Oscar A. Jacobson of 25 Saville street, who died Tuesday aged 44 years, was held Tuesday at 2:30 from the Swedish Lutheran church on Granite street. The services were conducted by Rev. Leander Holmstrom and were largely attended.

Heart disease is thought to have caused the sudden death of Jeremiah Donovan, 65 years old, of 288 Ruggles street, Quincy, who died at the hospital while being taken to the City hospital in the police ambulance. He was employed by the Bay State Dredging Company and was taken ill on one of the dredges owned by the company.

At Adams Shore. He was brought ashore in a boat and sent to the hospital in the police ambulance, dying before it reached there.

The "Reds." One of the two teams at the Swedish Congregational church, who are raising funds for the new organ, held a supper and entertainment at the church Tuesday evening from 6 to 8 o'clock. The supper which was known as a Swedish smorgasbord was very largely attended and a good time was enjoyed. During the evening there was an entertainment which included a solo by Mrs. Anna Southard, an organ solo by Carl Gustafson and an organ and guitar duo by Rev. Mr. Sporrings and Mr. Gustafson. The church was prettily decorated with autumn foliage.

Frank Lynch, vice president of John Adams Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, presided at the meeting in Electa hall Wednesday evening in the absence of President John Fairclough. There was a large attendance. Mrs. Mildred Morgan of Weymouth, department aid of the Daughters of Veterans, will be present at the meeting of Rebecca Wiswell tent, on Oct. 22. A supper will be served before the meeting. The committee is Mr. George Perry, Mrs. Exell Nason and Mrs. Arthur.

BRIEFS

Daniel Campbell left Saturday for New Hampshire where he will spend the remainder of the month.

Mrs. Mary Flowers, of Vallejo, California, formerly of Quincy, is visiting her daughter Mrs. Marion Sheeter, of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Martin E. Anderson of Glendale road is in New York, the guest of friends.

Thomas Gammons, superintendent of the local division of the Bay State Street Railway Co., left Thursday for Washington on a short vacation.

City Treasurer John Curtis has sold the $15,800 street improvement bonds to H. C. Geaton, Jr. for 100.75. The bonds are dated Oct. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Wright have returned from Marshfield and are at their home on Goffe street, Presidents Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Lawton of Presidents Hill returned Wednesday night from a three weeks' outing in the Berkshire hills and Mr. Lawton is now in New York state for a few days on business.

Invitations have been issued to prominent people of the city to attend the celebration to be held under the auspices of Dec. 22, A. O. U. M., on the evening of Dec. 22, in observance of the anniversary of the burning of the mortgage on the division building.

Two of the submarines built at the Fore River shipyard for the British government, the H-11 and H-12, have successfully passed their official trials and have been accepted, and a third, the H-13, is nearly ready.

A meeting of the directors of the new trust company was held Thursday evening and Herbert Curtis was elected treasurer. All of the papers have been received from the state and the bank is about ready to begin business.

The officers of Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, will be installed in a Colonial hall on Oct. 21st by District Deputy Supreme Knight William H. Byrne and suite. Michael M. Barrett will be installed as grand knight, he is deputy grand knight of the council and has been an active member for many years.

Judge Cook in the district court last week returned a verdict of $75 in favor of James Swallow, the local attorney, complainant in an action against A. G. Spaulding, a prominent real estate promoter, to recover for damages to an auto, alleged to have resulted from a collision at Nantasket.

H. Everett Crane, entertained the officers of Rural lodge of Masons who have served with him for the past two years, at dinner Thursday evening at the Boston city club. After the dinner the party retired to the address of Edward McSweeney of the Boston Post Directors.

The police of the city donned their dress coats Sunday, on order of Acting Chief McKay. The donning is a trifle heavier than the blouse worn during the warm season, and reaches almost to the knees. Acting Chief McKay also obeyed his own instructions and appeared in his dress coat and blue cap.

District Deputy, Mrs. Isabelle V. Savin of Quincy lodge, N. E. O. E., accompanied by the degree staff of her lodge, officially visited Middlesex lodge at Southville Wednesday evening and examined the degree of the class of six candidates. The examination followed the installation of officers by the grand officers.

At the regular meeting of the Granite City club Saturday evening the by-laws were amended so as to permit the admission of honorary members. The proposition to increase the membership limit from 125 to 150 was defeated. Two were admitted to membership.

St. Margaret's Guild of Christ church has invited all the women of the parish to attend their meeting on Monday evening in the parish house, when Miss Isabelle G. Whipple, D. D., was to give the address. The society of America will make an address on aims and ideals of the society.

Registration for the state election closed in Quincy Wednesday evening. The registrars having been in session from 12 o'clock noon until 10 P. M. During the day and evening 117 names were added to the lists. Of this number eight were female voters. The total number of names added to the lists since the beginning of registration a month ago has been 157.

A meeting will be held at the court house in Dedham Oct. 26, by the Massachusetts Highway Commission for an open discussion on public roads in Norfolk county. Mayor Campbell will either be present in person at the discussion or have the city represented by the commissioner and city engineer.

Benjamin Waters of 1625 Washington street, Boston, died at the City Hospital Friday afternoon as a result of injuries received Thursday afternoon at the Fore River ship yard. Waters was employed by the Boston Bridge Co., who are building a new steel mill in the yards. He was at work on the structure and in some way lost his balance and fell a distance of fifty feet to the ground.

Roses were distributed at the district court Friday by Court Officer Willard. The blossoms were picked before he left his farm at South Hanson this morning from a Dorothy Perkins crimson rambler which is blossoming in the open for the second time. The buds of a pale pink are somewhat larger than the common variety and are closely clustered.

Mrs. William Laid, entertained her Bethany Sunday school class, Golden Star, Saturday at her home 53 Bond street. The house was very prettily decorated with hallowe'en favors. During the afternoon there were games and refreshments of ice cream, cake, cookies and candy. Those present were Barbara Dana, Winnifred McQuinn, Helen Pierce, Ethel Acker, Ina Bain and Mildred Abbott.

Three West Quincy boys were arrested in Milton on the holiday for shooting in Cunningham park. They had several small caliber rifles and a quantity of ammunition in their possession when taken by George Simpson, caretaker of the grounds.

James H. Morrison of 13 Wilson street and Mary Murphy of Wellesley were married at Wellesley on the holiday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. J. Knapp. The groom is well known in Quincy and was formerly employed in the forestry department of the Blue Hills reservation.

Mrs. Mary Simmons of 47 Willard street, an aged resident of West Quincy, fell in her yard Friday A. M. and suffered a fracture of her right hip. She was taken to the City Hospital in the police ambulance.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

QUINCY POINT

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Wallace Carr and little son of Chicago, formerly of Quincy, are visiting Mr. Carr's mother, Mrs. Alice Carr of Thayer street.

Archie Leon French the impersonator ventriloquist is to give an evening entertainment Wednesday evening Oct. 27 for the benefit of Galahad club of Christ church.

The twenty-fourth annual concert of the Quincy Firemen's Relief Association will be given on Friday evening, Nov. 19, in Quincy Music hall.

The special committee of the City Council, consisting of Councilman Yule, Smith and McGrath, appointed to consider the application of the Bay State Street Railway for the right to increase the fare unit from 5 to 6 cents and to certify certain transfer tickets, held public hearings and will report at the next meeting of the City Council, on Monday evening.

J. Ashbury Pihlman, principal of the Salem Normal school is to speak on "Present Tendencies in Public School Education," at the meeting Wednesday evening in Coddington hall of the Codding School Parents Teachers association, Miss Helen S. MacPherson will sing and light refreshments will be served.

The first meeting of the season of the First Parish club is to be held next Tuesday evening. As usual the members will meet in informal dress in the social room at 6 o'clock and at 6:30 a most excellent dinner will be served. Following the dinner there will be an address by Hon. John W. Weeks, United States Senator from Massachusetts.

Commander J. T. Tompkins, who will be the executive officer of the new superdreadnought Nevada, who has been detached from the battleship Ohio and assigned to duty at the Fore River yard where the Nevada is being fitted. She is 962 percent completed and will be put in commission before Jan. 1.

The trial of the counter-suit between the Fore River Shipbuilding Co. and the Southern Pacific Co., came to an abrupt end Thursday morning when the United States District Court opened. It was announced that a settlement had been effected in favor of the defendant. The trials were postponed from the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals to the district court for perjury.

Queen Esther Circle held its October meeting at the home of Miss Alice Carr, Thayer street. The attendance was a record for the club. In the absence of the president the vice president occupied the chair. During the evening a letter from the frontier was read by Miss Addie Newcomb. The new director, Miss Edna Francis was called upon for a few remarks. The program was a most interesting one. The club is planning for an entertainment. The club now has two honorary members, Miss Emma Francis and Miss T. V. Fuller, who recently resigned as directors. The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. P. V. Fuller. At the close of the program refreshments were served by the hostess and a pleasant social time enjoyed.

The regular monthly meeting of the St. Mary's Holy Name society was held Sunday afternoon and was attended by more than 600 members. Rev. Father McCoy the spiritual director gave a short instruction to the members. The services closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Rev. Father McCoy. Over 600 of the members attended Holy Communion and the members sang during the regular communion day of the society. The next meeting will be held the second Sunday of November.

Stephen B. Little, former councilman from Ward Four, has been appointed a justice of the peace by Gov. David I. Walsh. The appointment was sent to the Governor's Council Oct. 7 and unanimously confirmed.

At a meeting of the Brunswick Park club held at Green Harbor with dogs from all parts of U. S. as far south as Texas and Kentucky and west to Missouri competing. Minnie Black won first for best female, first for best dog, first for two couples, first for three couples, and Champion Saturn best at the meet.

Miss Marian E. Teasdale of 29 Cross street has returned from Providence, R. I., where she has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Tighe, formerly of Elizabeth, New Jersey.

George McLoughlin of Copeland street and John Fitz of Grove street, together with a party of employees of the Bay State Street Railway Co., are enjoying their vacations with James McLoughlin of Brooklyn, N. Y. James McLoughlin has been employed for 17 years by the street railway of N. Y.

The party will be gone two weeks. A very successful dancing party was held Monday evening by the St. Mary's C. T. A. & M. R. society in their hall. The affair was attended by about seventy-five couples. Delightful refreshments were served and the music furnished by Hamilton's orchestra. At intermission refreshments were served in the lower hall by the members of the committee. The committee in charge of the dance were George McLoughlin, John Sheehan, Joseph Garity, Bartholomew Flaherty, Edward Joyce, William Corcoran, John Bennett and Michael Saville.

Three West Quincy boys were arrested in Milton on the holiday for shooting in Cunningham park. They had several small caliber rifles and a quantity of ammunition in their possession when taken by George Simpson, caretaker of the grounds.

James H. Morrison of 13 Wilson street and Mary Murphy of Wellesley were married at Wellesley on the holiday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. J. Knapp. The groom is well known in Quincy and was formerly employed in the forestry department of the Blue Hills reservation.

Mrs. Mary Simmons of 47 Willard street, an aged resident of West Quincy, fell in her yard Friday A. M. and suffered a fracture of her right hip. She was taken to the City Hospital in the police ambulance.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

The funeral of Mary Margaret Davidson, widow of David Davidson, one of the oldest French residents of the Quincy Point district, was held from her home at 777 Washington street Tuesday morning with a large attendance of relatives and friends. The deceased was six grandsons of the deceased.

WOLLASTON

Mr. and Mrs. W. Herman Waterman of Arlington street have returned from a tour of the White Mountain region and a visit to friends in Woodville, New Hampshire.

Misses Anna V. and Ella L. Cain of Standish avenue returned Wednesday from Haverhill, Rhode Island where they have been guests since Saturday of their sister Miss Frances G. Cain.

Miss Clara E. Porter of Taylor street has returned from Nova Scotia where she has been a guest of relatives in New Mountain and Truro for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Parcher of Pittsburgh have returned to their home after a visit to Mr. Parcher's sister Mrs. Albert W. Fay of Newport avenue.

The funeral of Wendell G. Corbitt, who died Friday evening, was held Sunday afternoon from his late home, 1 Grand View avenue. The services were conducted by John E. Sprague, a reader of the First Church of Christ Scientist. The body was taken to Forest Hills, New Mountain and Truro

Quincy Patriot

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 43.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1827.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBL. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 1424 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephones: Quincy 425.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

BRAINTREE OBSERVER

Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust

LAND FOR SALE

MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Wollaston Farm

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building. Tel. 847-W
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street. Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1849 by

W. PORTER

Insurance effected in reliable and safe
Stock and Mutual offices.

By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 50 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

ETNA INSURANCE CO.

HARTFORD, CONN.
Incorporated 1819. Charter Perpetual

Losses Paid in 94 Years, $132,981,553.48

JANUARY 1, 1914.

Capital, $5,000,000.00
Net Surplus, $2,000,000.00
Surplus for Policyholders, $11,200,000.00
Reserve for Re-insurance, $1,000,000.00
Reserve for Unpaid Losses, $2,200,000.00
Reserve for Other Claims, $2,500,000.00
Total Assets, $25,400,000.00

RICHARD D. CHASE & CO.
AGENTS FOR QUINCY.

Incorporated 1827

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $9,200,000.00
Cash Assets, $2,000,000.00
Total Assets, $11,200,000.00
Total Liabilities, including re-insurance, $11,200,000.00
Amount of Cash Surplus, $1,000,000.00
Contingent Assets, $1,000,000.00
Total Available Assets, $2,000,000.00
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 10 per cent; on three-year policies, 8 per cent; on one-year policies, 5 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MAISH, Secretary and Treasurer.
DIRECTORS:—Frederic H. Mansfield, Dedham; Samuel Gannett, Milton; Stephen H. Wells, Dedham; Thomas R. Wainwright, Canton; William H. Smith, Quincy; James V. Noyes, Dedham; George W. Wainwright, Franklin; Asa P. French, Dedham; William H. Plimpton, Norwood; Clifford P. Baker, Dedham.
GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

Incorporated 1825

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $28,000,000.00
Cash Assets, $4,000,000.00
Total Assets, $32,000,000.00
Total Liabilities, including re-insurance, $32,000,000.00
Amount of Cash Surplus, $1,000,000.00
Contingent Assets, $1,000,000.00
Total Available Assets, $2,000,000.00
Dividends are now being paid on five-year policies, 10 per cent; on three-year policies, 8 per cent; on one-year policies, 5 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.
THEODORE T. MAISH, Secretary
DIRECTORS:—Frederic H. Mansfield, Dedham; Samuel Gannett, Milton; Stephen H. Wells, Dedham; Thomas R. Wainwright, Canton; William H. Smith, Quincy; James V. Noyes, Dedham; George W. Wainwright, Franklin; Asa P. French, Dedham; William H. Plimpton, Norwood; Clifford P. Baker, Dedham.
GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.

INCORPORATED 1855

HOMER OFFICE, 115 CENTRAL STREET

Telephone, Main 1040.

William A. Muller, President
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer

DIRECTORS.

Paul R. Blackburn, Attorney
Clarence Burgh, Treas. Quincy Savings Bank
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
T. J. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and
Ins. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower &
Weeks
Louis K. Liggett, Pres. United Drug
Company
Wm. J. McLaughlin, Vice-Pres. Thomas
G. Plant Co.
Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Solicitor
William A. Muller, William A. Muller
& Company
Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests
P. F. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Street
Railway Co.
John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons
William F. Wild, Pres. Wellington
Wild Coast Co.
Sarell J. Willis, Blue Hill National Bank
We reduce your Insurance Rate One
Fifth.

ORDER YOUR KINDLING WOOD NOW

We have it now: we shall be out of it very soon

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices:
Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester
166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

When U Want Plumbing and Heating Work Done

in any part of your home, store or factory, and want it done in first
class style.

SEND FOR US

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.

Sanitary Plumbing GAS FITTING
FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK
No. 5 Maple St.,
Quincy, Massachusetts

STANDARD HEATING

STEAM AND HOT WATER HEATING

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

SUCCESSOR TO

GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

THE INFINITE

Beatrice Clayton

"O sea!" I said, "O restless sea!
What of the life that here we see?
What doth it hold for those who stand
As one upon the wave-lashed strand?
For the voyage they quit the land?"

"Infinite! Infinite! Infinite!"
"Infinite! Infinite! Infinite!"

"O sea!" I said, "O beauteous sea!
What of the love that rests in thee?
Two forms thou farest face to face;
They clasp 'em yet in fond embrace.
What of the love we here do trace?"

"Infinite! Infinite! Infinite!"
"Infinite! Infinite! Infinite!"

"O sea!" I said, "O solemn sea!
For these can aught more ever be?
They lived, they loved, they rest at last.
What of death to which they passed,
To anchor safe from every blast?"

"Infinite! Infinite! Infinite!"
"Infinite! Infinite! Infinite!"

"O sea!" I said, "O wondrous sea!
What of thyself? Unbounded, free,
Thou trackless waters surge and roll,
What present, mighty, deathless soul
First fashioned thy stupendous whole?"

"Infinite! Infinite! Infinite!"
"Infinite! Infinite! Infinite!"

"O sea!" I said, "O wondrous sea!
What of thyself? Unbounded, free,
Thou trackless waters surge and roll,
What present, mighty, deathless soul
First fashioned thy stupendous whole?"

"Infinite! Infinite! Infinite!"
"Infinite! Infinite! Infinite!"

"O sea!" I said, "O wondrous sea!
What of thyself? Unbounded, free,
Thou trackless waters surge and roll,
What present, mighty, deathless soul
First fashioned thy stupendous whole?"

"Infinite! Infinite! Infinite!"
"Infinite! Infinite! Infinite!"

"O sea!" I said, "O wondrous sea!
What of thyself? Unbounded, free,
Thou trackless waters surge and roll,
What present, mighty, deathless soul
First fashioned thy stupendous whole?"

"Infinite! Infinite! Infinite!"
"Infinite! Infinite! Infinite!"

AN ARDENT CHASE

"How good of you to come early!"
Little Mrs. Foster greeted, effusively, the gentleman entering with her husband,
"but—I expected your wife," looking vaguely over his shoulder.

"Everybody's late married because you are," the visitor smiled. "I hope Hal's matrimonial experiences have sobered him. He needed it."
"He didn't. And I don't want him changed an atom!" Mrs. Foster pouted.

"Ah, so you manage him through his vanity," Winston teased, with the freedom of an old friend.

"I never have to manage him!" she replied. "You can ask Helen."

A ripple of emotion swept his face
as he said, "Your cousin, you mean, Miss Stars—oh, is she married also?"

"Everybody isn't married because I am," she repeated, slyly.

"But I supposed that she was."

"Helen seems proof against the germ," Mrs. Foster said absently. She was examining his face with an aspect of alarmed surprise. Suddenly she cried: "Dudley! Winston! We will not drag a defunct past out of its grave," he replied coldly.

Conviction seized her: "Oh! oh!
Helen is here. I must see her instantly!"

She whirled away, leaving him staring back, her excitement boiling: "Helen gone!" she shrieked.

"Well, that's polite," Foster growled.
"She came especially for the dinner.
You must have offended her, though Helen isn't touchy as a usual thing."

"I didn't!" Mrs. Foster denied, vehemently. "And she isn't offended."
She said she has suddenly made up her mind to start at once on that visit, consulting the note in her hand.

"That visit is an odd matter; it must be something you said or did."

Lucy gazed about distractedly trying to remember. "I asked her to leave her amber gown. She is so lovely in it, and—oh, yes, I told her Dudley was coming. Oh! oh!
that must be it!" Her eyes widened with horrified certainty.

"Winston, who had grown white, grasped her wrist, demanding: "Why should you think my coming affected your cousin? Mrs. Foster—Lucy!"

"I can't!" she protested. "I'll see Helen, she'll tell me."

"How could I?" Helen murmured,
averting her betraying face.

"Helen! Heartless!" Winston
breathed.

She lifted her eyes to his, and he saw into his heaven—Louise J.
Strong, in New Orleans Times-Democrat.

BERMUDA CUP

The Bermuda cup which was held last year by the Squantum Yacht club and which was won at the Labor Day race by the Tyro of the Mosquito Fleet Y. C., owned by Hollis Burgess, was formerly presented to the winner Saturday evening at the winter quarters of the Squantum Yacht club on Beale street. The presentation speech was made by Commodore George H. Bean of the Squantum club. There were speeches by Commodore Edward L.
Hopkins of the Mosquito Fleet club, Past Commodore E. F. Drew of the Squantum club, Hollis Burgess, Cornelius J. Driscoll, and John F. Leamy.
Following the presentation there was a general entertainment which included a bowling match between members of the two clubs.

DR. REARDON HOME

Dr. Daniel B. Reardon, who has been serving for nearly six months with the Harvard Unit in a British Base Hospital somewhere in France, arrived at his home in Quincy late Sunday evening. Dr. Reardon arrived on the steamship Philadelphia, from Liverpool Sunday morning, the steamship having been delayed a day on account of bad weather.

Dr. Reardon left with Dr. Huntington last May for Europe for service in a base hospital. Dr. Huntington returned a few weeks ago as he enlisted for a six weeks term. Accompanying them were a group of thirty nurses, including several from Quincy.

POST CARDS WANTED

Editor of the Patriot:

Have any of the readers of the Ledger picture post cards to spare for use in institutions and hospitals? The cards are pasted together, making a double picture card, the message side being concealed in the pasting, and they give much pleasure to shut-ins and to both children and adults in the hospitals. Contributions of cards in any quantity will be gratefully received by Mrs. E. J. Cummings, 123 Winthrop avenue, Wollaston, Mass.

MORE PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS

Editor of the Patriot:

In my letter of Sept. 25 I advocated the acquiring by the city of at least one hundred more parks, reservations or public squares at this time when it is still possible to purchase the land at a reasonable price. The developing can come later. I suppose it is too much to expect that the present generation can realize the crudity and hindsightness of this town forty or fifty years ago; nor can they believe that fifty years hence they will be en-sided just as backward, in proportion to the necessity of preparation, as we were at the former time.

Forty or fifty years ago, the town with a little imagination and public spirit could have secured considerable public squares, triangles, street wid-enings, and small reservations for a song. And we are right now in a position to see the future growth of this city much more plainly than the people of the town could have done fifty years ago.

At that time Hancock street was a highway of deep dust and mire; oken carts, a large left the piazza of the Hancock house for Quincy Point connecting with the Steamer Ross Standish for Boston; the President of the Old Colony Railroad said he had just as lief carry one passenger from Quincy to Boston for 50 cents as two for 25 cents each, and one could walk along his railroad anywhere and pull off by hand shavers of from a foot long on the ground, or find them on the roads; droves of cattle went over the road and from the Brighton market; horse-drawn stage coaches on certain days along Hancock street from the Town Pump, corner of Granite street, to Hancock square, and there were 52 saloons in the town as small as it was, and the "no screen" law hadn't been thought of.

Then as now the rich and powerful controlled the town government, many of them using their influence for the most selfish ends. I remember that, as public improvements, J. Q.
Field was one of the watch dogs of the treasury; Mr. Faxon was another. For instance, Mr. Faxon strongly opposed the widening of West Street from West Quincy to the Quincy Adams depot and shipping tracks to the magnificent breadth of forty feet, when it could as easily have been eighty, although he did not hesitate to soak the town $2,300 for the title to what is now the lawn on the north side of City Hall, which at that time was apparently a part of the street to the depot.

Hon. Charles Francis Adams, grandfather of former Mayor C. F. Adams, bitterly fought against the opening of Newport avenue through his land from Adams street to Wollaston Heights, claiming it only led to an old sheep pasture, while his son, Hon.
John Q. Adams, of Merrymount, our biologic town meeting moderator for so many years, never thought that what was better than water works for the city, and that it was nothing but mere playacting to me, revealing in my romantic emotions, I found that out quite enough when I met Harry and learned what the real—and, oh, simple!—I never dreamed the truth about you two—I never fancied even you, and I was not wrong, on, so happy myself, and spilling your lively Helen! With sudden tears, "I think you might have said a word to open my selfish eyes."

"How could I?" Helen murmured,
averting her betraying face.

"Helen! Heartless!" Winston
breathed.

She lifted her eyes to his, and he
saw into his heaven—Louise J.
Strong, in New Orleans Times-Democrat.

SUFFRAGE VICTORY PARADE

Over a hundred people from Quincy and Wollaston marched Saturday in the Suffrage Victory Parade. The Wollaston section was marshaled by Dr. Malcolm Miller, the Quincy section by Delavore King.

The Wollaston Suffragists marched in the Norfolk County Division and bore in addition to their own Wollaston banners the American flag and banners of the Fifth and Sixth Representative districts. Their front rank of eight abreast was entirely of men and were the first men in the procession, they were heartily cheered. All the women who marched were large yellow chrysanthemums of uniform color and size.

Among those who marched were
Dr. Malcolm Miller, W. W. Henry,
Howard Hinckley, Herbert J. Charney, John Daniels, Mr. Field, Mr. Allen, Mrs. Howard Penman, Mrs.
Herbert Gurney, Miss Elizabeth Hubbard, Mrs. Anna K. Lee, Mrs. Conins, Miss Frank Turner, Mrs. Moorhouse,
Mrs. Harriet White, Mrs. A. E. Lovett,
Miss Winnifred White, Mrs. Alford
Richards, Miss Helen Richards, Mrs.
Cora Leonard, Miss Pentland, Mrs. W.
Dean Sanford, Mrs. Malcolm Miller,
Mrs. Howard Hinckley, Miss Miriam
Smith and Miss Emily Allen.

The Quincy Suffragists marched with the Political Equality Union and had the largest representation of any under that organization. They were forced to give up their line of men to the Men's league, leaving Mr. King the only man in this division. As marshaled he led the line, together with Miss Miriam Marsh who carried the Quincy banner. Those in the front rank wore shoulder bands of green, white and yellow, the P. E. U. colors.
All the marchers who followed carried either the Votes for Women banners or gray Bluebirds.

A bright color note was introduced by a line of Finnish women in national costumes. Among these who marched were Miss Grace Williams,
A. Weinhaus, Robert Jones, Mrs. L.
E. Jones, H. A. Libbey, Mrs. Lydia
Warwick, Mrs. Alma Hedlund, Miss
Kenemaki, Mrs. Puna Tuomikoski, Lytli Jylkka, Miss Theodora Clark,
Miss Ruth Dahl, Miss Mary Wilkinson, Sayde Ahravams, Miss Ruth Farmer,
Miss Maude Copland, Miss Elizabeth
McLay, James Muthphey, Miss Annie S.
Marsh, Miss Emily Wilde, Miss Katherine MacKenzie, Miss Elsie Turner, Miss Esther Briggs, Miss Gladys Duplessis, M. Wentz, Miss Jenny Purchase, Mrs. Wilson Marsh, Miss May Chase, Mrs. Chester Pepper, Miss Annie Lowe, Miss Mabelle La Badie, Miss Blanche Hayden, Ralph Briggs,
Miss Iva Briggs, John McDevitt, Mrs.
H. C. Briggs, Miss Ruth Alexander,
Miss Alvonia Eldridge, Arthur Smith,
Miss Edith Kandler, Mrs. Zenas Arnold, Mrs. Joseph H. White.

MARGARET COLLINS

A wealth of floral offerings expressed the sympathy of the entire community to Mr. and Mrs. Timothy J. Collins Sunday afternoon at the funeral of their seven year old daughter, Margaret Collins.

The funeral was held from the home at 77 South Main street, with a large and representative attendance. At St. John's church where services were held there were many more who mourned the little girl, who was struck and fatally injured by an auto Friday noon as she was returning from school. The funeral was the gathering of sorrowing friends were members of the City Government, City Council, School Committee and members of various organizations of the city.

The prayer services were conducted by Fr. Walter A. Quinlan. As the body was being carried to the church to be taken to St. Mary's ce-mentary for burial in the family lot,
"Nearer My God to Thee" was played on the organ by John Mahan.

At the services were many children who attended St. John's parish school and who were accompanied by their parents. There was a large attendance at the funeral of the seven year old daughter of the City Council, City Council, School Committee and members of various organizations of the
city.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU

See John O. Hall of the Board of Trade and County Commissioner John F. Merrill were present Saturday from Quincy at the meeting of the Norfolk County Farm Bureau which was held at the court house in Dedham. There was a large attendance at the meeting, delegates being present from many of the towns of the county.

It was reported that the contributions from Quincy and the several towns of the county to the Farm Bureau amounted to about $1,200, of which $120 was contributed by Quincy people. The total subscription, which included the $1,000 allowed by the state, totalled $2,200.

The object of the Bureau is to employ an agent who will visit the farmers in the county and advise them as to the care of their gardens, particularly as to what their land needs,
the care of trees, etc.

In addition to the meeting of the Bureau there was an interesting talk by Hon. James C. Poor, chairman of trustees of Essex County Agricultural school, and Fred Smith, one of the directors of the school. They spoke of the work of the Essex County Agricultural school stating that up to the present time the school had been a pronounced success.

AGAIN A SUCCESS

At the Park and Downs church, Saturday evening, the entertainment program recently given at the recent lawn fete was repeated by request for the benefit of the primary department of the Sunday school. In addition to musical and other numbers the program concluded with the farce "Frank Glynn's Wife."

The program opened with selections by an orchestra directed by Mrs.
Frederick Arenberg and composed of Cecilia Arenberg, Nestor Arenberg, Mark Arenberg, Harold Merrill, Royal Weymouth, Charles Tanner. Other numbers included a duet by Ruth Broadbent and Doris Blaisdell, a dance by Irene and Doris Shlay, violin solo by Miss LeLachure and vocal solo by Miss Daisy Brown.

A feature of the evening were the readings of Mrs. Sara Kingsley Harcourt. Several selections were given and all were received with loud and continued applause. Vocal numbers were rendered by a quartet consisting of: Alan Paine, Ruth Cassidy, Artemus Dingwell and Edward Bullock.

The cast for "Frank Glynn's Wife" or "An American Harem" was composed of the following:
Frank Glynn George R. Ford
Alice Glynn, his wife Mrs. Christine Mrs. Glynn, Frank's mother Mrs. Edward Chapman
Mrs. Glynn, Frank's sister Stella Glynn, his sister Mrs. Eugene Blaisdell
Gertie, Alice's cousin Mrs. W. E. Bickerton Nora, the

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, October 23, 1915

MONTECLAIR SCHOOL ASSO.

The Montclair School Parents-Teachers association held its first meeting of the season last night Tuesday evening, a large number being present. The president, Theodore F. Parlee called the meeting to order.

Joseph F. McCabe, who is chairman of the entertainment committee, reported that his committee has been considering the advisability of holding a dance to aid the treasury of the association. It was the consensus of opinion that the arrangements for such an affair could be left in no more competent hands than those of Mr. McCabe.

President Parlee introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. William E. Rowe, one of the vice-presidents of the Massachusetts branch of the Parent-Teachers association. Mrs. Rowe explained that the state and national body was called the Mother's Congress. She told of the necessity and value of affiliating with the state and national federation, explaining that the payment of ten cents a member, five of which goes to the state branch and the other five to the national branch, the association might belong to the federation. Membership in this not only gives the local organization the right to send voting delegates to the conventions but also extends the privilege of the literature of the Congress. One of the most important pieces of literature is the year book which has been published through the generosity of Mrs. Higgins of Worcester, the state president.

This book gives the aims of the organization, the by-laws and constitution, a list of the affiliated societies with the names of their officers and also a list of speakers who are available for meetings.

Mrs. Rowe told of the state convention for the Mother's Congress which is to be held in Quincy on the 28th, 29th, and 30th of October. It is the first three days convention which has ever been held in Quincy.

Although Quincy has no hotels the delegates are all to be entertained in the city through the kindness of the state families. The state officers will be elected at this convention and some unusually fine and choice speakers will be listened to including Stanley Kelley, who will speak on "The boy and his father," Dr. Shaffer of Hingham, Penn., the Quincey of Education, and Judge Riddell, a noted Canadian orator.

Miss Gladys Parlee accompanied by Miss Elsie Thompson played two violin solos very acceptably.

Mr. Johnson, the principal of the school, spoke of the interest of the parents knowing the inside workings of the school and suggested that an evening with Miss Jackson, the school nurse, one with Dr. Smith, the physical director, another with the supervisors, Miss French, Miss Howes and Miss Newman would be helpful, also an evening where the parents would present papers giving their ideas.

Upon the request of Mrs. Rowe for twelve ushers at the state convention it was voted to send pupils from the eighth grade.

After a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. Rowe for her kindness in coming and speaking the meeting adjourned until the third Tuesday in November.

WOLLASTON M. E. MEN'S CLUB

An interesting lecture on "The making, manufacture and sale of ranges" was delivered at the opening meeting of the Wollaston Methodist Men's club, Wednesday evening, by T. W. Perkins of the Walker and Pratt Manufacturing company, Watertown. The lecture was augmented by stereopticon and the opening pictures showed the ore fields of Michigan and Minnesota. Methods of transportation and the huge blast furnaces by which the ore is transformed into pig iron were shown.

In the manufacturing plant were shown the wood and iron patterns from which the molds were made, the mold room and foundry. Here the interesting manner of making sand molds and pouring the molten iron was described. In some of the castings ladies full of molten iron weighing one thousand pounds are used.

The cleaning of the castings, mounting, blacking and packing of the stove were all minutely described. The huge warehouse, where thousands of ranges are stored, the nickel plating rooms, the machine shop and other departments all formed the description of an industry that was new but fascinating to the majority of the audience.

President A. N. Murray presided at the business meeting which opened the evening and Secretary Cornell read the minutes. Mr. Blanchard was appointed treasurer pro tem and A. B. Cassidy reported for the ladies committee. A membership committee consisting of W. E. Robinson, E. H. Ewertz and George Taylor was elected. Wives of the members accepted the invitation extended to them to attend and hear a lecture which was held on Tuesday.

HOLD CONVENTION IN QUINCY

The Massachusetts branch of the National Mothers Congress and Parents-Teachers associations, whose annual convention will be held in this city Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, paid a signal honor to Quincy and the Quincy school system in making the choice.

BRIEFS

Miss Frances Bearfoote, sister of Mrs. Arthur Farmer of 28 Baxter street, has returned to Quincy after spending the summer with her parents at the Bearfoote Hotel, Alberton, P. E. Island.

The Quincy Spiritualist society will hold a Halloween festival and entertainment on Nov. 1. Miss Goodwin the seven year old dancer will take part.

G. B. Bates states that there is no secret as to what party designation he is to run under for the nomination for Mayor at the city primaries. He is to be a candidate for the Republican nomination.

Mrs. Henry M. Faxon of Adams street gave a luncheon and tea Thursday for her daughter, Mrs. Lemuel Bannister, Mary Faxon, of Montclair, N. J. Mrs. Bannister is visiting her mother for a few days.

Dr. H. E. Diehl and Mrs. Fred L. Jones, mother of Dr. Jones, have taken possession of the house on Hunt street recently purchased from Dr. A. G. Althorn through the office of Elmer Ricker.

Alexander Falconer is to be Chester I. Campbells campaign manager this year as last and has taken out papers for him for Mayor. He believes Mayor Campbell's record the past year entitles him to re-election and is planning a vigorous campaign.

A reception and dancing party opened last night at the Bungalow. Guests were present from all parts of the South Shore. Nearly 400 inspected the bungalow during the evening.

The Civil Service Commission is to hold a competitive examination Oct. 28, to fill vacancies in the position of investigator and examiner at a salary of from $1200 to $1500 under the Massachusetts Highway Commission. Applications for the examination must be filed before Oct. 20.

The funeral of Mrs. Cordelia W. wife of Frank Keene, who died at her home in Nantucket, Oct. 17, was held Wednesday at 1 o'clock from the home of Herbert Pratt, 79 Codding street. Services were conducted by Rev. Edward Norton, pastor emeritus of Bethany church. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The contest in the Sixth Representative district, between Rep. Edward J. Sandberg and Councilman James O'Dowd is developing into a lively fight, despite the apparent lifelessness of the rest of the campaign. Mr. Sandberg is working like a beaver and has already held several meetings in his district.

Dr. William G. Curtis, member of the School Committee from Ward Five whose term expires January 1, is to be a candidate for renomination and election. Dr. Edward H. Bushnell, member at large whose term also expires on that date would also probably be a candidate for renomination and election.

Michael M. Barrett, grand knight, and the officers of Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, were installed in Colonial hall, Thursday evening by District Deputy William H. Byrne and suite, in the presence of many members and delegations from the councils of Boston and the South Shore.

Col. Henry L. Kincaide, who until his return to the Republican fold a year ago was a staunch Progressive leader on the South Shore, went from town to town in Plymouth County Monday during his state wide tour. With Col. Kincaide in his auto were several members of the Progressive City Committee of Quincy.

The alarm from Box 18 at 10:30 Wednesday was for a slight fire in an unoccupied cottage on Dorchester avenue, owned by Herbert Knowlton of 27 Dorchester avenue, Dorchester. Just what the fire started seems to be somewhat of a mystery. The building was a small one and the loss will not exceed $75.

The annual meeting of the South Shore branch of the Massachusetts Sunday school union was held Tuesday afternoon at evening at the Church of St. John the Evangelist at Hingham. The meeting was largely attended, Christ church, Quincy being represented by 24 and St. Chrysostom's church, Wollaston, by 15 delegates.

Thousands of people lined the banks of the Fore River Friday morning and saw the Superdreadnought Nevada leave the Fore River shipyard on its way to the dry dock in the Brooklyn Navy Yard where it will be cleaned and made ready for its official trials to take place off Rockland, Me., within the next few weeks.

"A Republican ticket from top to bottom and a high protective tariff" was the slogan of all the speakers at the Republican rally in Alpha hall, Thursday evening. There were 300 present, a few of them women and a few Democrats. Previous to the rally an auto truck advertising the rally and carrying a file and drum corps paraded the streets of the city. Ira M. Whittemore, chairman of the city committee, presided.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Collins of Grant street announced the engagement of their daughter, Phillis Wilhelmia, to William Howard Mills. Mr. Mills for the past year has been connected with The Ledger in the capacity of Advertising man, leaving Saturday to take up the duties of a similar position on the Worcester Telegram. Miss Collins is well known in this city, being the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Collins. She also is connected with the Geo. W. Prescott Publishing Co., Inc.

Star Island, one of the Isles of Shoals group, is to be purchased by the New England Unitarian Association. The association has been holding meetings on Star Island for a number of years and a few years ago the project was started to raise the sum of $50,000 for the purchase of the island and buildings. Situated on the island is the Oceanic hotel, the old stone church and many other old town of George's. The monument to Rev. John Tuck, erected by Edmund Tuck of Paris, also stands on Star Island.

One of the largest marble statues ever seen in Boston, is that of Capt. Joseph Wadsworth, which has just been completed at the studio on Madison street, near the Art Museum, from the model by Richard Brooks, a sculptor of Quincy. The statue stands about 19 feet high and has been cut from a block of Carrara marble that weighed six tons. It is one of the six largest figures that are to be placed at a height of about 30 feet on the north front of the new State Capitol at Hartford, Conn.

BRIEFS

Carl F. Doble has returned from a business trip to Burlington, Vermont.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Doble are at their summer home at West Harwich on the Cape for the week end.

Donald Parker of Presidents hill had the misfortune to break his left arm last week while playing football.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Doble, Grace Spear, formerly of East Braintree are now occupying their new home on Elm street, this city.

Miss Beatrice Morrison of Edgemere road is entertaining Saturday evening in honor of her guest Miss Natalie Gould of Lawrence.

Hon. Russell A. Sears of The Larches returned Friday from a six week trip to California and the Exposition.

Mrs. Hannah Cannon of Newcomb street announced the engagement of her daughter Stella to George Knowlton Nichols of Quincy.

Mrs. E. E. Field of Hancock street has returned from a weeks visit to her daughter Mrs. George F. Beaumont of Arlington.

Frank S. Nichols of Quincy was one of the ushers at the wedding Wednesday evening at Malden of Harold W. Eaton and Mildred Carr.

Mrs. W. R. Thomas of Spear street who underwent an operation at the City hospital last week is greatly improved and her friends hope to see her among them soon.

Mrs. Lemuel Bannister, nee Mary M. Faxon returned today to her home in Montclair, N. J., after a brief visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Faxon of Adams street.

Miss Clarice Doble of South street leaves next week for the West. She will visit friends en route and spend the winter with her sister Mrs. John E. Leavitt in Salt Lake City.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Stetson of School street returned this week from a delightful trip West and a visit to friends in Grand Rapids, Mich., and Wilmington, Delaware.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Lawton of Presidents hill are to pass the winter in Wollaston, having very pleasant apartments at the corner of Grand View and Lincoln avenues.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly and son and daughter of Spear street, and Miss Lizzie Chick have returned from a pleasant auto trip to Portsmouth, N. H.

Mrs. George Wheeler entertained the Dorcas society of the Universalist church at her home in Bridgeview on Wednesday, many members enjoying her hospitality and a most delightful outing.

Mrs. Effie Rhines left Thursday on a ten days visit to Rutland, Vt., where she will be the guest of her daughter who was before her marriage Miss Helen Rhines and resided here where she has many friends.

Allan Arnold landscape architect who has been located in Minneapolis since graduating from Harvard is now in Baltimore where he is very pleasantly situated and near his brother Jack Arnold who is in government service in Washington.

Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann of Goffe street and Mrs. James H. Slade of Edgemere road have been on a delightful motor trip through the Hawkey trail, spending a night in Worcester with the Philip M. Pfaffmanns.

Mrs. John H. Leavitt, Rachel Mary Doble, returned Wednesday to her home in Salt Lake City. Mrs. Leavitt, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Doble of South street. Miss Henrietta Doble returned with her sister and will be her guest for the winter.

The will of Mary Pendergast of Quincy was allowed by Judge Flint at the Dedham session of the Norfolk County probate court Wednesday. Administrations were granted on the estates of Frank A. Brown, Levia A. Pratt and Benjamin B. Burbank of Weymouth.

Nine tables were in play Wednesday evening at the weekly whist party of the Mechanics building. The prizes for the two best scores were made by A. D. Chaney and George T. Magee. Ice cream, cake and coffee were served at the conclusion of the tournament.

Mrs. Henry M. Faxon of Adams street, entertained at an informal tea Thursday afternoon for her daughter, Mrs. Lemuel Bannister of Montclair, N. J., who is visiting her. Assisting in serving were the Misses Louise Abernethy of Braintree, Elizabeth Ellisworth of Cambridge, Clarice Doble, Beatrice Morrison and Dorothy Edwards of Quincy. They were also guests of Mrs. Faxon's at luncheon.

Mayor Campbell is the manager of the exhibition New England Fruit Growers association and New England Market Gardeners association, which opens at the Mechanics building, Boston, today, and will continue next week. One of the features of the exhibition will be a baby show for which 400 babies have already been entered. Prizes will be awarded for the handsomest, youngest, oldest, etc., babies.

The Universalist church which has been holding its services Sunday afternoon for two years in charge of Rev. Merrill C. Ward, a former pastor, is to resume morning services beginning tomorrow, with a service at 10:30 and Sunday school at 12 noon. The church is in excellent working condition, the school growing rapidly and should fill a large place in the community.

SQUAMTUM

The Squantum club composed of summer residents of Squantum held its eighth annual banquet Tuesday evening at the Quincy House, Boston, 18 members being present. Frederick P. Turner of Dorchester, president, the principal speaker was P. Joseph McFary of South Boston, ex-commander of the Spanish War Veterans, who coached upon the unpreparedness. J. d. Callahan also spoke.

Mrs. Underhill who has been visiting on Thursday returned to her home in Squantum.

Mrs. Helen McGowan has been entertaining Mrs. Henrietta Black of Fitchburg and Mrs. Elizabeth Snail of Worcester.

John Holmes is building a story and a half bungalow at Bellevue road, ground for which was broken this week. Thomas Currie is the contractor.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Smith who have been guests at the home of Herbert Smith in Squantum, returned to their home in Norwich, Conn.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday by Rev. Johnson of Medford for Mrs. Caroline Hanson, mother of Mrs. Henry Larson and Mrs. Alfred Johnson, Squantum, who died suddenly Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Johnson, burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery. Death was caused from a shock.

SOUTH QUINCY

Mrs. Charlotte, widow of John P. Samuelson, died Oct. 18, at her home, 455 Goldend street, aged 72 years. Mrs. Samuelson has been an invalid for several years. She is survived by a daughter, the wife of John Gohlman, the well known granite manufacturer. Funeral services were held from the Swedish Congregational church Thursday at 2 o'clock.

Miss Ruth Eldridge, a teacher at the Lincoln school who was operated on for appendicitis at the Quincy City Hospital Monday, is resting comfortably.

The Ladies Aid of the Water street Presbyterian church is to hold a series of three fairs in the church Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Nov. 2 and 3. The Ladies Aid will be assisted by the other organizations of the church. The proceeds of the affair will be used to reduce the mortgage on the church. It is planned to hold a series of entertainments this fall and winter to decrease this mortgage.

Mrs. Lem Timney, president of the Ladies Aid, is in charge of the fair and she will be assisted by a large corps of aids.

Mrs. William Wrenn of Kendrick avenue, on Wednesday quietly passed away at her home. Her plans for a quiet evening were upset, however, when a group of friends arrived and proceeded to carry out a splendid program starting with the presentation of an electric lamp to Mrs. Wrenn. The presentation was made by William Wrenn, a cousin of the deceased. Music during the evening was by French's orchestra and a collation was served.

English Ivy Lodge, Daughters of St. George, held a largely attended and enjoyable gathering Thursday evening at Franklin hall. There was a short business session to hold the 6 o'clock which was followed an hour later by an appetizing supper. The menu was a good one and was pronounced excellent by the large number who partook of it.

WEST QUINCY

George L. Laviole of West Quincy died Saturday at his home at 27 Barry street in his 27th year. He was a long sufferer from asthma. His death was superinduced by Bright's disease which set in a year ago. He was the son of the late Mitchell Laviole who has gone to Sammamish, South Carolina where he will spend the winter months.

Mrs. John H. Leavitt, Rachel Mary Doble, returned Wednesday to her home in Salt Lake City. Mrs. Leavitt, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Doble of South street. Miss Henrietta Doble returned with her sister and will be her guest for the winter.

The will of Mary Pendergast of Quincy was allowed by Judge Flint at the Dedham session of the Norfolk County probate court Wednesday. Administrations were granted on the estates of Frank A. Brown, Levia A. Pratt and Benjamin B. Burbank of Weymouth.

Nine tables were in play Wednesday evening at the weekly whist party of the Mechanics building. The prizes for the two best scores were made by A. D. Chaney and George T. Magee. Ice cream, cake and coffee were served at the conclusion of the tournament.

Mrs. Henry M. Faxon of Adams street, entertained at an informal tea Thursday afternoon for her daughter, Mrs. Lemuel Bannister of Montclair, N. J., who is visiting her. Assisting in serving were the Misses Louise Abernethy of Braintree, Elizabeth Ellisworth of Cambridge, Clarice Doble, Beatrice Morrison and Dorothy Edwards of Quincy. They were also guests of Mrs. Faxon's at luncheon.

The Universalist church which has been holding its services Sunday afternoon for two years in charge of Rev. Merrill C. Ward, a former pastor, is to resume morning services beginning tomorrow, with a service at 10:30 and Sunday school at 12 noon. The church is in excellent working condition, the school growing rapidly and should fill a large place in the community.

An old fashioned dancing party, at which everybody was best on having a good time, was held in Eletha hall Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Jolly Three, Charles Johnson, George Ford and Charles Matti, all of Quincy. The guests were from Weymouth, Braintree, Brookline, Lynn, Roxbury, Charlestown and Dorchester. Music for dancing was by Thompson's orchestra. The party was the first of a series to be conducted by the Jolly Three.

Councilman Thomas Griffin visited the office of the City Clerk Clara Friday noon and took out three nomination papers for three Democratic candidates for the City Council. Asked who they were for he said that he did not know. He was then asked if he was to again become a candidate. He said that a number of citizens had come to him to urge that he again become a candidate. "However," said Councilman Griffin, "I do not want to hog it and if there is anyone else who wants to run for the Council I am willing to drop out."

ATLANTIC

Carl E. Carlson and Herbert E. Beeman are being talked up in Atlantic for the City Council.

W. G. Young, president of the Atlantic Improvement Association is against the Association having anything to do with politics as an association. There are others who wish to have the candidates come before the association and express themselves on some of the important questions.

The committee of Memorial church has planned a week of special evening meetings beginning Nov. 7, when Atlantic will have a chance to hear the following speakers: Monday, Rev. J. H. Woodsum of East Milton, Maine; Tuesday, Rev. Clarence W. Dunham of Phillips church, South Boston; Wednesday, Rev. Geo. L. Cady, D. D. of Dorchester; Thursday, Rev. Charles F. Weedon of Dorchester; Friday, Rev. Clinton J. Taft of Dorchester; Sunday, Rev. I. W. South, D. D. of Wollaston.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spicer of Fox on road left by boat Thursday for New York. From there they go by boat to North Carolina where they plan to spend a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gifford and Mrs. Howard M. Pier of Bessie Whiting, the reader, are occupying the house on Billings street recently purchased by Mr. Gifford. They have been residents of Somerville for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Gyllensvard of Cohasset street, Bangor, have been guests of H. G. Beeman of Dorchester street the past week.

Leonard Dolan of Atlantic dislocated his elbow while playing Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Keohane and family have moved from Newbury avenue to Faxon road.

The marriage of Roscoe M. Horton of 285 East Squantum street, Quincy, and Catherine G. Divoll of Worcester became publicly known Monday when a return was filed at the office of City Clerk Charles E. Bennett. The ceremony was performed Oct. 14 at Worcester by Rev. Vincent E. Tomlinson.

Harrison W. Mills of Everett and Miss Mabel Clark of 47 Ocean street, this city, were married Saturday, according to a return filed with the city clerk. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John P. Bland of Cambridge. The bride is well known in Atlantic and is a bookkeeper for a Boston firm.

Cards have been sent announcing the arrival of a daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Pier of Bessie Whiting, the reader, is occupying the house on Billings street recently purchased by Mr. Gifford. They have been residents of Somerville for many years.

QUINCY POINT

Mrs. Davis W. Newcomb and son Dexter of Concord, N. H., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Newcomb of Winter street.

Miss Beatrice McNeill of Brookton has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Flynn of Edison park. Miss McNeill formerly lived here and during her weeks visit renewed friendship with many people.

Funeral services for the late Mr. Harvey, 16 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Harvey of 99 North street was held at the home of his parents. Services were conducted by the Rev. Stephen C. Lang of the Washington Congregational church. There were many friends in attendance.

Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann of Goffe street and Mrs. James H. Slade of Edgemere road have been on a delightful motor trip through the Hawkey trail, spending a night in Worcester with the Philip M. Pfaffmanns.

Mrs. John H. Leavitt, Rachel Mary Doble, returned Wednesday to her home in Salt Lake City. Mrs. Leavitt, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Doble of South street. Miss Henrietta Doble returned with her sister and will be her guest for the winter.

The will of Mary Pendergast of Quincy was allowed by Judge Flint at the Dedham session of the Norfolk County probate court Wednesday. Administrations were granted on the estates of Frank A. Brown, Levia A. Pratt and Benjamin B. Burbank of Weymouth.

Nine tables were in play Wednesday evening at the weekly whist party of the Mechanics building. The prizes for the two best scores were made by A. D. Chaney and George T. Magee. Ice cream, cake and coffee were served at the conclusion of the tournament.

Mrs. Henry M. Faxon of Adams street, entertained at an informal tea Thursday afternoon for her daughter, Mrs. Lemuel Bannister of Montclair, N. J., who is visiting her. Assisting in serving were the Misses Louise Abernethy of Braintree, Elizabeth Ellisworth of Cambridge, Clarice Doble, Beatrice Morrison and Dorothy Edwards of Quincy. They were also guests of Mrs. Faxon's at luncheon.

The Universalist church which has been holding its services Sunday afternoon for two years in charge of Rev. Merrill C. Ward, a former pastor, is to resume morning services beginning tomorrow, with a service at 10:30 and Sunday school at 12 noon. The church is in excellent working condition, the school growing rapidly and should fill a large place in the community.

An old fashioned dancing party, at which everybody was best on having a good time, was held in Eletha hall Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Jolly Three, Charles Johnson, George Ford and Charles Matti, all of Quincy. The guests were from Weymouth, Braintree, Brookline, Lynn, Roxbury, Charlestown and Dorchester. Music for dancing was by Thompson's orchestra. The party was the first of a series to be conducted by the Jolly Three.

WOLLASTON

Mayor Chester I. Campbell will be the leader of the Christian Endeavor meeting, Sunday evening in the new parish house of the Wollaston Congregational church and will speak on "Capturing Politics for God." The service will be held at six o'clock and will be of special interest to the men of the community.

Mrs. Edward A. Lyman of Warwick returned home Monday after being in Wollaston for a week, the guest of Mrs. Anna L. Lee of Prospect avenue and Mrs. Wendall G. Cortell of Grand View avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Gammon of Gilmore street Wollaston are returning today from an enjoyable ten day's trip through Connecticut, including Elliott, Hampton, Willimantic, Windham and Norwich.

Dr. Louis A. Merritt of Newport avenue has returned from a trip to the Pacific coast, most of the summer being spent in Spokane, Washington.

Mrs. Helen King of Clay street has been visiting in Wollaston. She has bought two lots on the south side of Hillside avenue Third Hill.

Mrs. Ida F. Brigham of Lynn is the week end guest of Mrs. Ronald MacDonald of Hancock street, Wollaston.

Miss Helen King of Clay street has returned to Dana hall school Wollaston after a short visit to Montreal to see her fiancé John Sierwight Paterson of High River, Alberta, Canada sail for England to go to the front.

Their engagement was announced in March of last year. While in Montreal Miss King was the guest of the John Finlays. Mr. Paterson resigned his position as manager of the High River branch of the Dominion bank of Canada to go with his regiment.

The play "Professor Pepp" will be presented for the first time in the East on Thursday evening in Masonic Temple, Wollaston by the Paint and Powder club under the personal direction of Mrs. Morgan J. Walker of Chester street. It is a delightful play with many laughs. Dancing will follow the performance. Miss Mary Brown 189 Arlington street has charge of the tickets.

Mrs. John Holden Seaver of Templeton is the guest of Miss Ella F. Winslow of North Central avenue.

Mrs. Franklin D. Bennett of Beale street is enjoying a month with relatives in Chicago.

Mrs. George D. Tripp and Miss Mabel D. Tripp who have been living in Braintree the past year have returned to Wollaston and will occupy their home on North Central avenue.

The much talked of play "The Hoodoo" will be presented for the first time in the east at the Wollaston Masonic temple, Thursday evening, Oct. 28, by the Paint and Powder club of St. Chrysostom's church.

Mrs. G. A. Lynch and daughter Adelaide of 266 West Central avenue have gone to New York to visit their relatives Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Hatch of Riverside drive. They expect to return by the first of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nash of Wollaston have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burrill of Bridgeview.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. T. Small of Elmwood avenue. A little stranger arrived recently and has been named Eleanor Allingham.

Henry F. Campbell of Belmont street, who underwent an operation at the Corey Hill Hospital two weeks ago, is expected home this week.

Henry H. Curtice, Jr., of Brook street, clerk for several years at the Quincy house, Boston, resigned his position and announced his connection with the firm of Ricker, Curtice Co., advertising specialists.

Mr. and Mrs. George Catlin of Wollaston are enjoying an extended trip through the West. Before going they have been visiting Mrs. Catlin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Hayward of Whitman.

Frank J. Lavery, Jr., of West Roxbury, formerly a well known resident of Wollaston, was united in marriage Monday Oct. 18, to Miss Alice D. English of Wollaston, N. Y., the ceremony taking place in Waterford. Herbert A. Lavery, a brother of the groom, was the best man and the bridesmaid was Miss Josephine O'Leary of Troy, N. Y.

Dr. Edward H. Bushnell has taken out nomination papers as a candidate for School Committee at large.

The South Quincy Brotherhood held its regular meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Sullivan of South Carolina, where he will spend the winter months.

John DeCoste of Willard street left Monday for Canada, N. H., where he has accepted a position with the Government north department.

Word was received in this city Wednesday of the death of Christopher Ross of 62 Bryant avenue, East Milton, at Barre, Vt. He was a lifelong resident of West Quincy and was well known in that section. He had been employed as a stone cutter in Barre during the past year. He was taken ill a few weeks ago with typhoid fever and never rallied. He is survived by a wife and four children.

ATLANTIC

Carl E. Carlson and Herbert E. Beeman are being talked up in Atlantic for the City Council.

W. G. Young, president of the Atlantic Improvement Association is against the Association having anything to do with politics as an association. There are others who wish to have the candidates come before the association and express themselves on some of the important questions.

The committee of Memorial church has planned a week of special evening meetings beginning Nov. 7, when Atlantic will have a chance to hear the following speakers: Monday, Rev. J. H. Woodsum of East Milton, Maine; Tuesday, Rev. Clarence W. Dunham of Phillips church, South Boston; Wednesday, Rev. Geo. L. Cady, D. D. of Dorchester; Thursday, Rev. Charles F. Weedon of Dorchester; Friday, Rev. Clinton J. Taft of Dorchester; Sunday, Rev. I. W. South, D. D. of Wollaston.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spicer of Fox on road left by boat Thursday for New York. From there they go by boat to North Carolina where they plan to spend a month.

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, October 23, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.

For Sale at
The Patriot Office,
Brown & Co.,
H. P. Kittredge,
J. P. O'Brien,
C. F. Carlson,
H. A. Cook,
H. H. I. Smith,
Sprague & Hobart,
Shank's Periodical Store,
Thomas Gurney,
Branchell & Martens,
Branchell & Martens,
Peter L. Litchfield,
E. H. Dohle & Co.,
Edward F. Drohan,
Mrs. Lark's Store,
J. J. Hammers,
South Terminal Station,
Quincy,
City Square,
28 Hancock St.,
Quincy Point,
Quincy Point,
Atlantic,
Quincy Adams,
West Quincy,
West Quincy,
East Quincy,
Boston.

SHIPYARD ENLARGING

The Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation is ready to build a double slip which is to be the largest at the plant. Work will be commenced within a few days. The company, after the completion of the ship will be in a better position to bid for the battle cruisers which it is expected will be authorized by the next Congress.

The plans call for double slips 300 feet long. Permission must be secured from both the Federal and State Governments before operations on the new construction may be started.

The Schwab management, believing that the slips which the plant now has are large enough for any battleship which is likely to be built for the United States for some time, but not for cruisers, are making every preparation necessary to meet new demands. It is unwilling to lose any possible orders because of the lack of facilities.

There is more work at the Fore River yards than before. The Fore River yards have a contract for 21 of them being warships. Besides these, there are orders for submarines for the various countries.

At present there are 5000 or more men on the company's payroll and the prospects are that this number will be increased. The Fore River Corporation will be increased. The officials see no end to the growth of the company's business, especially in view of the earnest agitation for the enlargement of the U. S. navy.

The Nevada, with her new turbines, which were installed at an expense of $2,000,000, which was borne voluntarily by the company, will be launched again on Friday. In order to escape the dangers of the ledge in the channel, she will be made as light as possible, carrying even only oil enough to get her to New York. On Monday she will be put into the Brooklyn Navy Yard dry dock. This would be done in Boston were the dry dock completed. The Nevada will have her trial in about two weeks.

EPWORTH LEAGUE MEETS

The regular business meeting of the Epworth league was held in the vestry of the Hall Place M. E. church, Monday evening, with a good attendance. Reports were received from the various departments. The committee appointed to secure a new cover for the banner reported that the old one had been found. The committee appointed to arrange for Old Folks Day asked permission to change it to "Mothers and Fathers Day" which was granted. It was voted to observe this on Sunday, November 14. The league also voted to pay the organist of the church.

An invitation was received from Atlantic Epworth league inviting the league to a Halloween party Oct. 26th and the invitation was accepted.

The Epworth league under the direction of the Fourth Department, Robert McCormick, fourth vice-president is planning to hold an entertainment some time in the future which it is hoped will be even more of a success than was "Sally Linn" last year. Two new members were admitted, Henry Nicholas and Milton Miller.

After the business session a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the Fourth department.

SUBMARINE CONTRACTS

Contracts for 16 submarines and six torpedo boat destroyers were awarded by the Navy Department Monday. Of the 16 submarines, the contract for eight at $450,000 each was awarded to the Electric Boat Co., whose plant is located at the Fore River plant in Quincy.

The principal characteristics of the submarines will be: Speed on surface 20 knots, and submerged, displacement 580 tons. Each will carry in addition to the torpedo tubes a 3-inch disappearing rifle for surface fighting. They will have oil engines for cruising on the surface and batteries for propulsion when submerged.

Of the destroyers the Cramps & Sons Company will build two, at $245,000 each; Seattle Co. one at $285,000; Bath Iron Works one at $275,000. Two will also be built at navy yards one at Mare Island at $762,628 and one at the Norfolk yard at $706,205.

All of the destroyers will have a speed of 30 knots on the surface and will displace 1125 tons each, delivery to be in from 18 to 20 months.

MACKAY TO RUN

John D. Mackay, chairman of the annual convention, authorized the announcement Saturday that he was a candidate for re-election from Ward One. A week ago the Patriot said Mr. Mackay would undoubtedly be a candidate.

Mr. Mackay is now serving his second term. He was first elected from the ward in 1909 and was re-elected by a handsome vote in 1912. He has served as chairman of the board the past four years.

Mr. Mackay, who has been active, energetic and enthusiastic in his service, will be unopposed, it is believed. He will be a candidate on the Republican ticket.

BIG FISH STORY

A new record in fishing was made Sunday by Perry Green, the Quincy Point fisherman, who caught ten fish on one hook. It didn't become known, however until Monday when he examined a monster dog fish and found it carried nine young ones.

In the party were a number of well known young men. They caught all varieties of fish, including several species weighing close to 50 pounds, but none of them old "Little Perry."

CITY COUNCIL

Two of the most important matters before the City Council Monday evening were the report of the committee on public buildings which has been investigating the system of ventilation for school buildings as recommended by the School Committee and the report of the special committee appointed to co-operate with Board of Trade and Mayor in the matter of the proposed increase of fares and curtailing of transfer privileges on the street railway.

The special committee on the street railway matter, reported in the form of a resolution, which was to the effect that the proposed changes would result to the disadvantage of the citizens of Quincy, and closed by requesting the Mayor to arrange to be heard in protest before the Public Service Commission at the hearings to be held.

This report started quite a lively debate, which was in many ways a repetition of the debate which took place at the meeting of the Board of Trade last week.

Councilman Yule, chairman of the special committee, in explaining the report said that the committee had secured the street railway for certain information and had received no reply.

Councilman Smith of the committee said that the committee had endeavored to co-operate with the Board of Trade and had held two meetings with the committee of that board, but the report of that board, he said, was not satisfactory. He believed that the railway officials, should show some reason why the fares should be increased but it had not done so. He also read a letter from Supt. Conway stating that a more clear understanding of the question desired answered could be obtained by the hearings.

Councilman Craig was opposed to going on record against the increase until more was learned as to the reasons advanced by the road. He moved the report be recommitted. This motion was lost.

Councilman Griffin believed that the City Council and Board of Trade should work together in this matter. "We have nothing now with which to go before the Public Service Commission."

Councilman McGrath said those who went before the Commission should go with some reason why the fares should not be increased. "I believe that the Board of Trade has treated the Council discourteously in this matter."

Councilman Kessler said that the burden of proof was on the railway. It was for the road to show why fares should be increased.

Councilman Griffin: "If the company can show good cause why fares should be increased it might make a difference. This resolution opposes the increase whether right or not."

Councilman Ross was taking the chair and President Whiton called the road argued at length in opposition to the proposed increase. The Board of Trade had increased until the Council was able to find out more about the reasons. Personally he was against any increase in fares in Quincy. "The special committee do not give us any reason why we should oppose the increase asked for," he asserted.

Then Councilman Griffin said that he believed that it had taken the right action.

Councilman Kessler said that no corporations were paying dividends except those manufacturing war munitions.

Councilman Craig said we want something more than the mere fact that rides are at a cost cent more.

ADOPT RESOLUTION

Councilman Slade, and Nelson also spoke briefly on the resolution after which it was adopted.

The report of the public buildings committee came out flatly against the system of ventilation for the two new school buildings as endorsed by the School Committee. The public buildings committee in its report went into the question thoroughly and told what it had done in the way of investigation of the so called new system. Its report was accepted and a copy ordered forwarded to the School Committee. The report was as follows:

Mr. Joseph L. Whiton, President, City Council.
Dear Sir:
The committee on public buildings, who were authorized under Order No. 361, passed by the City Council, Sept. 27, 1915, to consult authorities relative to the ventilating system, adopted by the School Committee, have the honor to report to you as follows:

Your committee has given the matter of open air ventilation system, through deliberation and careful consideration from all its aspects. It has visited the State Hospital for the Deformed and Crippled Children at Canton, and the Paul Revere Hospital in Boston.

They have consulted with men of prominence in the medical profession, in the field of ventilating engineering and of architecture. They have consulted with the Building Inspection Department of the State Police and they have not been able to find among these authorities anyone who would recommend or endorse or approve the adoption of the open air system, such as is in use in the Canton Hospital, for use in a school building, or the erection of the Quincy contemplated.

The committee went on to work on the assumption that the system had merit and tried to find someone who could work it out from an engineering standpoint and ventilation standpoint, and who would be willing to say, or would take the responsibility of saying, that the system could be made to work satisfactorily or would give the desired results.

Dr. Fish of the Canton Hospital could do this as the system and method was entirely his own creation, and on a small scale. That any modification of the system to adapt it to a large scale, would introduce unknown quantities, or conditions, which might entirely destroy the workings of the same.

We had plans submitted by an architect showing the design of a building and type of construction necessary for the adoption of such a system, only to be discarded when its defects or impracticability became evident.

Capt. Pope, head of the Building Inspection Department of the State Police, tells us his department has not approved the Canton School, (except as to exits) and cannot as it is not in conformity with state law. The law gives this department jurisdiction over heating and ventilation and if a building erected does not meet those requirements they are authorized to prohibit its use.

The State Board of Education, through its agents report, which may be found on file at its office, does not report favorably on the Canton school, especially the lighting which is found to be very unsatisfactory, especially when the sun is bright, due to cross shadows between the lights from the top and lights from the side of the building.

Even from the medical standpoint, while very enthusiastic over its merits, Dr. Fish frankly admits that it is doubtful if the benefits derived from the same would warrant, or justify the city in assuming the risk, or necessary expense, which its adoption might incur, in view of the fact that school children would live under these conditions only five hours per day out of the 24 five days a week, and during those five hours there are two recesses, one in the forenoon and one in the afternoon, which are generally spent out of doors by the children, also one and one half hours for dinner at noon.

Because of the criticism directed against the artificial ventilating system of late years, many investigations and experiments have been made by qualified authorities. By the New York State Commission, a commission specially appointed by the state for that purpose, and other authorities, among them Professors Winslow & Baskerville, and D. D. Kimball, president of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers, also a member of the New York state Commission, and their conclusions are: "That no superiority is apparent in the case of naturally ventilated or open air schoolrooms and that the cases where claims have been made of the benefits of such a system were especially selected cases where the children were continually under the care of nurses, physicians and others who were trained in looking out for the physical welfare, diet and mode of living, and medical attention and that there was no evidence to show that the results obtained were due solely to fresh air, and that the same results could not be obtained in other rooms properly ventilated by the present system."

In the annual report of the Heating and Ventilating Engineering division of the Boston Schoolhouse Department for the past year it says: "The general use of open windows in school rooms should be discouraged. There is always the danger of submitting the pupils nearest to the windows to both rapid and violent variation in temperature. It furthermore places the work of controlling both the temperature and ventilation upon the teacher, instead of upon the janitor, and it further endangers all chance for a constant inside temperature, as the temperature near the windows will be found to be several degrees lower than in other parts of the room."

It is the opinion of engineers that the very best results can be obtained by a system of ventilation as provided for our schools, and operated with the care and intelligence which it requires, and that where poor results are obtained it is in many cases due to the lack of understanding on the part of the janitors to know what is required, or failure to do the same. We believe the information which we have been able to obtain, is available on open air system of ventilation, does not justify the recommendation by the City Council, in an attempt to adopt the same to school buildings of the size proposed to be erected by the City of Quincy.

Respectfully submitted,
Chairman, Committee on Public Buildings.

CRACK AT SCHOOL BOARD
Councilman Bolster also took a crack at the School Committee in a resolution setting forth that complaints had been received from parents of children attending the Massachusetts Fields and Washington school buildings, that owing to the crowded condition of these buildings some of the children were going a few hours each day and some for a longer period. The resolution closed by requesting the School Committee to make some arrangement whereby children attending these buildings could have the same number of hours in the schools until such time as the new buildings were erected. It was adopted.

Letters were received from the Councilman Fuller and Dr. J. Collins expressing thanks for floral tributes.

The city clerk asked for an appropriation of $275 for election expenses and later in the evening an order was adopted appropriating that amount.

Commissioner Brown asked for a transfer of $1500 from street watering to the appropriation for care of Public Buildings. An order was offered later in the evening.

The Managers of Public Burial Places, meeting at their own call, to rebuild the stone wall on front of the Hancock cemetery and later an order for that amount was offered.

BURRELL WANTS PENSION
Chief of Police Frank E. Burrell sent a communication asking to be retired on a pension. Referred to Finance Committee.

The Mayor sent a communication recommending the appropriation of $2,000 to rebuild Willard street from Furnace Brook Parkway 1400 feet northerly. Later the rules were suspended and an order offered.

The veto of Mayor Campbell of the order relative to the salaries of the Police Department was sustained without debate. Later in the evening Councilman Ross offered an order relative to salaries of the permanent firemen which provided they should receive $2.50 per day for the first year, $2.75 the second year and $3.25 thereafter.

Councilman Smith offered a petition for the laying out of a footway from Common street to Filbert street which was referred to the next Council.

The ordinance committee reported ought to pass on the order fixing the salary of the inspector of weights at $1200 a year and increase the salary of the scaler of weights and measures from $1000 to $1200 a year. Referred to finance committee.

The ordinance committee also reported a substitute ordinance relative to inspection of wires. Ordered to a second reading.

Also ought not to pass on the order refunding Sydney T. Wyman half cost of permanent sidewalk on Beale street.

A substitute order for $5,000 for extension of the water system charging the same to the recipients from water. Ordered passed.

The public buildings committee reported an amendment to the order for $7,000 for the purchase of the Zenas Arnold lot on Coddington street for an addition to the Coddington school lot.

making the amount $6,500. To finance committee.

A public hearing was held at 8.15 on the petition of the A. B. C. Oil Co. for permission to store gasoline in 20,000 gallon tank on what is known as the John A. Dugan lot at West Quincy. James H. Elcock, George F. Elcock and Charles J. McGivray strenuously opposed the granting of the permit. The petition was referred to the License committee.

Councilman Ross offered an order to increase the salary of the chief of police from $1500 to $1600, also the pay of the permanent men as follows: captain $1400; inspector $1250; lieutenant $1300; sergeants $1250; reserve men $3 a day when detailed for duty; special police $2.75 per day when detailed for duty. Referred to joint committee of finance and police.

The order relative to removing the fountain in City Square was taken from the table and referred to the next Council.

Councilman McDonald offered an order calling for the election of Nov. 2, and designating the polling places, also designating the polling places for the municipal primaries Nov. 16.

Orders for street light on Park street Squantum, two lights on Washington street between Foster street and Revere road, and lights on the corner of Lowell and Washington and Edwards and Washington streets were referred to the Executive.

An order appropriating $300 to remove the ledge on South street was received under suspension of the rules.

Adjourned at 10.01.

STEBBINS HOWES

A pretty home wedding took place at 23 Cottage street, Monday evening when Miss Irene Adele Howes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Elmer Howes, and Myron Richmond Stebbins of Quincy, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George W. Stebbins of Quincy, were united in marriage by Rev. Merrill C. Ward of the Universalist church.

An eight o'clock to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Margaret Hogan the bride and groom preceded by the best man, George Henry Stebbins of Wollaston, brother of the groom, and the bridesmaid, Albert Alton Hubbard of Quincy, an intimate friend of the bride's since childhood as bridesmaid. Miss Lombard wore rainbow fable tulle with tulle Alencon lace and Georgette crepe.

The bride looked charming in an exquisite gown of white tulle with satin with chintilly lace and tulle sequins in pastel colors on net. Her tulle veil was fastened with orange blossom sprays and she carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

A reception followed the wedding, the where the bride and groom, Benjamin Itab, brother of the groom, and Myron Stebbins of Wollaston, the bride's parents, the bridesmaid and the groom assisted in receiving. The wedding party stood in front of a bank of tall palms and hydrangeas with cut flowers.

They received many beautiful gifts of silver, cut glass, china, linen and pictures, among them were a dozen tea spoons, berry spoon, silver beefsteak set and two dozen cut glasses from the office force of the National Life Company where the groom is a bookkeeper.

Relatives were present from Chatham, Boston, Northfield and Springfield.

The bride's going away suit was of dark blue broad cloth, fur trimmed and hat of dark blue and pale pink velvet with two large pink plumes.

The couple left amid a shower of confetti on a two wheeled trip to Virginia, Washington, Philadelphia, New York and Niagara Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Stebbins will be at home after December 31st at 35B Revere road, Quincy.

AN APPEAL

October thirteenth at a meeting of the directors of the Associated Charities the following letter written by the Treasurer of the society was presented to the officers and directors for their careful consideration, preparatory to making their annual appeal to the citizens of Quincy for funds to carry on the work during the ensuing year:

Ladies and Gentlemen:
Our secretary has accomplished wonders in the work that she has been doing for us and for Quincy, during her term of service. Personally I appreciate very highly the calm, energetic, sympathetic work that she has done. I cannot say too much in praise of her steadfast devotion to the undertaking in which she has been engaged. The list of calls that she has made, the visits which she has received, the consultations that she has had with the various charitable associations, the city officials, and other interested parties, are almost innumerable. She has been practically the agent for all our charitable organizations of our city, a person to whom they have looked for correct information, and with whom they have held frequent consultations.

So much can be said truly for our secretary. She has shut out bums, loafers and whining hypocrites, and has ministered to the truly needy with unflinching patience.

Now, at the close of the year, we find the funds of the association very low. Small charge is made outside of the modest compensation paid to our secretary for her whole time. As far as the little nest of sufferers with whom we are in contact, we find that our needs are increasing and should receive proper and constant attention.

The question that I ask is "What will Quincy do to maintain the Associated Charities?" Quincy is rich and can well afford to make a small contribution through its citizens for this very excellent work, which unites the sympathy of the wealthy with the exclusion of the unworthy. Now, today, Quincy as an entirety can easily put this association on a sound and lasting basis. Will Quincy do it? Shall we make a house to house canvass to find out how much honest gain will, how many good, disinterested, kind, how much true benevolence, in our citizens?

This is a non-partisan work; it is absolutely non-sectarian work; it is simply an endeavor to carry out the Golden Rule and "do unto others as you would that they should do unto you."

I can say nothing more than that I shall be disappointed if, by a proper presentation of this matter to our Quincy people, we do not get a ready, strong and hearty response to our appeal.

RUPERT F. CLAPLIN

THE WOMEN'S CLUBS

(Continued from Page Three.)

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB

Tuesday afternoon the Quincy Women's Club held its second meeting of the season. The meeting will be in charge of the Education committee, Mrs. Charles L. Griswold, chairman, and will be held at half past two at the clubhouse.

Professor Huntington began his work as an instructor in Euphrates college at Harput far in the interior of Turkey. There he taught for four years in a school whose many professors within the past few months have been massacred by the Turks, while the whole Armenian constituency of the school has been deported or slain.

While at Harput he descended the rapids of the upper Euphrates canyon upon a raft of skins, travelling in this way for 200 miles along a portion of the river whose turbulence had prevented its passage except at one time 60 years earlier, when the German general, Von Moltke, made the same trip. In connection with his studies of the geography of the region Mr. Huntington visited parts of Turkey where no European had previously penetrated, especially in the district occupied by the Kurds, who are the Turks' chief agents in the massacre of Armenians.

In later years Mr. Huntington has made three expeditions to Asia, one lasting seven months and ending with a year and a half. The brief expedition was made on behalf of Yale University and was directed to Palestine and the neighboring regions, together with Asia Minor. The year of this visit happened to be a time of drought, and accordingly the Arabs came to the gates of the inhospitable desert on the outskirts of the inhospitable regions were either in open rebellion against the authorities or were making raids on the villages or on their neighbors. This gave an unusual opportunity to study the conditions which scarcity of food or other handicaps, which the Syrians have upon the moral character of a people. The Arabs think no more of making a raid than we think of buying a ton of coal. It is part of the day's work.

The two longer expeditions were to Chinese Turkestan. On the first as a member of the Peking expedition to Transcaspiia Mr. Huntington spent part of the time in archaeological work, and the rest in travelling through the no-man's land between Persia and Afghanistan, and eastward to Chinese Turkestan.

In company with a Russian officer he tried to enter Afghanistan, where the Afghans, however, promptly dispatched a squad of soldiers to follow the foreigners' caravan along the boundary and watch that it did not try again to enter.

The other expedition to Chinese Turkestan was by way of India, across the Himalayas and the western end of the Tibetan plateau, and so down to the great delta of the Central Asia, the Takla-Makan, where over a year was spent. Among the mountains five passes of over 18,000 feet elevation were crossed and a mountain 20,000 feet high was climbed.

Another pass proved so insurmountable in spite of the snow and glaciers that in spite of the dangers of the route, it was necessary to make a detour of a hundred miles to get over the Kwen Lun mountains.

The greatest difficulties, however, were experienced in the desert. There the camels nearly died of thirst during the trip, because a man who was hired as guide, and who did not know where certain buried ruins were located. He was afraid that his neighbors would laugh at him and so ran the risk of bringing death to the whole party.

At another time the caravan spent thirty days in the desert without seeing any human beings except themselves. In the desert the territory traversed was new to geographers. In one place six days were spent in crossing an enormous lake bed of dry rock salt in great sheets three or four inches thick which stuck up at every angle to a height of three or four feet.

Mr. Huntington's travels in his main object has been to study the effect of geographical environment and especially of climate upon the habits and character of the people. From innumerable lines of evidence he has become convinced that the climate of the past was different from that of the present, and that this has had much to do with the change which has come over the civilization of many parts of the Old World.

More recently in connection with the Carnegie Institution of Washington he has carried his studies to his own country and to the ancient civilizations of Mexico and Central America. Here too, the evidence indicates that something was different in the past is overwhelming.

In an attempt to find out how such climatic changes could influence the welfare of nations, Mr. Huntington about four years ago began to study the climate of our own country and weather upon our capacity for our health, and the conditions of civilization in our own country. The results of these investigations form the subject of his lecture.

WOLLASTON WOMAN'S CLUB
The second meeting of the Wollaston Woman's Club on Tuesday in Masonic Temple proved to be a very interesting and instructive one, and was largely attended.

Mrs. Rowe, the president, was in the chair and called the meeting to order half past two. The records of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Newell, the secretary, and approved.

Mrs. Bowles, the corresponding secretary read a notice of the fall meeting of the State Federation to be held in the Baptist church at the corner of Cabot and Abbott streets, Beverly on Nov. 20. The club is entitled to a number of delegates, besides the president, and it was voted that the chair appoint these representatives and at the close of the meeting the president appointed Mrs. Harvey Thomas, Mrs. Charles P. Hutchins, Mrs. Albert R. Moulton, with Mrs. Charles F. Bryant, Miss Fannie Johnson, and Mrs. M. Percival Thompson as alternates.

The recommendation of the board that Section 3, Article 3, of the by-laws be amended, to read: "The active membership shall be limited to 400," was presented to the club and it was voted to accept the recommendation, accepted, thus making fifty ladies on the waiting list active members in the club.

The different committee reports were then read as follows:

The Literature and Library Extension committee has planned a splendid course on Current Events as expressed in the literature of the day, under the direction of Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney. Members are invited to join on payment of $1.00 for the five talks, the first being on Oct. 29, at the home of Mrs. Olney, 137 Grand View avenue, at 2.30 P. M.

The Music committee announces that "Fi Fi of the Toy Shop," the spectacular musical comedy announced to be given Nov. 18 and 19 in Masonic Temple would be given in Wollaston School hall, as its cost of about 250 people required the largest space available in Wollaston.

Following the business meeting Mrs. Herbert H. Albee, chairman of the Program committee, presented Rev. Chauncey J. Hawkins of Jamaica Plain, who gave a most interesting and beautifully illustrated lecture on "Bright Eyes and Wild Hearts of our Northern Woods."

For an hour the audience was transported to the wilds of northern Maine and New Brunswick, and by means of Mr. Hawkins' beautiful pictures and interesting stories, became acquainted with the caribou and moose, the deer and doe, the beaver and bear, the bald eagle, cedar wax-wing and the Kingfisher, as Mr. Hawkins met and came to know them on his trips in both summer and winter, day and night on the lakes and creeks in the very heart of our northern woods. The lecturer's pictures were wonderful in their portrayal of the beautiful natural colors of the sunset and scenery, in summer and winter, and will long be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to see them. When Mr. Hawkins' lecture came to a close it was with a decided feeling of regret that the audience left the woods and came back to Wollaston.

During the lecture, many in the audience heard for the first time the call of a moose as the lecturer gave it through a birch bark horn, such as the quides and hunter use on moose-hunting expeditions.

The woman's exchange was open after the meeting and many useful and fancy articles as well as food and preserves were on sale.

BUILDING PERMITS
Returns from the office of the inspector of buildings last week show that no building is a little while. Only eight permits were issued, five for dwellings, two for garages, and one for a blacksmith shop.

As far as can be learned there are no new developments in the way of new business blocks, although it is understood that F. M. Norris, who represents the syndicate which own the Col. C. H. Porter estate on Hancock street, has plans under preparation for the erection of a block of stores on the Hancock street front of the lot.

Whether or not the house will be moved from the corner of the lot is a site near the house of Dr. E. H. Bushnell as first proposed has not as yet been decided. The original plan called for an entire remodeling of the house into two tenements.

Work on the Faxon block on Hancock street is progressing but not very fast. The Fratus block, however, on the corner of Hancock street and Billings road is going ahead at good speed and is very nearly ready for occupancy.

The building permits for the week are as follows:
William F. Artis, garage, Bay View street.
W. R. Lofgren, dwelling, Cottage street.
Carl E. Carlson, dwelling, Hilda street.
E. F. Sumner, dwelling, Shennon street.
A. Lincoln Turner, blacksmith shop, 471 Hancock street.
Hjalmar Anderson, dwelling, South street.
Frank J. Coughlin, dwelling, Charles street.
Amund Everson, garage, Cranich street.

ANDREW MISCHLER
The funeral of Andrew M. Mischler, whose death occurred on Sunday evening, took place Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at 257 Whitwell street and was attended by sorrowing members of the family who survived him, relatives, and delegations from Quincy court, M. C. O. F., and John Adams court, Foresters of America, organizations with which he was affiliated.

A mass of requiem was celebrated at St. John's church by Rev. Walter A. Quintan. The musical portion of the mass was furnished by the regular choir under the direction of John Mahan, organist.

The body was taken to St. Mary's cemetery, Randolph for burial.

Mr. Mischler was well known in Quincy. He was a decorator and did business here for many years.

WORK MUCH ADMIRER
Quincy friends of the talented young sculptor, Bruce Wilder Saville, had an opportunity Oct. 15 to see a bas-relief which he has lately finished. Mrs. T. Davis of Edgemore road opened her home during the evening for the exhibition. Over fifty people called.

The relief is of Miss Beatrice Morrison, Mrs. Davis' daughter and is of bronze and terra cotta. It is nearly life size and is a full length portrait. It is a truly wonderful achievement and has received most flattering praises from all who have seen it. Artists and laymen alike. The young sculptor was present and was showered with compliments.

Mr. Saville is at present working on some important reliefs in his studio on Boylston street, Boston. He has also started a figure, depicting War, which is soon to be exhibited.

TENDERED A BANQUET
The men members of Quincy chapter, O. E. S., tendered the women members a banquet in Colonial hall Monday evening after the regular meeting. The women were surprised by the men, besides the president, and it was voted that the chair appoint these representatives and at the close of the meeting the president appointed Mrs. Harvey Thomas, Mrs. Charles P. Hutchins, Mrs. Albert R. Moulton, with Mrs. Charles F. Bryant, Miss Fannie Johnson, and Mrs. M. Percival Thompson as alternates.

The recommendation of the board that Section 3, Article 3, of the by-laws be amended, to read: "The active membership shall be limited to 400," was presented to the club and it was voted to accept the recommendation, accepted, thus making fifty ladies on the waiting list active members in the club.

Fighting on the western border indicates that a hole in the ground is the chief aim in life.

ECLECTIC FASHIONS

Every Woman a Law To Herself In Fashion's Realm—Chance for Distinction or Absurdity

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, October 30, 1915

THE TAFT LECTURE

A notable speaker and man is coming to Quincy next week Friday evening, Ex-President William H. Taft, who lectures at Quincy Mass. hall under the auspices of the Quincy Women's club. His subject is a timely one "The Military and Naval Defenses of the United States—What they are and what they ought to be." Tickets for the lecture go on public sale today at Hearn's drug store and Brooks' drug store and also by members of the club.

The genial Ex-President will doubtless be greeted by a crowded house.

BETTER CITY GOVERNMENT

An informal meeting of representative men from all sections of the city was held at Adams Academy Wednesday evening in the interests of securing better city government in Quincy. After an informal discussion, those present unanimously voted to accept the report of A. F. Schenckelberger, advocating the acceptance by Quincy of a new city charter, Plan A, provided by a recent act of the legislature.

Mr. Schenckelberger's report was read by George E. Pfaffman, who was chosen chairman of the meeting. A person was chosen from each of the six wards to direct the circulation of petitions designed to place upon the ballot at the state election in 1916 the question, to be answered "Yes" or "No" by the voters, whether Quincy desires to adopt Plan A. Petitions are being circulated daily throughout the city. It is necessary to secure the names of 10 percent of the registered voters at the last state election (in Nov. 2 of this year) in order to place the alternative of acceptance or rejection before the voters.

HALLOWEEN SUPPER

The church supper and Halloween party given at Bethany church Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Bethany Women's Union, was most successful as well as most enjoyable. The church supper was served in the lower room at 6:30 and was very appetizing, the menu consisting of baked beans and brown bread, cold meats, coffee, rolls and pies.

The supper was in charge of Mrs. John G. Roberts, who was assisted by Mrs. Frank L. Cullen, Mrs. W. L. Saunders, Mrs. J. Griffiths, Mrs. W. M. Bird, Mrs. E. M. McCauley, Mrs. H. Pratt and Mrs. W. Cantley.

The waitresses were Miss Frances Ward, Miss Marion Snow, Miss Mabel Gilbert, Miss Alice Parker, Miss Isabelle Murray, Miss Edith Avery, Miss Christine Booth, Miss Dorothy Lowe, Miss Hazel Sabon, Miss Esther Beckford, Miss Laura Jones, Miss Louise Pratt, Miss Minnie Laing, Mrs. David Morris, Miss Martha Williamson, Miss Evelyn McKenzie and Miss Elizabeth Rundle.

At the conclusion of the supper an adjournment was made to the chapel where there was a Halloween party given under the auspices of Team 7 of the Bethany Women's Union. The chapel was very prettily decorated with orange and black crepe paper, witches, Halloween lanterns, etc. About the room were tables for the sale of cake and ice cream. These were in charge of the following: Candy table—Mrs. Florence Estes; Cake table—Mrs. George Welch; Ice cream table—Mrs. Pierce and Mrs. Sandison.

During the evening there was a series of Halloween games which were in charge of Miss Christine Booth, Mrs. Giddies, Miss L. Pearson, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. N. Gordon and Miss A. Mitchell.

There was also a pleasing entertainment, the program including a piano solo by Miss Clara Warshaw and Miss Elizabeth Redford; readings by Miss Dorothy Forbush and violin solos by Miss Walker.

CROMB-AMSDEN

Rev. Carl G. Horst, minister of the Wollaston Unitarian church, united in marriage Thursday at his bride's father's home in Quincy, George William Cromb of Mendon, and Miss Sarah Maude Amsden of Athol. Miss Amsden is an only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Amsden. Mr. Amsden is a prominent merchant in Athol.

Until last June Miss Amsden was supervisor of music in the public schools of Quincy, a position for which she by nature and training was peculiarly fitted and which she filled with great acceptance. Mr. Cromb is well known in the leather trade of Boston. After a short wedding trip to New York, Mr. Cromb will reside at 533 Hancock street.

MCLAUGHLIN-AUSTIN

Miss Mary Elizabeth Austin of Quincy and Will B. McLaughlin of South Braintree, engineer at the Williams and Kneeland factory, were married in Quincy, Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed at St. John's rectory by Fr. Michael J. O'Connell, who has just returned from a Western trip.

The bride was dressed in white satin and net, with a picture hat of white velvet and plumes. She carried a bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Julia O'Brien was bridesmaid. She was dressed in blue crepe de chine and wore a pink picture hat. She carried daybreak carnations.

Little Margaret Austin, four year old niece of the bride, was flower girl. She was dressed in white and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Will Wynott of Braintree was best man.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the brother of the bride, Joseph Austin of 110 Phillips street, Wollaston, which was attended by relatives of the contracting parties. Mr. and Mrs. Austin left on a wedding trip by auto to New Hampshire. They will be at home on Nov. 1st, at 110 Plain street, South Braintree.

They were the recipients of many beautiful presents of silver, cut glass and linen. The bride's present to the bridesmaid was a signed ring and the flower girl was given beauty pins. The best man received cuff links.

PREPARES PICTURE POSTALS

At the request of Miss Katherine Leaning, who gave a most satisfactory and interesting talk on the work of the Red Cross at the meeting of Quincy Alliance of First Church last week, Mrs. E. C. Butler will prepare picture postals to be sent to Miss Loring for the hospital kits. Mrs. Butler asks that cards for this purpose be sent to her, at her residence, 38 Russell park.

BRIEFS

Miss Carrie Hatch has opened a gift shop in the Adams building.

E. B. Neal returned Saturday from a business trip to Washington.

The time for filing nomination papers for candidates to be voted for at the municipal primaries, Nov. 16, expires at 5 o'clock today.

Mrs. William M. Adrian has returned to her home on Dymart street, convalescent after two weeks at the Cushing Hospital, Roxbury.

The annual pop concert and dancing party of the Quincy Catholic club will be held on the evening of Monday, Nov. 15. Milo Burke's orchestra will play.

Mrs. Agnes C. Blake of 34 Park lane has returned from a six weeks' Western trip, during which she visited the exposition. Her brother, Charles MacDonald, accompanied her.

The Lotus Male Quartette and a reader will provide the entertainment at the meeting of the Quincy Teachers' association in Coddington school hall on the evening of Thursday, Nov. 4.

Eight tables were in play Wednesday evening at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City Club. The two best scores of the evening were made by Edwin W. Newcomb and George H. Field.

R. K. Leon French, a professional performer, entertained a large audience in the Christ church parish house, Wednesday evening. The affair was held to raise money for the boys work of the parish.

Miss Mary McLean observed her thirtieth birthday with a party at her home, 491 Quincy avenue. Games were enjoyed and refreshments served. Those present were the Misses Eagan, Julia McCann, Cecilia Sonia, Mr. and Mrs. McArdle and son.

Mrs. Clarence O. McClinck of Portland, Me., was successfully operated upon at the Carney hospital Wednesday for appendicitis and is resting comfortably today. Mrs. McClinck is a sister of Mrs. Timothy J. Collins of South Street.

Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson of the First Parish church led the discussion Wednesday on "Christian Citizenship" at the autumn session of the Plymouth and Bay Conference of the Unitarian church at the Third Unitarian church, Hingham.

A competitive examination for applicants (female) for the position of health instructors in the state department of health will be held by the civil service commissioners, Nov. 22. There are three vacancies to be filled at a salary of $100 a month. Applications must be filed before Nov. 13 at 12 o'clock noon.

Frank Zapotti, a polisher, employed at the West Bros. plant on Robertson street, was caught in the shafting of a vertical polishing machine Wednesday and owes his escape from serious injury and probable death to Frank Hodgkinson, the engineer, who lost no time in shutting off the power and stopping the machine.

Circle Daughters Viking held a supper and dancing party in Electa and Protection halls, Saturday evening. The affair was largely attended by members and friends and was one of the most successful ever held under the auspices of the circle. The supper was served from 6:30 to 7:30. Dancing commenced at eight o'clock and continued until 11:30.

Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott, of Roxbury, former pastor of Bethany church, was a visitor Saturday evening at the special meeting of Bethany castle. Rev. Mr. Willmott is forming a new church in New York and is being assisted by several officers of this castle who desired to get an insight into the workings of the order. Rev. Mr. Willmott briefly addressed the members of the castle.

Quincy Commandery, K. T., held its regular convocation Monday evening, at which the Red Cross degree was exemplified. At the close of the business session there was an interesting feature in the form of a play, which was illustrated by a hundred stereoscopic views. Refreshments were served at the close of the lecture.

Rebecca Wiswell tent, daughters of Veterans, will be given a department inspection on Nov. 14 in G. A. R. hall. The inspecting officers will be Department Senior Vice-President—Mrs. Nellie Goodman of Roxbury and Department Inspector Mrs. Mabel Gooding of East Weymouth. The preliminary exercises for the occasion are being completed.

A meeting of the Sisters' Society of the Swedish Congregational church was held Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. C. Andre, at 25 Cherry avenue. The meeting opened with devotional exercises, after which a short business session was held during which work for the coming season was planned. The society also voted to purchase a new carpet for the pulpit platform at the church.

A special meeting of the School committee was held October 22, to consider plans for the proposed new school buildings. Harry E. Warren of the firm of Warren & Campbell was present before the board with his plans, and the entire evening was given up to the consideration of the committee will be held next week. The committee hopes to complete its examination of all plans submitted so as to report to the Council at the meeting of Nov. 1.

Miss Minnie Paris entertained a party of friends at a German supper at the home of her uncle, Bernard Fritz of Foster street, on Sunday evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Hartree, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stathmar, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Halter, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Weinhouse and Miss Fannie and Miss Julia Weinhouse, Sidney Litchman. A musical program included English concert songs by Joseph Halter piano and violin music by Frieda and George Paris.

Anos Damon of Edwards street of the firm of Sanborn & Damon last week met with a painful accident. Mr. Damon was riding his bicycle on Washington street on his way to his store on Hancock street. He was riding just behind and to one side of a team. Without warning the driver turned into Elm place. As he did so his team struck Mr. Damon knocking him from his bicycle. The driver of the team stopped immediately but too late to prevent one of the wheels rested on his right foot. T. L. Williams ran to his rescue and later sent him home in a carriage.

BRIEFS

Miss Florence Barker of Monroa road, Presidents hall is confined to her home by illness.

Miss Dorothy T. Lowe is spending the week end at Methuen enjoying the Halloween festivities with friends.

The Quincy Charitable Society holds its annual meeting Monday evening November 1st at eight o'clock, at the home of Mrs. E. G. Pratt, 1061 Hancock street.

Secretary John O. Hall of the Board of Trade was elected vice president of the State Board of Trade at its meeting Thursday morning in the Vendome, Boston.

The season at the Quincy Yacht club house closes Sunday evening at 11 o'clock. The club house has been kept open until this date in order to accommodate small fishermen.

Councilman at Large Frank P. Prescott has not as yet made up his mind whether he will be a candidate for re-nomination and re-election or not. It is doubtful if he enters the contest this year.

Mrs. Cockayne is to be the hostess next week for the meeting of the Friday club and Mrs. Faxon the committee. Two Gentlemen of Verona will be the Shakespearean play taken up for study.

Hon. Russell A. Sears of the Boston Elevated was one of the speakers at the meeting of the New England street Railwaymen's club at the American House, Boston, Thursday evening.

Russell C. Damon of Quincy has been appointed quarter master of the United Fruit Company's steamer, Tendres. Mr. Damon is well known here and is a graduate of the Ranger of the Massachusetts Nautical Academy.

William Kirkland of Washington, D. C., supreme grand secretary of the Local Orange lodge, will be in Boston on Nov. 5 and a committee of lodges of Eastern Massachusetts are completing arrangements for his reception.

The meeting of Quincy lodge of Elks Tuesday evening was a lodge of sorrow, in memory of Walter H. Treanor, a member of the Hull police force, who died Oct. 3. The ritual was conducted by the officers of the lodge.

The winners at the matinee whist of Maple lodge, K. L. of H. in Protection hall, Tuesday afternoon, were Mrs. C. Tenney of Braintree, Mrs. M. L. Thomas and Mrs. Annie G. Grignon of Quincy. There was a good attendance.

Cornelius Taylor, a popular clerk at the Adams Market, who embarked on the matrimonial sea a few weeks ago was tendered a reception by his associates at his Abington home Thursday evening and was presented with a chest of silver. The presentation was made by Henry Mace.

According to general report Axel G. Ahlstrom, who has already erected several modern houses on Huntly road, has purchased another large tract of land on this street and is to commence work in the very near future erecting three or four new houses.

Gustaf A. Bergfors, manager of the Quincy Oil Co., and his bride, Hazel May Condon of Roxbury, are honeymooning in the Adirondacks, New York and Pennsylvania. They were married in Roxbury on Wednesday evening. They expect to be at their new home on Independence avenue, Braintree, on Dec. 1.

It was announced Wednesday that the Quincy Trust Company, had taken a lease of two stores in the Silberstein block. The stores taken are the large store on the corner of Hancock street and Cottage avenue, and the adjoining store on the Hancock street front. It is probable that a five years lease will be signed.

In compliance with the Revised Laws the Massachusetts Highway Commission held a public hearing at the court house, Dedham, Tuesday afternoon for the open discussion of questions relating to the public roads. Quincy was not represented at the hearing as Commissioner Brown was too busy with street work.

Miss Mabel Gillespie of the Women's Trade Union league spoke Monday evening before the Carpenter's Union of Grand Army hall. Her address was manifestly of great interest and apparent sympathy. Miss Gillespie strongly advocated organization by all working women.

A large audience of music lovers gathered at the Swedish Congregational church Thursday evening to listen to the concert in dedication of the new pipe organ, which recently has been installed in the church. The new organ which cost $1,650, was made possible by a gift from the Carlsson family, coupled with a like amount raised among the parishioners of the church.

Gov. Walsh who received such a flattering ovation in Worcester Oct. 28 at a rally at which he flayed the Boston and Maine railroad for refusing to arbitrate the freight handlers' strike, repeated in part his views of the situation at an open air rally in City square Thursday. He arrived over an hour behind his schedule. He appeared tired and is undoubtedly commencing to feel the strain of the vigorous campaign he is waging throughout the state for re-election.

Mrs. Milton P. Higgins of Worcester, the state president of the National Congress of Mothers and Parents-Teachers associations, which is holding its annual convention these days at the High school hall, is an interesting woman. A beautiful story was related about her by one of the delegates to the Ledger man. Mrs. Higgins has been for many years a widow, but never resumed her own maiden name. In social and business affairs alike she remains "Mrs. Milton P. Higgins."

A Grand Rapids paper has this to say of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Stetson of School street who recently returned from a visit to relatives in that city, which is that they were socially very popular. "Mr. and Mrs. James H. Stetson of Quincy, Mass., have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Chase of Fulton street, and were much entertained. Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Chase gave a dinner in their honor. Sunday evenings Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Hall gave an informal supper. Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. John Duffy of Gay avenue gave a dinner. Wednesday noon Mrs. Katherine F. Atkinson entertained with a luncheon at the Kent Country club. Tuesday evening Dr. and Mrs. Richard R. Smith gave a dinner and Thursday the Stetsons left for the east."

BRIEFS

The Quincy Spiritualist Society is to hold a Halloween festival and entertainment in Electa hall Monday Nov. 1st. A splendid program has been arranged and all who come will enjoy a unique and pleasing entertainment. Come.

SOUTH QUINCY

J. B. Sutherland of Independence avenue has just returned from his summer residence in Nova Scotia. Papers are in circulation in the interest of Alexander Cowe as a Republican candidate for councilman at large. Mr. Cowe has been a resident of South Quincy for many years. A few years ago he was a candidate for councilman from Ward Three, and was elected, but was unable to serve as he had not been a naturalized citizen the required number of months. The office was therefore declared vacant and a special election held to fill the vacancy.

Among those to receive prizes at the baby show in connection with the Country Fair at the Mechanics building, Boston, Wednesday were Eleanor and Arthur Gendron, twin babies, of 14 Payne street, Quincy.

Eight tables were in play at the whist party held Thursday evening in Franklin hall, under the auspices of the Granite lodge, I. O. O. F. Prizes were awarded as follows: Theodore Johnson, a silk umbrella; Mrs. Annie Denton, one-half dozen cups and saucers; Mrs. F. Slavin, a toilet set; Mrs. J. W. Sullivan, a table cloth; Mrs. Grace Moyle, a pair of embroidered towels; Mrs. Williams, a half-dozen silver teaspoons. The consolation prize was awarded to Sidney Litchman. The committee in charge of the affair were Mrs. Elizabeth Shargo, Mrs. Jennie Boutlier, Mrs. Catherine Cotter, Mrs. Mary E. Thomas, Mrs. John Lillie and Mrs. Annie Denton.

WEST QUINCY

Wednesday evening, the official board of the Hall Place M. E. church is to give a reception to the members and constituency of the church. Dr. George Butters will be the speaker of the evening.

The funeral of Christopher Ross, who died at Barre, Vt., after a brief illness, was held Saturday from his home at 37 Bryant avenue, East Milton, and was largely attended. A high mass of requiem was celebrated in St. Gregory's church, Milton Lower Mills, and burial was in Milton cemetery. The deceased was a granite cutter and a member of the local branch of the Granite Cutters International association.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Martell of Robertson street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter in Concord, N. H., after a pleasant visit with relatives and friends in this city.

Mrs. Sarah C. Williams, in spite of being late from work, has been cutting red Jack roses for the benefit of the home on Cross street, the past two weeks, fifteen in all.

The Harmony club of West Quincy held a meeting Sunday afternoon to make preliminary plans for a dancing party to be held in St. Mary's hall the latter part of November. The proceeds of the dance are designed to defray the expenses of the club's cottage at Nantasket for the season of 1916.

On Wednesday evening, Miles P. Hawes and Miss Lottie B. Bezanon were united in wedlock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hawes on West street. The bride was given away by her brother, Rev. Episcopal church officiating. The home was very prettily decorated, and only immediate relatives of the two families were in attendance. Refreshments were served, and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed together. Mr. and Mrs. Hawes will make their home on Hancock street.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Lakin of Norfolk, Va., are in Quincy and expect to make their home on Robertson street this winter. Mr. Lakin, familiarly known as "Bounce" to hundreds of high school graduates left Quincy three years ago and has since been in business in Washington, D. C. and Norfolk.

Plans are under way for a monster charity dance to be held under the auspices of Ave Maria council 1535 K. C. of West Quincy, Wednesday evening, Nov. 17th in St. Mary's hall. The proceeds of the affair will be used to supply Christmas dinners to the poor of the city. Although the council has always been generous toward the poor in the past it is the aim to make this year a banner one. The committee in charge is Edward Reardon, Charles Buckley, Angelo Bizzozzo and Joseph LeClair.

SCHOOL NOTES

The increase this year in the field of work which the School Department is doing with its trade classes, both for men and women, causes the committee to request the transfer of $800 to that part of its budget from the account of the common schools. There is money available for the transfer. The School Committee expects as usual to close its year without a deficit.

Included in the attendance at the evening trade classes are 22 men and women from other towns and cities, whose attendance Quincy is obliged to accept and for whom tuition is paid by the State. The students are from all over town. Trade attendance comes from six different places, including Boston and Cambridge.

The evening class maintained in the Syrian-American club room is developing into one of the best in the city. The members of the Syrian colony take great pride in the class, provide a cheerful hall, well lighted room, supply an interpreter and even guard the outside of the building against unnecessary noise.

In the list recently published by Harvard College of candidates for admission who won highest honors in at least two subjects, was included the name of Theodore H. Barstow, who was graduated from the Quincy High School last June. Mr. Barstow was one of a total of twenty-four to receive this honor out of the large number who took entrance examinations at Harvard in June and September.

HEALTH WEEK

The schools will be deeply interested in the success of the Health Week which is planned to observe in this city beginning Monday, November 8. Whatever tends to better the health conditions of the city, tends as well directly toward the good of the schools. No doubt the attention of all the school pupils, especially those who are enrolled in evening classes, will be called to the program which is planned and it is hoped they will take an interest in the exhibits which will be shown.

ATLANTIC

Mrs. Lucretia Fuller of Billings street, Atlantic, has returned from an extended visit to her mother on the Cape.

Byron C. Day of Botoolph street is entertaining his sister from Kennebunk, Maine.

Mrs. Pickett of Botoolph street is confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. Draper of Botoolph street is entertaining her sister from New Jersey who is on her way to visit friends in Montreal, Canada.

Laura Rogers is confined to her home on Webster street by illness.

Nomination papers for Sam Wood, Jr., and Edward E. Palmer, as councilmen from Ward Six were filed Wednesday.

Miss J. Lizzie Glover who has been ill at her home on Atlantic street is much better.

Miss Hazel C. Davison of Billings street is on a trip to the western part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Westerling of Eliot avenue, Bellevue Park, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

Mrs. L. Fuller of Billings street has returned from a visit to Martha's Vineyard.

Mrs. Catherine Leary, widow of Michael Leary, one of the oldest residents of Atlantic, died Thursday at her home at 81 Walnut street, 32 her 86th year. Her funeral was held this morning at Sacred Heart church. Mrs. Leary leaves but one son, William Rowell, a son by her first marriage.

The Miscellaneous Song Committee of Memorial church is planning a course of five entertainments for the church on Monday, November 14th.

The Advisory Board of Memorial Congregational church has planned a course of five entertainments for community interest to be given the last Monday of the following months, November, The Lotus Quartet with a Reader; January, Philadelphia Rice of the Leland Powers Co.; February, Fred E. Kendall; March, John Thomas Co.; April, Musical by Atlantic.

Lake J. Toole died suddenly Friday morning at his home at 55 Hancock street, Atlantic. Mr. Toole was on his way to work in the Hallett and Davis piano factory and was struck at Neponset bridge. Ten minutes later he reached home and expired. He leaves a widow.

QUINCY POINT

Miss Mary J. Farmer of Malden has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Newcomb.

Mrs. David W. Newcomb and son, Dexter have returned to their home in Concord, N. H., after a pleasant visit with relatives and friends in this city.

Mrs. Thomas G. Smith of Washington street, with her daughter Miss Mildred Smith and son Harold, left Monday morning for Machias, Me., for a few weeks visit.

Papers are being circulated in Ward Two in the interest of ex-councilman William H. Flynn, as a Republican candidate for member of the City Council from that district. Papers are also in circulation for Councilman Charles B. Yale.

Samuel W. McCall, Republican candidate for Governor, talked to the Fore River shipyard employees Thursday afternoon. Mr. McCall was presented by Mayor Campbell as one of the brightest men in America and capable in every way of filling the office of Governor.

The Clippers and Caulkers club, composed of employees in that branch of shipbuilding at the Fore River, held its first annual dancing party in Alpha hall Thursday evening with a large attendance. Among the special guests were Mrs. J. D. Bowen of Roanoke, Va. Friends pleasantly surprised Mrs. C. C. Bowen at her home on Butler avenue in remembrance of her twenty-first birthday. She was the recipient of many lovely presents among them a birthday cake from Mrs. Benjamin Smith.

The builders are satisfied that the Nevada will perform all that will be required of her. On the trip to New York she was being tryouts on various speeds and her oil burners performed splendidly.

SEAWARD-WINSHIP

Amid forest greenery and in front of a screen of evergreen plants in the bay window with white streamers from the ceiling a pretty home wedding took place at 64 North Central avenue, Wollaston, Wednesday evening when Miss Ella Frances Winship, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis Josiah Winship, and John Dwight Seaver of Waverly, New York, son of Mrs. John Holden Seaver of Templeton were united in marriage by Rev. Isaac W. Sneath, Ph. D., of the Wollaston Congregational church.

The young couple unattended entered the rooms at 7:30 o'clock to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Mrs. Warren Cannon of Tewksbury, a cousin of the bride.

The bride looked charming in an exquisite gown of white crepe de chine with chintilly lace. Thin silk roses buds caught up the short lace sleeves and the founce of the skirt. Her long tulle veil was fastened across the front with a half wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of bride roses.

A reception followed the wedding, the ushers being George McKean of Taylor street, cousin of the bride; George Newton Seaver of Wilmington Delaware, brother of the groom; and Howard Appleton Price of Warehouse Point, Connecticut. Miss Marion Wheeler of Somerville rendered piano selections.

The dining room was decorated with autumn leaves and the table with a center piece of ferns and partridge vines with its red berries. They received many beautiful gifts of silver, cut glass, linen and pictures.

The bride with her brother, Grandville, and sister, Mrs. Helen, left their home in Wollaston since 1904. She is a member of the C. H. Society of Wollaston, and of the Quincy Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. The groom is a Knight Templar and one of the firm of Weeks & Seaver of the Waverly Creamery Co.

The bride's going away suit was dark green trimmed with velvet and she wore a black velvet picture hat with fur and a large pink rose.

Mr. and Mrs. Seaver left amid a shower of confetti and good wishes for a wedding trip to New York City and will be at home after December first at 491 Fulton street, Waverly, New York.

WOLLASTON

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin H. Barlow and friends Mrs. Hamilton have been spending two weeks visiting relatives and friends in Boston and Wollaston.

This is Mr. Barlow's first trip from Wollaston, Maine, since moving there two years ago.

The Odd Ladies of Wollaston are to hold a whist party Monday evening in Odd Fellows hall.

The Stephen B. Willes of 314 Highland avenue, returned this week from West Harswell, Maine, where they passed the summer.

Mrs. Samuel C. Dunne of Arlington street goes to Northampton today for a few days visit to relatives. Mrs. Dunne is one of the delegates to the W. C. T. U. State Convention which meets in that city Nov. 2, 3, and 4.

James S. Whyte of Standish avenue has been engaged as sexton at the Old Ship church (Unitarian) in Wollaston.

Miss Susie Hagar of Boston was the guest this week of Mr. Alf Swensen of Oakland avenue, Wollaston.

Miss Henrietta Baird has come from Nova Scotia to spend the winter with the C. Campbell Bairds of South Central avenue.

The Wollaston W. C. T. U. holds its regular monthly meeting in the Wollaston Congregational vestry Friday, Nov. 5, when "Echoes of the State Convention" will be given by the delegates.

Joseph S. Thomas of Warren street leaves today for Philadelphia to join Mrs. Thomas and daughter who have been visiting there since September first. They are returning Nov. 14.

Mrs. George Crothers goes to Northampton Tuesday to attend the W. C. T. U. State Convention. Mr. and Mrs. Crothers are soon to occupy part of the Odd Fellows house on Warren avenue which is being changed to a two family house.

Mrs. E. Lake Hutchinson of Wollaston has returned from an automobile trip through the western part of the state.

The woman who was stricken on the 21st P. M. train from Boston Saturday and who was given medical attention at the Wollaston station and then removed to the Quincy City Hospital, died Sunday morning without regaining consciousness. She was identified a few hours later as Mrs. Isabella G. Crafts of Bradford, 35 years, and wife of Albert Crafts, a Haverhill pharmacist.

The passing of a Wollaston landmark was recently noted in the disappearance of a large elm formerly situated on Beale street just west of the new Masonic building. The tree was the one against which the ladder truck of the fire department crashed in responding to a false alarm on "the night before" many years ago an accident that resulted in the loss of several lives. Ever since, the tree has borne a mammoth scar which has been pointed out as one of the places of interest in Wollaston. In stringing new wires along Beale street it has been necessary to cut down the tree.

Clarence Cassidy of Winthrop avenue spent the week end with his parents, returning to Webb Academy N. Y., Sunday night.

Vernon T. Field acted for the first time Sunday in his capacity of superintendent of the Wollaston Baptist Sunday School.

Mrs. Charles B. Hall, Miss Arlene Hall, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar A. Blaisdell returned Saturday from a three weeks stay at Interlaken, Mass.

The members of the Wollaston Methodist church are considering the question of admitting a new probationer to their fold. All through the morning service on Sunday a young odd occupied one of the rafters in the church auditorium and calmly blinked down upon the assembled congregation. He behaved very decorously and did not even join in the singing. It is not known whether the recent cold days inspired in him a desire to hold a blood warming Methodist service or whether the speech of A. N. Murray at the Masonic building last Friday evening resulted in another convert to Methodism.

C. R. Safford of Brook street left Thursday for a week's outing at South Royalton, Mass.

James S. Whiting of Wollaston and William H. Hawley of Malden have given to the town of Plymouth sufficient land to make a public square at Manomet.

Mr. Wollaston lodge of Odd Fellows exemplified the second degree upon several candidates Tuesday evening for John Hancock lodge of Wollaston and Puritan lodge of Braintree.

Rt. Wm. Gardner R. P. Barker, of the 26th Massachusetts district will pay an official visitation to Wollaston lodge next Tuesday evening. He will be accompanied by Wm. Charles W. Dunbar as district deputy grand marshal and George W. L. as secretary.

The ladies of the Wollaston Methodist church will serve a harvest supper in the church vestry on Wednesday, Nov. 3, at six o'clock.

Mrs. George Taylor, Winthrop avenue, entertained the ladies of the Wollaston Methodist church at a thimble party on Wednesday afternoon. Refreshments were served.

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, October 30, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thurs	Fri	Sat
ALMAZAR	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15
ALMAZAR	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15
ALMAZAR	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15
ALMAZAR	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15
ALMAZAR	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15
ALMAZAR	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15
ALMAZAR	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15
ALMAZAR	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15
ALMAZAR	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15
ALMAZAR	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15	3.15

OLD FOLKS' CONCERT

A most successful concert was held in Odd Fellows hall, Wollaston, Tuesday evening, when an old folks concert was presented and a harvest dinner served. At 6.30 those present sat down to a genuine New England boiled dinner. The program which followed was a novel one and opened with a march by the John Hancock Lodge orchestra. The personnel included: Miss Clara Joyce, pianist; Miss Walker, violin; Arthur Miller, clarinet; Charles Macdonald, flute; Miss Bertha Davenport and George Critchley, cornet.

The "Battle Hymn of the Republic," was sung by the choir attired in costumes of long ago. In the choir were Mrs. Frank Badger, Mrs. Lena Merrill, Mrs. Ida Trussell, Mrs. Clara Cummings, Mrs. Eliza Bent, Mrs. Laura E. McLoughlin, Mrs. Maude Luke, Mrs. George H. Stebbins, Mrs. Ida Smith, Mrs. Minnie Campbell, Mrs. Sadie Drew, Mrs. Helen Thayer and Messrs George C. Elia, George Deane, James Butterworth, Ray Caswell. The choir was conducted by Charles Bishop.

The feature of the evening came next when the models appeared and told of the history of their gowns. Mrs. Lena Merrill wore a gown of green silk that was 115 years old. It was formerly a wedding gown and came from the north of Ireland. Mrs. Frank Badger wore a poke bonnet over 100 years old. This belonged to the mother of a woman now eighty and was worn when the young lady rode to church on a pillion behind her husband. Another interesting article that appeared in one of the numbers was a spinning wheel dating before 1715.

"Flow Gently Sweet Afton" was rendered by the choir and Mrs. Clara Cummings gave a reading entitled "Shook Headed Cicley and the Bear." Two pleasing duets "Murmuring Spring" and "Birds of May" were rendered by Mrs. Ida Smith and Mrs. George H. Stebbins. A cornet duet by Miss Bertha Davenport and George Critchley closed part one.

The second part opened with "Old Folks at Home" by the choir and was followed by a piano solo by Miss May Critchley. "Old Black Joe," the character taken by Charles Wood and Mrs. George H. Stebbins. A cornet duet by Miss Bertha Davenport and George Critchley closed part one.

Another song by Mrs. Stebbins was enjoyed and then William H. Smith delivered a "speech" on the occasion was given in pantomime, not a word being spoken. "My Country 'Tis of Thee," and a selection by the orchestra brought the evening to a close. A large number of tickets were sold and will result in quite a sum being netted.

CEPHAS DREW

Cephas Drew, one of the oldest and best known residents of Atlantic, died at his home, 74 Walker street, Wednesday. He suffered a shock attack in the day and lived but a short time. Mr. Drew is perhaps best known in connection with the grocery of Thomas Gurney, where he has been employed for many years. In politics he was a Republican although never a seeker after office. The only political office which he has ever held is as a member of the Board of Managers of Public Bureaus. Places having been first appointed by Mayor Sears in 1898. He served for a number of years.

Mr. Drew has also been one of the election officers in Ward Six for many years, serving as clerk.

He is survived by a widow and two daughters, Mabel, who is employed in a Boston office as a stenographer and Bessie, a former teacher in the public schools of Quincy and now a teacher of music at Hampton Institute.

Funeral services will be held from his late home 74 Walker street this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Queen Esther Circle held a Halloween party in the vestry of the Hall Place M. E. church Tuesday evening. Upon arrival the guests were sent upstairs where they remained until all had arrived. The Queen Esther girls, dressed as witches were seated on the floor in a half circle around an old witch who was long robed and a ghost story was told by the guests. At the conclusion of the story the lights were turned on and Halloween stunts and games enjoyed.

Coffee and doughnuts were served by the committee after which the party again played games and Halloween stunts. Miss Esther Kohler of Lawrence was the reader.

CHICKATAWUT GIRLS

The Chickatawut Campfire Girls held a meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Clara Warrish. Business was discussed and the girls enjoyed sewing.

A Halloween luncheon consisting of cider, pumpkin pie, doughnuts, apples and candies was served by the hostess. The room was prettily decorated with the Halloween colors. Each girl was given a Halloween favor and games were enjoyed.

LOTTA CRABTREE DAY

President Charles C. Moore of the Panama-Pacific Exposition has directed that Nov. 9, be known as the "Lotta M. Crabtree Day" in honor of Miss Crabtree of Squantum and Boston.

"It is the desire of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition," wrote Mr. Moore to Miss Crabtree last August, "to arrange a day in your honor when you can be present, so that the people of California may have an opportunity to greet you."

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES ANNUAL

There was a goodly gathering of people interested in the charitable work of the city at the annual meeting of the Associated Charities of Quincy Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock at the Women's clubhouse. The president, Thomas Penno, presided. The minutes of the last annual meeting were read by the clerk, Mrs. Wilson Marsh, and the treasurer's report given by R. F. Claffin.

Miss Jenny M. Purchase, the efficient secretary, gave the following comprehensive report:

"This society continues to be used by the city departments, the courts, the different private individuals, social service in Boston Hospitals, child helping societies, associated charities in the other cities etc."

The months of February and March were unusually busy, and yet Quincy had fewer men out of employment than any city around Boston. This would seem to indicate that this office is becoming a center where people come from liberty to apply for any help they need. We were very fortunate in being able to secure employment for almost all who were willing to take what we could offer in the way of work. Advice is appreciated and many men and women were aided in this way.

An encouraging feature of the year's work is that more money was raised than in the previous for administration expenses and we closed the year without a deficit, but we did not raise quite enough to pay the year's expenses having used up the balance left from the year before.

A series of conferences held at Easter time were an experiment which will bear repeating. The number of people aided at Thanksgiving and Christmas was unusually large, and gifts from several churches were generous, making it possible to have a dinner, coal and even gifts in the shape of shoes, wearing apparel etc., to the children in the family.

The excursion given for children by the Automobile Dealers association was by request of Mayor Campbell, managed this year by this society and was most successful, about 300 children being made happy by a ride to and from the beach and a dinner and general good time.

Not so much money was received this year for our fresh air work ($50) yet we were able to send several people away for a short time.

We have lost Miss Tahan who has been office assistant since shortly after the work was started and whose faithful, painstaking work has been much appreciated and very valuable. I have now a young lady on trial who promises well, to take her place.

The volunteer service has been very valuable and has been a very great help. Many ladies have given freely of time and several have given their automobiles, helping us, in this way, to do work which we could not otherwise have done.

The secretary has given much time to the year's girls on probation from the court, and to helping the overseer of the poor, also to health work, and in the effort to establish a tuberculosis dispensary, which did not start established very long. However, we did get a nurse appointed and find her co-operation very valuable in properly caring for the families where they have tuberculosis, and we also have been very grateful for the money to use for nourishment etc., from the Quincy Women's club, realized from the sale of Red Cross stamps.

The society feels very grateful to the Quincy Women's club for the use of their office in the club building. The growing demands upon the society and the increase in its work, however, demands an office larger and more centrally situated. On this account a room has been secured in the Adams Building which will be occupied December 1st by the society. The following officers were elected: President, Thomas Penno.

Vice-presidents: Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Delevere King, Charles E. Goodspeed.

Honorary Vice-presidents—Mrs. Francis Abbe, Jr., Melvin Bray, Mrs. Albert Briggs, Mrs. Franklin P. Horne, Mrs. Theophilus H. Miller, Mrs. H. A. Moore, Arthur Newman, Mrs. W. D. Pinkham, Joseph W. Powell, Mrs. D. B. Reardon, Mrs. W. E. Rowe, H. Gerrish Smith, Mrs. George F. Spooner, Miss Clara E. L. Thayer, Miss Hattie E. Turner, J. L. Whitton.

Treasurer—Rupert P. Claffin. Clerk—Miss Alice Haynes Marsh. Legal Counsel—George W. Abelo, Paul R. Blackmar.

Directors—Ward One: Mrs. F. S. Davis, Mrs. N. S. Hunting, Mrs. Herbert Lawton, Mrs. E. E. Miller, Mrs. E. G. Pratt, Mrs. Charles Willard; Ward Two: Mrs. W. P. Hodgkinson, Mrs. Eugene C. Hultman, T. B. Pollard; Mrs. J. W. Sanborn; Ward Three: Mrs. W. E. Piper, Mrs. J. R. Richards; Ward Four: Mrs. George L. Badger, Jr.; Ward Five: Mrs. Charles S. Adams, Dr. P. A. Bartlett, Mrs. A. E. Emery, Mrs. Thomas Penno, Mrs. Thelma Lucy, Mrs. P. A. Page, Mrs. H. W. Pinkham; Ward Six: Mrs. W. F. Cummings, Mrs. Theodore Parker, Mrs. L. S. Smith, Mrs. Frank Thomas.

DANCING PARTY

An invitation dancing party was given in Franklin hall, October 22d, by Miss Agnes Curry of 28 Berkeley street and Miss Carlotta Barnicoat of 1 Independence street. Paul Phillips and Francis McCabe. The matrons were Mrs. Stanley Barnicoat and Mrs. James A. Curry. The affair was an enjoyable one.

Music during the evening was furnished by Miss Grace Rand, Miss Marion Belcher, Francis McCabe, Leon Belcher and Miss Mabel Dixon. Exhibition dances were given by Miss Marion Belcher and Thomas Curry.

A collection was served during the evening and the hall was prettily decorated for the occasion.

ASSOCIATE BOARDS OF TRADE

At the meeting of the Associate Boards of Trade of Norfolk County held at Young's Hotel, Boston, Thursday evening, the committee which has been considering the proposed extension of the Bay State Street Railway went on record that the local Boards of Trade throughout the district covered by the street railway should be given time to examine the figures submitted by the street railway, before being heard.

It also was recommended that the establishment of a large line to connect South Boston with the steamship and railroad lines on the north of Boston also in favor of a tunnel connecting the South and North stations.

ADAMS PARENT-TEACHERS ASSO.

The Adams school which lacks adequate fire protection because of the scarcity of hydrants in its vicinity is to be properly taken care of, it was reported at the Parents-Teachers association meeting of the school on Tuesday evening.

Alfred P. J. Pinel, one of a committee appointed last year to better the immediate conditions, told the members that when Madison avenue and that portion of Bradford street is made acceptable as an approach to the school, a large water main is to be installed in place of the one now in use and new hydrants are to be set a short distance from the building.

Mr. Pinel said that the necessary appropriation for the street work has been passed by the council and that it will be commenced in the immediate future.

Pres. John Higgins presided for the first time. The treasury report showed a substantial balance in the association fund and a large amount in the fund being raised to decorate the school. Vocal solos were contributed by Lawrence Ford and the pianist was Miss Mildred L. Crowley of Goddard street.

Dr. W. J. McCausland, who recently toured the West, was the speaker of the evening. He lectured in an entertaining way on the wonders of Yellowstone Park and illustrated his lecture with colored views of that immense national reservation. Dr. McCausland was loudly applauded.

Just before adjournment Pres. Higgins made a plea for an increase in membership and urged members to attend the Congress of Mothers and Parents-Teachers association to be held this week in High school hall. The association delegates are Pres. Higgins, Mrs. Tupper Miller, Mrs. Robert J. Williams, Miss Eliza Sheahan, Mrs. Charles McLennan, Mrs. A. P. J. Pinel.

Mrs. Carolen was given those who contributed to the program and a collection was served.

SCHOOL BOARD MEET

A regular meeting of the School Committee was held Tuesday evening. The business session was a brief one. Most of the evening was given up to consideration of plans for the proposed new school buildings, the plans of George H. Ingraham being considered. Another meeting will be held later in the week to consider other plans.

At the business session the following teachers were elected: Industrial school, Louis A. Whitcomb, Charles B. Thompson, Erland Dubois. Evening drawing school, Clara Bushnell.

Evening high school, Helen J. Hunt. Willard evening, Gertrude M. Burke, Elsie Williams. Syrian evening, Andrew Johnson. The financial statement was reported as follows:

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

Appropriation	Expended
Administration	$5,000.00
Instruction	156,385.00
Text Books	4,750.00
Stationery and Supplies	6,500.00
Operation of Plant	24,216.73
Maintenance	250.00
Miscellaneous	3,200.00
Evening Schools	2,650.00
Total	$204,453.73
Independent	10,632.27
Indus. School	10,632.27
Industrial	1,550.00
Grand Total	$216,638.00
	$174,071.91

SILVER ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Berry, entertained the members of Rebecca Wiswell tent, Daughters of Veterans, and friends, at their home on North Central avenue Monday evening in honor of their silver anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry received the guests as they arrived. Assisting them were their five sons, Irving, Elton, Harris, Gerald and Colby. The gift of the tent was a chaffing dish. There were also many individual pieces of silver and a silver service.

In impromptu entertainment was given and a collection was served by three little boys, Willie and Robert Jones and Colby Berry.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry have resided in Quincy about 14 years. Mr. Berry is employed at the Tribune garage and is a member of Quincy lodge of Moose. Mrs. Berry is a prominent member of Rebecca Wiswell tent.

CITY UNION K. D.

The annual meeting and supper of the City Union, King's Daughters, was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. W. L. Buckley, and was largely attended. The union met at 5.30, at which time a short business session was held and the officers elected:

President, Mrs. William G. Shaw. Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Florio. At 6 o'clock an appetizing supper was served the Union by the Reapers circle. At the evening session there was a short devotional service conducted by Rev. William Grainger, rector of Christ church. This was followed by an interesting talk on the work of the Bible Home by Mrs. Sawtelle of Revere.

The speaker at the evening session was Mrs. Amanda C. Clark, superintendent of missions at the immigrants home, East Boston, who spoke interestingly of the work of the home.

AVE MARIE COUNCIL

The annual installation of officers of Ave Marie council 1535, K. of C., of West Quincy was held Monday evening in St. Joseph's hall. The officers were installed by the newly appointed deputy district of the council, John P. Foley of Dorchester and staff. There was a large attendance of members of Quincy, Braintree and other councils.

At the installation the installing officer gave an interesting address on the work of the order. Past District Deputy Edward D. Barrett of Quincy council also gave a short address. Several fine selections were rendered by Joseph Morrisette and William Teasdale, Napoleon Grignon entertained with a light of hand tricks. Refreshments were served in the lower hall by Burleigh and Martin.

The officers installed were: G. K.—James E. Geary. D. G. K.—John J. King. Chancellor—George A. Reinhalter. Rec. Sec.—George A. McDonald. Fin. Sec.—George A. McDonald. Treasurer—Angelo Blizzozzo. Warden—Edward Martell. Inside G.—Edmund Partridge. Outside G.—James Flaherty. Trustee for three years—Joseph Barry.

JOHN ADAMS AERIE

John Adams aerie, Fraternal order Eagles, at its meeting in Electa hall Wednesday evening conducted a special initiation for John Gardner who came 120 miles to become a member of the organization. Mr. Gardner was living in Quincy when he made application for membership and shortly after went to Provincetown. He was unable to affiliate when the class initiations were held. On Wednesday evening he presented himself and asked to be admitted. The degree staff, under the direction of George Mitchell, exemplified the degree, and Mr. Gardner left immediately after the meeting.

It was announced the charter was now closed and that the regular initiation fee of $15 has gone into effect. It was also announced that there are 507 members in good standing.

For its meeting next Wednesday Wollaston Alliance is to hold an all day sewing meeting with business session in the afternoon.

There are nearly 300 in the cast of "Fi-Fi of the Toy Shop" to be given under the auspices of the Wollaston Women's club, Nov. 18 and 19 in Wollaston school hall, under the direction of John D. Rogers, who has staged this unique musical extravaganza more than 1200 times in the United States. With the exception of the Parisian Doll Fi-Fi, the sixteen principal characters will be taken by some of Wollaston's leading near professionals.

Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, former president of the Wollaston Women's club, gave a lecture on "The Wonderland of America," Thursday evening at the Wollaston school hall. The Wollaston club and Friday evening at 7.45 at the Quincy Mansion school. The lecture was illustrated by stereopticon.

More than one hundred children attended to continue the Halloween party held Wednesday evening in the Wollaston Baptist chapel by the Junior Christian Endeavor society. The diversity of make ups was astonishing, the different characters running from ghosts and witches to clowns and animated vegetables.

A royal good time was enjoyed by the children. Apples were bobbed for and Halloween games were enjoyed, while Harold Neal in the guise of a fortune teller, invisible in the recess, looked into the future of the young people. Boxes of candy and Halloween lanterns were awarded as prizes for the best costumes.

Alben Pinkham received first prize for the boys. He was dressed in the costume of a clown with several faces. Ralph Bailey, as a pumpkin, came second while Elford Durand, as a ghost, came third. The fourth prize went to William Soule who was attired as a harlequin.

For the girls Beatrice Hall headed the list as a squash. Next came Margaret Schultz in a costume of autumn leaves. Ruth Kempton, also as a squash and Dorothy Dent as a witch completed the awards. Marjorie Wilson, as a ghost, and Donald Neal, as a clown, received honorable mention. There were so many good costumes that it was extremely difficult to make the awards and if the judges had had their way there would have been prizes for over half of those there. Those acting as judges were: J. Arthur Sapping, Ernest Neal, Mrs. J. A. Jewell and Mrs. Joseph Walther. The games were in charge of Miss Anne McQuarrie, the new superintendent of the Juniors.

HARVEST SUPPER

George L. Gill Lodge, I. O. O. F., held its harvest supper and entertainment in Odd Fellows hall Wednesday evening with a large attendance. The affair was in charge of a committee consisting of Mrs. Annie Pushee, Mrs. Sadie Walker, Mrs. Sadie Wood, Mrs. Marie Hall, Mrs. Maude Richardson, Mrs. Grace Welsh, Miss Emily Sylvester, Mrs. J. A. Sylvester and Mrs. Lillian Baker.

After the supper the entertainment program was given. The various numbers were well received. Trifling selections were given by Mrs. Nichols, Rudolph Nelson and Arthur Richardson. Vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Virginia Sears of South Braintree. Horace Wood, Harry Frethy and John Robinson presented a three man minstrel show and selections were given by a kitchen orchestra composed of the members of the committee. Dancing closed the evening. Music being furnished by Mrs. Lillian Baker.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

The cottage on Hancock street owned by Mrs. W. L. Buckley, was the scene of a gay Halloween party on Tuesday evening. The party was in charge of the Misses Phoebe Buckley Gertrude Buckley, and Marguerite Brown. It was chaperoned by Miss Nellie Buckley, Miss Ruth Buckley, John Phillips and Arthur Johnson.

The rooms were all prettily decorated in orange and black and autumn leaves.

The guests were met at the door by Miss Inez Waterhouse and Miss Marion Golden, both taking the part of ghosts, who introduced each arrival to a series of "spooks." Miss Madeline Fay, who was dressed as an old witch also greeted the guests.

The evening was enjoyed in playing appropriate games and dancing, the latter being in charge of Miss Teresa Murphy.

Refreshments consisting of ice cream, who doughnuts, popcorn and candy were served.

Among those present were the Misses Phoebe Buckley, Gertrude Buckley, Marguerite Brown, Teresa Murphy, Marion Golden, Marion Fay, Dorothy Buckley, Lizzie Glendon, Mildred Wilmore, Cora Pratt, Lora Pratt, Inez Waterhouse, Muriel Frates and Marguerite Gardner and the Messrs. Arthur Graham, Sam Snider, Gerald Mullen, Lawrence MacPherson, Francis Callahan, Randolph Rich, James Butler, Alvin Mitchell and Thomas Wilkinson.

Mrs. James Wilton Hayes of Boston, (Rea M. Wheelan of Arlington street, Wollaston) whose marriage took place October third was very pleasantly surprised when responding to an invitation to dine Saturday evening at the Quincy House, Boston.

The occasion proved a linen shower for Mrs. Hayes by the young women in the office of the United Shoe Machinery Company where she is employed before her marriage. The table decorations were red roses and a large bouquet of the same flowers were placed at Mrs. Hayes' cover.

LINEN SHOWER

Mrs. James Wilton Hayes of Boston, (Rea M. Wheelan of Arlington street, Wollaston) whose marriage took place October third was very pleasantly surprised when responding to an invitation to dine Saturday evening at the Quincy House, Boston.

The occasion proved a linen shower for Mrs. Hayes by the young women in the office of the United Shoe Machinery Company where she is employed before her marriage. The table decorations were red roses and a large bouquet of the same flowers were placed at Mrs. Hayes' cover.

Mrs. James Wilton Hayes of Boston, (Rea M. Wheelan of Arlington street, Wollaston) whose marriage took place October third was very pleasantly surprised when responding to an invitation to dine Saturday evening at the Quincy House, Boston.

The occasion proved a linen shower for Mrs. Hayes by the young women in the office of the United Shoe Machinery Company where she is employed before her marriage. The table decorations were red roses and a large bouquet of the same flowers were placed at Mrs. Hayes' cover.

Mrs. James Wilton Hayes of Boston, (Rea M. Wheelan of Arlington street, Wollaston) whose marriage took place October third was very pleasantly surprised when responding to an invitation to dine Saturday evening at the Quincy House, Boston.

The occasion proved a linen shower for Mrs. Hayes by the young women in the office of the United Shoe Machinery Company where she is employed before her marriage. The table decorations were red roses and a large bouquet of the same flowers were placed at Mrs. Hayes' cover.

Mrs. James Wilton Hayes of Boston, (Rea M. Wheelan of Arlington street, Wollaston) whose marriage took place October third was very pleasantly surprised when responding to an invitation to dine Saturday evening at the Quincy House, Boston.

The occasion proved a linen shower for Mrs. Hayes by the young women in the office of the United Shoe Machinery Company where she is employed before her marriage. The table decorations were red roses and a large bouquet of the same flowers were placed at Mrs. Hayes' cover.

Mrs. James Wilton Hayes of Boston, (Rea M. Wheelan of Arlington street, Wollaston) whose marriage took place October third was very pleasantly surprised when responding to an invitation to dine Saturday evening at the Quincy House, Boston.

The occasion proved a linen shower for Mrs. Hayes by the young women in the office of the United Shoe Machinery Company where she is employed before her marriage. The table decorations were red roses and a large bouquet of the same flowers were placed at Mrs. Hayes' cover.

THE WOMEN'S CLUBS

Wollaston Auxiliary Women's Board on Mission is to meet in the parlors of the parish house Friday afternoon Nov. 5 at half past two, subject "Today in the Land of Pyrenny," leader Mrs. Edward S. Tenney. Current events Mrs. W. F. Jones.

Under the auspices of the Hospital committee of the Wollaston Women's club, a club luncheon is to be given Friday noon at twelve o'clock in the Unitarian parish house.

Social Service is to be the subject Wednesday afternoon at the meeting of Quincy Alliance in First Church parlor. The meetings are held at half past two.

For its meeting next Wednesday Wollaston Alliance is to hold an all day sewing meeting with business session in the afternoon.

There are nearly 300 in the cast of "Fi-Fi of the Toy Shop" to be given under the auspices of the Wollaston Women's club, Nov. 18 and 19 in Wollaston school hall, under the direction of John D. Rogers, who has staged this unique musical extravaganza more than 1200 times in the United States. With the exception of the Parisian Doll Fi-Fi, the sixteen principal characters will be taken by some of Wollaston's leading near professionals.

Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, former president of the Wollaston Women's club, gave a lecture on "The Wonderland of America," Thursday evening at the Wollaston school hall. The Wollaston club and Friday evening at 7.45 at the Quincy Mansion school. The lecture was illustrated by stereopticon.

More than one hundred children attended to continue the Halloween party held Wednesday evening in the Wollaston Baptist chapel by the Junior Christian Endeavor society. The diversity of make ups was astonishing, the different characters running from ghosts and witches to clowns and animated vegetables.

A royal good time was enjoyed by the children. Apples were bobbed for and Halloween games were enjoyed, while Harold Neal in the guise of a fortune teller, invisible in the recess, looked into the future of the young people. Boxes of candy and Halloween lanterns were awarded as prizes for the best costumes.

Alben Pinkham received first prize for the boys. He was dressed in the costume of a clown with several faces. Ralph Bailey, as a pumpkin, came second while Elford Durand, as a ghost, came third. The fourth prize went to William Soule who was attired as a harlequin.

For the girls Beatrice Hall headed the list as a squash. Next came Margaret Schultz in a costume of autumn leaves. Ruth Kempton, also as a squash and Dorothy Dent as a witch completed the awards. Marjorie Wilson, as a ghost, and Donald Neal, as a clown, received honorable mention. There were so many good costumes that it was extremely difficult to make the awards and if the judges had had their way there would have been prizes for over half of those there. Those acting as judges were: J. Arthur Sapping, Ernest Neal, Mrs. J. A. Jewell and Mrs. Joseph Walther. The games were in charge of Miss Anne McQuarrie, the new superintendent of the Juniors.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Berry, entertained the members of Rebecca Wiswell tent, Daughters of Veterans, and friends, at their home on North Central avenue Monday evening in honor of their silver anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry received the guests as they arrived. Assisting them were their five sons, Irving, Elton, Harris, Gerald and Colby. The gift of the tent was a chaffing dish. There were also many individual pieces of silver and a silver service.

In impromptu entertainment was given and a collection was served by three little boys, Willie and Robert Jones and Colby Berry.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry have resided in Quincy about 14 years. Mr. Berry is employed at the Tribune garage and is a member of Quincy lodge of Moose. Mrs. Berry is a prominent member of Rebecca Wiswell tent.

CITY UNION K. D.

The annual meeting and supper of the City Union, King's Daughters, was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. W. L. Buckley, and was largely attended. The union met at 5.30, at which time a short business session was held and the officers elected:

President, Mrs. William G. Shaw. Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Florio. At 6 o'clock an appetizing supper was served the Union by the Reapers circle. At the evening session there was a short devotional service conducted by Rev. William Grainger, rector of Christ church. This was followed by an interesting talk on the work of the Bible Home by Mrs. Sawtelle of Revere.

The speaker at the evening session was Mrs. Amanda C. Clark, superintendent of missions at the immigrants home, East Boston, who spoke interestingly of the work of the home.

AVE MARIE COUNCIL

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, November 6, 1915

BY QUINCY TALENT

One of the most pleasing numbers on the program for the autumn meeting of the Unitarian Sunday School Society, which was held at the Second Church, Boston, all day Wednesday, was "The Bible Drama" presented by a group of young people from the First Parish church, Quincy, under the direction of Miss Minnie Packard. The drama presented a scene from the Bible story of Ruth, with spoken parts. The cast was as follows:

Dorothy Hall
Natalie Saville
Boaz
Lillian Schenkelberger
Orsha
Roxanna Schenkelberger
Reaper
Norma Johnson

At the morning session there were addresses by Rev. Frederick M. Elliot of the First Parish church, Cambridge, Rev. William J. Lawrence, President of the Sunday School society and Mrs. Louis P. Nash of the Disciples Church, Boston. They were followed by a discussion of the three papers. At noon there was a service of song and prayer conducted by Rev. Abbott Peterson of the First Parish, Brookline.

At the afternoon session there was a practical demonstration of three methods of dramatizing Bible stories. The first of these was "Playing the Lesson" by Rev. Florence Buck, who first taught a lesson to small children who often used to tell the story. The second was "Bible-story tableaux" under the direction of Miss Mary Lawrence and the third the drama given under the direction of Miss Packard.

Then there was a topic on "The use of pictures in teaching religion," which was taken up by Miss Frances M. Dufour, Rev. Lyman V. Rutledge and Miss Harriet Johnson. The evening session was conducted by Rev. Samuel R. Maxwell, assisted by Rev. Harold G. Arnold, with sermon by Rev. Augustus P. Record.

MISS CAREY HOME

Miss Margaret Carey of Upland road, one of the trained nurses chosen to go to Europe with the Harvard Unit to serve in a hospital "Somewhere in France" where the wounded of the battlefields were treated returned to Quincy Tuesday in the best of health and spirits. Miss Carey came home on the Rotterdam, which docked in New York Saturday and spent Sunday and Monday with relatives in New York city.

Miss Carey, like the others who returned, declined to have anything to say about her experiences. She said however that her stay was pleasant and that when the opportunity offered they took short tours to many points of interest, particularly while in London.

Miss Carey had one amusing experience which only goes to show how small the world is. In London she and another nurse of the party were on a train. Two Englishmen entered their compartment in which they were riding and occupied the opposite seats. After the train got underway one of the Englishmen spotted the baggage which was heavily labelled.

"Canada" he inquired pointedly? "No Boston," replied Miss Carey's companion.

"No, but she comes from that city, answered the other nurse, pointing to Miss Carey.

"Oh, Quincy," remarked the Englishman. "Dry town that. I used to live on Washington street, myself."

Miss Carey left with the Harvard Unit in May and most of the time since then has been on duty in the battlefield hospital.

FIRST SERGEANT CUMMINGS

Stanley R. Cummings of Wollaston has been appointed First Sergeant in the regiment of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Military instruction including drill is here required of Freshmen in accordance with the laws of the United States governing "land-grant" colleges, and Major E. T. Cole, U. S. A., has been detailed for such instruction. He is aided by two student officers, Lieut. Col. Theodore D. Parsons of Lynn and Major James A. Tobey of Roxbury.

The regiment, which includes the four hundred Freshmen and in addition some upper class men who do the work, is officered from among the best of the latter, the service being voluntary. Interest in it has been greater than heretofore and the present year there have been some sixty volunteers from whom to make the selection of officers. The Cadet Colonel is Ralph Mills of Newport, R. I.; the Cadet Lieutenant Colonel is Albert C. Lieber of Jamaica Plain; the regimental Adjutant is Arthur E. Gilmour of North Cambridge and the Major is Leonard Stone of Medford. Mr. Cummings is first sergeant in Co. G, Second Battalion.

MARY ELLEN DONAHUE

Mary Ellen Donahue, wife of Daniel Donahue and mother of John Donahue, president of Div. 5, A. O. H., died at her home off Smith street Monday afternoon at 5:30. Although Mrs. Donahue has been ill for several months her death was unexpected. She was 54 years of age.

Mrs. Donahue has been a resident of Quincy for about 25 years. She was widely known and highly respected throughout the city.

Her husband, Daniel Donahue, is also ill. Both were stricken within a few days of each other. Mrs. Donahue leaves, besides her husband and son, two daughters, Mary Ellen Donahue and Elizabeth Theresa Donahue. Her funeral was held from her home Thursday morning. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. John's church and burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

ADVERTISED LETTERS

Letters unclaimed in Post Office Oct. 29, 1915:

George Bart, F. Buckholz, Burr & Hardwick, Mrs. W. W. Crowell, Mrs. Ida M. Eaton, James Plyn, William Flynn (2), Raffaele Glott, John Glynn, Lillian Green, Miss Mabel Green, Mrs. Henry Kelly, Mrs. Sarah C. Larkin, Miss Catherine McCarthy, Teresa Farmer, C. F. Patch, William M. Pratt, Mrs. J. Rich, Miss Elizabeth Ritchie, George H. Sawyer, Emery B. Scott, Jack Sharp, Edwin B. Small, Arthur Sunberg, John Valskie, Tony Venturie, John Walsh, A. Ziozannini.

BRIEFS

Miss Zola Goodack of Granite street, a popular young lady of this city, left Thursday for San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Bent, 147 Upland road, announce the engagement of their daughter to the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Schenkelberger who has charge of the peddling for the adoption of Plan A requests that all parties having petitions send them to him at once.

At the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club Wednesday evening the best scores were made by William R. Dimock and Fred Drake. Quincy lodge of Elks is planning for an old time smoker to be held next Tuesday evening. The committee in charge promise a good time to all who attend.

John R. S. Ross, who has served in the council aspires to public life again and on Wednesday announced that he would run independent candidate for the council in Ward One. He served in 1911 and 1912.

The council, who was elected from one month Judge Dana for jury month commenced his duties Wednesday. His first case was one involving a horse trade.

The family of Charles C. Hearn who have occupied the house at the corner of Hancock street and Faxon avenue for many years have leased a house on Putnam street which they will occupy Dec. 1.

Albertina E. Johnson, wife of Andrew J. Johnson a prominent Swedish resident of the Cranich hill district died Monday in her 46th year. Her funeral was held from her home at 21 Elmhurst avenue on Thursday afternoon.

A regular meeting of Bethany Women's Union was held Wednesday afternoon, the speaker being Mary L. Daniels, principal of the Girl's school, Harport, Turkey. A roll and doughnut sale followed the meeting.

On Monday, Nov. 15, at 2 o'clock the Quincy Day Nursery will hold an Auction Bridge party in Wistaria Bungalow on Cottage avenue in place of the usual dance held later in the season. There will be tables of plain whist for those who prefer it to auction.

Quincy commandery, United Order of Golden Cross held a Halloween party for its members in Electa hall Wednesday evening. The hall was prettily decorated for the occasion and cider and doughnuts were served. Those in charge were Miss Bertha Cook and Will Gardner.

Wednesday evening Miss Addie J. Park gave a charming dish supper at her home on Butler road, announcing the engagement of Miss Emma M. Spaulding to John P. Smoots of Quincy. Pinks and chrysanthemums decorated the dining room and table. Cupids cake when cut by Miss Spaulding surprised the guests with tokens symbolic of their future state.

The Holly Club met at the home of Mrs. Mabelle Perkins, North Westwood, Wednesday evening. After the business meeting, games were played and the prize was awarded to Mrs. Annie Gagnon. The secret prize went to Mrs. Mabelle Perkins. A buffet luncheon was served and a social hour spent. The club whist party will be held at the home of Mrs. Norrie on the evening of Nov. 17.

Just at this time when the Bay State Street Railway is asking permission to increase its fares from five to six cents and a curtail in the work, is offered from among the best of the latter, the service being voluntary. Interest in it has been greater than heretofore and the present year there have been some sixty volunteers from whom to make the selection of officers. The Cadet Colonel is Ralph Mills of Newport, R. I.; the Cadet Lieutenant Colonel is Albert C. Lieber of Jamaica Plain; the regimental Adjutant is Arthur E. Gilmour of North Cambridge and the Major is Leonard Stone of Medford. Mr. Cummings is first sergeant in Co. G, Second Battalion.

Stanley R. Cummings of Wollaston has been appointed First Sergeant in the regiment of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Military instruction including drill is here required of Freshmen in accordance with the laws of the United States governing "land-grant" colleges, and Major E. T. Cole, U. S. A., has been detailed for such instruction. He is aided by two student officers, Lieut. Col. Theodore D. Parsons of Lynn and Major James A. Tobey of Roxbury.

The regiment, which includes the four hundred Freshmen and in addition some upper class men who do the work, is officered from among the best of the latter, the service being voluntary. Interest in it has been greater than heretofore and the present year there have been some sixty volunteers from whom to make the selection of officers. The Cadet Colonel is Ralph Mills of Newport, R. I.; the Cadet Lieutenant Colonel is Albert C. Lieber of Jamaica Plain; the regimental Adjutant is Arthur E. Gilmour of North Cambridge and the Major is Leonard Stone of Medford. Mr. Cummings is first sergeant in Co. G, Second Battalion.

The Quincy Day Nursery fund is so enriched by the generous contributions of a sale held Saturday afternoon by five little girls who planned and held a sale of fancy articles and home made candy by themselves. The sale was held at the home of Mrs. Breslyn, 51 Merrymount road. The young misses who made the sale were, Margaret and Elizabeth Donahue, and their friends, Betty Breslyn and Eleanor Ricker.

Tuesday night was Spanish War Veterans night at the Kincaide theatre and on this occasion Department Commander Foye and staff with the members of John A. Boyd Camp were the guests of Manager Wardwell. The Department officers were met at the depot by the local camp, which was well represented. Edward A. Gilmour, formerly of this city, who has the group in charge has been chosen president; Edward J. Gallagher, 16 Appleton street, Atlantic has been elected secretary; Chesleigh C. Chisholm of 858 East Squantum street, Squantum, has been elected treasurer.

Quincy's social season may be said to officially open with the Annual Assembly held the Friday night after Thanksgiving each year at Music hall. This year's party promises to be one of the most enjoyable as the committee in arranging the dance program has selected many of the older and favorite dances as well as the new. The snare will be maintained by Mrs. Walter E. Pinkham, Mrs. William H. Doble and Mrs. Frank J. Moore and a long list of patronesses is assisting in receiving subscriptions.

BRIEFS

Daniel McGuille of Adams street is spending a pleasant vacation with relatives in New York and Washington.

Mrs. Mary E. Spaulding of Upland road announces the engagement of her daughter Emma M. to John P. Smoots.

The tombs of the President Adams under the First Parish church are now open to the public on Sundays after the morning service.

M. M. Barrett, 271 Whitwell street has been appointed a member of the Efficiency Bureau on the Boston Division of the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel DeForest of Dysart street are moving this week into their new home on Monroe road which has been building since spring and is about completed.

Building on Presidents hill is very active with several houses completed and others in the process of erection. There is a wide and pleasing variety in architecture.

Dr. Edwin Noah Hardy of LeGrange, Ill., formerly pastor of the Bethany church who has been attending the convention in New Haven spent Saturday night in Quincy with friends.

Miss Beth Ryder entertained a number of her young friends at a Halloween party at her home on Hancock street, Saturday afternoon. There were Halloween games and refreshments on Watson road. The refreshments were served. The committee in charge were Edward B. Finn, Bernard Griffin and John Shea.

At a meeting of the Boston Co-operative Flower Market, this week, Perry Green of Quincy was elected one of the directors.

James Barr, of Newcomb avenue, is rapidly recovering from a depressed fracture of the skull which he recently sustained when thrown from his bicycle in the Blue hills. It is expected that he will be discharged from the hospital in about two weeks. His brother James has recovered from an operation for appendicitis.

John Donovan, is enlarging his residence on Watson road. The new story addition will include an office for the transaction of his increasing business.

The new granite walk which has been laid at the corner of Washington and Chubbuck streets, Quincy Point is completed and ready for use.

BRIEFS

The men who made up the platoon of the Machine Gun Co. 6th Regt. M. of Quincy, which gave a demonstration on Boston Common on "preparedness day" were banqueting in Boston Thursday night by Lieut. George M. Downes, company commander, and were later his guests at the monster film theatre where they saw the "Battle Cry of Peace." There are five machine gun companies in the state and the local company was chosen to represent that branch of the service on "preparedness day." Their work was highly commended.

WEST QUINCY

An enthusiastic smoke talk was held Monday evening by Div. 4, A. O. H. in Div. 22 hall. Edward Finn, president of the division presided and the speakers were Dr. John H. Ash, James O'Dowd president of Div. 22, A. O. H., Councilman Joseph Barry, John D. Smith and Neil A. McDonald. A musical entertainment was furnished by John R. Quinn, John Shea and other members of the Society. Refreshments were served. The committee in charge were Edward B. Finn, Bernard Griffin and John Shea.

QUINCY POINT

At a meeting of the Boston Co-operative Flower Market, this week, Perry Green of Quincy was elected one of the directors.

James Barr, of Newcomb avenue, is rapidly recovering from a depressed fracture of the skull which he recently sustained when thrown from his bicycle in the Blue hills. It is expected that he will be discharged from the hospital in about two weeks. His brother James has recovered from an operation for appendicitis.

John Donovan, is enlarging his residence on Watson road. The new story addition will include an office for the transaction of his increasing business.

The new granite walk which has been laid at the corner of Washington and Chubbuck streets, Quincy Point is completed and ready for use.

EXCEEDED EXPECTATIONS

Showing a sufficient amount of speed to meet all requirements, the superdreadnought Nevada came up to and in most cases exceeded the expectations of the Navy. The ship-building Corporation during her trials on the measured course at Rockland, Me., Wednesday.

Two new members were added to the Delta Sigma club at the club meeting Monday evening at the home of Miss Eleanor Whittemore on Riggs road. The meeting was well attended and a collation was furnished by Miss Whittemore.

Malcolm I. Sargent of 97 Putnam street, Quincy and Miss Helene Ward Stockford of East Braintree were married at East Braintree Thursday October 28. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott, former pastor of Bethany Congregational church of this city, officiated.

F. H. Breslyn of 51 Merrymount road and party, have returned from New Brunswick, where they have been for two weeks, in quest of big game. The party hunted in the Cains river district, and occupied the Allen camps, while in the woods.

At a meeting of the curators of the Quincy Historical society October 29th it was voted beginning in December to hold stated meetings of the society the first Tuesday in each month. The meetings will be held in the upper room of the Adams Academy building.

A political dark horse has appeared on the horizon to add zest to the otherwise quiet situation in Ward Five. This eleventh hour candidate is Ernest W. Towne, of 25 Hamilton street, who will contest the re-election of Dr. William G. Curtis to the School Committee.

Albert Jardine, one of the best known auto men of the city has been appointed to the Inspector department of the LaFrance Fire Apparatus Company and assumed duties Monday. Mr. Jardine is to be one of the experts of the company and has been assigned to the New England territory.

The annual meeting of the Sunday School Union of Episcopal churches is to be held at Tremont Temple, Boston Tuesday at 11:30 A. M. Bishop Lawrence is to speak to parents and pupils of the Diocese in the Cathedral. The meeting will be held at 4 P. M. on the cooperation and duty of parents in the Religious nurture of the child.

The High school staff of teachers were pleased with the results of the fire drill held in the school on Thursday. On the sounding of three bells in the school signaling the pupils immediately filed out in a systematic and rapid manner and were outside the building in record time. A fire drill is held once a month.

Mrs. Paul R. Blackmer, president of the Hospital Aid Association, is raising an entertainment for the benefit of the association having secured the Harvard Glee club for Dec. 9th at Alpha hall. She will be assisted with the subscription list by members of the association and some of the younger society folk.

Miss Whittaker, of the Household Arts staff at the High school accompanied another party of fifteen girls to the Museum of Drawings to the Boston Art Museum on Thursday. She escorted a like number to the great institution on Wednesday. Pictures, statues and the different kinds of cloth were particularly noticed. All professed spending an enjoyable trip.

At the recent election of officers of the new Radio club at the B. Y. C. Union, 48 Boylston street, Quincy, the most pleasing result was the election of Edward A. Gilmour, formerly of this city, who has the group in charge has been chosen president; Edward J. Gallagher, 16 Appleton street, Atlantic has been elected secretary; Chesleigh C. Chisholm of 858 East Squantum street, Squantum, has been elected treasurer.

Quincy's social season may be said to officially open with the Annual Assembly held the Friday night after Thanksgiving each year at Music hall. This year's party promises to be one of the most enjoyable as the committee in arranging the dance program has selected many of the older and favorite dances as well as the new. The snare will be maintained by Mrs. Walter E. Pinkham, Mrs. William H. Doble and Mrs. Frank J. Moore and a long list of patronesses is assisting in receiving subscriptions.

SQUAMTUM

Dr. and Mrs. Rund of Jamaica Plain opened their Squantum home to their friends for a Halloween party this evening.

Miss Helen Simpson of Dorchester opened her summer home in Squantum Saturday evening for a Halloween party. About fourteen young couples enjoyed games and dancing until a late hour.

SOUTH QUINCY

A campaign to increase the membership of the Men's class of the First Presbyterian church was started Sunday when the members were divided into two teams. Alex Cowe was appointed captain of the reds and Charles Ross of the Blues. The campaign will end in December. H. W. French of high school addressed the members on the cause which led up to the Japanese question on the Pacific coast three years ago.

Miss Alice E. Frohock, wife of James F. Frohock, and mother of Anna M. Frohock, one of the operators at the Quincy Telephone Exchange, died at her home in South Quincy Oct. 29 in her 45th year. Mrs. Frohock has been in poor health for some time. She is survived by a husband and four daughters. Funeral services were held from the home of her sister, Mrs. Daniel J. Griffin, 112 Phillips street, Monday afternoon.

WOLLASTON

Edward H. Chandler secretary of the Twentieth Century Club of Boston is to speak on "What are the Books for Children?" at Wollaston school hall Monday night under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers association.

St. Chrysostom's Woman's Guild holds an all day sewing meeting Wednesday in preparation for the sale on the 18th. Lunch will be served under the auspices of the Guild. Refreshments and at 2:30 a business meeting will be held.

Whatsoever Circle of King's Daughters is to have a silver tea Monday afternoon in the parish house of the Wollaston Congregational church.

Edward H. Chandler is to address the regular meeting of the Wollaston Parent-Teachers Association Monday evening in Wollaston school hall. The meeting is open to the public.

A most attractive house is nearing completion on Third hill for the Walter E. Wells. William R. Dimock of Wollaston is the contractor. The exterior of which is of rough cement or stucco.

Mrs. Alice J. Bainbridge of Grand View avenue left the first of the week for the Pacific coast going by the way of Chicago, Denver and Salt Lake City. While visiting the Panama Exposition, Mrs. Bainbridge will be received at the Oakland hotel, Oakland. She will be in southern California all winter returning East in the spring via the Canadian Rockies.

Miss Anna Marie Hyland of Standish avenue entertained a dozen of her friends Saturday evening at a Halloween party. Jack O' Lanterns and gifts decorated the room. The usual stunts were tried and graphophone selections enjoyed. Refreshments of ice cream, cake, apples and candy were served by the young hostess, Miss Annie Gahan.

A Halloween party was held in the Wollaston Methodist church vestry on Saturday evening. The usual games of the season were played after which refreshments were served. The affair was under the management of Mr. Roberts and the members of the Epworth League belonging to his side, who lost out in the contest for attendance during the month of October.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hamilton of Highland avenue are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter Sunday.

Pres. C. M. Hart of the Wollaston Gold club won the gross prize in the handicap net competition for members of the club, which was held on Sunday. He made the round in 80. The net honors went to J. W. French, with a card of 32-12-73. There was a small field who competed.

A very successful harvest supper was served, Wednesday evening, in the vestry of the Wollaston Methodist church under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society. Corned beef formed the principal item on the bill of fare and it was accompanied with the usual vegetables. The following committee in charge: Mrs. H. B. L. Dimmick, Mrs. T. N. Lane, Mrs. Orville N. Estes, Mrs. James Bent, Mrs. F. W. Atwood, Miss Helen E. Gahan.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustaf A. Oster of Standish avenue are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, born Sunday.

The Wollaston W. C. T. U. has postponed its regular monthly meeting to Friday Nov. 12 on account of the funeral of Mrs. Knight. The funeral will be held at 10 A. M. on Friday at the home of Mrs. Knight, 212 North Main street which takes place Friday at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Mills was a devoted and faithful member of the organization.

An all day meeting of the Unitarian Alliance of the Wollaston Unitarian church was held Wednesday. In the afternoon the ladies listened to an interesting talk by Mrs. Knight on the life and customs of India. Mrs. Knight is the wife of an English officer in the government employ in India.

St. Chrysostom's branch of the Girls Friendly society gave a masquerade dancing party in the assembly room of the parish house Tuesday evening. The decorations were artistically arranged. The chaperons were the branch secretary Mrs. Howard and D. Fowler, Mrs. Frederick H. Stenstra, Mrs. Alf Swensen, Mrs. Emanuel Thompson.

MONTECLAIR

Miss Mary Marshall of Montclair was united in marriage to Daniel Griffin of Boston on Sunday evening. Following the ceremony a private reception was held at the bride's home until the immediate family had been being present and also Mr. and Mrs. Melanson and family. Clement Melanson is engaged to Miss Ella Marshall, a younger sister of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Griffin left on the mid-night train for New York. Upon their return they will live in Savin Hill.

The members of the State's Society of the Sons of the American Revolution were entertained by Mrs. Dana Drey at her home last week. The discussion of the afternoon was on Women's Suffrage. Coffee and cake were served.

Miss Helen Arthur entertained her friends at a Halloween party in Association hall, Montclair, on Saturday evening. The hall was decorated with orange and black crepe paper and Jack o' lanterns. Games and dancing were enjoyed, music being furnished by a graphophone also by Irene Delury, Rose Berlo, Helen Arthur and Francis McCabe. Ice cream and cake were served. Mrs. F. L. Arthur and Mrs. Howard Arthur were the matrons. There were about seventy-five present.

Rev. Sampson Nicholls and family have moved from Squantum street, Montclair, where they have lived for three years, to Elm avenue, Wollaston.

ATLANTIC

Ruth and Charles Wilmore of Billings street entertained a few friends at a Halloween party Wednesday evening. The evening was spent playing games after which refreshments were served. Miss Laura Pratt and Miss Mildred Wilmore assisted with the evening. Those present were: Lida Combs, Marietta, Luke, Josephine Smard, Ruth Wilmore, Althea Wilmore, Leon Dennison, Horace Johnson, Lawrence Combs, James McPhillips and Charles Wilmore.

Rev. I. W. Sneath, D. D., of Wollaston opens the week of special meetings at Memorial church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Monday evening at 7:45 Rev. J. H. Woodsum of the Milton Baptist church will preach; Tuesday, Rev. George L. Cady D. D., of Pilgrim church, Dorchester; Wednesday, Rev. C. F. Weedon of Harvard church, Dorchester; Thursday, Rev. C. W. Dunham of Pilgrim church, South Boston; Friday, Rev. C. W. Tarr the new pastor of Central church, Dorchester and Sunday evening at 7 o'clock there will be addresses by members of the church. There is to be a special soloist at all services.

Welcome G. Young, president of Atlantic Improvement Association is visiting friends in Springfield for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Thomas of Billings street are guests of relatives on the Cape. Mr. Thomas is enjoying a needed rest.

Leonard S. Rankin a commissioner of the Boy Scouts of Boston visited the Atlantic troop Tuesday evening and advised the leaders to re-organize their troop as there were too many boys for one troop.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davis of Atlantic street are entertaining their friends at a Halloween party. Miss Mary G. Marshall of Atlantic, a dressmaker, and Daniel J. Griffin of Atlantic, a horseowner, were married Sunday at Atlantic. The ceremony was performed by Fr. John P. Cuffe of the Church of the Sacred Heart. They will live in Boston.

The funeral of Luke J. Toole was held Sunday afternoon and was attended by a delegation from Hennessey Tribe of Red Men with which he was affiliated. Services at the Church of the Sacred Heart were held by Rev. J. P. Cuffe and burial was in Calvary cemetery. Mr. Toole died suddenly Friday morning at his home on Hancock street, ten minutes after he was stricken with heart failure. He was employed at the Hallett & Davis piano factory.

Miss May F. Clare, daughter of Mrs. Margaret E. and the late Thomas G. Clare, and formerly well known in Atlantic, where she resided for some years, was united in marriage Sunday at Orlando, Fla., to John Allen Pinder of St. Petersburg, Fla. After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Pinder, who reside in Martland, Fla., where the bride has made her home for the past year.

NORFOLK DOWNS

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hamilton of Norfolk Downs are happy parents for the second time. Thursday a daughter was born to Mrs. Hamilton at the Quincy City Hospital and will be named Lesley. The oldest girl is named Jeanette.

MRS. ELIZABETH A. JOHNSON

The funeral of Elizabeth A. Johnson, wife of Andrew J. Johnson, a well known stone mason, was held Sunday afternoon from her home at 24 Euclid avenue, with many people present. There was a profusion of floral arrangements from relatives and friends who knew the deceased during her eleven years of illness which was brought to a close by her death at the Quincy City Hospital Monday.

The services were conducted by Rev. A. G. Sporrang of the Singing Congregational church. The singing was by Rev. Mr. Sporrang and John S. Anderson. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery and the bearers were Charles Leander, Carl Satterfield, Oscar Lindner and J. Davidson.

Mrs. Johnson is survived by her husband and three children, Hulda, Herbert and Signe, three brothers and three sisters.

BOYS ANOTHER LOCOMOTIVE

A newly-purchased engine was in use at the Fore River works for the first time Tuesday. It was formerly on the 2510 of the New Haven road and is a powerful six-wheeler. It is to be used for drawing freight cars on the private road of the company.

Many more feet of track have recently been laid in the yard and because of the large amount of building contracts the work will be found for the new locomotive.

SUIT ON TRIAL

The suit of $20,000 brought against the Bay State Street Railway Co. by Clarence Dixon of Atlantic went to trial in the Superior Court at Dedham before Judge Iana Thursday.

The action is to recover damages for personal injuries. The plaintiff, a boy, fell from a car on the Neponset bridge on July 5, 1912. In falling his leg went under a wheel and he sustained injuries which resulted in the amputation of his leg.

He alleges that his injuries were the result of an assault upon him by a conductor, an agent of the defendant company.

Joseph P. Walsh represents the plaintiff and A. A. French, Roy Brackett and Foster & Turner are for the defendant.

FREIGHT CLEARING FACILITIES

John T. Warren, an engineering student, was before the special terminal commission that is studying the railroad tangle in the metropolitan district of the city Thursday.

Warren brought with him plans for an extensive belt line system, covering 40 miles of territory contiguous to Boston, beginning at Saugus River and ending at Squantum. Four freight clearing houses were provided for, three of them at the new connections. The first of these was on the Saugus river, the other at Belmont and the third at Squantum.

The largest freight clearing house provided for in the plans was at Needham.

The division of freight, Warren pointed out, would be divided by all the yards, that at Saugus handling and clearing all the cars that arrived over the Portland divisions of the Boston and Maine, that at Belmont all that arrived over the Southern division of the same road and that at Squantum all of the Old Colony business.

HAIRGLAZING FURNITURE

with the great National Feast Day less than three weeks away, it is none to early NOW to select the new furniture you need. COME

Dining Tables, $5.98 up; Buffets, $18.75 up; China Closets, $16.50 up; Chairs, $1.25 up

Largest Assortment Best Values Satisfaction Guaranteed

Easy Payments if you wish. Free delivery by our auto trucks

KINCAIDE & CO.

COMPLETE HOME FURNISHERS
Entire Building, 1495 Hancock Street

MILTON

Miss Edith Stocker of Granite place was given a surprise party by twenty-five of her friends at her home on Saturday evening. Those who attended the party clubbed together and presented Miss Stocker with a gold ring.

Francis Maguire of Chester, N. H., formerly of East Milton, has returned, and is now in the employ of Charles G. Mullen.

C. Crawford Holcomb and family have returned to their home on Adams street from an auto trip of several days to Potter Place, Warner, N. H.

Miss Emily Doherty of Washington street gave a Halloween party to a number of her friends on Saturday evening at her home.

Patrolmen John E. Shields and Patrick H. Donohue of the Milton police force, are on their annual vacation.

Miss Helen Murray gave a Halloween party in the Blue Bell Bungalow on Saturday evening.

The East Congregational church and the Baptist church held a union service Sunday evening in the Baptist church. Rev. Arthur Gregg of the Massachusetts Anti-Saloon League gave a talk on "Why the Liquor Traffic should be Abolished."

The annual election of officers for the Kapp class of the East Congregational church took place at the regular meeting October 29, at the home of Lester Avery of Granite place. The officers were elected as follows: President, C. Langdon Parsons; vice-president, George Reid; secretary, Edward Lakin and treasurer, Lester Avery. A committee for making arrangements for a party to be given this winter was appointed as follows: Clarence C. Carlson, Louis L. Gosselin and Ross W. Doherty. It was also decided that there should be an athletic committee and George Reid was appointed chairman assisted by William Hecker and William Hoxie.

C. Langdon Parsons of Edge Hill road received a broken rib Oct. 29 in the croquet game and will probably be unable to play the remainder of the season.

The Arbutus club of Quincy gave a Halloween party in the Blue Bell Bungalow Monday evening. The committee in charge were Mary Finn, Marie Cormack and Mary Doyle. The service was furnished by Morrisette orchestra of Quincy.

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, November 6, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.
For Sale at
The Patriot Office, Quincy,
Brown & Co., Quincy,
H. P. Kittredge, City Square,
J. P. O'Brien, 38 Hancock St.,
C. F. Carlson, near Quincy Depot,
L. A. Cook, Quincy Point,
H. H. I. Smith, Quincy Point,
Sprague & Hobart, Quincy Point.
Shunk's Periodical Store, Wollaston,
Thomas Gurney, Wollaston,
Bransfield & Martens, Atlantic,
Bransfield & Martens Norfolk Downs,
Peter L. Litchfield, Quincy Adams,
E. H. Doble & Co., West Quincy,
Edward F. Drohan, West Quincy,
Mrs. Lar's Store, Brewer's Corner,
J. J. Hammers, East Milton,
South Terminal Station, Boston.

MAYOR CAMPBELL SECRETARY

At the first meeting for direct organization of the Ter-Centennial Pilgrim City association held in Boston Mayor Chester I. Campbell was elected permanent secretary.

It is believed that there may be some question of passing legislative action next year to appropriate the sum named with which the association purposes to build a model city, but it is certain that the question will come before the next legislature in some form.

What the association is aiming at primarily is to ensure a permanency in the idea to be carried out in any public buildings which may hereafter be erected between Boston and Nantasket.

It is pointed out that thousands of dollars are frequently expended in structures for temporary use which are torn down or destroyed immediately following the closing of the exposition, the loss of which means the loss of a large amount of money.

For example at the Chicago, St. Louis and California Expositions many thousands of dollars were expended for buildings which were torn down immediately following the close of the Exposition.

MASQUERADE PARTY

A masquerade Halloween party given by Miss Viola Jones at her home on South street, Monday produced one who might become a second Julian Eltinge, in the person of Herbert Olson. Although he wore no mask none of his thirty friends present recognized him till he revealed himself near the close of the enjoyable party. He was dressed in the garb of the young school-boy and wore a wig and hat that aided him to thoroughly look the part.

The main room was prettily decorated by black and yellow streamers which extended from the corners to the center of the ceiling. The lamp with its mantle of yellow crepe, made a pleasing transparent Jack-o-Lantern.

There was a wide variety of pretty costumes from the much-admired Celestia gown of Miss Mildred Moore to the attractive Scottish dress of Miss Annie Robinson, besides the numerous witch and Mother-Goose costumes. The hostess was dressed in a dainty and clever flower gown of black and yellow crepe.

Refreshments were served during the evening and a flash-light picture of the masquerade company was taken before the end of the delightful evening.

HALLOWEEN AT SQUANTUM

The children of Squantum were entertained by the Ladies' Aid Monday evening to a Halloween party in Richards Memorial hall. The hall was attractively decorated with black and orange streamers, pumpkins suspended from the ceiling and great black cats strutting along the walls.

All sorts of games including pinning the tail on a donkey, peanut race, spinning the platter, etc., were in charge of Mrs. Richardson, James Foster and Peter Olson.

Mrs. John Holmes had charge of the cake filled with treasures. Five cents bought a slice of this cake and some of the surprises were a gold ring won by Alice McCarron, thimbles and pennies.

Refreshments were sold, tickets for ice cream, cake and coffee being in charge of Mrs. Matthew McGrain. Mrs. Thomas Currie president of the Ladies' Aid, Mrs. Frank Anderson and Mrs. Richardson had charge of the decorations. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Herman Berghaus, Mrs. John Holmes, Mrs. John Marden and Mrs. James Foster.

Much credit for the success of the affair is due to Mrs. James Foster and Mrs. Matthew McGrain, who were assisted by members of the Aid.

The proceeds will be given to the Sunday school.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Halloween was ushered in with all the features of the day, at the home of Miss Verne Leonard on Sea street, who entertained a party of thirty-five friends on Saturday evening. Witches, spooks, ghosts, and goblins made things lively and hilarious. One of the features of the evening was a fortune tellers booth made entirely of corn stalks and hung with pumpkins and ears of corn, in which presided who told each one who entered some most surprising facts of the past and future. A very enjoyable evening was spent in which all sorts of Halloween games and sports were indulged in. The guests departed at the hour of midnight thanking their hostess for a very pleasant evening. Guests who were present from Boston Roxbury, Wollaston and Quincy.

BIRTHDAY HALLOWEEN

Mrs. Ella C. Phillips tendered a birthday Halloween party to her grandson, Garfield Holbrook at her home 163 Independence avenue, Saturday afternoon. The house was prettily decorated with Halloween decorations, flowers, and lanterns. Games and music were enjoyed by the children. Refreshments in Halloween form were also enjoyed. Garfield received many gifts. Each child was presented with Halloween novelties. The party came to a close at 5 o'clock and all departed with the Halloween spirit. Those present were:—Marion Bishop, Mildred Bishop, Wendell Bishop, Chester Mickle, Agnes Haleish, Dorothy Haleish, Paul Holbrook, Leonarda Colombo, and others.

CITY COUNCIL

There was but one matter that was debated at length Monday night at the regular meeting of the City Council. That was the order on an ordinance creating the office of Inspector of Wires and defining laws relative to electric wiring in houses and in the street. The order came up on its second reading and after the rules had been suspended Councilman McGrath spoke at length in opposition.

The ordinance itself he considered a grand good one. What he objected to was the manner in which the Inspector was appointed. He did not think there were enough safeguards about the appointee to safeguard the interests of the citizens. In justice to the poor man the inspector should be free from political influence. We should put a man in charge who would be independent and who could enforce the ordinance without fear or favor.

Councilman Ross said that was a poor argument. Civil Service did not amount to a pound of chickweed. Councilman Barnicot asked if there was any demand for such an ordinance and he was informed that there was urgent demand for it.

Councilman Smith said that under the charter the appointing power was with the Mayor. The only way the office could be made a civil service one was by an act of the legislature. It is absolutely necessary that we should have an inspector of wires.

Councilman Griffin believed that whoever was appointed should be one qualified for the office. He also believed that the appointee should be licensed according to state laws. It was very essential that the inspector should be a man who knew his business.

Councilman McGrath said the endorsement of a license did not amount to anything. "We want a man who is posted in inside wiring. It is absolutely necessary that we have a man who can pass certain tests."

Councilman McDonald said the appointment had been delayed too long. He believed the ordinance a good one. It would safeguard the public.

Councilman Richards also favored the ordinance. Councilman Gallagher asked why argue about civil service when we can not make the office a civil service one without an act of the legislature. There is no opposition to the ordinance, simply the method of appointing the inspector. We have nothing to do with that.

In reply to a question Councilman Smith said that of seven cities who had an ordinance of a similar nature but one was under civil service, that was by a special act.

Chief Billings of the Fire Department said in reply to a question that there were fifteen or twenty fires each year laid to defective wiring.

The order was then passed to be ordained by a vote of 15 yeas and 6 nays. Those voting no were Councilmen Barnicot, Beaman, Bolster, Griffin, McGrath and Slade.

The finance committee having reported favorably on the order creating a salary of $1200 a year for the inspector that came up for its passage. Councilman Griffin wanted to lay it on the table but his motion was defeated by a vote of 7 yeas and 14 nays.

Councilman Slade moved to recommit but that motion was also lost. There was some little argument to the effect that a competent man could not be obtained for $1200 and Councilman Kessler moved to make the amount $1400. The motion was lost.

There was some little debate on the order Councilman McGrath saying that he wanted to know the name before he got the job.

Councilman O'Dowd was called to the chair and President Whitman and Councilman O'Dowd all damming things that have been stuck on Quincy City Council since the war.

Councilman Kessler's amendment was lost and the order was passed. There was some little debate over the order appropriating $6500 to purchase the Zenas S. Arnold lot for an addition to the Coddingdon school, but the order was passed.

Communications were received as follows: From the Mayor and Commissioner asking for a transfer to make repairs to the Montclair school. To Finance Committee.

From the Mayor appointing Ethel E. Blair a public welfare. Confirmed. From the City Clerk giving official notice of the hearing on the proposed increase of street car fares. Placed in file.

From the School Committee asking for a transfer of $800 to industrial school and for the transfer of $500 to provide additional seats. Both referred to Finance Committee.

From the Park Department asking for an appropriation of $125 for Parks. Later Councilman Slade offered an order for that amount which was passed.

A petition from Maria A. Whitney asking permission for children to appear on the platform at the First Parish church Nov. 19 was granted.

Petitions were received from the Citizens Gas Light Co. for permission to lay mains on Intervale and Ballou streets. Later an order was offered for a petition favoring the A. B. C. Oil Co., being given a location for a gasoline tank at West Quincy was placed on file.

Petitions for street lights on Davis street were referred to the Executive. A petition of Madam Santos for an employment license was granted.

A public hearing was ordered for Nov. 15, on the petition of John A. Dugan to keep gasoline at Atlantic. The Committee on Streets reported ought not to pass on order for a granolithic sidewalk on Revere road. Report accepted.

The Finance Committee reported a slight amendment to the borrowing clause on the order appropriating $6500 to purchase the Zenas S. Arnold lot for an addition to the Coddingdon school lot. Order passed.

The same committee reported ought to pass on the order increasing the salary of the Sealer of Weights and Measures to $1200 per year. Passed. The Joint Committee on Finance and Streets reported ought to pass on the order appropriating $300 to remove ledge on South street. Order passed.

The Finance Committee reported ought to pass on the order appropriating $475 to rebuild the wall in front

COMPLETE VOTE OF CITY BY PRECINCTS

GOVERNOR	1-1	1-2	2-1	2-2	3-1	4-1	4-2	5-1	5-2	6-1	6-2	Total
Clark, P.	5	13	5	9	6	10	6	2	13	13	12	105
Hutchins, S.	7	3	1	15	3	11	4	14	1	2	4	75
McCall, R.	292	358	107	173	242	196	57	96	416	319	261	2744
O'Rourke, S. L.	4	2	0	0	2	2	2	1	1	0	2	18
Shaw, Prob.	35	40	11	37	42	45	16	20	39	20	22	367
Walsh, D.	172	273	102	225	246	100	332	217	101	149	173	2225
Blanks	3	7	2	5	1	14	5	8	1	3	7	69

LIET. GOVERNOR	1-1	1-2	2-1	2-2	3-1	4-1	4-2	5-1	5-2	6-1	6-2	Total
Barry, D.	146	267	92	195	212	74	313	204	52	167	149	1867
Coollidge, R.	327	438	114	214	279	112	73	104	469	396	286	3232
Frans, Prob.	10	19	5	12	3	2	1	2	23	26	11	191
Hayes, S. L.	5	3	1	1	3	4	6	0	0	2	3	33
Lawrence, Prog.	7	10	1	4	7	7	3	2	12	7	8	76
Levenberg, S.	7	5	0	16	3	11	5	8	2	2	5	10
Blanks	16	24	15	22	24	43	18	22	6	6	15	217

SECRETARY	1-1	1-2	2-1	2-2	3-1	4-1	4-2	5-1	5-2	6-1	6-2	Total
Grosvener, D.	136	188	83	194	244	76	299	184	53	100	140	171
Langtry, R.	335	447	116	200	283	223	79	106	477	398	290	3194
Maher, S. L.	7	5	3	3	7	3	6	5	0	1	2	45
Sproule, S.	7	5	2	16	4	13	4	10	2	3	6	83
Wylie, Prob.	10	12	2	9	11	21	4	15	23	23	10	151
Blanks	23	49	22	42	33	43	30	38	17	21	23	350

TREASURER	1-1	1-2	2-1	2-2	3-1	4-1	4-2	5-1	5-2	6-1	6-2	Total
Bowles, D.	139	191	126	194	215	77	289	178	48	94	139	112
Burrill, R.	339	445	71	294	276	215	73	105	478	405	302	3129
Penner, S.	9	6	4	18	8	12	5	11	4	3	5	12
Marks, Prob.	9	11	1	8	13	23	4	16	26	22	9	151
McNally, S. L.	4	7	2	2	3	3	5	5	1	2	0	36
Blanks	37	54	24	28	30	49	43	43	15	20	25	378

AUDITOR	1-1	1-2	2-1	2-2	3-1	4-1	4-2	5-1	5-2	6-1	6-2	Total
Cook, R.	229	437	123	241	289	236	87	109	457	404	298	3217
Holden, S. L.	34	2	3	1	3	6	1	1	2	0	5	63
Iram, S.	8	6	1	18	6	14	8	12	2	8	6	99
Morse, D.	104	182	72	161	190	57	273	173	66	86	140	1607
Rogers, Prob.	11	14	1	6	11	20	3	15	27	24	5	147
Blanks	22	64	28	54	45	56	48	48	18	24	27	461

ATTORNEY-GENERAL	1-1	1-2	2-1	2-2	3-1	4-1	4-2	5-1	5-2	6-1	6-2	Total
Atwell, R.	339	452	121	239	300	232	91	106	486	413	310	3218
Audley, Prob.	9	16	3	8	12	26	5	13	23	19	12	162
Donahue, D.	130	181	77	166	190	56	285	176	41	84	126	1614
McCarthy, S.	7	6	2	17	7	13	6	12	3	4	6	9
Taylor, S. L.	5	2	2	0	2	4	2	4	1	2	8	32
Blanks	28	49	23	43	33	48	33	44	18	24	22	378

COUNCILOR	1-1	1-2	2-1	2-2	3-1	4-1	4-2	5-1	5-2	6-1	6-2	Total
Andrews, R.	249	454	119	279	304	239	87	116	491	413	307	3244
Murray, D.	134	189	81	176	197	62	230	186	55	99	136	1699
Blanks	35	66	28	59	45	77	55	56	26	33	28	559

SENATOR	1-1	1-2	2-1	2-2	3-1	4-1	4-2	5-1	5-2	6-1	6-2	Total
Langellier, R.	368	498	131	266	330	260	108	113	533	410	321	3619
Shea, D.	121	164	72	157	188	62	278	176	50	84	131	1584
Blanks	29	41	25	11	26	56	36	39	19	22	29	330

REPRESENTATIVE	1-1	1-2	2-1	2-2	3-1	4-1	4-2	5-1	5-2	6-1	6-2	Total
Sullivan, D.	231	292	97	231	284	139						1274
Whitman, R.	235	338	136	216	251	208						1456
Blanks	22	28	5	17	9	34						115

REPRESENTATIVE	1-1	1-2	2-1	2-2	3-1	4-1	4-2	5-1	5-2	6-1	6-2	Total
O'Dowd, D.												948
South, D.												1626
Blanks												181

COUNTY COMMISSIONER	1-1	1-2	2-1	2-2	3-1	4-1	4-2	5-1	5-2	6-1	6-2	Total
Richardson, R.	388	499	139	296	347	239	103	174	516	458	346	3722
Blanks	130	207	89	163	196	149	259	184	56	88	155	1765

COUNTY TREASURER	1-1	1-2	2-1	2-2	3-1	4-1	4-2	5-1	5-2	6-1	6-2	Total
Humphrey, R.	381	525	131	292	339	229	157	160	515	456	347	3787
Blanks	137	181	97	172	205	150	265	198	59	90	134	1797

COUNTY SHERIFF	1-1	1-2	2-1	2-2	3-1	4-1	4-2	5-1	5-2	6-1	6-2	Total
Capeen, R.	375	518	145	303	366	207	225	193	500	452	354	3915
Blanks	143	188	83	161	178	172	197	165	72	94	127	1679

ASSOCIATE COMMISSIONER	1-1	1-2	2-1	2-2	3-1	4-1	4-2	5-1	5-2	6-1	6-2	Total
Bullard, R.	21	61	4									109
Blanks	496	615	228	459	579	335	421	358	570	543		5468

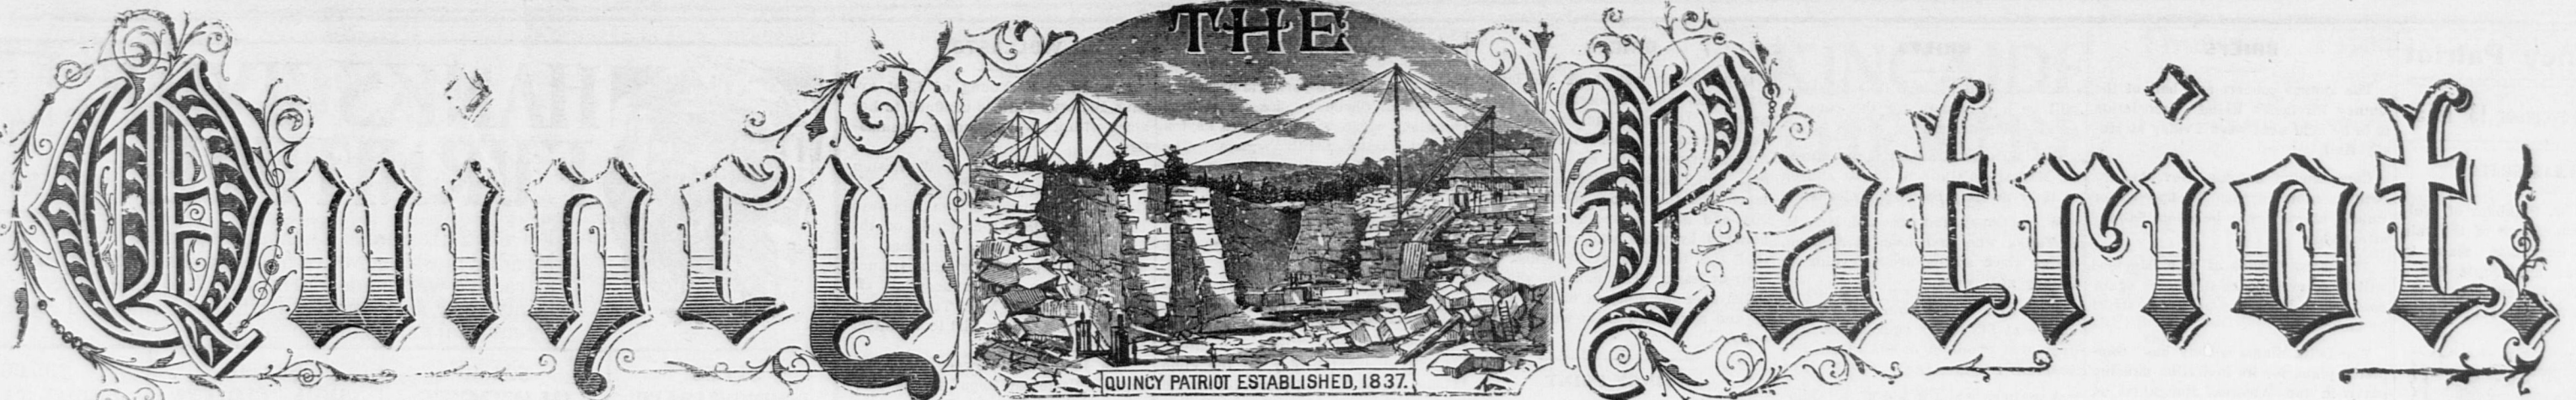

Councilman Ross moved to order the committee to be reappointed. The report was then accepted.

The joint committee on Finance and Fire Department reported an amendment to the order increasing the salary of the permanent firemen from $10.00 to $12.00 per month. The amendment was adopted by a vote of 22 to 5.

A pretty Halloween party was held at the home of Miss Margaret Lane of Conant street. The interior of the house was tastefully decorated with orange and black crepe paper and festoons of caricatures.

Various Halloween games were played and there were some new ones.

Pauline Randall took the part of witch and the ghosts were: Esther Olsen, Ruth Higgins, Dorothy Taylor, May Blake and Hildegarde Levey. The entertainment committee consisted of: Gladys Kingman, Ruth Higgins, Philip Moore, Fred Cutler.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 46.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot
Established in 1827.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED.)
OFFICE, No. 1424 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone 425.
Quincy 1910.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN
AGENT FOR THE Adams Real Estate Trust
—AT—
MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Wollaston Farm
Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street
Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY
Established in Quincy in the year 1849 by
W. PORTER
Insurance effected in reliable and safe
Sack and Mutual offices.
By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 70 Quincy Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank
ESTABLISHED 1845.
New Savings Bank Building
1374 Hancock Street
President, — JOHN Q. A. FIELD
Vice President, — RICHARD D. CHASE
Treasurer, — CLARENCE BURGIN
BOARD OF INVESTMENT
GEO. A. FIELD, RUFUS E. CLARKIN
R. D. CHASE, HERBERT T. WHITMAN
BANK HOURS
Every Business Day except Saturdays
9:30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
Saturdays 9:30 A. M. to 12 P. M.
Deposits placed on interest on the first Tuesday of January, April, July and October.
Connected by Telephone.
Quincy, March 29, 1912

Incorporated 1827
Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $9,291,723.10
Cash Assets, 176,990.40
Total Assets (including re-insurance), 74,654.05
Amount of Cash Surplus, $101,948.38
Contingent Assets, 115,553.33
Total Available Assets, 217,501.71
Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies, 40 per cent; on three-year policies,
30 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, President.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer

Incorporated 1825
Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $28,063,917.21
Cash Assets, 44,729.87
Total Assets (including re-insurance), 296,885.61
Amount of Cash Surplus, $38,604.06
Contingent Assets, 234,067.75
Total Available Assets, 432,671.81
Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies, 40 per cent; on three-year policies,
30 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.
JAMES V. NOYES, Pres. and Treas.
THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary

DORCHESTER
Mutual Fire Insurance Company
BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
INCORPORATED 1855
HOME OFFICE, — IS CENTRAL STREET
Telephone, Main 1040.
William A. Muller, President
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer
DIRECTORS:
Paul R. Blackburn, Attorney
Clarence Burgh, Treas. Quincy Savings Bank
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
T. J. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and
Ins. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower &
Weeks
Louis K. Liggett, Pres. United Drug
Company
Wm. J. McGaffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas
G. Plant Co.
Edward C. Mason, Secretary and Solicitor
William A. Muller, William A. Muller
& Company
Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests
John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons
Ralph J. Wild, Pres. Wellington
Wild Cost Co.
Saul J. Willis, Blue Hill National Bank
We reduce your Insurance Rate One-
Fifth.

ORDER YOUR KINDLING WOOD
NOW
We have it now: we shall be cut of it very soon
The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company
Offices:
Neponset, Boston, Tel. 1040 Dorchester
166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

When U Want
Plumbing and Heating
Work Done
In any part of your home, store or factory, and want it done in first
class style,
SEND FOR US
The Wm. A. Bradford Co.
Sanitary Plumbing Heating
GAS FITTING
FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK
No. 5 Maple St.,
Quincy, Massachusetts

Frost Coal Co.
SUCCESSOR TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.
488 Neponset Avenue, Telephone Neponset. 1500 Dorchester
Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

COMMITTED SUICIDE
William Madden, collector and secretary of the Boot and Shoe Workers Union at South Braintree shot himself Tuesday in his room in the Atkinson block, just as Minot McLaughlin of Randolph a shoe worker knocked on the door of his room.
McLaughlin broke down the door and found Madden in bed, with a bullet wound in the head. He called for assistance and Dr. J. H. Merriam was summoned. Madden lived but a few moments.
Madden was a native of Brookfield and was 42 years of age. For ten years he has held office in the Brain-tree local. He has been a sufferer from rheumatism, and that with business troubles is said to have brought on despondency.
The body was viewed by Medical Examiner Frasier and removed to the rooms of Wright and Shea, Brain-tree undertakers.

McINTOSH—SPARGO
Andrew McIntosh, Jr., one of the clerks at the Brown & Crowe store in South Quincy sprung a surprise on his many friends Monday evening by taking Miss Ruth Lillian Spargo of Thomaston, Me., formerly of Quincy as his bride.
The ceremony was performed at the Christ church rectory by Rev. William Grainger. After the ceremony the groom took his bride to the home of his parents where he announced that the marriage had taken place.
They will live in Quincy.

CLAN MacGREGOR
Clan MacGregor No. 5 held its first meeting for November last evening and seven candidates were initiated. The clan is steadily increasing, there being six initiations two weeks ago, and eight initiations at the meeting before that, so evidently the membership committee are rounding up all the eligibles for membership. The candidates recently initiated are nearly all young men in the early twenties.
A large delegation will accompany Chief William Cantlay and his officers on a visit to Clan MacDonnell of Somerville on Wednesday Nov. 17.
The clansmen will leave Quincy Adams station at 7:03 P. M. on that evening. A show of hands was taken at the meeting last night and all indications point to a very large delegation going to Somerville. A rousing welcome is assured and a general good time.

NEIGHBORHOOD PARTY
One of those enjoyable neighborhood parties, held by the ladies connected with the First Parish church was held Monday afternoon with Mrs.
Madison M. Cannon, 126 Butler road, and was attended by a number of the ladies connected with the church, as well as by Rev. Adelbert Lathrop
Hudson, minister of the parish.
The afternoon was passed in a pleasant manner, the ladies busying themselves in sewing for the coming fair of the Fragment society. During the latter part of the afternoon tea and fancy cakes was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Mark L.
Read, Jr.

A TOUCH-DOWN
Nixon Waterman

Good Farmer Wayback sent his son to college for a year.
The boy came home Thanksgiving time but father didn't hear A single word that made him think his son was growing wise.
He greatly doubted if in life he'd win
the highest prize.
He kept on doubting till the boy let forth his college yell.
Stampeding all the live-stock in the neighborhood, pell-mell!
And every one was startled when the youth with loud huzzas
Exclaimed, "Oh, hosh! Some slosh!
Hog wash! Ham fat! Ding dat!
Rah! Rah!"

"His mother with that saves a man, and that good farmer knew In moments of emergency the proper thing to do:
He caught that young man unaware and bent him over his knee,
He didn't do a thing to him! Well, say!
'Twasen yins and me!
He worked the center rush and scored a touch-down every time.
The while that yell spread over the farm like a remorseless rhyme.
And as he beat a fierce tattoo that grand old Roman ran Exclaimed, "Oh, hosh! Some slosh!
Hog wash! Ham fat! Ding dat!
Rah! Rah!"

AT TWELVE O'CLOCK

The Lawton's Halloween party was in full swing at 11 o'clock. A pair of grinning, candle-illuminated pumpkins adorned the gate posts and the plaza was hung with winter Jacko'-lanterns. Inside the house, walls and ceilings were hung with cobwebs cunningly fashioned from twine and from every corner there peered glassystaring owls and evil-looking witches, the latter accompanied by broomstick and black cats.
From a corner obscured by rough fascias from the forest, came the sound of stringed instruments. The orchestra was concealed there and dancing was going on. It was a costume party and the rooms were filled with whirling forms clothed in garments of fancied beauty or grotesque absurdity of form or color.
The various mingled couples provoked much merriment. Mr. Lawton, stout and jolly, was garbed as the unhappy Ophelia while her partner, Major Morse, a thin dyspepticlooking man, depicted Puck.
His Statian Majesty danced with a demure little Quakeress, district messenger boys were paired off with medieval damsels and the Knave of Hearts carried refreshments to Old Mother Hubbard and her faithful dog.
Now, contrary to tradition, Old Mother Hubbard was the prettiest girl in the gathering and she was far from being old in spite of the snuff-colored gown she wore with its enveloping white apron and the dangleling bunch of keys; for the mob cap sat coquettishly on her sunny hair and she could not keep the dimples from her pink cheeks and white chin, although she did try to maintain a sober demeanor.

"Mother Hubbard," said the Knave of Hearts as he bowed to one known and presented a tray of ices, "I have no tarts but here is a biscuit torton, if you please."
Elsie Hilyer ate her ices daintily
while the handsome Knave of Hearts, with his own plate in his hand, in his present state of mind it was sufficient food and drink to gaze upon Elsie's loveliness, to watch the changing shadows on her face and harken to the sweet lilt of her voice.
"You didn't find a bone for my poor dog," she suddenly chided him, to break an embarrassing silence.
Arthur picked up the dropt stuffed dog that was perched on Elsie's lap and beat it emphatically against his knee. "Confound the dogs!" he complained bitterly. "Every time I've tried to speak seriously with you to night, Elsie, you've dragged poor Fido into the conversation. Why not give me a straight answer and—"
Elsie reached over and rescued the dog from his reckless hands. "That belongs to my little niece, Kitty Blair, and I promised Kitty that no harm should come to poor Fido. Is it not enough that poor Fido should be without his bone?"
"And put me out of my misery?"
Interrupted Arthur, relentlessly concluding his sentence.
Her face rose pink as she bent it over the woolly dog. "I can't tell you just now—let us wait a while—until after the games. You haven't given me time to think."
Arthur's face lengthened. "If you want time to think it over," he said gravely, "I'm afraid I'm out of it—because if you really cared, you'd know right off."
"Wait until after the games?" she repeated in a low voice.
"Until after twelve o'clock?"
"Yes."
"And you will not escape—you will tell me then?"
"I will be here at a little after twelve," she murmured, and then another partner claimed her and she was gone without one glance from her soft brown eyes to comfort him or give him hope.

That was the last dance before the games and the entire company found seats and prepared to put to rest all the legendary charms of Halloween.
Partners were chosen and once more Arthur Beckman found himself beside the girl he loved.
Elsie's cheeks were deeply flushed and her eyes sparkled with some inward excitement. She was merry and gay until the charms were tested.
Then a quietness settled down upon her like a filmy veil of sorrow, but occasionally she brushed it aside to smile or return a merry quip.
The charms were provokingly inauspicious for the furthering of Arthur Beckman's desires. All the crimson apple parings that Elsie tossed over her shoulder fell into obstinately curving W's instead of the A's that would indicate that Arthur was to be her future mate. The melted lead when dropped in cold water took the shape of a mortar and pestle, much to the secret satisfaction of Wilbert Lansing who was a wileless druggist and who interpreted the signs to mean that his long and heretofore hopeless wooing of Elsie Hilyer was to have a successful ending. Arthur Beckman was an architect and a mortar and pestle had no significance for him.

Then, when they placed chestnuts on the hearth in pairs, each one secretly naming his nuts, the one that bore a certain magic name that Elsie dared not whisper aloud, insoluently hopped away and joined a fat little chestnut that belonged to her neighbor, Jack Monroe—and as Jack was desperately in love with plump and little Susie Aikner there was small doubt that his chestnut was named for Susie. If fate decreed that Elsie's hero and Susie were to be mated—Elsie's smile quite faded away for all the signs were against her!

Of course they tried the mirror game, some of the girls taking hand-mirrors and walking around the house backward were rewarded by seeing divers faces reflected in the glass.
It was a moonlight night and the shrubbery cast lacy black shadows across the path that encircled the house.
Elsie did not join them. This last test she dared not try and so while the others played hide-and-seek in the crisp cool air after the midnight hour had passed, Elsie sought the alcove in the conservatory where she had promised to meet Arthur Beckman and give him his answer.

He arrived almost as soon as she did. He sat down beside her and took one cold little hand in his own.
"Now, Elsie?" he asked softly.
"Oh, Arthur," she trembled. "I—can't."
"Well—never mind—don't cry about it," he said practically, for her voice was near to tears. His own heart beat wildly and he was aware of the moment. "Don't let it worry you one instant, dear. You needn't tell me why—I suppose it's another chance—would you like to join the dance? The orchestra is tuning up."
He tried to speak lightly but the spirit had all gone out of his voice.
Elsie shook her head. "You don't understand," she whispered, turning her head half toward him so that the soft fragrant masses of her hair brushed his cheek. "The signs were all against it!"

He hardly breathed, so fearful was he of losing this blissful moment, but her gaze was turned away.
"The signs?" Oh, yes, mean those charms and all that clap-trap business of apple parings and melted lead and so forth," he demanded.
"Yes—you see I wanted to wait and find out what Fate really had in store for me. I thought if the signs were propitious for me—being happy with you I believed that together with—" She hesitated and turned away her head.

"Together with your love for me,
he prompted softly and he was wildly happy when she did not deny it.
"Would insure our happiness," she cooed.
"Fol de rol!" ejaculated the Knave of Hearts, taking Old Mother Hubbard in his arms so suddenly that the boneless dog bounced to the floor and rolled away. "Fol de rol, darling! I risk all the luck in the world in marrying you if you'll have me!"
Compared with the fate that was love you and you say you love me—why, the charm business doesn't cut any figure at all!"

At that instant came Wilbert Lansing of mortar and pestle fame; the Fates had decreed that he was to be Elsie's future spouse and he was eager to find her and press his suit once more. He was rather superstitious himself and the signs were auspicious for him.
Through the shielding palms he caught one glimpse of the Knave of Hearts and Old Mother Hubbard and he lost his belief in signs at once.
As he turned away he saw the fat, stuffed, woolly dog of Mother Hubbard lying at his feet.
With a well directed kick he sent the poor beast flying across the floor, whence it bounded into the fountain and bobbed serenely around among the startled goldfish.

"Interrupted Arthur, muttered Wilbert Lansing as he stalked gloom-ily home.—By Marion Gordon.

THANKSGIVING DINNERS

The Associated Charities want to make sure that every family in need of aid is provided for at Thanksgiving. They hope to get the co-operation of every church and society in Quincy, in order to bring this about,
and they ask that names of families to be aided be given to the secretary for comparison with other lists, all as early a date as possible. Telephone Quincy 1189, where it can be learned at once if any of these are being cared for by other clubs, churches or societies. This system has been in use in Quincy for several years and has practically eliminated duplication.

The Secretary is in her office, 148
Goffe street, daily from 11 to 1 P. M., and may be consulted personally in regards to families to be aided.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL ASSO.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Washington School Parents and Teachers association, held at the home of Mrs. Thompson
B. Crane, 402 Washington street, Monday evening, it was arranged to have J. A. McCoy, the noted sanitarian speak on the Pure Milk Problem at the meeting of the association at the Washington school Wednesday evening, Nov. 17.
The lecture will be illustrated by stereopticon and music will be furnished by a double quartet in charge of Arthur B. Foster. Elijah P.
Barrows will be in charge of the singing. Mrs. J. R. Mellen is president of the growing association.

FIRE PREVENTION EXHIBIT

The council of 50, composed of representatives of civic and social organizations interested in an adequate and practical plan for the development of the Boston District, which was started as the result of a study of local conditions and needs by the Fire and Life Club at the Boston
Y. M. C. U., last winter and spring, announced Sunday that from Nov.
13 to 20 there will be a fire-prevention exhibit for the Metropolitan City Planning Exhibition for City and Town Advance, which will attend the opening of the new east wing of the State House.

It will be shown how spontaneous combustion occurs, the value of the use of safety matches, the dangers of cleaning liquids, fireproof waste baskets and a comparison of combustible and noncombustible roofings, besides other features which have to do with fire dangers and their prevention.

The organization of city departments in Boston, with their focusing point in the Mayor, will be illustrated by the Boston Finance Commission.

A number of transportation studies relating to problems of the metropolitan district, which have not been displayed in public before, will be placed on exhibition by the Massachusetts Public Service Commission.

The new system of assessment in Cambridge will be illustrated by the Special Committee on Local Real Estate
Assessment of that city.

There will be a special housing exhibit under the direction of Arthur C. Conner, representing the Council of Fifty, which will include the valuable material gathered by the Harvard Social Museum.

Fall River will enter the exhibition to show how land was reclaimed from the Quechequan River and a minuscule eliminated. The Winthrop Planning Board will present a plaster model to show the proposed abolition of grade crossings in that town and the improvement of Winchester square.

The Winthrop Planning Board exhibit will include a map of Winthrop, a layout of Ingleside Park, pictures of the Library and five school buildings, photographs of the new sea wall and the Winthrop parks, pictures showing the historical progression of the Narrow Gauge Railroad, comparison photographs of good and bad conditions of streets, billboards and other phases, and a right cut down with head slightly lowered over his prostrate disciple, it is as if the Master were saying, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

FORMERLY OF QUINCY

A beautiful heroic side memorial to the late Father Charles S. Boylan, rector of All Souls' Church, in Springfield, Mass., has been placed in St. Michael's cemetery in that city. It is the work of Florence J. McAuliffe of Worcester,
formerly of Quincy.

The memorial was made in Worcester.
It stands nine feet in height and has a base seven by four and one-half feet. It has been fashioned from an eight inch block of solid granite quarried in Westley, R. I.

The sculptured group represents Our Divine Lord receiving the priest at the end of his life service. The expression of sympathy and of love on Christ's face is said to be most effectively delineated. Calm and gentle, the eyes cast down with head slightly lowered over his prostrate disciple, it
is as if the Master were saying, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Mr. McAuliffe, until recently lived in Quincy and was connected with a local granite plant. When his Quincy friends learned that the group had been completed they sent their hearty congratulations to the young man. At present Mr. McAuliffe is working on another group which it is said will even outrank the heroic memorial.

BOY SCOUTS MEETING

Because of the uncomfortable weather, only a small majority of the Boy Scouts of Troop 1 attended their meeting in the Quincy Point church vesting, Nov. 5th. Three boys, James Coburn, Henry Davies, and William Kelly passed the tenderfoot examination which was given during the evening.

Carl W. Sherburne illustrated his talk on the operation of electric bells by diagrams on a black-board. In speaking of the principles of electricity he related an interesting anecdote:

On being asked by the teacher what electricity is, a pupil in a class answered that he knew, but could not remember. The professor then exclaimed, "Too bad! The one person in the world who knew what electricity is, has forgotten!"
The Rev. Stephen C. Lang and Samuel Melville, leaders, were interested listeners.

EDWARD V. MCCARTHY

Edward V. McCarthy, who made his home at 65 Chestnut street, died at the St. Joseph's hospital in Providence, R. I. Monday evening after a short illness. His funeral will take place in that city.
Edward McCarthy was in his 27th year. Six weeks ago he strained his heart and went to the hospital for treatment. He was well known in Quincy.

THE SUNDAY FIRES

The Central and Wollaston station apparatus responded to a still alarm at 10:45 Sunday morning for a slight fire in a feather bed at a house 294 Beale street, occupied by Otto Jer-son. The cause of the fire is unknown. The damage was slight.

The alarm from Box 116 at 8:44
Sunday evening was for a slight fire in the house of W. H. Sturges on Rock Island road. The fire started back of the kitchen stove, but was quickly extinguished and did but little damage.

THE TAFT LECTURE.

A large audience gathered at Quincy Music hall the evening of Nov. 5th to greet Ex-President William Howard Taft who lectured on Women's club on the subject: "The der the auspices of the Quincy Military and Naval Defenses of the United States—What they are and what they ought to be."

Mr. Taft was presented by Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham, president of the Quincy Women's club, and on the platform were Mayor and Mrs. Campbell, President J. L. Whitton of the council and Mrs. Whitton, Rep. and Mrs. Charles E. Erickson, Rep. Edward J. Sanberg, Pres. Edward J. Fagan of the Board of Trade, Rev. A. G. Spurrong of the Swedish Congregational Church Rev. and Mrs. Leander Hokenson of the Swedish Lutheran Church, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Murray. In the audience were members of the city government, ministers, a number of Republicans and a few Democrats.

Musical was by the Fore River band.
As Mr. Taft was escorted to the platform they played "Hail to the Chief," and all stood. The entire platform was draped with flags and potted plants.

Mrs. Pinkham in presenting Mr. Taft, took advantage of her sex and wore her hat, a black velvet with a wonderful plume.

Mrs. Pinkham spoke of the honor to the club at having Mr. Taft the guest of the evening. She spoke of Quincy being the birthplace of two presidents and said, "We know how to honor our ex-presidents, and as we receive the memories of John Adams and John Quincy Adams because of their patriotism and their service to the country in the past so also do we honor Mr.
Taft. (Applause) because of his patriotism and great service to his country in our own day."

Unfortunately he was not born in Quincy. (Laughter) On March 1, 1859, he gave himself to his country and since then he belongs to the people of the United States. We can be just as proud of saying he was once our president as we are of the people of his native state. (Applause.)

As Mr. Taft arose, he was applauded.
He smiled his charming smile and announced his topic. He said he was very glad to be the guest of the Women's Club. "I have never been in Quincy before except once."

"I remember a station and a brick wall against which I spoke, and a crowd, and I don't say what else I remember," he observed as recollections of his speech at Quincy station while a candidate for re-election were refreshed.

Mr. Taft confessed his secretary Winship, personally conducted him around the country. He said he had sided to come to Quincy, Winship wrote the customary letters of inquiry
"When I saw that correspondence, I didn't care to have it made public as one who is responsible. I did know you had two presidents born in Quincy.
I also know they were Unitarians
the same as myself."

And he said "I remember reading letters of Mrs. John Adams when they had green wood burning in the White house, and everything was cold and cheerless. They were written just after John Adams was defeated, and I know just how she felt." (Laughter.) Washington said "the best security for peace is a reasonable preparation for war." The statement has not lost its application today. On the contrary
I think our situation is such that it is more applicable now than then.

As a neutral in war, we find the position is much closer than it used to be. The tendency in modern warfare is to restrain the activities of neutrals in trade with belligerents more than it was, to subject them to the annoyance of inquiry and delay. The exigencies of modern warfare tend to increase restraint so much that in Europe the neutral countries have mobilized armies as if they were about to go to war.
So great has the burden become it would seem not a great step for neutrals to assert that they have the right to be consulted before the war shall go on that shall so embarrass them and throw such burdens upon them.

We ourselves have thought in times past we were so far from Europe we could not be affected by a European war. We relied upon international laws with respect to contraband and a blockade.

We find the fortunes of war have swept the vessels of one country from the sea and that forces us to carry on the trade with one side only, which produces a resentment on the other side.

They are obliged to resort to attack by submarines and in their attacks upon the commerce of an enemy they find it difficult to comply with the old rules that require them in sinking commercial vessels of an enemy to it the noncombatants were given an opportunity to be rescued.

Countries are trying to extend in every way the international law with reference to the treatment of neutrals vessels. Such is the situation. For a month or more we were trembling in the balance and didn't know whether the balance would throw into war or not.
Then in a sketch of the conditions facing the United States he said that Mexico has become an international nuisance, worse than Cuba ever was.
We refused to recognize Huerta and said we never would, and then we had a number of things that made it impossible for him to go to the head of matters and maintain law and order.
Don't know that he could have done it, but certainly we did all we could to prevent it. Then Villa and Carranza came forward. They united and then divided. Chaos and anarchy followed Europe recognized Huerta. We recognized Carranza. We all hope he will be able to maintain and bring about law and order and subdue anarchy which now exists. We have been so active in the taking part down there it throws on us a powerful responsibility for the result. If we go in with troops to tranquilize Mexico, it will take 250,000 men.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

By Q. W. C. T. U.

OUR PLEDGE.

I hereby promise, God helping me,
to abstain from all distilled, fermented and malt liquors, including wine, beer, and cider as a beverage and to employ all proper means to discourage the use of and traffic of the same.

NORTH CAROLINA CONDITIONS

Speaking of the conditions in North Carolina, Mr. M. L. Shipman, state commissioner of labor, says:
"Whisky distilleries have been displaced with industrial plants and over the remains of the saloon have been erected splendid school buildings and magnificent church edifices. In Gaston county alone 25 distilleries were in operation under former conditions, employing more than 7,000 people, and makes the further claim of having one of the finest systems of public schools in the state. This condition prevails generally throughout the commonwealth. Instead of spending their weekly earnings in saloons, and frequently in police stations, the wage earners of North Carolina are now providing an abundance of wholesome food and adequate clothing for their families."

THE SAME IN EVERY CITY

The Associated Charities of Columbus, O., says the organization gave aid to one in every forty people in the city this year. It gives often causes for the necessity of such assistance, and intemperance heads the list.

WOLLASTON SCHOOL ASSO.

At the monthly meeting of the Wollas-ton Parent-Teachers' association, Monday evening, in Wollaston School hall, Edward H. Chandler, secretary of the Twentieth Century club of Boston delivered an entertaining address upon the subject "What are the best books for children?"

The speaker opened his remarks by comparing the selection of reading to the first visit to the campus of a certain college. Here inviting doors stood open in every direction. There was the gymnasium which covered the whole field of sport, the library where the field of science was covered, the chapel where we got religion, in lecture rooms where we were brought to learning, the art gal-

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, November 13, 1915

CHRISTMAS SEALS

Mrs. Herbert W. Pinkham of Wollaston is to have charge of the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals in Quincy this year and hopes for a large sale as over 80 per cent of the proceeds will go for tuberculosis work in Quincy.

The seals this year a very attractive and will look well on all Christmas packages.

Red Cross Christmas Seals Save Lives. Every seal you buy is a bullet in the fight against tuberculosis. It helps protect your country, your neighbor, your family and yourself from disease and its cost.

Tuberculosis is our most destructive disease. One person out of every four in America who die between the ages of fifteen and fifty die from tuberculosis. It is a chief cause of poverty.

But it is preventable and conquerable. This war, man against disease, is a winning war not a wasting war against man. It is the war that pays—it brings prosperity. Will you not enlist in this campaign by purchasing Christmas seals?

NOTABLE YOUNG PIANIST

Aurelio Giorgi, the young pianist who comes to play in Boston and Wollaston, Nov. 17, brings unusual credentials. He is "Graduate Professor," and winner of the first grand prize in the Royal Academy Santa Cecilia, Rome, Italy. Padewski says of him that he is "the coming pianist of the younger generation."

Aurelio was born in Perugia, Italy, in 1895. His mother is a well-known concert singer of American birth; his father a painter of ability, is a grandson of Thorvaldsen, the Danish sculptor. At the age of six he began his musical studies. At eight he was already accepted as a pupil by Spanghetti who declared the boy one of his greatest scholars. When he was thirteen he entered Santa Cecilia Academy in Rome, graduating therefrom at fifteen with first honors and the additional distinction of the highest percentage given in these examinations.

Mr. Giorgi began studying musical composition at nine. At sixteen he entered a post-graduate course in Berlin under the tuition of Humperdinck, Busoni, Gubikowitch, and Lhevinne also gave him much valuable advice in his piano studies. At sixteen he gave his first concert in Berlin and London, following them by recitals and orchestral engagements in most of the larger European cities, including Rome, Copenhagen, Munich, Amsterdam and Dresden.

The London Graphic says: "His marvellous technique is not so startling as the fact that he plays with a completeness of conception and a subtlety of intelligence which are uncommon at any age."

Mr. Giorgi's success in teaching this year in America, is phenomenal, making two studios immediately necessary in Essex hall, Philadelphia and Carnegie hall, New York.

One of his recitals on Wednesday, Nov. 17th will be in the evening at Quincy Mansion school, Wollaston.

THE NEVADA BACK

With thousands lashed to the funnels indicating that all contract requirements had been exceeded, and with thousands lining the banks of the river, the superdreadnought Nevada, the best ship ever built at the Fore River shipyard was brought back to its birthplace Thursday to be made ready for its delivery to the United States government.

Lining the sides of the 27,500 ton craft were the shipyard crew which were aboard her during the official trials and painted on the funnels were the figures 21-01, the fastest time made off Rockland, Me.

At the wheel was Capt. Joseph Kemp, official pilot for the builders and assisting in the passage through the easterly draw at the bridge were five tug.

The Nevada came up the river under her own power, furnished by oil burning engines. It was escorted by nearly a hundred small craft and as it passed the Quincy Yacht Club a salute was fired. The greeting was acknowledged by long blasts on the ship's whistle.

The sharp right angle turn at Power Point was negotiated without difficulty. Only 13-12 minutes, two minutes less than when she left the yard on her way out for trials, were required for the return through the draw. The ship docked at 1:15.

The ship's performance has exceeded requirements. Speed records were easily broken and the ton per cent less than allowed in the contract was used.

SPEAR WILL PROBATE

The will of Francis A. Spear, for many years probate officer at the district court who died Aug. 17, was allowed Wednesday at the Dedham session of the Norfolk County Probate court.

The estate was appraised at $9,000 which is left to his sister Mrs. James B. Walker. There were several unusual provisions in the will, one of which read:

"I wish that my body be cremated, but if there is any serious objection to this I am not particular. If the medical fraternity should wish to perform an autopsy, or, for the benefit of science, should wish to make any examination of my body, I have no objection."

Mr. Spear it will be remembered was badly crippled by rheumatism for many years during which time he expended many hundreds of dollars in an effort to obtain relief.

WEYMOUTH FORUM

At the People's Forum at Union church, South Weymouth Sunday night Mayor James J. Curley of Boston will speak on "Some duties of a modern citizen." Preceding the address there will be a musical program consisting of selections by voice, organ and violin.

BRIEFS

The annual concert and ball of the Quincy Firemen's Relief Association is to be held next week Friday at Music Hall.

Commencing Sunday, Nov. 14, the reading room in the Thomas Crane Public Library will be open Sunday afternoons.

The many friends of A. F. Macleod will be sorry to learn that he is again confined to his home on Spear street by sickness.

The Delta Sigma society has completed plans for its invitation dancing party in the Wistaria Bungalow on Thanksgiving Eve.

The alarm on Box 431 at 1:40 P. M. Tuesday followed immediately by a recall was for a slight fire in a hen house on Hall place.

Mrs. Charles R. Thompson gave a luncheon Wednesday at her home on Whitney road for Judge and Mrs. Pittman of New York and other friends.

Mrs. C. C. Richards of Gay street has returned from a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Loud, (nee Jennie Wilson) of Quincy Plainville, Mass.

A regular convocation of St. Stephen's Royal Arch Chapter was held Wednesday evening. Some exceptionally fine work was done by the new officers.

William A. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Rogers of Marshfield Hills have closed their house and are at the Copley Square hotel, Boston for the winter.

Mrs. Thomas G. Smith of Washington street, daughter Mildred and son Harold have returned from Machias, Me. Another son, Frank, left Friday for that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Pratt, nee Fay Hitchcock, and family left Marshfield last week and after a few weeks stay in Boston will go south as usual to their winter home at Pinehurst.

T. L. Williams and H. D. Cole attended the testimonial banquet tendered to Mrs. S. Williams, at the Boston City club Wednesday evening by the optometrists of Massachusetts.

Manager Wardwell of the Kincaide theatre has contracted with B. W. Craig, a well known theatrical manager, to have a stock company appear in his theatre three nights a week.

Harry Brown, Spanish translator of the Chatham-Phoenix National Bank of New York is in Boston this week on business for the bank. He is stopping with his parents on Hancock street.

Miss Grace B. Williams, sister of Fred D. Williams of the E. J. Murphy Rexa pharmacy has enrolled as a student in the nurses course at the Massachusetts General, Eye and Ear and Infirmary.

Miss Carrie L. Bliss, who formerly conducted a millinery store in City Square and who has been in California for several months, is renewing old acquaintances in Quincy. She was warmly welcomed.

The Sunday School bowling league has opened, filling up the regular list. At present there are eight leagues in Quincy, Sunday School, Point church, Elks, Knights of Columbus Suburban, Wollaston Tennis, Clan MacGregor, Fore River.

M. M. Barrett of Whitwell street who has been attending the eleventh annual convention of the Order of Railway Track Foremen of America which was held this week at Hartford, Ct., was unanimously re-elected grand president of that order.

Dock and Water Front Commissioners Frank P. Crane and Mrs. Crane left Saturday with the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange party for Savannah Ga., to attend the convention of the Atlantic Deep Waterways Association of which Mr. Crane is president.

Archie Prev, formerly of Quincy and who is conducting dog kennels in New York returned to that city Wednesday night. Mr. Prev came to Boston with French Bull dogs, to be exhibited in Boston. He stayed in Quincy, the guest of friends and renewed many acquaintances.

Gardner Swan, connected with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in Quincy was married at St. John's Episcopal church in Jamaica Plain Saturday afternoon to Miss Mary Warner Penhallow of Jamaica Plain. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas Campbell, rector of the church.

The recently adopted white and white jersey suit is proving popular at the Quincy Y. M. C. A. The new style uniform carries padding in the neck while the old red and gray uniform has none. Though not all many have adopted the new uniform for the recently begun gymnasium work.

Lieut. George E. Adams of Quincy, Corps, who is the second assistant district attorney in the Norfolk County Probate court, inspected Tenth Company, C. A. C. at the weekly drill of the company at the State house.

The will of Mrs. Caroline S. Richardson, who died last week which was filed at Dedham, Tuesday makes two public bequests. She bequeaths the sum of $500 to the First Parish church and a like sum to the Fragrant society of the same church.

The will was drawn April 21, 1913. Edward B. Marsh was appointed executor.

The recently formed girls club of the High school and the new orchestra rehearse every Monday under the direction of the music teacher, Miss Maude Howes. The large and particularly promising orchestra consists of the piano, a pair of drums, a cello, two cornets, and nine violins.

A club of both boys and girls is soon to be formed.

James Nicol of Coddington street was awarded two first prizes at the annual fall exhibit in Boston of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society which closed Sunday evening, an award of $12 for the best vase of chrysanthemums, and $30 for the best vase of Mrs. Jerome Jones' chrysanthemums. The blooms were magnificent specimens of pure white.

Robert Smith and Albert Barrows who ran away from the Wrentham school only got as far as Quincy. Patrolman Murray saw them in City Square Tuesday and after questioning them sent them to police headquarters. They were kept in the "beat" in the house behind unlocked doors and Wednesday were taken back to Wrentham.

BRIEFS

John R. S. Ross, who it is reported will be a candidate for the council as an independent is to run at large.

Rev. William Grainger is to address St. Margaret's Guild of Christ church at their meeting on Tuesday evening.

W. G. Coney and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Talbot who have been at Addison, Maine since spring are returning to Quincy next week.

Rev. Neil P. Brennan formerly a curate at St. John's church has been appointed chaplain of St. Elizabeth's hospital, Brighton.

A matinee whist in aid of the Quincy Day Nursery is to be held in the Wistaria Bungalow on Cottage street on Monday afternoon.

Many friends of Mrs. Thomas Prazier of 328 Granite street will be very sorry to learn that she is confined in bed with the grip.

At the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club Wednesday evening the two best scores were made by W. O. Wellington and T. G. Smith.

Work on the cellar of a house on Florence R. Faxon on Monroe road, Presidents hill has begun and the building will progress through the winter and be ready for occupancy next spring.

The finals in the Tennis championship for Tufts college were played Thursday between Willard T. Crocker of Quincy '19 and J. T. Lane '18. The championship was won by Crocker who beat his opponent 6-2, 6-1, 6-4.

Pointing out that the pack peddler is a filthy germ-carrier, Rep-elect A. L. Whitman, during a discussion of Health Week, stated that an ordinance should be passed barring them from the city.

Cards and letters received from Carl P. Prescott tell of his arrival at San Francisco after a wonderful trip through the Panama canal. He is enjoying the Exposition and the sights in that vicinity.

Thomas Curry, a conductor on the Bay State Street Railway, was operated on at the Quincy City Hospital twice on Thursday. Today he is resting comfortably. The operations were minor ones.

The men of Christ church are to meet Monday night in the parish house to organize a men's club. Thomas Leavitt, editor of the Dorchester Beacon and a former senator will address the meeting.

Mrs. Wales was the winner of first prize at the matinee whist of the George L. Gill Associates in Old Fells hall Thursday afternoon. Other prizes were awarded to Miss M. Lizzie Farnall, Mrs. Isabella Davidson and Mrs. C. L. Bean.

Mrs. Joseph A. Sedgwick of Goffe street returned last week from a six weeks' trip to California. Work has begun on the new house which Mr. and Mrs. Sedgwick are having built on Moore road, near the station, which they hope to occupy in the early spring.

Mrs. Agnes G. Fletcher, grand vice protector of the Knights and Ladies of Honor, accompanied by Mr. Fletcher, Miss M. Lizzie Farnall and Mrs. Rose A. Reid of Maple lodge, attended the annual visitation of the grand officers to Vine Rock lodge, West Roxbury, Tuesday evening.

A large piece of chassis used to fill a gasoline tank first Tuesday morning was William Donovan, a local real estate man was filling the tank of his automobile. His quick action in throwing the tunnel, chimney and gasoline can to one side promptly prevented an explosion.

The report of a special committee which has considered the adoption of a uniform budget will be made at the Nov. 19th meeting of the Massachusetts Municipal Auditors and Comptrollers Association at the Boston City club. Henry O. Fairbanks, city auditor, is secretary of the association.

The chances that Ernest McConnell, son of James McConnell, the City Square fruit dealer, will be discharged from the Quincy City Hospital within a short time are rather remote. Four months ago his leg was shattered by the knee when a horse kicked him. The operation was successful.

The meeting nights of the Houghs Neck Associates have been changed and instead of meeting on the first and third Wednesday of each month the meetings are to be held on the first and third Monday of each month. There have been no meetings will not interfere with the weekly whist parties held in Associates hall every Wednesday in aid of the Parish of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

Son of Veterans Auxiliary No. 3 had their inspection Wednesday night, attended by Division President, Mrs. Waters of Woburn, Council No. 3 of East Weymouth, Inspection Officer Mrs. Richards and other sisters from East Weymouth. A large number of G. A. R. and S. of V. were present. The Good of the Order and Ways and Means committees served supper at 6:30.

Motion pictures, dancing, cabaret singing, and other features are to be some of the attractions at the third annual pop concert and dancing party of the Quincy Catholic club in Music hall on Monday evening. On that afternoon the hall will be decorated with cut flowers, plants and ferns, and the booths where the refreshments are to be served will be set in place, under the direction of Miss Nellie Desmond.

Rev. William Grainger, rector of Christ church is to conduct a preaching mission at the church beginning the first Sunday in Advent, Nov. 28 and ending Dec. 12. Rev. Henry Martyn Saville will preach Sunday evenings as follows: Nov. 28, What Am I? Dec. 5, Why Am I Here? Dec. 12, What Does God Think of Me? Dec. 19, Where Am I Going? and will give instructions on death, judgment, hell and heaven.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hodgkinson gave a party Nov. 5th at their home at Germantown to Miss Ardelle McDonnell of Boston, formerly of Quincy. Games of various kinds were played during the evening, there was a violin solo by Miss Grace Spargo and refreshments were served. Those present were, Viola Ford, Grace Spargo, Catherine Little, Elizabeth Robertson, Emma Kelley, Irene Goodhue, Mabel Allen, Harold Street, Robert Allen, Harold Street, Arthur Daly, Raymond Ford, Roy Westland, Stanley Ross and John Vergobbi.

BRIEFS

Quincy's new auto hook and ladder truck has been subjected to a practical test and has exceeded the expectations of Chief Billings of the fire department and even the builders. On Thursday afternoon she was taken over the various sections of the city and given a speed test. It is believed by those who rode on her that she travelled at 50 miles an hour at least. This morning she was taken over the steepest hills of Quincy and negotiated them without difficulty.

QUINCY POINT

The B. Y. K. Girls of Quincy Point met at the home of Miss Dorothy Hammond, on Beach street, Nov. 5th. Miss Marion Barr filled the breaks between the games of "Stagooch" and "Consequences" that were played, with the usual entertainment. The meeting adjourned on the sounding of the curfew.

Harold O. Carter, a machinist of the United States Navy, whose home is at 661 Washington street, Quincy, and Mary Ellen Toten of Weymouth were married Saturday at East Weymouth. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William M. Newton.

E. B. Andrews of Quincy Point is raising a second crop of pears. His trees blossomed a few weeks ago and there are now some well formed pears. The crop of the hard late fall variety so he may get a crop of pears for winter use if the weather holds good.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade H. Shorter of 48 Cherry street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son born Saturday.

George Gossard and Mary Dargatz both of 90 Arnold street, Quincy Point were married in Boston Sunday by Rev. Jacob E. Grigoroff.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sullivan, who for many years resided at the Lawrence house on the corner of Chubbuck street and Lawrence avenue have moved to 539 South street.

George Jenkins, 15 years, and Clifford Phippen, 17 years, both pleaded guilty in court Thursday to burglary of the Duncan pharmacy at Washington and Chubbuck streets, after midnight Tuesday. They will be sentenced to the Concord reformatory on Thursday.

John Barron, an electrical foreman employed on the ten H-boats building at the shipyard left the stream from the docked H-12 Thursday afternoon. Due to his inability to swim his plight might have become more serious but for the prompt action of a fellow workman in jumping after him.

QUANTUM

Mr. Emma Watson of Boston moved into her new bungalow on Wedgewood street Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith, Wedgewood street, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Knight of Fitchburg over the week end.

Mr. E. Wallace who has been visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Helen McGowan on Orchard street has returned to her home in New York City.

A regular meeting of the Ladies Aid of the Quantum church was held Monday evening. Plans are being made for a Christmas sale to be held the latter part of the month.

The story and a half house at 16 Brunswick street owned by Percy Bostwick has been purchased by John Fitzpatrick of Arlington. Mr. Fitzpatrick is a newspaper man, connected with the Boston American.

He moved his family to Quantum first of the week.

Those who attended the Travel Talk given by Rev. William Charles Poole in Richards Memorial hall Wednesday evening heard a very interesting description given of the Panama Canal and more recently of the California Exposition.

The clever way in which Mr. Poole described each picture as it was thrown on the screen made every one in the audience wish that they might to west and witness some of the gorgeousness of the places mentioned.

The beautiful scenery views helped one to realize that it is not necessary to go abroad to see wonderful scenery. The lecture was given under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the Quantum church.

SOUTH QUINCY

Elder August McLeod has been elected superintendent of the First United Presbyterian Sunday school to succeed the late lamented John Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Rockwood of Temple, N. H., who have been guests for a few days of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McNeely of Payne street left Monday for their home accompanied by Mrs. McNeely and children who will spend a week with them.

Miss Mabel Key of 174 Warren avenue, a popular Wollaston young lady, and Harold Singleton Hill of 23 Webster street, Atlantic, were married Monday by Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath of the Wollaston Congregational church.

L. C. Merrill of Wollaston left last week to visit his wife in California.

Mrs. Frank Bennett of Beal street, returned from a visit to Chicago. The Ladies Aid of the Wollaston Methodist church held their regular monthly meeting in the vestry of the church Monday afternoon. Following the business meeting an informal reception was held for the president, Mrs. Joseph A. Sedgwick, who returned Saturday from a six weeks visit to California. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cookies and tea were served by Mrs. Given and Mrs. Taylor.

Many Quincy people have sent cards and letters of congratulation to Mr. and Mrs. Otis Wheeler on the birth of a baby boy at the Riverbank Hospital. The baby is to be named Otis Wheeler, Jr. Mrs. Wheeler is very well known in Quincy. Before her marriage she was Miss Marion O'Connell of Wollaston.

The Merrill Gardners of Brockton are occupying the upper apartment of George E. Thomas' two family house on Standish avenue.

Twenty of the friends of Percy W. Ela, tendered him a surprise party at his home 157 Farrington street, Tuesday evening, the occasion being his eighteenth birthday anniversary. The evening was passed in a pleasant manner with games, etc. Refreshments were also served. Percy was remembered with a handsome signet ring.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fallon, who were recently married have returned from a wedding trip and have taken possession of their future home at 15 Newton street.

PICKWICK CLUB

The first meeting of the 43d season of the Quincy Pickwick club was held with Mrs. W. E. Alden of Chestnut street Wednesday evening. A program of varied interests has been arranged for the year, with meetings the second and fourth Wednesdays of the month from November to April inclusive.

WOLLASTON

St. Chrysostom's parish is preparing its annual Christmas box for colored missions which will be sent to Peyton chapel, Skelton, South Virginia. The committee asks for neckties and handkerchiefs for men; books, toys, games and second hand garments for children between 5 and 14 years of age, to be sent before Dec. 4 to Mrs. Jewell, 43 Grandview avenue.

Mrs. Leroy Holbrook of 309 Highland avenue is to be the hostess Monday afternoon for the meeting of Whatsoever Circle Kings Daughters. It will be donation day for the Food Home and jellies and preserves should be brought or sent to the meeting.

The first meeting of St. Chrysostom's Social club is announced for Monday night in the parish house when a good program will be given consisting of readings by Irving L. Potter of Boston, the choir, and songs by Mrs. Thomas F. Boyle of Cambridge. There are season tickets for club membership.

Next Saturday evening the first of the series of subscription dances for the young people under the leadership of Miss Hayward of Braintree is to be held at the parish house. The dancing will begin at half after seven.

A dance is to follow the sale and supper at St. Chrysostom's parish house Thursday evening for which a small sum will be asked to defray expenses.

The Girls Friendly society with Mrs. Alf Stevens in charge are to have the candy table at the sale in St. Chrysostom's parish house Thursday.

The Sunday school of the Wollaston M. E. church held their regular monthly board meeting after the Thursday evening prayer service under the leadership of Mrs. Joseph A. Sedgwick, superintendent.

The resignation of Arthur R. Poquette, Jr. H. Humphrey, Mrs. Margarette Louise Holbrook were accepted. Miss Marjorie Miller, Miss Jeanne Keith, and A. B. Cassidy were elected teachers and Mrs. Bessie Bessie of Brackett street gave a party to a number of her friends at her home, Nov. 5th.

Philip Burns of Granite place who recently broke his thigh, has had a silver tube placed in the bone of his leg.

William Eaton of Washington street is confined to his home on account of sickness.

The annual supper of the Ladies Aid Society of the East Congregational church which was to be held on Wednesday evening has been postponed indefinitely, on account of the death of Mrs. Parsons.

Coach Nash of the Milton High football squad has announced that the remainder of the games this fall will be cancelled, because so many of the players are down in the studies.

The first prize for ladies was taken by Mrs. Bancroft, first prize for men by Mr. Wardwell and the booby by Mrs. Hadfield.

WOLLASTON

Mrs. Ethel F. Young of Eliot avenue Bellevue Park is confined to her home with a severe attack of rheumatism.

Miss Helen Tolman of Wollaston sails for Europe next Tuesday with the second division of the Harvard University service hospital on the battleship. The group includes 32 nurses, all representing the trained schools of the various hospitals of Greater Boston. Miss Tolman will be the fourth Quincy girl to volunteer her services.

The Paint and Powder club will repeat "Professor Pepp" in the Wollaston Unitarian Parish House on the night before Thanksgiving. The proceeds will go toward the fund for the purchase by the Unitarians, of Star Island, one of the Isles of Shoals.

A church social which was largely attended was held Thursday evening at the Wollaston Unitarian church. Following the supper a series of moving pictures was exhibited in Unity hall in conjunction with Health week and covering health subjects. Among the titles were: "In his father's steps," a typhoid film; "Perkins Institute," showing the buildings and work of the institution at Watertown; "Temple of Moloch," to tuberculosis picture; "The long versus the short haul," showing the milk we get from Canada; "Toothache," and "Bringing it home," a child welfare film.

Miss Louise Bolton of Bunton Park who was operated on for appendicitis a week ago at the Chelmsgate hospital is rapidly recovering.

Mrs. William Claire of Huntington road is visiting with her son Lawrence who is attending an agricultural school in Billerica.

Mrs. Henry L. Shedd of Adams street is able to be about after her serious illness.

Mrs. George Enderle of Brackett street gave a party to a number of her friends at her home, Nov. 5th.

Philip Burns of Granite place who recently broke his thigh, has had a silver tube placed in the bone of his leg.

William Eaton of Washington street is confined to his home on account of sickness.

The annual supper of the Ladies Aid Society of the East Congregational church which was to be held on Wednesday evening has been postponed indefinitely, on account of the death of Mrs. Parsons.

Coach Nash of the Milton High football squad has announced that the remainder of the games this fall will be cancelled, because so many of the players are down in the studies.

The first prize for ladies was taken by Mrs. Bancroft, first prize for men by Mr. Wardwell and the booby by Mrs. Hadfield.

WOLLASTON

Mrs. Ethel F. Young of Eliot avenue Bellevue Park is confined to her home with a severe attack of rheumatism.

Miss Helen Tolman of Wollaston sails for Europe next Tuesday with the second division of the Harvard University service hospital on the battleship. The group includes 32 nurses, all representing the trained schools of the various hospitals of Greater Boston. Miss Tolman will be the fourth Quincy girl to volunteer her services.

The Paint and Powder club will repeat "Professor Pepp" in the Wollaston Unitarian Parish House on the night before Thanksgiving. The proceeds will go toward the fund for the purchase by the Unitarians, of Star Island, one of the Isles of Shoals.

A church social which was largely attended was held Thursday evening at the Wollaston Unitarian church. Following the supper a series of moving pictures was exhibited in Unity hall in conjunction with Health week and covering health subjects. Among the titles were: "In his father's steps," a typhoid film; "Perkins Institute," showing the buildings and work of the institution at Watertown; "Temple of Moloch," to tuberculosis picture; "The long versus the short haul," showing the milk we get from Canada; "Toothache," and "Bringing it home," a child welfare film.

Miss Louise Bolton of Bunton Park who was operated on for appendicitis a week ago at the Chelmsgate hospital is rapidly recovering.

Mrs. William Claire of Huntington road is visiting with her son Lawrence who is attending an agricultural school in Billerica.

Mrs. Henry L. Shedd of Adams street is able to be about after her serious illness.

Mrs. George Enderle of Brackett street gave a party to a number of her friends at her home, Nov. 5th.

Philip Burns of Granite place who recently broke his thigh, has had a silver tube placed in the bone of his leg.

William Eaton of Washington street is confined to his home on account of sickness.

The annual supper of the Ladies Aid Society of the East Congregational church which was to be held on Wednesday evening has been postponed indefinitely, on account of the death of Mrs. Parsons.

Coach Nash of the Milton High football squad has announced that the remainder of the games this fall will be cancelled, because so many of the players are down in the studies.

The first prize for ladies was taken by Mrs. Bancroft, first prize for men by Mr. Wardwell and the booby by Mrs. Hadfield.

WOLLASTON

HANSON GIVING FURNITURE

For our 24th Annual Thanksgiving Sale which starts Monday morning, we've got an abundance of mighty attractive well made Furniture. And Sale Prices certainly show savings worth while. Come and benefit by unusual values like these.

$17.50 DINING TABLES Quartered Oak Round 42 in top 6 ft. extension	$21.50 BUFFETS Quartered Oak Round 42 in top with mirror	$22.50 CHINA CLOSETS Golden Oak New Design 4 Shelves	$35.00 DINING TABLES Heavy Massive Quartered Oak 45 in. top 6 ft.
---	---	---	--

DINING SUITES, DINNER SETS, ROOM RUGS AT REAL BARGAIN PRICES
KINCAIDE & CO., Quincy
COMPLETE HOME FURNISHERS
Open Fri., Sat. and Mon. Evenings

ATLANTIC

Mrs. Volney Mitchell of Billings street is entertaining friends from Maine this week.

Mrs. Coyle Allen and little daughter Dorothy of Worcester are spending a week with Mrs. Allen's parents on Bolton street.

Mrs. Herbert Thomas of 130 Billings street entertained the Hanson Sewing Circle Thursday of this week at her new home.

Mrs. Harry B. Nichols of Bolton street is improving after her attack of laryngitis and expects to take up her studio work in the near future.

The miscellaneous table committee of the Memorial Ladies Society are to hold a box social in the vestry Monday evening.

Miss Lora M. Churchill of 35 Ocean street, Atlantic, was the recipient Thursday evening of a miscellaneous shower given her by the young ladies of the operating department of the Western Union Telegraph Company of Boston with whom she has been the last two years. Miss Churchill whose engagement was announced last July resigned her position Thursday to prepare for her coming marriage to William Drew Blunt of Roslindale. She was presented with many pretty and useful articles.

The Atlantic Improvement Association has already received favorable replies from the candidates for office and the association is looking for a big evening at their special meeting next Monday in the Standish club rooms.

The Puritan Whist club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hadfield on Clark street, Atlantic, Tuesday evening. The

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, November 13, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.

For Sale at

The Patriot Office, Quincy, Mass.
 H. P. Kittredge, City Square,
 J. P. O'Brien, 38 Hancock St.,
 C. F. Carlson, near Quincy Depot,
 L. A. Cook, Quincy Point,
 H. H. Smith, Quincy Point,
 Sprague & Hobart, Quincy Point,
 Shunk's Periodical Store, Wollaston,
 Thomas Gurney, Wollaston,
 Branched & Martens, Atlantic,
 Branched & Martens, Norfolk Downs,
 Peter L. Litchfield, Quincy Adams,
 E. H. Doble & Co., West Quincy,
 Edward F. Drohan, West Quincy,
 Mrs. Lark's Store, Brewer's Corner,
 J. J. Hammers, East Mill,
 South Terminal Station, Boston.

ATLANTIC ASSOCIATION

The Atlantic Improvement Association had one of the liveliest meetings Friday night it has had for some time. In the absence of the president, Fred E. Brooks was moderator.

The committee reported on the impossibility of getting a late collection of mail for Atlantic at present.

A communication was read from the Montclair Association asking the Atlantic Association to co-operate in opposing an increase in the street railway car fares.

The committee working for a shelter at Atlantic bridge to protect those waiting for cars were not present to report.

A report on the condition of the Sagamore street sidewalk stated that until the owners did some work, dirt would continue to wash onto the sidewalk.

The committee reported that the Telephone Co. would soon establish an office in Atlantic where its subscribers could pay their bills, and hope the Electric Light Co. can be induced to do the same.

When the recommendation of the executive committee was read that the Association should not hear candidates for office as an organization, John J. Cusick arose and said the recommendation should not be accepted, stating that if the Improvement Association was going to treat the candidates for office lightly it might as well give up. He claimed the Association ought to hear the candidates and know what they are going to work for.

He moved that all the candidates, for councilman-at-large, councilmen from Ward Six and for Mayor be invited to spend before the Association the Monday before the city primaries.

There was a hesitancy about passing the motion in the absence of President Young, but Mr. Cusick argued his case so ably he won out. It is understood that all the citizens interested will be given an invitation to attend.

The executive committee was asked to see why the Board of Health does not collect papers and cans, and also notify Atlantic when collections are to be made.

After the meeting adjourned there was a comparison of tax bills, and it was evident that many will favor a division of the city charter. The men felt that the office of assessor should be by election and not appointed by mayor, and that if the assessors were elected by the citizens they would feel under obligation to the citizens rather than any particular administration or party.

COUNTY VOTE

Complete returns of the vote taken at the recent state election throughout Norfolk County, on the referendum providing for the erection of a $75,000 agricultural school, which the borders of the county show that the referendum was carried by a majority of 5,056 the vote being, Yes, 14,230, No 9,174. Brookline was the only town in the county which voted against the proposition.

There was considerable sentiment in Quincy against the establishment of the school, but the opposition took no definite shape, and the question was not generally discussed with the usual result that the city gave a majority for the school.

The referendum was actively favored by the grangers and by the Norfolk County Farm Bureau, with headquarters at Dedham, established some six months ago to help the farmers in growing and selling their crops. County Commissioner Evan S. Richardson of Millis is president of this bureau.

Before the election so much sentiment against the school proposal was known to exist in some quarters of the county that the success of the project was considered doubtful.

The vote in detail follows:

	Yes	No	MaJy.
Avon	201	71	130
Bellingham	66	49	47
Brantree	610	262	278
Brookline	1,966	2,153	*187
Canton	395	281	114
Cohasset	248	143	105
Dedham	785	496	289
Dover	79	61	18
Foxboro	262	151	111
Franklin	409	205	204
Franklin	271	89	172
Medfield	117	97	20
Medway	173	125	48
Millis	125	76	49
Milton	800	470	330
Needham	514	279	235
Norfolk	141	54	87
Norwood	615	548	67
Plainville	120	89	31
Quincy	2,660	1,689	971
Randolph	449	190	259
Sharon	209	121	88
Stoughton	520	311	209
Walpole	475	257	218
Wellesley	559	240	319
Westwood	130	52	78
Weymouth	1,162	517	645
Wrentham	99	83	16

Totals 14,230 9,174 5,056

* No majority.

THE GOLDEN ROD

Subscriptions are being taken for the High school for the first issue of the 1916 Golden Rod which is expected to appear Nov. 15. There will be one more edition this year than last. Seven editions completed the 1915 volume.

Herbert Smith is editor-in-chief and Howard Bowen the business manager. The favorite joke column will be conducted by Russell Sanborn and the athletic by Sherman Brokaw. Room 28 leads in the race for the longest list of subscribers.

NOVELLI-LUNDSTROM

Word has just been received by friends of Miss Louise Lundstrom, formerly of Quincy, of her marriage on Oct. 4 to Arturo Novelli in Buenos Aires.

Her husband was a member of the commission sent here to superintend the construction of the Rivadavia. He is now an engineering officer. The big ship is scheduled home on Oct. 15. It is thought that it will greatly contribute toward the expected success of the 1916 Quincy High School Athletic Association.

HERBERT F. CALDWELL

The funeral of Herbert F. Caldwell, who was killed Thursday while on his way to the fire in Braintree, was held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of his mother on Woodward avenue.

The services were conducted by Rev. Harry Grimes of the First Congregational church, Braintree. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

BRITISH SUBMARINE

The British submarine H-18, the eighth of the ten English boats here, left her dock Tuesday afternoon for Provincetown Bay which will be the scene of her trials.

Five of the H-boats are being prepared for their delivery to the Charlestown Navy Yard on the fifteenth. The other five are expected to be also ready for interment there by the thirtieth.

Even after the departure of the H-18 for her trials the fitting-out of the boats has the appearance of some large European submarine base. Six of these L-1-2-3-4-5 and M-1 are United States boats. The remaining H-class boats are for delivery to England after the close of the war.

Q. H. S. CALENDARS

Principal Ernest L. Collins of the High school so greatly admired the 1915 calendar that some of last year's students composed and surprised him with that he suggested that this year's pupils make another after a like style and offer printed copies of it for sale for the benefit of the athletic association.

The suggestion proved popular and work on the 1916 calendar has been begun. Only the best verses composed by the senior English classes and the best designs by the drawing classes will be used in the work. A large sale is expected on its appearance just before Christmas and it is thought that it will greatly contribute toward the expected success of the 1916 Quincy High School Athletic Association.

D. A. R. OF WOLLASTON

The November meeting of Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter D. A. R. was held at the home of Mrs. W. F. Jones, West Elm avenue, Wollaston, with

TENDERED A RECEPTION

Mrs. May E. Gaynor, president of the Rehearsal Assembly, was tendered a reception in Odd Fellows hall Monday evening by the members of George L. Gill Rehearsal lodge whose degree mistress she was until her election to the presidency a short time ago.

The lodge rooms were decorated with flags, flowers and potted plants and over 175 partook of the turkey supper served at 6.30 participated in the reception and enjoyed a delightful musical program.

Mrs. Gaynor was given a tremendous ovation as she arose to speak. In a fine address she thanked the lodge for its tribute and complimented it on the fine showing.

Mrs. Gaynor was accompanied by the assembly officers including Mrs. Mary Graham, vice president; Mrs. Alice Rand, Warden; Mrs. Sara N. Barry, secretary; Mrs. Gertrude Reddell, marshal; Mrs. Elsie Barker, conductor; Mrs. Ina McFarland, outside guard.

District Deputy President Mrs. Estelle C. Adams also honored the lodge with her presence and accompanying her was her sister Alice Rand, marshal, Hattie Trauer and Tina Gordon. Mrs. Bertha Gayton, district instructor and Frank Gaynor, grand herald of the grand lodge were present.

Officers of lodges in the vicinity represented the organizations. Rehearsal lodge of Wollaston was represented by Mrs. Emma E. La, vice grand; Amara of South Braintree by Elva Belyea, vice grand and A. L. Jennings, vice grand; America of Dorchester by Mrs. Angie Adair, vice grand and Edna Goodhue, vice grand; Standard of East Weymouth by Edna Shadlock, vice grand; and M. Evelyn Philbrook, vice grand; William of Dorchester by Mrs. Winnifred Churchill, vice grand.

The committee in charge of the affair was Mrs. Sadie M. Wood, Mrs. Grace Welch, Mrs. Sadie Walker, Mrs. Maud Richardson, Mrs. Lillian Baker, Mrs. Helen Flowers, Mrs. Addie Dewhurst, Mrs. Lena Hayden, Mrs. Mary A. Jones, Mrs. Lottie Barron, Miss Christina Booth.

The waters at the supper were white coats and caps, and were Robert Welch, Robert Wood, J. B. Sylvester, Arthur Sylvester, E. L. Goodridge, E. Richardson, James Baker.

The ushers were Mrs. Sadie Walker, Mrs. Sadie Wood, Mrs. Kate A. Prout, Mrs. Melissa McCormick, Mrs. Addie Dewhurst, Mrs. Lottie Barron, Col. Henry L. Kincaid, F. W. Flowers, J. H. Gillis, James Baker and Arthur S. Stetson. During the evening music was furnished by May Dorsey, lady orchestra of Braintree. They were well applauded.

The address of welcome was by Mrs. Sadie Walker, noble grand of the George L. Gill lodge. The regular program then followed. Vocal solos were given by Miss Beattie Bates, accompanied by Mrs. Iva Lund, and there were readings by Miss Dorothy Forbush. District Deputy President Adams also made a brief address. A social hour followed the program and the members enjoyed themselves until midnight.

The affair was one of the biggest successes ever held under the auspices of the lodge and the committee in charge were warmly commended for their efforts.

CONCERT AT BETHANY

There was a very large and likewise a very appreciative audience at the concert given by the Dvorak Concert Company in the chapel of the Bethany church Tuesday evening.

The concert was given under the auspices of the music committee. The ushers were Esther Beckford, Florence Frances, Gladys Hunt, Alice Parker, Frances Ward and Helen Damon.

It was not the first appearance of this most excellent concert company before a Quincy audience and they appeared at a recent date at a concert given by Rural Masonic lodge in the Masonic Apartments. The reputation they attained at that concert was lived up to in every particular Tuesday evening.

Opening with a duet by Miss Warren and Mr. Babin, the program included violin solos by Miss Rouband, readings by Miss Haviland, soprano solos by Miss Warren and bass solo by Mr. Rollins.

Miss Rouband's violin solos were very much enjoyed, and in fact very number on the program of eleven numbers was thoroughly enjoyed, each reading warmly enjoyed, which were graciously responded to.

During the intermission members of Team No. 9, passed among the audience and sold home-made candies.

HERBERT F. CALDWELL

The funeral of Herbert F. Caldwell, who was killed Thursday while on his way to the fire in Braintree, was held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of his mother on Woodward avenue.

The services were conducted by Rev. Harry Grimes of the First Congregational church, Braintree. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

AT WATERWAYS CONVENTION

Dock and Water Front Commissioner, Frank Fessenden Crane, and Vice President of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, responded to the address of welcome to the delegates to the convention, by Mayor Johnson at the breakfast given the delegates at Raleigh, N. C., Monday. Other speakers were Secretary Daniels, Congressman J. H. Moore, Redfield L. Lanes, Congressman Small, Bennett and Admiral Grant.

In his address Commissioner Crane said: "Your Honor The Mayor, President Moore and ladies and gentlemen, I come from a state where they give tea parties in the harbor and use grasshoppers and codfish for weather vane, and from a city which furnished the granite for the Hill monument and two presidents to the United States, to enjoy once more the wonderful hospitality of the south. In any city where two old fashioned houses that were the birth-places of the Presidents still stand, the old colonial style with a hip roof and two stories on the front and three-fourths of a story on the back surrounded by green fields much as in the past, the descendants of the Presidents occupy the Vassal house between Quincy and Milton. I bring to you sir the greetings of Mayor Campbell of my city and his thanks for the hospitality so cordially extended to me by his representative. Now sir I wish to thank you in the name of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association for the splendid welcome you have just extended to us."

Principal Ernest L. Collins of the High school so greatly admired the 1915 calendar that some of last year's students composed and surprised him with that he suggested that this year's pupils make another after a like style and offer printed copies of it for sale for the benefit of the athletic association.

The suggestion proved popular and work on the 1916 calendar has been begun. Only the best verses composed by the senior English classes and the best designs by the drawing classes will be used in the work. A large sale is expected on its appearance just before Christmas and it is thought that it will greatly contribute toward the expected success of the 1916 Quincy High School Athletic Association.

Q. H. S. CALENDARS

The November meeting of Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter D. A. R. was held at the home of Mrs. W. F. Jones, West Elm avenue, Wollaston, with

Mrs. G. D. D. Munroe and Mrs. F. H. Chase assisting.

A large number of members and guests enjoyed the talk on "China and Pewter" given by Mrs. O. W. Charles of Brynville who is a member of Deborah Sampson Chapter of Brockton. The speaker was thoroughly conversant with her subject being the owner of a large number of valuable pieces of china and pewter.

A sale of fancy articles and candy was conducted by the entertainment committee under the direction of Mrs. W. M. Chase, chairman.

There was an exhibition several pieces of very old and valuable china and pewter, and many other antiques. A finger bowl from the "Old Constitution" attracted attention and a wedding dress over two hundred years old belonging to Mrs. Jones' great, great, great grandmother was especially noticeable; the fabric, satin damask, was in an excellent state of preservation with the colors still unimpaired.

Cakes and ices were served by the hostesses assisted by Miss Dorothy Taylor and Miss Elizabeth Sayward.

WOLLASTON WOMAN'S CLUB
 Next week will be a busy one for the Wollaston Woman's club with the regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in Masonic Temple hall and the musical fancy "Fl of the Toy Shop" to be given in Wollaston School hall Thursday and Friday evenings.

Club members who are homelovers are looking forward to Tuesday's meeting with pleasant anticipation as it is to be a demonstration lecture by Mrs. Harriet L. B. Darling on "A Sunday Night Supper." A subject that cannot fail to interest those who prepare and those who enjoy eating.

Rehearsals for "Fl of the Toy Shop" are being held continuously. There are 250 in the cast including Christmas Fairies, Little Elves, Jack and Jill, Jack's Ark Animals, several groups of dancers such as paper dolls, china dolls, bridesmaids and wind whips.

The dancing groups comprise some of the prettiest young ladies in Wollaston. The Parisian doll, Fl of the Toy Shop, will be portrayed by Mrs. May Fleck, a singer and actress favorably known and an active member of the Woman's Charity club and Professional Woman's club of Boston.

In the cast will be: Mrs. Charles Sweet, Mrs. Arthur Whitman, Mrs. Herbert Barry, Mrs. William Spooner, Mrs. Edwin Wright, Mrs. Ralph Oldham, Mrs. Ruth Hand, Mrs. Charles Hendie, Arthur Bullock, William Everett Bullock, Carl Clifton Davis, Ernest Arnold, Artemus Dingwall, Reginald Gay, Horace Cath, Alan Miller, and solos dancers Miss Dorothy Stevens and Carolyn Lewis.

BABY WEEK

General Federation President Mrs. Anacker has issued a letter commending the nation-wide "baby week."

She says "To be successful, the baby week must be as far as possible, a community affair; that co-operation and help must be obtained primarily of all organizations and individuals interested in child welfare—the city officials, city health department, clubs, private infant welfare and visiting nursing associations, the churches, the local medical society, as well as newspapers, associations of business men, industrial workers and advertising men. This co-operation will not be hard to obtain. It is hoped that through the women of the Federated clubs almost every community in the country may find it possible to hold, this spring, a baby week, either of the simple or more elaborate type. If this happens, a great step forward will have been taken in the movement to save the nation's babies."

ST. MARY'S C. T. A. & M.

The annual meeting and election of officers of St. Mary's C. T. A. & M. R. Society was held Sunday afternoon. The meeting was most enthusiastic and was attended by nearly one hundred members.

Frank L. McPherson was elected president for the ensuing year. He has been a member of the society for about eight years and has held the office of financial secretary for the past two years. His election to the presidency of the oldest society in West Quincy was a tribute to the esteem in which he is held by his brother members.

The meeting was opened by the retiring president Thomas F. O'Brien who spoke of the fine work which the society had done for the young men of the district. He thanked all the members who had helped him during his term as president.

John J. King was then elected president pro tem to act during the election. In taking the gavel Mr. King thanked the members for the honor conferred on him. He also gave several good suggestions as to what could be done to increase the membership of the society.

The report of the School Nurse, Marion Jackson, for the month of October was: 741 children examined; 145 cases referred to School Physician; 98 home visits; 9 children taken once a week to the Forsythe Dental Infirmary; 3 trips to Eye and Ear Infirmary; 2 cases corrected vision; 2 taken to Forsythe for examination for tonsils and adenoids; 2 operated for tonsils and adenoids; 2 to T. B. Clinic, Quincy; 2 to Boston Dispensary; 2 examined at Eye and Ear Infirmary for ear trouble, and operation for tonsils and adenoids advised.

Just at the close of Mr. McGilvray's speech Rev. Thomas R. Mc Coy pastor of St. Mary's church and spiritual director of the society came into the hall and was greeted with a rising outburst of applause. He spoke of the starting of the society and of the perseverance of the men who started the organization. He also recommended several ways in which the interest could be increased.

He urged all members to co-operate with the new officers and help them carry out their plans. At the close of the address the result of the voting was announced as follows:

President—Frank L. McPherson. Vice-President—George W. Sullivan. Treasurer—Paul J. Little. Financial Secretary—Richard J. Knight. Recording Secretary—John A. Dugan. Corresponding Secretary—Harry W. Kennedy.

Chairman of the Entertainment Committee—Bartholomew Flaherty. Board of Directors—James H. Connelly, Patrick Flaherty, George McDonald, Thomas J. O'Brien, Michael Saville.

Auditing Committee—Raphael A. Elcock, James Fay, Edward Fennesse. Visiting Committee—John J. Connelly, James Fitzgerald, Frank O'Rourke.

Board of Trustees—Roderick Connelly, Robert Fitzgerald Thomas F. O'Brien, Joseph O'Rourke.

At the close of the reading of the new president was presented with the gavel by the temporary chairman. In taking the gavel, Mr. McPherson thanked the members for the honor they had conferred on him. He then presented the retiring president Thomas F. O'Brien with a purse of gold in behalf of the members. Mr. O'Brien was deeply touched and was unable to speak for a few minutes. He then said he was proud to be a member of such a grand society and hoped he would always remain a loyal member.

It was voted to hold a monster temperance rally before the coming election in the hall the same as last year.

A committee was appointed to start a bowling league in West Quincy and the following were appointed: Frank L. McPherson, George Reinhalter, Joseph O'Rourke, Patrick Hagerty, Daniel Duggan.

Dock and Water Front Commissioner, Frank Fessenden Crane, and Vice President of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, responded to the address of welcome to the delegates to the convention, by Mayor Johnson at the breakfast given the delegates at Raleigh, N. C., Monday. Other speakers were Secretary Daniels, Congressman J. H. Moore, Redfield L. Lanes, Congressman Small, Bennett and Admiral Grant.

In his address Commissioner Crane said: "Your Honor The Mayor, President Moore and ladies and gentlemen, I come from a state where they give tea parties in the harbor and use grasshoppers and codfish for weather vane, and from a city which furnished the granite for the Hill monument and two presidents to the United States, to enjoy once more the wonderful hospitality of the south. In any city where two old fashioned houses that were the birth-places of the Presidents still stand, the old colonial style with a hip roof and two stories on the front and three-fourths of a story on the back surrounded by green fields much as in the past, the descendants of the Presidents occupy the Vassal house between Quincy and Milton. I bring to you sir the greetings of Mayor Campbell of my city and his thanks for the hospitality so cordially extended to me by his representative. Now sir I wish to thank you in the name of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association for the splendid welcome you have just extended to us."

Principal Ernest L. Collins of the High school so greatly admired the 1915 calendar that some of last year's students composed and surprised him with that he suggested that this year's pupils make another after a like style and offer printed copies of it for sale for the benefit of the athletic association.

The suggestion proved popular and work on the 1916 calendar has been begun. Only the best verses composed by the senior English classes and the best designs by the drawing classes will be used in the work. A large sale is expected on its appearance just before Christmas and it is thought that it will greatly contribute toward the expected success of the 1916 Quincy High School Athletic Association.

THE WOMEN'S CLUBS

(Continued from Page Three)

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB
 There was a large attendance at the clubhouse Tuesday afternoon of members and guests of the Quincy Women's club to enjoy the reading of "The First Lady of the Land," by Maude McGarry Tibbets.

The program was preceded by the usual business session the president, Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham, presiding. Reports by the clerk, corresponding secretary, and treasurer, were followed by reports of the delegates to the fall meeting of the State Federation, Nov. 5 at Beverly.

Mrs. Frank E. Frost told of the arrival in Beverly and the morning session; Mrs. Jehro R. Mellen of the early afternoon program and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith of the debate and vote on the proposed amendments to the bylaws. Each gave very interesting accounts, giving club members a comprehensive view of the day's proceedings.

The report of the School Nurse, Marion Jackson, for the month of October was: 741 children examined; 145 cases referred to School Physician; 98 home visits; 9 children taken once a week to the Forsythe Dental Infirmary; 3 trips to Eye and Ear Infirmary; 2 cases corrected vision; 2 taken to Forsythe for examination for tonsils and adenoids; 2 operated for tonsils and adenoids; 2 to T. B. Clinic, Quincy; 2 to Boston Dispensary; 2 examined at Eye and Ear Infirmary for ear trouble, and operation for tonsils and adenoids advised.

Just at the close of Mr. McGilvray's speech Rev. Thomas R. Mc Coy pastor of St. Mary's church and spiritual director of the society came into the hall and was greeted with a rising outburst of applause. He spoke of the starting of the society and of the perseverance of the men who started the organization. He also recommended several ways in which the interest could be increased.

He urged all members to co-operate with the new officers and help them carry out their plans. At the close of the address the result of the voting was announced as follows:

President—Frank L. McPherson. Vice-President—George W. Sullivan. Treasurer—Paul J. Little. Financial Secretary—Richard J. Knight. Recording Secretary—John A. Dugan. Corresponding Secretary—Harry W. Kennedy.

Chairman of the Entertainment Committee—Bartholomew Flaherty. Board of Directors—James H. Connelly, Patrick Flaherty, George McDonald, Thomas J. O'Brien, Michael Saville.

Auditing Committee—Raphael A. Elcock, James Fay, Edward Fennesse. Visiting Committee—John J. Connelly, James Fitzgerald, Frank O'Rourke.

Board of Trustees—Roderick Connelly, Robert Fitzgerald Thomas F. O'Brien, Joseph O'Rourke.

At the close of the reading of the new president was presented with the gavel by the temporary chairman. In taking the gavel, Mr. McPherson thanked the members for the honor they had conferred on him. He then presented the retiring president Thomas F. O'Brien with a purse of gold in behalf of the members. Mr. O'Brien was deeply touched and was unable to speak for a few minutes. He then said he was proud to be a member of such a grand society and hoped he would always remain a loyal member.

It was voted to hold a monster temperance rally before the coming election in the hall the same as last year.

A committee was appointed to start a bowling league in West Quincy and the following were appointed: Frank L. McPherson, George Reinhalter, Joseph O'Rourke, Patrick Hagerty, Daniel Duggan.

Dock and Water Front Commissioner, Frank Fessenden Crane, and Vice President of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, responded to the address of welcome to the delegates to the convention, by Mayor Johnson at the breakfast given the delegates at Raleigh, N. C., Monday. Other speakers were Secretary Daniels, Congressman J. H. Moore, Redfield L. Lanes, Congressman Small, Bennett and Admiral Grant.

In his address Commissioner Crane said: "Your Honor The Mayor, President Moore and ladies and gentlemen, I come from a state where they give tea parties in the harbor and use grasshoppers and codfish for weather vane, and from a city which furnished the granite for the Hill monument and two presidents to the United States, to enjoy once more the wonderful hospitality of the south. In any city where two old fashioned houses that were the birth-places of the Presidents still stand, the old colonial style with a hip roof and two stories on the front and three-fourths of a story on the back surrounded by green fields much as in the past, the descendants of the Presidents occupy the Vassal house between Quincy and Milton. I bring to you sir the greetings of Mayor Campbell of my city and his thanks for the hospitality so cordially extended to me by his representative. Now sir I wish to thank you in the name of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association for the splendid welcome you have just extended to us."

Principal Ernest L. Collins of the High school so greatly admired the 1915 calendar that some of last year's students composed and surprised him with that he suggested that this year's pupils make another after a like style and offer printed copies of it for sale for the benefit of the athletic association.

The suggestion proved popular and work on the 1916 calendar has been begun. Only the best verses composed by the senior English classes and the best designs by the drawing classes will be used in the work. A large sale is expected on its appearance just before Christmas and it is thought that it will greatly contribute toward the expected success of the 1916 Quincy High School Athletic Association.

D. A. R. OF WOLLASTON

The November meeting of Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter D. A. R. was held at the home of Mrs. W. F. Jones, West Elm avenue, Wollaston, with

BOY SCOUTS' BALL

Friends of the Boy Scouts filled Wollaston Yacht club hall, Saturday evening, to much over its dancing capacity at the masquerade ball held by the Algonquin Council of Scout Holders in aid of the club house fund of the local Boy Scouts.

The costumes were many and varied and several special attractions gave an added interest to the affair. Among these were an exhibition of modern dancing by Benjamin K. Knapp and Miss Katharine Yule and the dancing of the Highland fling by Miss Grace MacDonald.

Prizes were awarded for the best costumes and the judges pronounced the following winners: William Dixon, German character; Miss Mary Raiche, "Colonial"; Miss Cecelia Arenberg, Goddess of Music; Miss Grace MacDonald, Scotch lassie; The Judges were: Mrs. Ernest W. Towne, Mrs. Charles E. Weeks, and Mrs. Fred McNamara.

Refreshments were served at intermission and music was furnished by Murdoch's orchestra. The matrons were: Mrs. Charles E. Weeks, Mrs. Ernest W. Towne, Mrs. Frederick Arenberg, Mrs. G. M. Fox, and Mrs. John V. Melish. Michael Arenberg acted as master

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, November 20, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thurs	Fri	Sat
ALMANAC	Nov. 20, 1915	21	22	23	24	25	26
Sun	Nov. 20, 1915	21	22	23	24	25	26
Mon	Nov. 20, 1915	21	22	23	24	25	26
Tue	Nov. 20, 1915	21	22	23	24	25	26
Wed	Nov. 20, 1915	21	22	23	24	25	26
Thurs	Nov. 20, 1915	21	22	23	24	25	26
Fri	Nov. 20, 1915	21	22	23	24	25	26
Sat	Nov. 20, 1915	21	22	23	24	25	26

OVERCONFIDENCE

The general impression Wednesday morning was that it was overconfidence that defeated Mayor Campbell for re-nomination at the primaries Tuesday. Some lay it to the Democrats forsaking their own party candidate and voting the Republican ticket. Doubtless some did so but a study of the vote shows conclusively that it was his own party to whom he can lay his defeat. It was the first time in the history of the city, that the Republicans have refused to give its Mayor a re-nomination, if he desired it. That the Republicans have been lukewarm toward Mayor Campbell has been generally known for some time. It was openly stated by a number of Republicans that they would not vote for him this year. Many even refused to go to the polls at all.

Through it all however the Mayor has apparently believed that he would win and up to a few days ago, almost the eleventh hour, apparently nothing had been done by his Honor to arouse enthusiasm or to get out the voters. In the meantime Mr. Bates was conducting a quiet campaign. He organized his forces by visiting the homes of the city and they worked systematically as the result shows. When at last the friends of the Mayor did wake up it was too late, the mischief had been done by the opposition.

It has often been proven that it does not do to be overconfident or to take too much for granted and the result of Tuesday's primaries bears out that fact.

It is very doubtful in view of the large majority which Mr. Bates received if Mayor Campbell runs as an independent. It would not be at all surprising however if some candidate came forward in the future as a candidate on non-partisan papers.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

(By United Press)

Doston, Nov. 18.—The engagement was announced today of Miss Alice E. Coughlin, a popular Quincy girl, and Parkman Pierce of Milton, son of the millionaire head of the S. S. Pierce Co.

Since her graduation from Quincy High school in 1913, Miss Coughlin has been employed in the office of the S. S. Pierce Co. as an expert cinematograph operator. It was there that she became acquainted with her fiance and the romance followed.

She is 20 years of age and young Pierce is 23. The date of the wedding was not announced.

Miss Coughlin's father is Michael G. Coughlin, inspector of equipment of the Bay State Street Railway. The couple live at 10 Hancock street, near Merrymount Park.

HIT BY TRAIN

Albert T. Trombly, 72 years of 74 Weston avenue, while crossing the tracks at the Wollaston railroad station at eight o'clock Friday morning, was struck by a northbound train and was thrown to the platform.

The accident was witnessed by over a score of people who were awaiting the Boston train. They ran to the assistance of the aged man and summoned Dr. W. G. Curtis. He found that three ribs had been fractured and that there were general bruises and contusions about the body. He also said that Trombly had received a severe surgical wound.

Trombly was removed to the city hospital in the police ambulance, where he is on the dangerous list but resting comfortably. He has lived in Wollaston for some years.

SALE AND SUPPER

The Woman's Guild of St. Chrysostom's in the parish house Thursday afternoon and evening. The attendance was especially good as the hour for supper drew near.

The excellence of these suppers has long been recognized and that of Thursday was up to the standard of other years. It was served in the old parish room, the decorations being shown in the parlors.

Most of the booths in the assembly room were prettily decorated in green and yellow, except the candy table which was yellow and white. The Girl's Friendly society colors were in charge of Mrs. Alf Svensen assisted by Bernice Hobson, Gladys Parke and Marion Orr. All kinds of home made candy, stuffed dates, pop corn balls were readily sold.

The ice cream table was set in pink and white in charge of Mrs. William Klinsinger, Mrs. J. Willard Hall and Mrs. George A. Albert.

All kinds of dolls and dolls' wearing apparel as well as children's aprons were sold by Mrs. H. Kneeland Ellis Jr., Mrs. Frederick S. Waite, Mrs. Frank J. Aulbach, Mrs. Albert J. Bolster and Mrs. James G. Horgan.

Mrs. William J. Croucher and Mrs. Daniel C. Miller sold children's dresses. The Christmas novelties were in charge of Mrs. Percy L. Davidson and Mrs. Frederick A. Kelley and Mrs. Horace G. Richmond. At the fancy table was Mrs. Theodore Parker, Miss Elizabeth Cook and Mrs. Benjamin A. Lamont.

At the apron stall were Mrs. Arthur Stanley and Miss Annie Clean and aprons of every shape, size and color found a ready sale.

Mrs. Howard D. Fowler had a small table of delicious marmalades in glass jars.

"Ant Becky" with her hundred pockets was Mrs. Elizabeth Schultz. The supper committee was headed by Mrs. Edward F. Parlee, assisted by Mrs. George E. Allen, Mrs. George H. Bean, Mrs. Edwin J. Coleman, Mrs. Eliza F. Drew, Mrs. Albert J. Fox, Mrs. Benjamin A. Holson, Mrs. John P. Lamb, Mrs. Ellis McTeare, Mrs. Herbert F. Price, Mrs. Theodore Parlee, Mrs. Frank Ramsey and Mrs. Charles F. A. Smith.

The women of Ward Five showed what they can do when they get together a man. Although they cost but 55 votes, they probably influenced their husbands, or those that had husbands, to vote their way. The result, Dr. Curtis was refused a re-nomination.

MONTECLAIR ASSOCIATION

The Montclair Parents-Teachers Association held its November meeting in the Montclair school on Tuesday evening. Owing to the fact that it was the night of the city Primaries there was an unusually small attendance of men. In the absence of the president, E. F. Parlee, also the vice-president, George Horne, and the treasurer, James Ross, Mrs. Harding, the secretary opened the meeting. Andrew Johnson was appointed to fill the chair pro tem.

Miss Jackson the school nurse, gave the address of the evening. She said that the idea of the school nurse had its beginning in England in the year 1857 but did not have its real beginning in the United States until 1893. At that time a nurse by the name of Miss Whall, saw a child playing on the street during school hours and inquired as to the cause of the child's absence from school. She found that the child had been excluded from the school on account of contagious disease and had been out of school a year. Miss Whall offered her services free for a year to the schools and from that has grown up this important work. The first year of the new New York city appropriated thirty thousand dollars with a staff of five hundred nurses. They were very rapidly until in 1914 there were eighty cities and towns which had school nurses. The idea is gaining ground more and more rapidly.

Medical inspection had been begun in the schools several years before the school nurse came but it was able to do very little in bettering conditions without the supplementary work of the nurse.

The Quincy Women's Club seeing the great need and wishing to do something to celebrate its tenth anniversary voted to pay the salary of a school nurse for one year.

There are a number of causes that make the employment of a school nurse necessary. We have changed from an agricultural population to a people living in cities. There is a changing population, the school session is longer, the child is obliged to go to school a larger part of the year and the attendance at school is compulsory. The public schools are a public trust and the parent has a right to expect his child to return in as good physical condition as when he left for school. In order that this may be true the conditions surrounding the child must be watched.

A valuable medical history of each child is compiled which may be of vital importance to the individual in choosing an occupation after life. For instance there is a boy who is a discharged patient from a hospital who may live to old age but if he becomes a granite cutter he may be destined for an early death.

There are a great many children in the schools who have defective eyesight. They see only about half of what they should see and are handicapped in their studies. There are many cases of defective hearing and of adenoids. The condition of the children's teeth is very bad. She said she took nine children every week to the free dental dispensary in Boston and it is possible that she will have the privilege of taking more in the future. This is only for those who could not afford to have their children cared for otherwise.

The matter of pediculosis was gone into very carefully by Miss Jackson. She explained the treatment of such cases. The scalp should be washed with a solution of crude petroleum which should be allowed to remain for three hours after which the head should be washed in warm soap and water. This should be done for three successive days after which the hair should be combed with a fine tooth comb which has been soaked in kerosene.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Jackson said that there were cases where the child has died as the result of a bad case of pediculosis. The refusal of a parent to do anything to remedy this condition makes him liable to the law. The blanks which are sent out by the school department were shown and explained. A committee of parents visited themselves of the opportunity of asking Miss Jackson questions after the meeting has closed.

Mr. Shay and Mr. McCabe spoke of the dance which is to be held by the association on Thanksgiving eve and bespoke the hearty support of the members.

Mrs. Arthur R. Pouquet gave a brief report of the work done by their associations as brought out at the recent convention of Parents-Teachers Associations which was held in Quincy.

After a rising vote of thanks was given, Miss Jackson the meeting adjourned.

The next meeting is to be held on December 12 instead of December 20, that date coming in Christmas week. At that time trustee officer Johnson will give an illustrated lecture. The dance and possibly be held in the Quincy School hall.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A pleasant supper was tendered Miss Helen Kenn, Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. George A. Albert. The Burleigh club, of which she is a member.

After games and music were enjoyed the girls marched to the dining room where a luncheon was served by the hostess. The room was beautifully decorated with a profusion of flowers. In the center of the table was an immense cake with "congratulations" inscribed on it, this was cut by the bride to be, a piece being given to each member.

Favors and many novel features were introduced during the evening. A very merry and happy evening was spent. All left at a late hour wishing the young lady a happy future.

MONTHLY SUPPER

The monthly supper and church social was held, Wednesday evening at the Ladies' Benevolent society in the parish house of the Wollaston Congregational church. A pleasing program was given consisting of readings by Miss Gillman of the Emerson School of Oratory, violin solos by Miss Orlie Chapman, accompanied by her sister Miss Edith Chapman, and vocal solos by S. B. Bates of Cohasset.

The committee serving the supper were: Mrs. Edward Smith, Mrs. Albert Sayward, Mrs. Carroll E. Bates, Mrs. E. R. Johnson, Mrs. L. W. Nash, Mrs. Charles E. Hathaway, Mrs. A. N. Birse, Mrs. Charles Emerson, Mrs. Arthur N. Dodge, Mrs. A. E. Stephenson, Mrs. David H. Goodspeed, Mrs. Sidney Baker, Mrs. Leroy C. Holbrook, Mrs. Richard C. Trumper and Mrs. Joseph Barker.

WOLLASTON M. E. CLUB

Speaking strongly in favor of national preparedness in his lecture on "Submarines" before the Wollaston Methodist club, Wednesday evening, Eric H. Ewert, of the Fore River company advocated a coast defense of 300 submarines as the surest and cheapest way of repelling foreign invasion.

This number of submarines would cost 150 millions of dollars. This is the value of 13 battleships and it would take less men to man them and less money to maintain them. They would do what 100 battleships could not do—adequately protect our coast.

At present, he declared, the whole coast was open to invasion. Many points are not covered by the guns of our forts. It would be a simple matter with a nation with a well equipped navy to convey 250 transport ships and land an army of 30 or 40 thousand men upon our shores.

By showing that it takes three years to build a battleship, two years to build a submarine and many months to build a large gun he demonstrated how poorly equipped we would be if we went to war next year. "We would not be ready in three or four years," he said. "God knows what would happen in that time."

In his lecture Mr. Ewert traced the development of the submarine from the early models to the present stage. He told how, in the Russian-Japanese war several submarines steamed out from the coast of America and were not seen again. They were picked up by a steamer and conveyed to Russia. He spoke regretfully of the English submarines which could not be delivered but must be interned at the navy yard.

His lecture was illustrated by stereoscopic, covered the entire construction of the submarines and was most complete. At the business meeting that preceded many humorous features were introduced. Among them was a protest from Willard E. Kays that Wollaston had been flooded with submarine lectures by a certain individual.

An interesting number of the Wollaston Herald was read by T. E. Perley. The club will organize bowling teams and after an elimination contest will challenge the other clubs of the city. A lunch followed the lecture.

REGAN—PITTS

Miss Harriet Frances Pitts, a prominent Quincy Point resident, and William Regan of 53 South Wollaston street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Regan were married in this city Wednesday.

The ceremony was performed at the rectory of St. John's parish by Fr. John J. Casey at 5 o'clock. The bride was dressed in white silk chiffon and carried a large bouquet of carnations. Her veil of tulle was caught up through her hair.

There were a great many children in the schools who have defective eyesight. They see only about half of what they should see and are handicapped in their studies. There are many cases of defective hearing and of adenoids. The condition of the children's teeth is very bad. She said she took nine children every week to the free dental dispensary in Boston and it is possible that she will have the privilege of taking more in the future. This is only for those who could not afford to have their children cared for otherwise.

A reception was held at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Pitts of 53 Mill street, from 6 to 7.30 after which a wedding feast was served. The guests numbering nearly 100 were from Quincy, Weymouth, Brockton, North Easton, Hingham, Dorchester, Boston and Roxbury.

During the wedding feast piano music was furnished by Miss Daisy Morrisette, and there were vocal solos by Philip Pitts and others. The music for the evening was by Richardson's orchestra.

The couple who are well known and admired in Quincy Point left at 9.30 on their wedding trip. The departure was made with difficulty. Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Regan had planned to carry out several little details, but were outwitted.

The bride until recently has been employed at the Rubber and Tire and Stud Co. Mr. Regan is a worker at the Charleston Navy yard. They are to make their home on Washington street, near Pond street, this city. They received many presents.

FIRST PARISH CLUB

Capt. W. Hargard, Professor of Naval Architecture at Tech, was the speaker Tuesday evening at the monthly dinner and meeting of the First Parish club. A roast beef dinner was served at 6.30, which was followed by speaking. At the head table were President George F. Pfaffmann, Rev. Edward Anderson who asked the blessing, Joseph A. Sedgwick, treasurer of the Fore River Corporation, and Mr. Ewert, of the Fore River department at the Fore River, Lieut. Lee M. Atkins U. S. N., naval constructor, Ralph L. Lovell, and the speaker.

No one is probably better qualified to speak of the submarine than is Capt. Hargard. He is a native of Denmark, and came to Tech fifteen years ago to teach war ship designing, at the request of the United States government, for the instruction of officers of the service going into the construction corps of the navy. It is also interesting to note that Capt. Hargard was the first man to suggest the modern battle cruisers. This suggestion was made ten years ago before the society of naval architects and mechanical engineers.

Capt. Hargard illustrated his talk showing the progress of the submarine. In opening he said that there probably some present better qualified than he to speak of the submarine. In a way he said the present war has brought about the practicability of the submarine in warfare.

He showed the progress of the submarine from the time of the civil war, when he said the first submarine was used to blow up a vessel. It was during this war that the first ship was destroyed by a mine. The early vessels he said were operated by hand pressed air. He then traced the progress of the submarine from that time up to the present time, showing pictures of the various submarine boats. Incidentally he showed pictures of the Whitehead torpedoes. The first Holland boat, the prototype and how it was operated. The use of white mice, to detect dangerous gases. He also showed the K type or boats of the United States Navy, the German U class and the English E class explaining the difference between them. Also the adaptation of the disappearing gun to submarines.

In concluding his talk he said the life on a submarine was a most strenuous one and was very racking on the nerves, especially in war times. However he said no matter how efficient the submarine it can not supplant the battleship, for a submarine is of little use in the ocean its field of operation being more in sheltered waters.

THE WOMEN'S CLUBS

Mrs. Herbert J. Gunney of Warren avenue gave a reading of "Twelfth Night" at the meeting Thursday afternoon of the Cabot club of Middleboro. Students of Shakespeare in the high school were guests of the club and greatly enjoyed the reading.

It is seldom the Hospital Aid Association makes an appeal so their announcement of a benefit concert at Alpha hall, Dec. 9 is meeting with much interest. The concert will be given by the Harvard Glee Club and will be followed by a dance.

Junior Friday Club meets Monday afternoon in Wollaston at the home of Mrs. Alfred Percival Thompson, 50 Brook street. Mrs. Albert H. Wright is chairman of the affair and is rather a lengthy orator in the study of the Bible, viz. Sanskrit, Literature, Epics, Mahabharata, Ramayana Fables and Fairy Tales, Poetry, Drama, Philology.

Next Tuesday's meeting of the Quincy Women's Club will be the annual musicale and held at Quincy Music hall. The Elmhurst Orchestra Club will be assisted by Margaret Louder Shepherd, contralto soloist and Jennie Hocking, pianist. The limited guest privilege has been granted and it is expected every seat will be taken. An innovation has been adopted which is meeting with much favor, that of having reserved seats at ten cents each, which insures one a good seat without the hurry and scramble of previous years. These tickets may be obtained of the custodian by enclosing self addressed stamped envelope with the dime for the return of ticket. Those attending should have their tickets before the date.

Miss Edith Randall of Spear street is hostess this week for the meeting of the Friday Club and Mrs. William E. Alden in charge of the program are "Shakespeare's Editors and Critics" as the subject.

A new feature of the Assembly which is to be held Friday night after Thanksgiving will be a group of songs by Madame Wilhelmina Wright contralto and dances by Mr. and Mrs. Barker. The Civic committee of the Women's Club under whose auspices the Assembly is held has also arranged the dance program with the older favorite dances as well as the modern which is pleasing to many.

Y. M. C. A. auxiliary held their November meeting in association with Nov. 12th. Mrs. Wilson Marsh gave a very interesting talk on Medical Social Service and Mrs. Gertrude Hennessey sang "Marguerite" by C. A. White and "A Garland of Old Fashioned Roses" by E. Clinton Korthly, accompanied by Mrs. H. W. Atkins at the piano. All interested in this work are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

A delightful matinee whist was held at the Women's clubhouse Tuesday afternoon by the educational committee of the Quincy Women's club to raise funds for children's hour at the library and other educational work. After the play tea and cake were served, the powers being Mrs. H. D. Cole and Mrs. Madison Mott Cannon.

An all day meeting of the Fragment society of the First Parish church was held Wednesday in the chapel to sew for the coming fair. Lunch was served at noon. In the afternoon the members of the Alliance met with the society. The speaker of the afternoon was Rev. Frank A. Powell of Braintree, who gave an interesting talk on "The cause of free religion."

A whist party in the afternoon and a dancing party in the evening has been planned for Dec. 8 by the Quincy Women's Riverside Club and is to be held in the Wollaston bungalow. Mrs. Ida Crane is head of the committee on refreshments. Mr. Elmer H. Baker is chairman of the dance committee. Other members are assisting.

MUSICAL CLUB

The South Shore Morning Musical club held its first meeting of the season Nov. 11, at the Congregational church, East Weymouth. The program was under the direction of Miss Ethel Raymond. Miss Grace M. Putnam, president and organizer of the club made a short address of welcome and outlined the work for the coming year. There was a discussion of voluntary work and Miss Putnam told of the work being done by different organizations in neighboring towns. She also gave a short talk on the organ.

"PROFESSOR PEPP"

Merit was recognized at Wednesday evening's performance of "Professor Pepp" at Quincy Music hall presented by the Quincy Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, a large audience. The fact that the farce made a hit when presented by a different cast in Masonic Temple, Wollaston by the Pain and Powder club helped increase the number that attended Wednesday's performance.

Part of the cast was experienced talent but all deserved commendation for the fine rendering of their parts. The usual good coaching of Erastus Osgood was mutely evident by the naturalness of the players and the good effects.

Merion A. Turner gave the title role and Clement B. Nash the finely played C. B. Buttonbustler, alias his son, Howard Buttonbustler.

Good music and singing added to the enjoyment of the play. The curtain rose on a chorus of ten girls. E. Gertrude Nash, who truthfully rendered the difficult dialect and the acting of Olga Stoppel, a teacher of the college, Ruth Kemp in her good interpretation of Kitty Crocker, a collector of souvenirs; Mildred L. Crowley as Vivian Drew, a college belle; Cora C. Barnicot as Irene Van Hilt, a social leader; Bessie L. Roberts as Caroline Kay, a happy little freshman; Edith Bunker, Florence Hatt, Harriet Griffiths, Minerva Belster and Clara Call as students. The entrance of Poddler Benson, impersonated by George J. Schools to pursue his vocation of selling alarm clocks put an end to the fine singing.

All three acts were laid out Professor Pepp's residence on the campus and very little change of scenery was necessary.

In the opening act Peterkin Pepp returns from Russia, a nervous wreck and unstrung by fear that nihilists are about to attack him. For protection he appeals to the police of the college town. Constable Sim Batty, well played by Earl D. Gilliat. Beauty Crocker was all that could be desired as Betty Gardner's dog, Bums, whom she befriended with Buttonbustler's candy.

Both C. B. Buttonbustler, whose stoutness did not belie his name, and his son who played the count, were well acted by Willard F. Gardner, the professor's ward who was impersonated by Annie E. Rose.

Although Howard Green at last in his idol, it was not without many difficulties which his father helped to create. His father, a gaily butterfly of 45 applied for admission to his friend's college mainly because of the many girls, and plots to make the professor's ward his wife.

Howard Green's plots are successful and in the second act he frightens Prof. Pepp with an imitation of a Russian Nihilist, aided by Noley Fleming, impersonated by Bert H. Reed; Pink Hatcher by Russell T. Sears; Buster Brown by Laurence R. Ford and Tarkins by William E. Tarbox.

Aunt Minerva Boulder, the professor's housekeeper from Skowhegan, Maine, whose plans have been made to be recognized in the disguised Mr. Buttonbustler her fiancée of twenty years ago, until the last act when she marries him through the threat of "A marriage of a funeral."

Miss Lillian Forrester's true portrayal of the hired girl, who saw there but few breaks in the continued laughter, was honestly commended.

In the last act Prof. Pepp learns that his fear of Nihilists is due to a practical joke played by one of his former pupils.

The curtain falls on the dancing party after which has been made up of the double wedding between Howard Green and Betty Gardner, C. B. Buttonbustler and Aunt Minerva Boulder. Six well-dressed bouquets were passed to several of the company after the end of the play.

Mrs. Horace G. Rose, worthy Matron in charge, assisted by Annie E. Rose and Susie A. Farnald, and much of the success of the presentation was due to their efforts.

The ushers were Henry P. Farnald, George B. Dexheimer, Charles L. Gilliat, George B. Lewis, William Patterson, George A. Smith, Jonathan S. Swingle and George H. Jaques.

The candy committee whose sales netted a large profit were: Mary E. Gordon, chairman; Eleanor Fries, Florence Milne, Annie Gordon, Selma C. Thompson, Elizabeth Laing, Sally Peterson, Grace Lewis, E. Gertrude Marrock, Nellie C. Podbury, Henrietta Renne, Jennie Laing, A. Maude Briggs, Margaret Michael and Amy Musgrave.

REBEKAH ROLL CALL

Over 100 attended the annual roll call of George L. Gill Rebekah lodge in Odd Fellows hall Thursday evening. Elizabeth H. Hargard, chairman, opened its doors to the members and answered to their names when they were called and four letters were received from members who could not attend.

One of the surprises of the evening was a letter from Mrs. Elizabeth F. Farnald, a former member of the lodge, who is in her 81st year. Mrs. Farnald joined the lodge at its institution 17 years ago. The responses of the members were bright and witty in most cases.

Mrs. Estella C. Adams, district deputy president, accompanied the Grand Warden, Mrs. Edith Hargard, was the special guest of the evening. A banquet was served before the meeting. The banquet room was prettily decorated with cut flowers and colored ribbons. A handsome white chrysanthemum was beside each table. The committee in charge was complimented on its fine program.

THE PARTY JUGGLING

Editor Quincy Patriot:

Do the people of Quincy want to go on with the present City Charter, and continue to choose candidates for Mayor by the caucus or primary plan as we did last Tuesday? That was an object lesson that we should not forget when we vote next year on the question of the revision of the charter.

Under Plan A, the proposed new charter, caucuses and primaries will be abolished. All nominations will be made by petition and there will be only one election. Party designations will also be eliminated. We shall vote for men and not for party-label; and there will be no opportunity for preliminary party-juggling, as there would be under the present plan. Under plan A there will be a fair field, open to all, with the likelihood that the best and strongest men will be elected.

A. F. Schenkelberger.

THE WOMEN'S CLUBS

Mrs. Herbert J. Gunney of Warren avenue gave a reading of "Twelfth Night" at the meeting Thursday afternoon of the Cabot club of Middleboro. Students of Shakespeare in the high school were guests of the club and greatly enjoyed the reading.

It is seldom the Hospital Aid Association makes an appeal so their announcement of a benefit concert at Alpha hall, Dec. 9 is meeting with much interest. The concert will be given by the Harvard Glee Club and will be followed by a dance.

Junior Friday Club meets Monday afternoon in Wollaston at the home of Mrs. Alfred Percival Thompson, 50 Brook street. Mrs. Albert H. Wright is chairman of the affair and is rather a lengthy orator in the study of the Bible, viz. Sanskrit, Literature, Epics, Mahabharata, Ramayana Fables and Fairy Tales, Poetry, Drama, Philology.

Next Tuesday's meeting of the Quincy Women's Club will be the annual musicale and held at Quincy Music hall. The Elmhurst Orchestra Club will be assisted by Margaret Louder Shepherd, contralto soloist and Jennie Hocking, pianist. The limited guest privilege has been granted and it is expected every seat will be taken. An innovation has been adopted which is meeting with much favor, that of having reserved seats at ten cents each, which insures one a good seat without the hurry and scramble of previous years. These tickets may be obtained of the custodian by enclosing self addressed stamped envelope with the dime for the return of ticket. Those attending should have their tickets before the date.

Miss Edith Randall of Spear street is hostess this week for the meeting of the Friday Club and Mrs. William E. Alden in charge of the program are "Shakespeare's Editors and Critics" as the subject.

A new feature of the Assembly which is to be held Friday night after Thanksgiving will be a group of songs by Madame Wilhelmina Wright contralto and dances by Mr. and Mrs. Barker. The Civic committee of the Women's Club under whose auspices the Assembly is held has also arranged the dance program with the older favorite dances as well as the modern which is pleasing to many.

Y. M. C. A. auxiliary held their November meeting in association with Nov. 12th. Mrs. Wilson Marsh gave a very interesting talk on Medical Social Service and Mrs. Gertrude Hennessey sang "Marguerite" by C. A. White and "A Garland of Old Fashioned Roses" by E. Clinton Korthly, accompanied by Mrs. H. W. Atkins at the piano. All interested in this work are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

A delightful matinee whist was held at the Women's clubhouse Tuesday afternoon by the educational committee of the Quincy Women's club to raise funds for children's hour at the library and other educational work. After the play tea and cake were served, the powers being Mrs. H. D. Cole and Mrs. Madison Mott Cannon.

An all day meeting of the Fragment society of the First Parish church was held Wednesday in the chapel to sew for the coming fair. Lunch was served at noon. In the afternoon the members of the Alliance met with the society. The speaker of the afternoon was Rev. Frank A. Powell of Braintree, who gave an interesting talk on "The cause of free religion."

MUSICAL CLUB

The South Shore Morning Musical club held its first meeting of the season Nov. 11, at the Congregational church, East Weymouth. The program was under the direction of Miss Ethel Raymond. Miss Grace M. Putnam, president and organizer of the club made a short address of welcome and outlined the work for the coming year. There was a discussion of voluntary work and Miss Putnam told of the work being done by different organizations in neighboring towns. She also gave a short talk on the organ.

The program included organ selections by Mrs. Florence Cutler, and piano solos by Miss Ethel Raymond, Miss Frances Apperton, violinist and Miss Louise Lathrop Mello, pianist gave the G major Grieg sonata. Mrs. Helen Hunt sang two songs of songs.

The club started last spring with a few members and now numbers 25. One of the great associations of the city opens its doors to all who desire to do some associate members. Any one desiring to become an associate member should communicate with Miss Mary Dyer, 140 Adams street, Braintree, Miss Emma Clapp, Front street, Weymouth, or Miss Ethel Raymond, Upland road, Quincy.

CATHOLIC CLUB

The Quincy Catholic Club members held a Kipling Hour in Knights of Columbus rooms Thursday evening after which was a discussion of the club's work for the Christmas season. Dec. 15 and arranged for the mile of pennies to be gathered for the Christmas fund. The program was one of the pleasantest given under the club auspices for some time.

A sketch of Kipling's life was given by Miss Gertrude Hargard. The sketch was interesting and well delivered. Miss Mary Rose Lyons sang "Danny Deever" and the "Recession" and "Mother Margaret Heaney read "If," "Mother O'Mine" and "Mandala." The applause was hearty. Luncheon was served.

HOSPITAL AID ASSO.

The Hospital Aid Association held a meeting of unusual interest Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Russell A. Sears. The afternoon was spent in making bandages, covers and slings. The president, Mrs. P. R. Blackmer reported the hospital was in need of night gowns, night shirts and baby clothes, and that the St. Chrysostom's Episcopal church in Wollaston had offered to open its doors for the purpose of holding an all day sewing meeting to help along in the work of the hospital.

Y. P. R. U. DANCE

The social season of the Young People's Religious Union of the First Parish church opened Friday evening with a dancing party in Alpha hall. Most of those present were well known young people of the city.

Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann and Mrs. James H. Slade were the matrons of the evening. The committee was Miss Catherine Saville, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Wilye Coul Edwards, Fred Atwood and Richard Allen. Music for dancing was by Towne's orchestra. Prappe was served during the evening.

Sixteen of the members of the present City Council, and

Saturday, November 20, 1915

Single Copies 5 Cents.

For Sale at
The Patriot Office,
Brown & Co.,
J. P. Kirtledge,
J. P. O'Brien,
C. F. Carlson,
L. A. Cook,
H. H. I. Smith,
Sprague & Hobart,
Shunk's Periodical Store,
Thomas Gurney,
Bransfield & Martens,
P. L. Litchfield,
H. H. Doble & Co.,
Edward F. Drohan,
Mrs. Lark's Store,
J. J. Hammers,
South Terminal Station,
Boston.

COMPLETE VOTE OF PRIMARIES

REPUBLICAN
Ward	1	2	3	4	5	6	Total
G. B. Bates	537	239	410	199	168	243	1796
C. I. Campbell	220	78	127	38	407	229	1099
Blanks	10	1	4	0	5	11	31
COUNCILMAN WARD LARGE
H. G. Beeman	449	149	258	79	397	339	1662
A. G. Boister	456	167	301	78	397	394	1706
A. J. Cowe	306	99	309	67	202	191	1171
R. B. Craig	442	166	334	92	378	282	1695
C. L. Gilliatt	421	140	250	78	463	306	1658
W. P. Thompson	510	155	255	75	386	272	1565
Blanks	1251	714	998	724	677	721	5085
SCHOOL COMMITTEE-AT-LARGE
E. H. Bushnell	449	164	272	82	418	270	1855
Blanks	318	154	269	155	217	213	1329
COUNCILMAN WARD ONE
T. J. McGrath	538	229	410	199	168	243	1796
J. H. Slade	509	229	410	199	168	243	1796
J. L. Whitton	529	229	410	199	168	243	1796
Blanks	725	229	410	199	168	243	1796
SCHOOL COMMITTEE WARD ONE
John D. Mackay	538	229	410	199	168	243	1796
Blanks	238	238	410	199	168	243	1396
COUNCILMAN WARD TWO
T. B. Crane	147	147	147	147	147	147	882
W. H. Flynn	171	171	171	171	171	171	1026
W. E. Lee	159	159	159	159	159	159	954
C. B. Yule	222	222	222	222	222	222	1338
Blanks	255	255	255	255	255	255	1530
COUNCILMAN WARD THREE
C. F. Barnicoat	313	313	313	313	313	313	1878
C. D. Brown	313	313	313	313	313	313	1878
F. A. Ferguson	178	178	178	178	178	178	1068
William Gelotte	149	149	149	149	149	149	897
W. J. McLeod	218	218	218	218	218	218	1308
T. G. Miller	147	147	147	147	147	147	882
A. H. Morrison	315	315	315	315	315	315	1890
Blanks	270	270	270	270	270	270	1620
DEMOCRATIC
Ward	1	2	3	4	5	6	Total
E. J. Fegan	18	35	9	63	3	10	138
G. B. Bates	1	1	1	1	1	1	6
Blanks	7	9	0	35	0	0	51
COUNCILMAN WARD TWO
Henry T. Gallagher	39	39	39	39	39	39	234
Thomas Griffin	36	36	36	36	36	36	216
Joseph G. Kennedy	8	8	8	8	8	8	48
Robert J. Williams, Jr.	32	32	32	32	32	32	192
Blanks	60	60	60	60	60	60	360
COUNCILMAN WARD THREE
Robert T. Foye	8	8	8	8	8	8	48
Blanks	1	1	1	1	1	1	6

CITY PRIMARIES

Mayor Chester J. Campbell, was defeated for re-nomination at the primaries Tuesday by G. B. Bates. It was in the nature of a land slide for Mr. Bates whose total vote was 1796 to 1099 for Mayor Campbell. Bates carried every ward in the city, except Ward Five the home ward of Mayor Campbell.

Ward One gave Bates a majority of 538 to 229. Ward Two, 147 to 882. Ward Four, 168 to 397. Ward Five, 243 to 1796. Ward Six, 147 to 882. Ward Three, 312 to 1872. Bates carried every ward in the city, except Ward Five the home ward of Mayor Campbell.

There was no contest on the head of the Democratic ticket and from the returns it is evident that the Democrats voted Tuesday for Bates. This they could readily do for there was no party enrollment this year to keep Democrats from voting the Republican ticket.

Another contest that was closely followed was for members of the School Committee from Ward Five where there was a hot contest between Dr. W. G. Curtis and Ernest W. Towne. It was reported that Mr. Towne had the support of a large number of women voters, and the returns bear out this fact for he received a total vote of 229 while that of Dr. Curtis was but 72.

For Councilmen-at-large Messrs. Herbert G. Beaman, George A. Bolster, Robert B. Craig, Charles L. Gilliat and William P. Thompson being nominated. A. J. C. C. C. the sixth man on the ballot being defeated by 499 votes. The election was held at the City Hall, where the School Committee from Ward One and John D. Mackay received the nomination.

In Ward One, Councilmen Thomas J. McGrath, J. Harry Slade and Joseph L. Whitton were nominated without opposition. In Ward Two there was quite a contest, Charles B. Yule, William E. Lee and William H. Flynn being nominated. Lee, the low man, beating Thompson B. Crane by 12 votes.

In Ward Three Councilman Charles F. Barnicoat was re-nominated but Councilman Rodney P. Gallagher was defeated by 499 votes. In Ward Four, Councilman Charles F. Barnicoat was re-nominated. In Ward Five, Councilman Charles F. Barnicoat was re-nominated.

There was quite a contest in Ward Six, five candidates seeking the three nominations, ex-Councilman Carl E. Carlson and Councilman Kessler and Edward E. Palmer were nominated. In every case the vote was so decisive that there is but little chance of any recounts being asked for.

The complete vote of all candidates will be found elsewhere. There was but little interest taken in the primaries by the Democrats, outside of those wards in which there was a contest for members of the School Committee. The vote was not as large as in previous years.

The Health Week closed with a motion picture show at the Kinecine theatre Sunday afternoon. Over 2000 people saw the six lesson films at two performances. They were not accompanied by lectures or talks, the screen being the only demonstration of what is what, why and how it can be prevented. The films all had their love stories entwined with the pictures. Many of them were pathetic in the extreme.

The funeral of John T. Sinclair who died at the private hospital in 32nd Street was held from his home at 28 Pleasant street, Thursday Nov. 11th 2:30 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. A. P. Watson, pastor of the Congregational church, East Braintree. Many relatives and friends attended, some coming from Houlton, Maine, and Fredrickton, N. B. There were many beautiful floral tributes sent by relatives and friends.

Large spray from Rice, Hutchins, Carnations and roses, Mrs. L. Gouly and Miss Mary Billington. Spray carnations and calla lilies, Mr. John Tite, Jr. Spray carnations and chrysanthemums, Miss Vera Burke. Pink and white roses, Misses Nightingale. Bouquet white asters, Miss Emma Kerr. Wreath "Father", family.

FAILURE OF QUINCY FIRM Joseph Szathmari, who conducts a millinery business at Hancock street, this city, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court Tuesday. His liabilities are $4000 and his assets $238. Of his liabilities, $38.50 is due the City of Quincy for taxes. The remainder is divided between 40 unsecured creditors.

CITY COUNCIL

A regular meeting of the City Council was held Monday evening, following the adjournment of the adjourned meeting Thursday evening, there was but little to occupy the attention of the members. The result was that an adjournment was reached at 8:30 at which time several of the members, especially those who are candidates for the primaries to day for the nomination of Councilmen at Large, left for Atlantic.

Mayor Campbell who usually attends meetings of the council was absent as he was also at Atlantic. Councilman Barry was the only absent member. The City Clerk forwarded the petition for the adoption of Plan A, which contained 942 signatures. It was placed on file.

An application of Flat Wong for a transfer of his Common Victualer license from Houghs Neck to City Square as well as a petition favoring the same was received and referred to the License Committee.

E. J. Gooding petitioned for the refund of half cost of granolithic sidewalk on Highland avenue. Referred to Finance Committee.

The Finance Committee reported ought to pass on the order transferring $3,000 to the appropriation for care of highways, etc. Rules suspended and order passed.

The Finance Committee recommended reference to the next City Council on the communication from the Planning Board in reference to a proposed hospital. They also reported reference to the next City Council on the communication relative to the sale of land adjoining the Mt. Wollaston cemetery to the city.

Councilman Smith offered a minority report of no legislation necessary. Minority reported.

The same committee also reported reference to the next City Council on the matter of a municipal garage. Councilman Richards offered an order that the City Auditor be authorized to make necessary transfers in the school department appropriations. Referred to Finance Committee.

Councilman Williams offered an order for the extension of the main sewer through Quincy avenue. To next City Council.

Councilman Richards offered an order increasing the salary of the Inspector of Buildings from $1200 to $1500. To Finance Committee.

On motion of Councilman Nelson the order to widen West Squantum street was taken from the table. The question was on accepting the report of the committee, which was referred to the next City Council.

Councilman Nelson offered a minority report against the borrowing "lance to the order, and that the order ought to pass.

Some little discussion followed in which the minority was upheld by Councilmen Nelson, Beaman and Kessler, while Councilman Richards, McGrath and Smith opposed.

The minority report was rejected on an arising vote of 9 yeas and 11 no. The Committee report was then accepted.

A public hearing was held at 8 o'clock on the petition of John A. Duggan to maintain a garage at Atlantic. Later the petition was granted.

A public hearing was held at 8:15 on the petition of the Citizens Gas Co. to lay mains. Later Councilman O'Dowd offered an order granting the same which was ordered to a second reading.

Councilman Smith moved and it was voted that the special committee appointed to canvass the grade crossing question and the special committee on a waiting room in City Square be requested to report at the next meeting. Voted.

The orders transferring the sum of $500 for additional repairs in the school buildings, transferring the sum of $800 for Industrial Evening schools and $700 for the repair of the Montclair school, took their second reading and were passed under suspension of the rules.

Adjourned at 8:36. ATLANTIC ASSOCIATION Charles W. Hanscom, a local educator represented Gustave B. Bates, who seeks the mayoralty nomination on the Republican ticket at the meeting of the Atlantic Improvement Association in Atlantic City hall, Monday evening. Mr. Bates who is ill at his home sent a letter of regret that he could not attend. Mr. Bates explained the planks of the Bates platform.

Mayor Campbell was also one of the speakers. As at other meetings he has attended the party, which he pointed out the duty of the citizens and told them they should vote on primary day. He went into his administration accomplishments and was applauded when he confidently presented his resignation.

THE WOMEN'S CLUBS

(Continued from Page Three.)

WOLLASTON WOMAN'S CLUB

That women are interested in cooking was demonstrated Tuesday afternoon by the large gathering of members of the Wollaston Woman's Club in Masonic hall. The president Mrs. William E. Rowe presided and reports were given by the recording and corresponding secretaries and the treasurer.

Mrs. Charles F. Bryant and Mrs. Oscar L. Baker, who attended the fall meeting of the State Federation at Beverly as representatives of the club gave interesting reports; Mrs. Bryant for the morning session and Mrs. Baker for the noon hour and afternoon session.

The president gave details as to the plans for the club magazine, which would be a resume of the year's work and also contain a variety of matter such as would be found in an up-to-date magazine which would be readable not only to club members but to others as well. Associated with the president as editors would be Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, Mrs. Frederick H. Bishop, Mrs. Frederick L. Cheever and Mrs. Frederick H. Steenstra. It was hoped the magazine would be something worth while and at the same time add to the club fund.

A list of clubs which had extended courtesies to the Wollaston club, with days of meetings was read. Tickets to attend meetings of these clubs were available for any members desiring to visit the clubs.

The increases by ward were as follows: Ward One, 59; Ward Two, 81; Ward Three, 18; Ward Four, 55; Ward Five, 31 Ward Six, 82.

The following table shows the number of children of school age in the different wards of the city:

Years	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	Total
Ward One	102	189	183	215	191	150	165	148	140	131	126	1747
Ward Two	76	124	192	164	186	142	140	133	145	142	140	1584
Ward Three	150	225	265	253	242	206	252	263	248	247	244	2605
Ward Four	130	187	171	186	192	178	177	176	158	162	155	1874
Ward Five	85	145	154	150	137	112	121	122	112	116	110	1272
Ward Six	20	129	167	159	135	140	135	127	135	129	142	1471
Boys	201	551	629	568	545	499	468	493	476	442	514	5471
Girls	244	498	539	559	555	442	532	476	419	458	404	5196

The first talk in the series of art talks is to be given by Miss Lucy C. Robinson on Monday Nov. 22 at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Homer, 129 Grand View avenue at 3 P. M. subject, "Spanish Painters of Children."

The afternoon program was in charge of the Program Committee, Mrs. Albee chairman, and was a demonstration lecture of "A Sunday Night Supper" by Mrs. Harriet L. D. Darling. Every one was provided with a spoon and proceeded to watch Mrs. Darling as she concocted various dishes.

The dishes made and served were: Perfection salad of vegetables in gelatin served with mayonnaise; Sardines a la Bordelaise, of catsup, mushrooms, olives and sardines; Fresh mushrooms and sweet-breads; Tuna newburg, a good luncheon dish for cold or hot eating, was inexpensive and nutritious; Filling for finger rolls was a hearty dish and one much liked. The filling was a cream rarebit of eggs and cheese. The centres were scooped out of the rolls and filled with the mixture.

Some of the advice and suggestions made by Mrs. Darling were that the husbands and sons be taught to cook with the chaffing dish; that it was better not to cook over hot water as it was too slow. She preferred direct heat; that in using canned goods open a few hours before using and ventilate them well especially fish; in cooking use level measurements.

Mrs. Darling recommended Tuna fish as being nutritious, dry and boneless and adapted for salads. In fact it would be difficult to tell it from chicken salad making the proportion of one of fish to one and a third cup of celery.

In making a mayonnaise all material should be of even temperature, that is not to have some cold. Personally she never chilled any material, and she made mayonnaise in large jars always having it on hand.

All agreed that the afternoon was an enjoyable and profitable one. The next meeting will be on Dec. 7.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CLUB Gentlemen's night scheduled for Nov. 22 has been postponed to Jan. 5 and instead a Baby party is to be held the 22d at Adams academy. Each member is asked to attend dressed as a baby and girls who are not members but would like to see how the club members spend their social evenings are invited to attend the party.

As in regular baby shows prizes will be given to the prettiest baby. A second hike will be held Sunday and members are to assemble at 10:30 at the clubhouse bringing lunches. Miss Violes Spargo will lead the walk to the Blue Hill observatory.

Thursday afternoon at 2:30 there will be basketball practice. Any member wishing to learn the game is invited to come ready to play. Miss Edith Mullin will coach the girls. Great plans for the winter holiday party will be held Dec. 6th. Don't forget the date and plan to attend with your mother.

The telegram was addressed to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Goodack of Granite street. They were not aware of her matrimonial plans when she left for Frisco.

Dean's Rheumatic Pills for Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Entirely vegetable. Safe. 4 cts.

Mr. Sandman Comes Quick when You Drive Away Jack Frost

The kiddies need no coaxing at bedtime—for the PERFECTION HEATER had made the room nice and cozy.

The Perfection keeps dampness and cold out of all the house. Gives glowing warmth in five minutes—ten hours comfort on a gallon of kerosene. Smokeless, odorless, safe.

Sold at all hardware and general stores, and wherever you see the Perfection Cozy Cat Poster. Look for the Triangle Trademark.

Highest award Panama-Pacific Exposition

STANDARD OIL CO. OF NEW YORK (Principal Station)

NEW YORK BUFFALO ALBANY BOSTON

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATERS

SCHOOL CENSUS

The school census which has just been completed by Charles H. Johnson, shows the total number of children in the city between the ages of 5 and 15 years to be 10,667 of which 5,171 are boys and 5,196 girls. The total number shows an increase of 380 over 1914.

The increases by ward were as follows: Ward One, 59; Ward Two, 81; Ward Three, 18; Ward Four, 55; Ward Five, 31 Ward Six, 82.

The following table shows the number of children of school age in the different wards of the city:

the annals of the Soist club which they took place at the club rooms on Newport avenue, Nov. 12th, and which opened the winter season of the club. The occasion was graced by His Honor, Mayor Campbell, and about fifty members enjoyed a royal good time.

The presence of the Mayor was the reason for assembling the Booster's chapter for last year's mayoralty campaign. The rosy cheeks of the captain William F. Macy to Julia Hourihan, Quincy Bay, Macon avenue.

William F. Macy to John H. Merriam, River street.

Elveta B. Melendy to Chester F. Melendy, River street.

Andrew Milne at table to Helen M. Howland, Dixwell avenue.

Katherine A. Norris to Minnie G. Lewis, Quincy Bay.

Charles B. Pratt to Beatrice For-

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 48.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED).

OFFICE, No. 1424 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone, Quincy 425.
Quincy 1910.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1880.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust

LAND FOR SALE

AT MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Wollaston Farm

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building. Tel. 847-W
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street
Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1849 by
W. PORTER

Insurance effected in reliable and safe
stock and Mutual offices.

By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 70 Kilby Street, Boston.
Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank

ESTABLISHED 1865.
New Savings Bank Building
1374 Hancock Street

President, JOHN C. A. FIELD
Vice President, RICHARD D. CHASE
Treasurer, CLARENCE BURGIN

BOARD OF INVESTMENT

JOHN C. A. FIELD, RICHARD D. CHASE
R. D. CHASE, CLARENCE BURGIN

BANK HOURS

Every Business Day except Saturdays
8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
Saturdays 9.30 A. M. to 12 M.

Deposits placed on interest on the
Tuesday of January, April, July and October
Connected by Telephone.

Quincy, March 22, 1912

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $2,500,000.00
Cash Assets, 175,000.00
Total Assets, 2,675,000.00

Amount of Cash Surplus, $101,246.98
Contingent Assets, 111,911.31
Total Available Assets, 213,158.29

Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies, 40 per cent; on three-year policies,
30 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, President.

THEODORE T. MARSH,
Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS:—Preston B. Mansfield, Fred
Barn, Frederick D. O'Brien, Samuel
Jennett, Milton; Charles M. Farnum, Boston;
James V. Noyes, Dedham; George W.
Burgin, Samuel L. Capen, Dedham; Andrew
P. Edgerton, Dedham; George L. Barnes,
Weymouth.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $2,500,000.00
Cash Assets, 175,000.00
Total Assets, 2,675,000.00

Amount of Cash Surplus, $101,246.98
Contingent Assets, 111,911.31
Total Available Assets, 213,158.29

Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies, 40 per cent; on three-year policies,
30 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, President.

THEODORE T. MARSH,
Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS:—Preston B. Mansfield, Fred
Barn, Frederick D. O'Brien, Samuel
Jennett, Milton; Charles M. Farnum, Boston;
James V. Noyes, Dedham; George W.
Burgin, Samuel L. Capen, Dedham; Andrew
P. Edgerton, Dedham; George L. Barnes,
Weymouth.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

DORCHESTER

Mutual Fire Insurance Company

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS
INCORPORATED 1855

HOME OFFICE, 11 CENTRAL STREET

Telephone, Main 1040.

William A. Muller, President
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer

DIRECTORS

Paul R. Blackmer, Attorney
Clarence Burgin, Treas. Quincy Savings Bank
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
T. J. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and
Ins. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower &
Company
Louis K. Ligeit, Pres. United Drug
Company
Wm. J. McGuffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas
G. Plant Co.
Edward C. Mason, Secretary and So-
licitor
William A. Muller, William A. Muller
& Company
Henry J. Nichols, Swift Interests
P. F. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Street
Railway Co.
John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Son
Benjamin F. Wild, Pres. Weymouth
Wild Coal Co.
Sarell J. Willis, Blue Hill National Bank
We reduce your Insurance Rate One
Fifth.

ORDER YOUR KINDLING WOOD NOW

We have it now: we shall be out of it very soon

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices:
Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester
160 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St. " 578 Haymarket

When U Want Plumbing and Heating Work Done

in any part of your home, store or factory, and want it done in first
class style.

SEND FOR US

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.

Sanitary Plumbing Heating
GAS FITTING
FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK
No. 5 Maple St.,
Quincy, Massachusetts

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue,
Neponset. Telephone
1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES

Charles F. Adams et al trs to Edward J. O'Brien et al, Narragansett road.

Francis Batchelder et al trs to Herbert T. Whitman tr.

Francis Batchelder et al trs to Winthrop Pattee.

Edward D. Conant to George A. Mc-Cormack, Broadway.

Eliza A. Curtis to Alice B. Curtis,
Franklin street.

Algot J. P. Dahlby to Karl A. Nylén et al, Alton road.

Climena H. Drake to Martha W. Bixby, Willard and Douglas streets.

Wilton A. Dunham to Thomas J.
Billings.

Catherine W. Flagg to Alice M. Kelley, Bayfield road, north.

Edwin O. W. Frost to May McLean,
Hudson Circle, Cummings avenue.

William H. Goudie to Jennie H.
Toomskoski, Pelican road.

John P. Granahan to James R.
Murphy, Lunt street.

Michael J. Hayes to Walter B.
Grant Tyler street.

Charles A. Jones to Alex M. Allison,
Edwin street.

Ida M. Keenan to Frank N. Younie, Center road.

Rose A. Kelly to Mary T. Kelly et al, Butler road and Hudson street.

Alice M. Kelley to Alfred E. Flagg et al, Bayfield road, north.

Francesco Luciano to John Luciano, Sumner street.

May McLean to Stephen H. Edwards,
Cummings avenue, Hamden Circle.

James R. Murphy to Michael G.
Coughlan, Hudson street.

James R. Murphy to John P. Grana-han, Lunt street.

James R. Murphy et al trs to Wilson A. Dunham.

John P. Granahan to Eric A. Martinson, Putnam street.

Winthrop Pattee to Herbert T. Whitman tr, Butler road.

Gerald J. Savage to James A. Fay,
Bayfield road, south.

Frances L. Schroeder to Harold F.
Winslow, Marlboro street.

Charles R. Sherman to Walter D.
Starbird, Hillside avenue.

Maurice P. Spillane adm. to Hancock Realty Co., Clay street.

William H. Stephens to Ella M.
Donovan, Charles street.

Floretta Vining to County Savings Bank, Washington street.

Carl L. Watson tr to Augustus P.
Lewis, Channing street.

Fred W. Wood et al trs to Maria R.
Jones, Hancock street.

Frank N. Younie to Margaret Younie, Center road.

THE SPIRITS DEALINGS

T. H. GILL

Sweet Spirit! would they breath divine
Or a void waste all fragrant bloom?
Bright Presence! would that fire of thine
All lonely in thy temple glow?

Thou dost not, sure, an empty heart
For thy dear dwelling-place desire;
To glorify thy holy art
Thou dost a peopled realm require.

Each mounting thought, each strong desire
Help on thy heavenly wings to rise
And light in hearts with love on fire
Thine own pure flame that never dies.

Oh, lend our hope's dim, dying light
The steadfast glory of thy flame,
And grant our joy, divinely bright,
The witness of thy smile to claim.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

THE SPIRITS DEALINGS

T. H. GILL

Sweet Spirit! would they breath divine
Or a void waste all fragrant bloom?
Bright Presence! would that fire of
thine
All lonely in thy temple glow?

Thou dost not, sure, an empty heart
For thy dear dwelling-place desire;
To glorify thy holy art
Thou dost a peopled realm require.

Each mounting thought, each strong
desire
Help on thy heavenly wings to rise
And light in hearts with love on fire
Thine own pure flame that never dies.

Oh, lend our hope's dim, dying light
The steadfast glory of thy flame,
And grant our joy, divinely bright,
The witness of thy smile to claim.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

Oh, breathe on them thy breath di-
vine
Oh, steep them in thy heavenly
glow
Nor let one smile unhalloved shine,
Nor let one tear unhalloved flow.

Take all this heart, its wealth, its
powers,
Its yearnings soft, its longings high
Its bleeding wounds, its golden hours,
And on them all thy sweet skill try.

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, November 27, 1915

ILLUSTRATED TRAVEL TALK

Mrs. Stanley Bone formerly of Quincy who is on east for a visit is to lecture for the benefit of the Quincy Women's Club School fund, at High School hall, this afternoon at half past two. Mrs. Bone has traveled extensively in the Great Northwest, spending last summer in travel and in camp. She collected some wonderfully beautiful slides which will illustrate her talk, the Canadian Rockies abounding in beautiful scenery.

The lecture cannot fail to be enjoyable, interesting and educational to young and old alike, so that club members who cannot attend, should arrive the planning to give their tickets to some school children that they may enjoy the afternoon.

Non-club members who would like to attend the lecture may obtain admission cards from any club member or from Mrs. W. S. Pinkham and Mrs. F. A. Page of Wollaston.

LIBRARY STORY HOUR

The November story hour, held in the children's room at the Public Library at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, was listened to by an appreciative audience of 35 and 64 grade Wollaston school children and others. In the absence of Miss Packard, who is attending the church in story telling given by Miss Sheldon of London, stories were told and read by Miss Whittemore and Miss Prout. The hour closed with a reading from "The Wonderful Adventures of Nils" by the Swedish author, Selma Lagerlof, given by the librarian, which ended at a most interesting point. The book was borrowed as soon as the story hour was over.

A little knot of children in a corner of the crowded West Quincy reading room had their story hour from Miss Gertrude Callahan. Miss Wainwright's assistant, at 4 o'clock last Friday afternoon. Thanksgiving stories were given and then the children retold them to the storyteller, thus practicing to tell them in school.

The story hour was instituted in the children's room when it opened in 1908, and has been a frequent adjunct of library work in this room, it being now generally recognized everywhere as a valuable means of introducing children to the best in literature.

HENDERSON-NELSON

Miss Nellie E. Nelson of Quincy, daughter of Mrs. Tilda Nelson, was married Wednesday evening at the home of her uncle, Nels A. F. Nelson, 5 Nelson street, East Braintree, to Henry G. Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson of Dorchester.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Leander Hakanson, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church of Quincy. Old country style was followed, the bride procession being led by two bridesmaids, the groom's attendant, the maid of honor and the bride, the latter leading in the train of her bridesmaids. The maid of honor was Miss Christina Nelson, a sister of the bride. The groomsmen were J. Martin Henderson of Dorchester, a brother of the groom.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white silk trimmed with shadow lace and carried a bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor was also gowned in white silk.

The bridesmaids were Miss Selma Nelson, of South Weymouth, in gown of white embroidery; Miss Lillian Mortenson of West Somerville, cream-colored silk; Miss Sadie C. Nelson of East Braintree, blue silk and Miss Ellen Skoglund of Weymouth, pink silk.

The ushers were Nels Edward Nelson, East Braintree, Rev. Henderson, Dorchester, Arvid R. Nelson, East Braintree and John Skoglund, Quincy.

The groom's gift to his bride was a gold wrist watch. The house was prettily decorated in white, blue and yellow with potted plants and flowers, and the bride party stood in a bow of green.

Guests were present from Dorchester, Quincy, Braintree, Weymouth, Brookline, Somerville, Everett and Boston. After the ceremony an elaborate supper was served, followed by musical selections by the couple. The party at ten o'clock for a short trip. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Henderson will reside at 264 Centre street, Dorchester, where they will be at home to their friends after Jan. 1st.

DELTA SIGMA CLUB DANCE

Former members of the Delta Sigma Club and their friends were the guests of the club at a dancing party in the Wollaston bungalow on Thanksgiving eve. The affair was one of the prettiest of the season.

The chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Brigham, Mr. and Mrs. Green and Mr. and Mrs. Gorcham Nickerlson. The program was a most entertaining one with dancing the main feature. Those who did not dance tasted marshmallows and popped corn while the burning log kept the fire place, or played bridge whist. Refreshments were served on the lower floor of the bungalow.

The club was organized a few years ago by high school girls who have continued the organization since their graduation. Matrimony and removals from the city have caused somewhat of a change in the membership. The former members were warmly received.

Those in charge of the party were the Misses Dorothy Packard, Nettie Pote, Juanita Metcalf, Edna Rhodes, Edna Thomas, Daisy Brooks, Lila Briggs, Louise Pratt, Elizabeth Torrey, and J. Eleanor Whittemore.

TROOP Q BOY SCOUTS

Dr. Porter W. Pratt gave the second of his interesting series of talks on "First Aid to Boy Scouts of Troop Q" Quincy, Wednesday evening in Christ church parish house.

These talks will be continued on Wednesday evening next week, subject "Correct Bandaging". Scoutmaster D. McKellar requests that all members of Troop Q report promptly at 7.30 in uniform.

Through the efforts of Congressman Richard Olney 2nd and the Naval Department a place had at the disposal of Troop 2, a 30 foot gig whaleboat for practice in life saving and seamanship. The boat is at present undergoing repairs at the Charlestown Navy Yard and is expected in Quincy in a few days.

BRIEFS

The new seven-room house on Hanna street is being erected by Andrew Odum.

The Charles Sampsons are settled in their attractive new home on Avon way, Presidents hill.

Yarmouth, Maine, spent the holidays with relatives in Quincy.

Miss Helen Bishop of Wellesley college was at her home on Elm street over the holiday.

Team No. 15 of Bethany Union is to present in Alpha hall next Monday night "Teddy, or the Runaway" under the direction of Mrs. A. L. Hayden.

The class of 1910 of the Woodward Institute will hold a reunion at Woodward hall, Friday evening, Dec. 3, at 8 o'clock.

Miss Ellen Dalton and Miss Catherine Connolly of Holbrook were the holiday guests of Mrs. Margaret Burke of Hancock court.

The John Adams commandery, number 365, Knights of Malta will hold a dance in Colonial hall Tuesday evening, November 30.

Two candidates were initiated to membership in Quincy Loyal Orange Lodge on Tuesday evening at the regular meeting in Protection hall.

Benjamin Johnson, a student at Munson academy, is the week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Johnson, his parents, at Adams shore.

Harry Hill of the pharmacy of C. C. Hearn is ill at his home and his condition is uncertain. He is suffering from ptomaine poisoning and is threatened with typhoid fever.

Mrs. Zenas S. Arnold left Quincy morning for Washington, D. C., to visit her son John Arnold and will enjoy Thanksgiving with both of her sons, as Alan Arnold is located nearby in Baltimore.

Mrs. Nils Malmstrom of Upland road was the winner of the second prize for the best costume at a bazaar held by the Knights of Malta of Boston in that city Thanksgiving eve.

The sudden appearance of thirty friends of Miss Vera Bergfors at her home 120 Upland road was the first intimation that popular young woman had of the party planned for her Thanksgiving eve.

At the Cranch school Parents-Teachers Association Tuesday evening Mr. Gibson, secretary of the boys department of the Massachusetts Y. M. C. A. was the speaker and Miss Nora Readson was soloist.

Patrick Ward, a well known teacher, took Anne Grace Jones of 272 Granite street as his bride on Wednesday, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Ward are to live in Quincy.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory L. Crane of Whitney road entertained their two sons over the holidays. Donald is connected with a business house at Keene, N. H., and Richard, the younger son, is a student at Harvard.

Dr. James McTiernan of New York, formerly of this city, motored to Quincy to pass the holiday. With him as passengers were William Smith and Leo Kenney of Quincy. Mr. McTiernan has been here the past week.

Among the new Bay State concerns to become incorporated is the "Ben Craig Players Co. of Boston. Ellen M. Craig, Benjamin W. Craig and William DeWolfe. Capitalization $25,000. This company is under engagement at the Kincaide theatre.

A sentence of 10 days and a fine of $50 was meted out to George W. Mott of North Weymouth, in court Monday on a charge of operating an auto while under the influence of liquor. A continuance was granted so he could arrange for bond and appeal his case.

The recently organized "Lucky Seven" club of West Quincy proved their right to their name at their first dance held in Italian M. S. hall on Water street, Wednesday evening, by the success of the affair. Over fifty couples enjoyed dancing. The company included an automobile party of twelve from Milford.

Rev. Robert Atkinson of Haverhill, will be the preacher at the services at the Bethany Congregational church on Sunday evening. Mr. Atkinson is a graduate of Edinburgh University and was a classmate of J. M. Barrie, the author. While in Quincy he will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald of Park Lane.

A special Thanksgiving service was held at 9 o'clock Thanksgiving morning at Christ church. There was a very large congregation present. Rev. William Granger, the pastor, presided over the service and preached the sermon, his text being, "Thou shalt know the Lord thy God, for it is He that giveth thee power to get wealth."

Fletcher Osgood of Chelsea is organizing Quincy for the Prohibition party. Mr. Osgood is one of the best known men in the state. Years ago Mr. Osgood was among the earliest to take up the fight for Prohibition.

The Puritan Whist club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wardwell on Freeman street. The souvenir for ladies was taken by Mrs. Bancroft and for men by Mr. Wardwell. Mr. Stockford was awarded a booby. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable evening was passed.

The Union Thanksgiving day service of the Wollaston churches was held late Thursday afternoon in the Wollaston Methodist church and was attended in charge of Rev. George M. Bailey of the Methodist church and opened with a hymn. Rev. Carl G. Horst of the Unitarian church read Thanksgiving proclamation and Raymond Cassidy sang "Calvary." Mrs. F. G. Bennett was the organist.

Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, Ph. D., of the Congregational church read scriptural selections from the gospel of Matthew and Rev. Joseph Walther of the Baptist church read a prayer by Rev. Newton F. Sundstrom, whose subject was "Ingratitude." During the service Rev. Mr. Dahlen and Mrs. Anna B. Sutherland sang solos and there was a duet by Rev. Mr. Dahlen and John Herbert.

A large plan showing the proposed model city of 1920 for which it is proposed to expend from one hundred and fifty to two hundred millions of dollars is on exhibition in the window of Frank Pessenden Crane on Temple street. The plan is of local interest inasmuch as Quincy is in the section within which it is proposed to build the city. The Commission appointed to consider the matter are George Von L. Meyer, Ralph Adams Evans, Sherman, and Albert E. Dunlap. The plan is of local interest inasmuch as Quincy is in the section within which it is proposed to build the city. The Commission appointed to consider the matter are George Von L. Meyer, Ralph Adams Evans, Sherman, and Albert E. Dunlap.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

BRIEFS

Mrs. George H. Wilson with a party of friends attended the annual reception and dinner of the Society of Mayflower Descendants at the Copley Plaza Boston, on Tuesday evening.

Carl F. Prescott who went to California a few months ago by way of the Panama canal and has been spending some weeks in San Francisco, and at the Exposition, is now located for a while at the home of his parents, Carl and Mrs. B. Prescott, at Coacella, Cal.

Alexander Nugent, for many years janitor in charge of the grounds about the Thomas Crane Public Library, passed away Friday aged about 78 years, his death being due to a general breaking up. Mr. Nugent was taken ill two days ago and failed to rally. Funeral services will be held from the residence of Henry Allen 101 Adams street, Monday and will be followed by a high mass of requiem at St. John's church at 9 o'clock.

A donation meeting was held Thanksgiving evening at the Swedish Congregational church, for the benefit of the church. Each member attending was expected to contribute a day's wages toward the church. As a result of the meeting the sum of $144 was collected. The program included an address by John Anderson, chairman of the trustees and Rev. A. G. Sporrang. There was music by the choir. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

WEST QUINCY

Miss Helen M. Hastings of 17 Hill street, a popular West Quincy young lady, became the bride of Sidney M. Patterson, the well known ball player yesterday. The ceremony was performed by Emory L. Crane, City clerk in the office of Mayor Campbell. The couple are on a wedding trip and will make their home in Quincy. Their South Quincy friends have planned a reception for them.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Carroll, wife of Patrick Carroll, was held Wednesday from her home on Morton street. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Mary's church by Fr. James J. Mooney and burial was in St. Mary's cemetery. Mrs. Carroll leaves her husband and three sons, Dennis Connors, Ex-councilman James M. Flaherty, Quincy Flaherty and Edward Flaherty, a metropolitan park police officer. Many associates of the latter attended the funeral.

Matthew Sheahan of Ward Four Wednesday filed independent papers and will be in the councilman fight on city election day.

Ernest Bizzozero was the winner of the weekly whist party of Ave Maria council, K. C. in their club rooms on Copeland street Tuesday evening. H. A. Pines is erecting an artificial stone garage in the rear of his home on 64 Cross street. A concrete driveway will lead into it.

QUINCY POINT

Frank Smith 286 Washington street, left Monday for Machias, Me., for an extended visit with relatives. Alexander A. Pitts, for many years a resident of Quincy Point and the father of a large family of popular young men and women, died Sunday after a short illness. His funeral was held on Tuesday morning with a high mass of requiem at St. John's church. Mr. Pitts was stricken Thursday. Mrs. Hattie Regan a daughter was on her wedding trip with her husband, when a telegram informed her of the condition of her father and returned Friday. He lived on Mill street. He leaves a wife, Louise Pitts and family.

A score of friends were invited to a birthday party given by Thomas Reid at his home on 62 Arnold street Wednesday evening in celebration of his twenty-first anniversary.

William Reid, 467 Washington street and Helen L. Wood of Boston were married at Boston on Nov. 21. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John A. Donnelly. The groom is a salesman.

Miss Mary D. White of Randolph dated Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Mark T. White of Mill street was married Wednesday evening to Daniel H. Kenney Jr. of Quincy, in St. Mary's parish residence by Rev. Fr. William T. Deasey. The bridesmaid was Miss Marjorie Sullivan of Randolph.

The bride was Joseph A. Kenney, brother of the groom, a graduate of Edinburgh University and was a classmate of J. M. Barrie, the author. While in Quincy he will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald of Park Lane.

A special Thanksgiving service was held at 9 o'clock Thanksgiving morning at Christ church. There was a very large congregation present. Rev. William Granger, the pastor, presided over the service and preached the sermon, his text being, "Thou shalt know the Lord thy God, for it is He that giveth thee power to get wealth."

Fletcher Osgood of Chelsea is organizing Quincy for the Prohibition party. Mr. Osgood is one of the best known men in the state. Years ago Mr. Osgood was among the earliest to take up the fight for Prohibition.

The Puritan Whist club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wardwell on Freeman street. The souvenir for ladies was taken by Mrs. Bancroft and for men by Mr. Wardwell. Mr. Stockford was awarded a booby. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable evening was passed.

The Union Thanksgiving day service of the Wollaston churches was held late Thursday afternoon in the Wollaston Methodist church and was attended in charge of Rev. George M. Bailey of the Methodist church and opened with a hymn. Rev. Carl G. Horst of the Unitarian church read Thanksgiving proclamation and Raymond Cassidy sang "Calvary." Mrs. F. G. Bennett was the organist.

Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, Ph. D., of the Congregational church read scriptural selections from the gospel of Matthew and Rev. Joseph Walther of the Baptist church read a prayer by Rev. Newton F. Sundstrom, whose subject was "Ingratitude." During the service Rev. Mr. Dahlen and Mrs. Anna B. Sutherland sang solos and there was a duet by Rev. Mr. Dahlen and John Herbert.

A large plan showing the proposed model city of 1920 for which it is proposed to expend from one hundred and fifty to two hundred millions of dollars is on exhibition in the window of Frank Pessenden Crane on Temple street. The plan is of local interest inasmuch as Quincy is in the section within which it is proposed to build the city. The Commission appointed to consider the matter are George Von L. Meyer, Ralph Adams Evans, Sherman, and Albert E. Dunlap. The plan is of local interest inasmuch as Quincy is in the section within which it is proposed to build the city. The Commission appointed to consider the matter are George Von L. Meyer, Ralph Adams Evans, Sherman, and Albert E. Dunlap.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

The citizens of Quincy are to be congratulated on the success of their campaign for the election of a new city government. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st. The new city government will be organized on January 1st.

SOUTH QUINCY

Joseph Titus returned to New Braintree Wednesday after spending a week with his sons Harry W. and Horace G. Titus of Kendrick avenue.

Rev. A. C. Williamson is to preach at the First United Presbyterian church Sunday at both morning and evening services. Mr. Williamson is an eloquent and forcible speaker and will have a message for the people of Quincy.

The grade crossing at the Quincy Adams station is being improved and concrete poured between the rails.

The Rev. Thomas P. Evans of the Calvary Baptist church occupied the pulpit at the Union Thanksgiving service of the United Presbyterian, Calvary Baptist and First Presbyterian churches in the First Presbyterian church Thanksgiving evening. The seating room was taxed to capacity.

Miss Mildred Matthews of 138 Franklin street, Quincy was probably seriously injured at Dorchester on Thanksgiving afternoon when the auto in which she was a passenger was wrecked in a collision with a car.

Charles H. Spear of 77 Franklin street, who has been in the hospital for five weeks returned to his home Wednesday. Mr. Spear underwent two surgical operations while at the hospital and is now convalescing.

M. Lozwick, the eastern champion roller skater, was the special guest at a dinner served by Sidney Litchman at his home on Water street Thanksgiving evening to a party of friends. Mr. Lozwick is a resident of Newark, N. J.

Mrs. Ellason and children of Vermont is visiting her sister, Mrs. G. Bergfors of Pleasant street. They expect to start for Texas the middle of next week.

ATLANTIC

Miss Katharine Hull is spending a few days with her parents in Providence, R. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Cade Palmer and daughter have moved from Madison street to Walker place.

The willow tree in the yard of Mr. Goettey which has been a mark of beauty to the street for so many years, died last week.

John Fuller and family were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Duesbury of Providence, R. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Wragg of Boston street entertained over the holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Wragg and daughter of Needham also the Misses Finnegan of Fitchburg.

The school-day social given by the Christ Episcopal Society of Men and Women, was held at the vestry Saturday evening was a huge success. Over fifty of the younger set of Atlantic, all in costume, enjoyed the evening playing games and singing. A luncheon consisting of cocoa, candy, and cookies was served. The social was in charge of Miss Ruth B. Fuller, chairman of the social committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. S. Stitt of Pawtucket, R. I., are spending the week with Mrs. Stitt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Abbott of Ocean street.

The first entertainment of the Star course in Memorial church will be given Monday evening, by the Lotus quartet of Boston.

The marriage of Miss Helen Frances Golden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Golden of 75 Squantum street, Atlantic and Mr. Henry Louis Moore, also of Atlantic took place at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the rectory of the Sacred Heart church, Atlantic.

Rev. John P. Coffey, the pastor, officiating. Miss Alice Josephine Golden and Mr. Frank Joseph Golden, sister and brother of the bride were the attendants. The bride wore a brown travelling suit with brown picture hat to match and carried chrysanthemums.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside at 162 Arnold street. Over sixty friends and relatives were present with congratulations and many pretty and useful gifts, among them a beautiful three-stoned gold ring from his mother.

The marriage of Miss Helen Frances Golden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Golden of 75 Squantum street, Atlantic and Mr. Henry Louis Moore, also of Atlantic took place at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the rectory of the Sacred Heart church, Atlantic.

Rev. John P. Coffey, the pastor, officiating. Miss Alice Josephine Golden and Mr. Frank Joseph Golden, sister and brother of the bride were the attendants. The bride wore a brown travelling suit with brown picture hat to match and carried chrysanthemums.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside at 162 Arnold street. Over sixty friends and relatives were present with congratulations and many pretty and useful gifts, among them a beautiful three-stoned gold ring from his mother.

The marriage of Miss Helen Frances Golden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Golden of 75 Squantum street, Atlantic and Mr. Henry Louis Moore, also of Atlantic took place at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the rectory of the Sacred Heart church, Atlantic.

Rev. John P. Coffey, the pastor, officiating. Miss Alice Josephine Golden and Mr. Frank Joseph Golden, sister and brother of the bride were the attendants. The bride wore a brown travelling suit with brown picture hat to match and carried chrysanthemums.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside at 162 Arnold street. Over sixty friends and relatives were present with congratulations and many pretty and useful gifts, among them a beautiful three-stoned gold ring from his mother.

The marriage of Miss Helen Frances Golden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Golden of 75 Squantum street, Atlantic and Mr. Henry Louis Moore, also of Atlantic took place at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the rectory of the Sacred Heart church, Atlantic.

Rev. John P. Coffey, the pastor, officiating. Miss Alice Josephine Golden and Mr. Frank Joseph Golden, sister and brother of the bride were the attendants. The bride wore a brown travelling suit with brown picture hat to match and carried chrysanthemums.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside at 162 Arnold street. Over sixty friends and relatives were present with congratulations and many pretty and useful gifts, among them a beautiful three-stoned gold ring from his mother.

The marriage of Miss Helen Frances Golden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Golden of 75 Squantum street, Atlantic and Mr. Henry Louis Moore, also of Atlantic took place at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the rectory of the Sacred Heart church, Atlantic.

Rev. John P. Coffey, the pastor, officiating. Miss Alice Josephine Golden and Mr. Frank Joseph Golden, sister and brother of the bride were the attendants. The bride wore a brown travelling suit with brown picture hat to match and carried chrysanthemums.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside at 162 Arnold street. Over sixty friends and relatives were present with congratulations and many pretty and useful gifts, among them a beautiful three-stoned gold ring from his mother.

The marriage of Miss Helen Frances Golden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Golden of 75 Squantum street, Atlantic and Mr. Henry Louis Moore, also of Atlantic took place at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the rectory of the Sacred Heart church, Atlantic.

Rev. John P. Coffey, the pastor, officiating. Miss Alice Josephine Golden and Mr. Frank Joseph Golden, sister and brother of the bride were the attendants. The bride wore a brown travelling suit with brown picture hat to match and carried chrysanthemums.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside at 162 Arnold street. Over sixty friends and relatives were present with congratulations and many pretty and useful gifts, among them a beautiful three-stoned gold ring from his mother.

The marriage of Miss Helen Frances Golden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Golden of 75 Squantum street, Atlantic and Mr. Henry Louis Moore, also of Atlantic took place at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the rectory of the Sacred Heart church, Atlantic.

Rev. John P. Coffey, the pastor, officiating. Miss Alice Josephine Golden and Mr.

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, November 27, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thurs	Fri	Sat
ALMANAC	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48
Sat. Nov. 27	4.45	4.15	4.00	3.50	3.40	3.30	3.20
Sunday	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48
Tuesday	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48
Wed. Dec. 1	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48
Thurs.	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48
Fri.	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48
Sat.	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48	22.48
Last Quarter Nov. 25, 25.40 A. M.

SATURDAY NIGHT BANKING

No service inaugurated recently will be more appreciated by our merchants than the Saturday night opening of the banks, the National Mutual Wollaston Bank and the Granite Trust Company having established regular hours for Saturday evenings.

Saturday is the big day of all the week for business and with the banks closed Saturday afternoons the merchants after a big day's business often find themselves with more cash on hand than they care to have in their safes or carry away on their person. With the banks open Saturday night only a few minutes time is required to make a deposit where there is no doubt of its safety. Also merchants are often handicapped for small bills and change, so that in every way it was out for the benefit of the storekeeper.

It means expense and extra work for the banks but it is a service that is far reaching in its benefit and sure to react for the mutual good of both bank and merchant.

ANNUAL MASQUERADE

In keeping with the custom established some years ago the Loyal Ladies of Clan MacGregor held their annual masquerade in Music Hall on Thanksgiving eve. The affair was the eighteenth conducted by the organization and the attendance was very large.

A promenade concert was furnished by the Granite City orchestra, which furnished music for the dancing, from eight to nine o'clock. Dancing continued until two o'clock, with a supper at intermission, served by C. C. Whitmore.

Major Campbell was chairman of the board of judges, which consisted of Emory L. Crane, city clerk; Mrs. John D. Mackay, Mrs. John R. Richards and Ex-Rep. Michael T. Sullivan. They arrived at a decision as to prize winners with the greatest difficulty.

The candidates were inspected during the grand march which was given by Mrs. Mayne J. Campbell, floor dresser, and Ernest Willis of Braintree. Nearly 100 couples were in line. The costumes represented every character portrayed on the stage in addition to men and women who wore the military and naval uniforms. There were several Red Cross nursing girls and two Turkish dancing girls. All who were costumed did not compete for the prizes.

Miss Elizabeth Grassick was awarded the prize for the handsomest woman's costume. She was dressed as a cavalier, in yellow and trimmed with velvet with a cape. Ernest C. Woodsum, who wore a blue court dress was given the gentleman's prize.

The prize for the most comical woman was awarded to Mrs. Margaret McLeod. She was dressed as an old maid and wore a false face. George R. Bichay was declared the most comical man. He was made up as a minstrel and his appearance and actions were worthy a "big time" professional.

Miss W. L. Newall was the most original woman. She wore a costume made up of flags signed to those given by the Red Cross and a popular brand of socks a few years ago.

The most original gent was William Moore who impersonated a fisherman. He wore a rubber suit and a sou'wester. His square trimmed white beard completed the makeup.

Miss Mayne Campbell announced the names of the judges and presented the prizes. The applause indicated that the present approved the selection.

The affair was in charge of a large committee. Mrs. Margaret Ross was president. Mrs. Margaret Ross, Mrs. Belle Grassick, Mrs. Margaret Munde, Mrs. Margaret Hall, Mrs. Mary A. Cowe, Mrs. Katherine E. Williams, Mrs. Henrietta Ross, Mrs. Margaret Allen, Mrs. Christine McLennan, Miss Elizabeth S. Grassick.

Miss Mayne J. Campbell was floor dresser, Miss Margaret E. McLeod was assistant and the aids were Miss M. Belle Stronach, Miss Mary Summers, Miss Anna MacLeod, Miss Eliza Ross, Miss Lilian Mutch, Miss Elizabeth McLeay.

AT CITY INSTITUTIONS

Thanksgiving at the public institutions of the city was observed in much the same manner as in other years. At the City Hospital the usual visiting privileges were allowed and many who had relatives or friends at the hospital called during the day to cheer them up. Flowers in the various wards added to the effectiveness and all patients were made as far as possible to forget their illness. A Thanksgiving dinner was served at noon to all whose condition was such as to permit, and many patients enjoyed dainties brought by relatives and friends.

At the National Sailors' Home in Wollaston everything but necessary work was omitted and the old sailors gave up the day to enjoyment. Among a genuine old fashioned Thanksgiving dinner was served with all the fixings, after which the sailors gathered in the lounge room and swapped stories of the stirring times when they manned Uncle Sam's war vessels.

At Sailors' Sun Harbor the pensioners enjoyed their usual Thanksgiving dinner and as at the National Home nothing but necessary work was done. During the middle of the day a number of the old sailors gathered on the shore front of Town River and talked over the days of old. Others gathered in the lounge room and played games of various kinds.

At the Quincy Home all unnecessary work was suspended and at noon the pensioners were served with a Thanksgiving dinner with all that goes to make a good meal. After the dinner every one was made to feel that they were at home and that the day was theirs. After dinner they gathered in the lounge room and about the grounds and passed the remainder of the day as each individual taste dictated.

LAND FOR CHURCH

A large tract of land, adjoining the Aughton Hough school property at Aughton Neck and fronting on Sea and Darrow street has been purchased by Cardinal O'Reilly and will be used in the future as the site for a new church to be erected for the parish of the Most Blessed Sacrament. The area contains nearly 100,000 square feet and is one of the most desirable pieces of property at the parish.

The Houghs Neck district in winter has nearly 600 Catholic families and in the summer the population swells to such numbers that four masses are necessary to accommodate them and the present edifice being often overcrowded.

Fr. Mark E. Madden, the first pastor appointed shortly after the district was set apart from St. John's parish is faithfully devoting himself to the needs of the parish. He is very popular throughout the diocese, having been attached to St. Thomas parish at Jamaica Plain for 17 years before his appointment. Many of the summer colonists are from Jamaica Plain.

NAOMI CLUB

The Naomi Girls club held a meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Carl Gustafson of Rock View road.

During the evening there were readings by Rev. A. G. Sporrung and organ solos by Carl Gustafson.

At the business meeting, held the latter part of the evening, two new members were voted in. A committee to purchase of suitable pins for the Rev. Sporrung extended an invitation from the boy's club, to be present at their meeting Monday night, which was accepted.

TOWN RIVER YACHT CLUB

Although the Town River Yacht club is the baby organization of its kind in Eastern Massachusetts, no club has achieved more in the short time it has been in existence. Situated on the banks of the river of the same name it has the club house, and numbered among its 115 members are some of the most active residents of Quincy Point and of the city.

The club was incorporated on Oct. 13, 1911. Its anniversary observance is usually a quiet one but as each year rolls by the club gains in membership so that it is reasonable to believe that the fifth anniversary will be memorialized with one of the grand good times for which the club is famous. All members eagerly fulfill their obligations and give any new departure which will add to the pleasure of the association a most earnest consideration.

That attitude became evident in a most striking manner a short time ago when it was decided that the club house was too small. With the customary aggressiveness of a flourishing organization it was voted to make improvements.

Workmen are now attending to the little details, having completed an addition of 14 feet, by 32 feet. More decks and a ladies' retiring room are being installed and two pool tables have been set up and are in full swing. The improvements will be completed when the interior is renovated and newly painted.

The club took possession of its present quarters soon after it became permanent organization. In less than 14 months after a mortgage of $1500 was paid off, and the members with remarkable foresight planned for the future by securing title to a large tract of land adjoining the Ward two playgrounds where it is hoped a new club house will be erected some day which it is intended.

Considerable of the success attained is due to the aggressiveness of its board of officers. George F. Thompson, Ex-Mayor Eugene R. Stone, Thompson B. Crane and James R. Mellen are past commodores, while Joseph Carruthers is now "its little admiral." Allan MacGoehle is vice commodore, George H. Jacques, treasurer and W. C. Lathier is secretary. T. W. Newcomb, H. R. Holmes and J. Caldwell constitute the executive committee.

But little agitation preceded the organization of the club. From the time it was first proposed it seemed to be just the thing and when the interested parties gathered at the home of R. Mellen on Bay View street on "ug. 11, 1911, the preliminary arrangements were concluded without delay. The first officers were temporary and consisted of G. F. Thompson, president, H. R. Holmes, secretary and Arthur Richardson, treasurer.

The honor of announcing the purpose of the organization fell to J. D. "Bride" which the ideas which inspire members to never and greater compliments. Mr. McBride stated it evening that it was to be "An organization formed for the furtherance of all branches of aquatic sports in the vicinity by procuring a suitable clubhouse and float, so situated on Town River that the members can arrive and depart from it at any stage of the tide, the membership to be recruited from the now numerous yacht club boat, row boat and canoe owners of Quincy Point, and all others who are interested in the promotion of such a club."

The permanent organization was effected on Aug. 20, 1911, and Hon. Eugene R. Stone was elected the first commodore. There were 71 members who signed the roll.

Two weeks after the preliminary meeting, an illumination was held under club auspices. It was a thing of beauty and the impression was that it still remains a pleasant memory. The affair has been held at regular intervals and all have been successful, socially and financially.

Probably none however will equal the banquet of Oct. 29, 1912 when the $1000 mortgage was burned up. The cheers which burst forth as the tiny smoke clouds wreathed about the plate were joined by the flames which happily consumed the paper on which the discharge was written will long be remembered.

A good sized fleet is attached to the club, and exciting contests take place each Independence Day, the main event being the race for the perpetual trophy given by Mrs. Carolyn G. Mellen. The trophy is a silver cup and is held by the winner.

This year the club members took a prominent part in the independent July 4th celebration, joining in the preparations for it and generally assisting in carrying out the program of the best celebration ever held in Quincy.

CLUB MUSICALS

The musicals of the Quincy Women's club at Music Hall Tuesday afternoon, arranged by Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt, chairman of the Music Committee, were most enjoyable.

The Eichheim Orchestral club gave an artistic rendering of all their selections, their ensemble work being particularly fine. Their clear notes of the flute in the runs and trills, blending charmingly with the singing tone of the violin and the richness and depth of the cello and bass.

Mr. Eichheim violinist, gave the tender "Liebeslied" of Kreisler and the spirited "Danish Dance" of Sarasate. The latter was played with beautiful tone and expression.

Mr. Charles, pianist, showed the versatility of his talent in the three strikingly different selections the graceful rhythm and dainty execution of the "Pierrot," and the astonishingly delicate and rapid execution of the "Pavane" by Chopin.

Miss Margaret Louder Shepherd has been heard here before, and she again delighted her audience with her wonderful range and beauty of her voice, the expression and dramatic interpretation of her songs.

Mrs. Hunt, whose efficient and sympathetic work is well known, was her accompanist.

Q. H. S. SCHOOL LETTERS

The school letters and track team numerals have been awarded to the High school pupils who participated in football and athletics the past season.

The school letters were awarded to the following members of the first football team: Asklund, Muller, Nix, Hatt, Likander, Asklund, Muller, Nix, On, Beaton, Mahoney, Jenkins, Densen, Higgins, Sandblom, McNamara, Bryan, Fostello and Winslow.

The second team members to receive school letters are Reynolds, Grady, Robinson, McCormick, Walker, Morris, McMahon, Isaacson, LeCain, Barron, Williams, Hayes, Peterson, Ferrazzi.

The track numerals were won in the handicap meet of Tuesday, a branch of sport which promises to flourish under the direction of Mr. Thompson of the faculty. Those who will receive them are Sears '17; Batts '19; McNeil '19; Denney '16; Blake '18; Ahlstrom '19; Malanti '17; Lindsay '19; Melville '17; Keyes '17; Caniff '18; Ripley '19; Carlson '19.

Harry, Robinson, McCormick, Walker, Morris, McMahon, Isaacson, LeCain, Barron, Williams, Hayes, Peterson, Ferrazzi.

The track numerals were won in the handicap meet of Tuesday, a branch of sport which promises to flourish under the direction of Mr. Thompson of the faculty. Those who will receive them are Sears '17; Batts '19; McNeil '19; Denney '16; Blake '18; Ahlstrom '19; Malanti '17; Lindsay '19; Melville '17; Keyes '17; Caniff '18; Ripley '19; Carlson '19.

COMPLETES TRIALS

The arrival of the British submarine H-20 at her dock Tuesday morning, marked the successful completion of the trials of the ten H-boats building at the shipyard. All work has been done on five of the ten ships and they have been accepted by the navy. The other five are being completed and will be delivered to the navy by the end of the month.

The trials of the H-boats were conducted by the navy and the results were most satisfactory. The H-boats were found to be well adapted for service and the trials were a success.

KEEPING THE HELP

Mrs. Trowbridge Callaway, who lived in the tenement, called and pulled out a butter who had been living in the tenement for some time. She may have been desperately in need of a butter—Louisville Courier-Journal.

RURAL LODGE

The newly elected and appointive officers of Rural Lodge No. 10 were inducted into office Tuesday evening, in the presence of a large gathering of brothers and their ladies. The work of installation was by District Deputy Grand Master, Gardner R. P. Barker of East Weymouth assisted by Rev. Charles W. Dunbar, as Deputy Grand Marshal.

The installation ceremony, always a beautiful one, was rendered in an exceptionally impressive manner by the grand officers. The musical numbers during the ceremony were by the Weber quartette, who rendered "Perfection Day" at the close of the ceremony.

The presence of the grand officers, in the anti-room was announced shortly after 8 o'clock, and they were escorted to the lodge room by a committee composed of Bros. Walter E. Simmons, Jonathan S. Swingle, Alexander F. Finkler and George W. Abele.

The elective and appointive officers installed were as follows:

Worshipful Master—Frederick E. Tupper.

Senior Warden—Henry P. Hayward.

Junior Warden—Edward R. Marsh.

Treasurer—Alexander Falconer.

Secretary—Walter E. Simmons.

Chaplain—Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson.

Marshal—James F. Young.

Senior Deacon—Walter E. Piper.

Junior Deacon—Albert E. Sargent.

Senior Steward—Samuel T. MacQuarrie.

Junior Steward—Carlton C. Lane.

Organist—Charles Barron.

Sentinel—William Patterson.

Tyler—Arthur Crowley.

In connection with the installation it is interesting to note that it was the thirty-second consecutive term in which Bro. Walter E. Simmons has been installed as Secretary of the lodge, and he was accorded the unusual honor of being escorted to his station by the District Deputy, who incidentally remarked "That Masters may come and Masters may go, but the Secretary stays on forever."

At the close of the installation, H. Everett Crane, the retiring Master, who has served for two years was presented with a Past Master's apron, the presentation being made in behalf of the lodge by the District Deputy, who took occasion to extend the greetings of the grand lodge, and to express his appreciation of the work of the retiring Master.

Wor. Crane responded in a feeling manner thanking the officers and members for their co-operation during his term of office and bespeaking the same co-operation for the new master.

The desks of the Master and Warden were decorated with handsome bouquets of cardinal chrysanthemums, and as they were about to retire, Wor. Tupper presented one of the bouquets to the deputy and one to his marshal, the third was later presented to Mrs. Tupper.

During the social hour which followed the ceremony a banquet was served in the dining hall by Westcott & Foss, following which by Bro. Barron at the piano, the lodge chorists rendered a number of the vocal selections that have been so popular during the past year.

THE WOMEN'S CLUBS

A regular meeting of the Riverside club is to be held next Wednesday at the home of its president Mrs. Mary E. Spooner, 64 River road. Other meetings of the month are, a fair at Wistaria Bungalow Dec. 8 and a business meeting with the president, Dec. 22.

Whatever Circle of King's Daughters is to have a food sale Saturday, Dec. 4 at Gray's store on Newport street.

There is a little pause in the regular club meetings until after the first of the month owing to the Thanksgiving holiday with its season of visits and entertaining.

Wollaston Auxiliary Woman's Board of Missions meets next Wednesday at half past two. Chapter 2, Beginnings in India, of the Kings Highway Chapter, will be taken up by Mrs. H. M. Dickerson, and current events by Mrs. I. F. Besse.

Miss Mary L. Daniels is to be the speaker at the monthly meeting of Bethany Women's Union on Wednesday, Dec. 1st. Mrs. Mary A. Miller will have charge of the devotions and there will be a recitation by Miss Dorothy Colby.

Wollaston Alliance is to have an all day sewing meeting next Wednesday followed in the afternoon by a business session. The sale is to be held Dec. 15.

Mrs. Stanley Bone a former member of the Quincy Women's Club who is east on a visit has consented to give a lecture on "The Canadian Rockies and Jasper Park," for the benefit of the Quincy Women's club school nurse fund. The lecture will be given in High School hall, this afternoon at half past two, and will be illustrated by beautiful stereoscopic views.

The New England Woman's Press Association is giving a breakfast Tuesday, Nov. 30, at Hotel Somerset, Boston, in honor of Miss Zona Gale.

The Friday club meets next week with Mrs. Eugene R. Atwood of Putnam street for the study of Richard Second under the leadership of Mrs. Ernest Cockayne.

The Wollaston Women's club after a busy week with a regular meeting Tuesday evening, will have three more successful evenings of "F. I. F." in having a regular meeting the next meeting on Dec. 7.

Because of the holiday this week St. Chrysostom's Woman's Guild did not meet Tuesday evening. The meeting will be held Monday, Nov. 29 at half past two.

The Quincy Women's club is presenting a fine program this season, November being especially entertaining with the reading on the 9th by Marie McGarry Tibbitts, the musical on the 23rd, December is also noteworthy as Dr. Charles W. Eliot is to speak on Dec. 14 at Alpha hall on "A new form of Government for Quincy."

Mrs. A. P. Thompson of Brook street, Wollaston was hostess Monday afternoon for the meeting of the Junior Friday club, with Mrs. Albert H. Wright in charge of the program. The courtesy of membership to fill two vacancies was extended to Mrs. George W. Abe and Mrs. Walter L. Sargent. The next meeting will be on Dec. 6th with Miss Edith Randall of 57 Spear street.

N. G. Nickerson said that the strength of the enemy should not be underestimated. "We have got a big job on our hands. Shouting will not elect him. There is a good big opposition. If he is put up, something must be done besides shouting. It means a personal canvass. It will cost money and a lot of effort to elect Campbell." Before any action was taken the meeting was adjourned to the assembly room above.

The sneaker was C. O'Donnell Galvin, of the Boston American and a European correspondent for many of the big dailies. His subject "Europe, yesterday, today and tomorrow" was covered in a masterly fashion. One of the most impressive parts of the speech came when he answered a question and said that within the next quarter century the United States will have to fight a combination from Europe. He did not think an arm race between England and Germany inevitable. "It is our paramount duty, he said, 'to protect our seacoast so that, whether from the east or from the west, no matter how hungry their gaze, they will have to leave us alone.'"

Mr. Galvin traced the causes of the present war to a purely economic war, a sword war of trade, which dated back to the repeal of the corn laws in England. England's naval supremacy followed.

"The present Kaiser," said Mr. Galvin, "has deep down in his heart a bitter hatred of the English. He carries a malediction against the birth by the bungling of an English doctor. He has a magnificent presence, but his left arm is paralyzed or withered. Despite his infirmity he is marvellously active both physically and mentally."

"From a man the age ascended the throne 28 years ago it was easy to see from every standpoint he was formulating a tremendous military policy. Railroads were taken over by the war office, the Kiel Canal made possible by a British budget, industrial development accelerated and a navy built up until it began to outstrip England."

"Silently began the upbuilding of the German navy and as silently England laid the keel for two battleships for every one laid by the Germans." The later developments were graphically explained from the terrific slaughter at the battle of Jutland was described. The lecture was a powerful and a thorough epitome of conditions past present and future that placed facts clearly in their true relation with each other. The singing of "America" brought the lecture to a close.

THE WOMEN'S CLUBS

A regular meeting of the Riverside club is to be held next Wednesday at the home of its president Mrs. Mary E. Spooner, 64 River road. Other meetings of the month are, a fair at Wistaria Bungalow Dec. 8 and a business meeting with the president, Dec. 22.

Whatever Circle of King's Daughters is to have a food sale Saturday, Dec. 4 at Gray's store on Newport street.

There is a little pause in the regular club meetings until after the first of the month owing to the Thanksgiving holiday with its season of visits and entertaining.

Wollaston Auxiliary Woman's Board of Missions meets next Wednesday at half past two. Chapter 2, Beginnings in India, of the Kings Highway Chapter, will be taken up by Mrs. H. M. Dickerson, and current events by Mrs. I. F. Besse.

Miss Mary L. Daniels is to be the speaker at the monthly meeting of Bethany Women's Union on Wednesday, Dec. 1st. Mrs. Mary A. Miller will have charge of the devotions and there will be a recitation by Miss Dorothy Colby.

Wollaston Alliance is to have an all day sewing meeting next Wednesday followed in the afternoon by a business session. The sale is to be held Dec. 15.

Mrs. Stanley Bone a former member of the Quincy Women's Club who is east on a visit has consented to give a lecture on "The Canadian Rockies and Jasper Park," for the benefit of the Quincy Women's club school nurse fund. The lecture will be given in High School hall, this afternoon at half past two, and will be illustrated by beautiful stereoscopic views.

The New England Woman's Press Association is giving a breakfast Tuesday, Nov. 30, at Hotel Somerset, Boston, in honor of Miss Zona Gale.

The Friday club meets next week with Mrs. Eugene R. Atwood of Putnam street for the study of Richard Second under the leadership of Mrs. Ernest Cockayne.

The Wollaston Women's club after a busy week with a regular meeting Tuesday evening, will have three more successful evenings of "F. I. F." in having a regular meeting the next meeting on Dec. 7.

Because of the holiday this week St. Chrysostom's Woman's Guild did not meet Tuesday evening. The meeting will be held Monday, Nov. 29 at half past two.

The Quincy Women's club is presenting a fine program this season, November being especially entertaining with the reading on the 9th by Marie McGarry Tibbitts, the musical on the 23rd, December is also noteworthy as Dr. Charles W. Eliot is to speak on Dec. 14 at Alpha hall on "A new form of Government for Quincy."

Mrs. A. P. Thompson of Brook street, Wollaston was hostess Monday afternoon for the meeting of the Junior Friday club, with Mrs. Albert H. Wright in charge of the program. The courtesy of membership to fill two vacancies was extended to Mrs. George W. Abe and Mrs. Walter L. Sargent. The next meeting will be on Dec. 6th with Miss Edith Randall of 57 Spear street.

N. G. Nickerson said that the strength of the enemy should not be underestimated. "We have got a big job on our hands. Shouting will not elect him. There is a good big opposition. If he is put up, something must be done besides shouting. It means a personal canvass. It will cost money and a lot of effort to elect Campbell." Before any action was taken the meeting was adjourned to the assembly room above.

The sneaker was C. O'Donnell Galvin, of the Boston American and a European correspondent for many of the big dailies. His subject "Europe, yesterday, today and tomorrow" was covered in a masterly fashion. One of the most impressive parts of the speech came when he answered a question and said that within the next quarter century the United States will have to fight a combination from Europe. He did not think an arm race between England and Germany inevitable. "It is our paramount duty, he said, 'to protect our seacoast so that, whether from the east or from the west, no matter how hungry their gaze, they will have to leave us alone.'"

Mr. Galvin traced the causes of the present war to a purely economic war, a sword war of trade, which dated back to the repeal of the corn laws in England. England's naval supremacy followed.

"The present Kaiser," said Mr. Galvin, "has deep down in his heart a bitter hatred of the English. He carries a malediction against the birth by the bungling of an English doctor. He has a magnificent presence, but his left arm is paralyzed or withered. Despite his infirmity he is marvellously active both physically and mentally."

"From a man the age ascended the throne 28 years ago it was easy to see from every standpoint he was formulating a tremendous military policy. Railroads were taken over by the war office, the Kiel Canal made possible by a British budget, industrial development accelerated and a navy built up until it began to outstrip England."

"Silently began the upbuilding of the German navy and as silently England laid the keel for two battleships for every one laid by the Germans." The later developments were graphically explained from the terrific slaughter at the battle of Jutland was described. The lecture was a powerful and a thorough epitome of conditions past present and future that placed facts clearly in their true relation with each other. The singing of "America" brought the lecture to a close.

THE WOMEN'S CLUBS

A regular meeting of the Riverside club is to be held next Wednesday at the home of its president Mrs. Mary E. Spooner, 64 River road. Other meetings of the month are, a fair at Wistaria Bungalow Dec. 8 and a business meeting with the president, Dec. 22.

Whatever Circle of King's Daughters is to have a food sale Saturday, Dec. 4 at Gray's store on Newport street.

There is a little pause in the regular club meetings until after the first of the month owing to the Thanksgiving holiday with its season of visits and entertaining.

Wollaston Auxiliary Woman's Board of Missions meets next Wednesday at half past two. Chapter 2, Beginnings in India, of the Kings Highway Chapter, will be taken up by Mrs. H. M. Dickerson, and current events by Mrs. I. F. Besse.

Miss Mary L. Daniels is to be the speaker at the monthly meeting of Bethany Women's Union on Wednesday, Dec. 1st. Mrs. Mary A. Miller will have charge of the devotions and there will be a recitation by Miss Dorothy Colby.

Wollaston Alliance is to have an all day sewing meeting next Wednesday followed in the afternoon by a business session. The sale is to be held Dec. 15.

Mrs. Stanley Bone a former member of the Quincy Women's Club who is east on a visit has consented to give a lecture on "The Canadian Rockies and Jasper Park," for the benefit of the Quincy Women's club school nurse fund. The lecture will be given in High School hall, this afternoon at half past two, and will be illustrated by beautiful stereoscopic views.

The New England Woman's Press Association is giving a breakfast Tuesday, Nov. 30, at Hotel Somerset, Boston, in honor of Miss Zona Gale.

The Friday club meets next week with Mrs. Eugene R. Atwood of Putnam street for the study of Richard Second under the leadership of Mrs. Ernest Cockayne.

The Wollaston Women's club after a busy week with a regular meeting Tuesday evening, will have three more successful evenings of "F. I. F." in having a regular meeting the next meeting on Dec. 7.

Because of the holiday this week St. Chrysostom's Woman's Guild did not meet Tuesday evening. The meeting will be held Monday, Nov. 29 at half past two.

The Quincy Women's club is presenting a fine program this season, November being especially entertaining with the reading on the 9th by Marie McGarry Tibbitts, the musical on the 23rd, December is also noteworthy as Dr. Charles W. Eliot is to speak on Dec. 14 at Alpha hall on "A new form of Government for Quincy."

Mrs. A. P. Thompson of Brook street, Wollaston was hostess Monday afternoon for the meeting of the Junior Friday club, with Mrs. Albert H. Wright in charge of the program. The courtesy of membership to fill two vacancies was extended to Mrs. George W. Abe and Mrs. Walter L. Sargent. The next meeting will be on Dec. 6th with Miss Edith Randall of 57 Spear street.

N. G. Nickerson said that the strength of the enemy should not be underestimated. "We have got a big job on our hands. Shouting will not elect him. There is a good big opposition. If he is put up, something must be done besides shouting. It means a personal canvass. It will cost money and a lot of effort to elect Campbell." Before any action was taken the meeting was adjourned to the assembly room above.

The sneaker was C. O'Donnell Galvin, of the Boston American and a European correspondent for many of the big dailies. His subject "Europe, yesterday, today and tomorrow" was covered in a masterly fashion. One of the most impressive parts of the speech came when he answered a question and said that within the next quarter century the United States will have to fight a combination from Europe. He did not think an arm race between England and Germany inevitable. "It is our paramount duty, he said, 'to protect our seacoast so that, whether from the east or from the west, no matter how hungry their gaze, they will have to leave us alone.'"

Mr. Galvin traced the causes of the present war to a purely economic war, a sword war of trade, which dated back to the repeal of the corn laws in England. England's naval supremacy followed.

"The present Kaiser," said Mr. Galvin, "has deep down in his heart a bitter hatred of the English. He carries a malediction against the birth by the bungling of an English doctor. He has a magnificent presence, but his left arm is paralyzed or withered. Despite his infirmity he is marvellously active both physically and mentally."

"From a man the age ascended the throne 28 years ago it was easy to see from every standpoint he was formulating a tremendous military policy. Railroads were taken over by the war office, the Kiel Canal made possible by a British budget, industrial development accelerated and a navy built up until it began to outstrip England."

"Silently began the upbuilding of the German navy and as silently England laid the keel for two battleships for every one laid by the Germans." The later developments were graphically explained from the terrific slaughter at the battle of Jutland was described. The lecture was a powerful and a thorough epitome of conditions past present and future that placed facts clearly in their true relation with each other. The singing of "America" brought the lecture to a close.

THE WOMEN'S CLUBS

A regular meeting of the Riverside club is to be held next Wednesday at the home of its president Mrs. Mary E. Spooner, 64 River road. Other meetings of the month are, a fair at Wistaria Bungalow Dec. 8 and a business meeting with the president, Dec. 22.

Whatever Circle of King's Daughters is to have a food sale Saturday, Dec. 4 at Gray's store on Newport street.

There is a little pause in the regular club meetings until after the first of the month owing to the Thanksgiving holiday with its season of visits and entertaining.

Wollaston Auxiliary Woman's Board of Missions meets next Wednesday at half past two. Chapter 2, Beginnings in India, of the Kings Highway Chapter, will be taken up by Mrs. H. M. Dickerson, and current events by Mrs. I. F. Besse.

Miss Mary L. Daniels is to be the speaker at the monthly meeting of Bethany Women's Union on Wednesday, Dec. 1st. Mrs. Mary A. Miller will have charge of the devotions and there will be a recitation by Miss Dorothy Colby.

Wollaston Alliance is to have an all day sewing meeting next Wednesday followed in the afternoon by a business session. The sale is to be held Dec. 15.

Mrs. Stanley Bone a former member of the Quincy Women's Club who is east on a visit has consented to give a lecture on "The Canadian Rockies and Jasper Park," for the benefit of the Quincy Women's club school nurse fund. The lecture will be given in High School hall, this afternoon at half past two, and will be illustrated by beautiful stereoscopic views.

The New England Woman's Press Association is giving a breakfast Tuesday, Nov. 30, at Hotel Somerset, Boston, in honor of Miss Zona Gale.

The Friday club meets next week with Mrs. Eugene R. Atwood of Putnam street for the study of Richard Second under the leadership of Mrs. Ernest Cockayne.

The Wollaston Women's club after a busy week with a regular meeting Tuesday evening, will have three more successful evenings of "F. I. F." in having a regular meeting the next meeting on Dec. 7.

Because of the holiday this week St. Chrysostom's Woman's Guild did not meet Tuesday evening. The meeting will be held Monday, Nov. 29 at half past two.

The Quincy Women's club is presenting a fine program this season, November being especially entertaining with the reading on the 9th by Marie McGarry Tibbitts, the musical on the 23rd, December is also noteworthy as Dr. Charles W. Eliot is to speak on Dec. 14 at Alpha hall on "A new form of Government for Quincy."

Mrs. A. P. Thompson of Brook street, Wollaston was hostess Monday afternoon for the meeting of the Junior Friday club, with Mrs. Albert H. Wright in charge of the program. The courtesy of membership to fill two vacancies was extended to Mrs. George W. Abe and Mrs. Walter L. Sargent. The next meeting will be on Dec. 6th with Miss Edith Randall of 57 Spear street.

N. G. Nickerson said that the strength of the enemy should not be underestimated. "We have got a big job on our hands. Shouting will not elect him. There is a good big opposition. If he is put up, something must be done besides shouting. It means a personal canvass. It will cost money and a lot of effort to elect Campbell." Before any action was taken the meeting was adjourned to the assembly room above.

The sneaker was C. O'Donnell Galvin, of the Boston American and a European correspondent for many of the big dailies. His subject "Europe, yesterday, today and tomorrow" was covered in a masterly fashion. One of the most impressive parts of the speech came when he answered a question and said that within the next quarter century the United States will have to fight a combination from Europe. He did not think an arm race between England and Germany inevitable. "It is our paramount duty, he said, 'to protect our seacoast so that, whether from the east or from the west, no matter how hungry their gaze, they will have to leave us alone.'"

Mr. Galvin traced the causes of the present war to a purely economic war, a sword war of trade, which dated back to the repeal of the corn laws in England. England's naval supremacy followed.

"The present Kaiser," said Mr. Galvin, "has deep down in his heart a bitter hatred of the English. He carries a malediction against the birth by the bungling of an English doctor. He has a magnificent presence, but his left arm is paralyzed or withered. Despite his infirmity he is marvellously active both physically and mentally."

"From a man the age ascended the throne 28 years ago it was easy to see from every standpoint he was formulating a tremendous military policy. Railroads were taken over by the war office, the Kiel Canal made possible by a British budget, industrial development accelerated and a navy built up until it began to outstrip England."

"Silently began the upbuilding of the German navy and as silently England laid the keel for two battleships for every one laid by the Germans." The later developments were graphically explained from the terrific slaughter at the battle of Jutland was described. The lecture was a powerful and a thorough epitome of conditions past present and future that placed facts clearly in their true relation with each other. The singing of "America" brought the lecture to a close.

THE WOMEN'S CLUBS

A regular meeting of the Riverside club is to be held next Wednesday at the home of its president Mrs. Mary E. Spooner, 64 River road. Other meetings of the month are, a fair at Wistaria Bungalow Dec. 8 and a business meeting with the president, Dec. 22.

Whatever Circle of King's Daughters is to have a food sale Saturday, Dec. 4 at Gray's store on Newport street.

There is a little pause in the regular club meetings until after the first of the month owing to the Thanksgiving holiday with its season of visits and entertaining.

Wollaston Auxiliary Woman's Board of Missions meets next Wednesday at half past two. Chapter 2, Beginnings in India, of the Kings Highway Chapter, will be taken up by Mrs. H. M. Dickerson, and current events by Mrs. I. F. Besse.

Miss Mary L. Daniels is to be the speaker at the monthly meeting of Bethany Women's Union on Wednesday, Dec. 1st. Mrs. Mary A. Miller will have charge of the devotions and there will be a recitation by Miss Dorothy Colby.

Wollaston Alliance is to have an all day sewing meeting next Wednesday followed in the afternoon by a business session. The sale is to be held Dec. 15.

Mrs. Stanley Bone a former member of the Quincy Women's Club who is east on a visit has consented to give a lecture on "The Canadian Rockies and Jasper Park," for the benefit of the Quincy Women's club school nurse fund. The lecture will be given in High School hall, this afternoon at half past two, and will be illustrated by beautiful stereoscopic views.

The New England Woman's Press Association is giving a breakfast Tuesday, Nov. 30, at Hotel Somerset, Boston, in honor of Miss Zona Gale.

The Friday club meets next week with Mrs. Eugene R. Atwood of Putnam street for the study of Richard Second under the leadership of Mrs. Ernest Cockayne.

The Wollaston Women's club after a busy week with a regular meeting Tuesday evening, will have three more successful evenings of "F. I. F." in having a regular meeting the next meeting on Dec. 7.

Because of the holiday this week St. Chrysostom's Woman's Guild did not meet Tuesday evening. The meeting will be held Monday, Nov. 29 at half past two.

The Quincy Women's club is presenting a fine program this season, November being especially entertaining with the reading on the 9th by Marie McGarry Tibbitts, the musical on the 23rd, December is also noteworthy as Dr. Charles W. Eliot is to speak on Dec. 14 at Alpha hall on "A new form of Government for Quincy."

Mrs. A. P. Thompson of Brook street, Wollaston was hostess Monday afternoon for the meeting of the Junior Friday club, with Mrs. Albert H. Wright in charge of the program. The courtesy of membership to fill two vacancies was extended to Mrs. George W. Abe and Mrs. Walter L. Sargent. The next meeting will be on Dec. 6th with Miss Edith Randall of 57 Spear street.

N. G. Nickerson said that the strength of the enemy should not be underestimated. "We have got a big job on our hands. Shouting will not elect him. There is a good big opposition. If he is put up, something must be done besides shouting. It means a personal canvass. It will cost money and a lot of effort to elect Campbell." Before any action was taken the meeting was adjourned to the assembly room above.

The sneaker was C. O'Donnell Galvin, of the Boston American and a European correspondent for many of the big dailies. His subject "Europe, yesterday, today and tomorrow" was covered in a masterly fashion. One of the most impressive parts of the speech came when he answered a question and said that within the next quarter century the United States will have to fight a combination from Europe. He did not think an arm race between England and Germany inevitable. "It is our paramount duty, he said, 'to protect our seacoast so that, whether from the east or from the west, no matter how hungry their gaze, they will have to leave us alone.'"

Mr. Galvin traced the causes of the present war to a purely economic war, a sword war of trade, which dated back to the repeal of the corn laws in England. England's naval supremacy followed.

"The present Kaiser," said Mr. Galvin, "has deep down in his heart a bitter hatred of the English. He carries a malediction against the birth by the bungling of an English doctor. He has a magnificent presence, but his left arm is paralyzed or withered. Despite his infirmity he is marvellously active both physically and mentally."</

THE QUINCY PATRIOT

QUINCY PATRIOT ESTABLISHED 1837

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 49.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1837.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 1424 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone Quincy 425.
Quincy 1910.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1888.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per Year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

BRAINTREE OBSERVER

Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE

Adams Real Estate Trust

LAND FOR SALE

MERRYMOUNT

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance

QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.

BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street.

Telephone Quincy 1910.

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1849 by

W. PORTER

Insurance effected in reliable and safe

S. Oak and Mutual offices

By W. PORTER & CO.

At No. 20, 100 Broadway, Boston.

Residence Hancock Street, Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank

ESTABLISHED 1835.

New Savings Bank Building

1374 Hancock Street

President, JOHN Q. A. FIELD

Vice President, RICHARD D. CHASE

Treasurer, CLARENCE BURGIN

BOARD OF INVESTMENT

JOHN Q. A. FIELD, RICHARD D. CHASE

R. D. CHASE, RICHARD D. CHASE

BANK HOURS

Every Business Day except Saturdays

8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAYS 9.30 A. M. to 12 M.

Deposits placed on interest on the first

Tuesday of January, April, July and October

Connected by Telephone.

Quincy, March 23, 1912

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $9,291,512.10

Cash Assets, 15,000.00

Total Assets (including re-insurance), 74,054.05

Amount of Cash Surplus, $10,946.08

Contingent Assets, 112,012.12

Total Available Assets, 217,052.20

Dividends are now being paid on five-year

policies, 60 per cent; on three-year policies,

40 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, President.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS:—Treston K. Mansfield, Dedham;

Frederick D. Dyer, Dedham; Samuel

Gannett, Milton; Charles M. Farnon, Boston;

James W. Farnon, Dedham; Joseph H. Schell,

Dedham; Samuel T. Capen, Dedham; Andrew

W. H. Franklin, Dedham; George E. Barnes,

Weymouth.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

INCORPORATED 1825

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $2,951,922.25

Cash Assets, 44,729.62

Total Assets (including re-insurance), 200,658.61

Amount of Cash Surplus, $48,604.06

Contingent Assets, 324,072.75

Total Available Assets, 672,731.42

Dividends are now being paid on five-year

policies, 60 per cent; on three-year policies,

40 per cent; on one-year policies, 20 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, President.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS:—Samuel Gannett, Milton;

Frederick D. Dyer, Dedham; Samuel

Gannett, Milton; Charles M. Farnon, Boston;

James W. Farnon, Dedham; Joseph H. Schell,

Dedham; Samuel T. Capen, Dedham; Andrew

W. H. Franklin, Dedham; George E. Barnes,

Weymouth.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Agent for Quincy

ORDER YOUR KINDLING WOOD NOW

We have it now: we shall be out of it very soon

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices:

Neponset, Boston

166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main

1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

When U Want Plumbing and Heating Work Done

In any part of your home, store or factory, and want it done in first class style.

SEND FOR US

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.

SANITARY PLUMBING STEAM AND HOT WATER

GAS FITTING

FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK

No. 5 Maple St., Quincy, Massachusetts

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO

GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue, Neponset. Telephone 1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

GERM CAUSED DEATH

A germ, taken into the system through a drink of water is thought to have been the cause of the sickness which resulted in the death of the great grand daughter of Mrs. Elsie E. Field of Quincy at Honolulu on Nov. 8.

The little girl was the six year, five months old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Hayes, the latter Corbin, Tinkham, before marriage, daughter of Mrs. Ida Tinkham.

The death occurred at Fort Shafter, Honolulu, where Dr. Hayes is performing duty as an army surgeon.

Mrs. Field was at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George F. Bauman of Allston, when she received the news on Sunday and is very much affected by it. The little girl was popular in Quincy, having been here three years ago while her father was surgeon at one of the forts in Boston Harbor.

Dr. Hayes is nephew of Dr. C. M. Marston of Braintree.

FIRE IN CELLAR

Fire broke out in the home of Mrs. A. D. Kennedy, 45 Arnold road Sunday evening, while visiting her father and caused damage estimated at $300. A. D. Vorse is owner of the premises. The fire started in the cellar and was discovered by neighbors who sounded box 152 at 6.15. While the fire department was extinguishing the flames which had worked their way into the parlor Mrs. Kennedy arrived home. Her husband also reached there a few minutes later.

An overheated furnace is thought to have started the fire. When discovered the flames had spread to everything that would burn in the cellar and had worked their way up behind the walls. The firemen had to get to the cellar by cutting through the roof.

CREAM OF NAVY

The superdreadnought Nevada, built at the Fore River shipyard will not become the "cream of the navy" as acknowledged by the shipbuilders of the world who are acquainted with her structure and performance during the trials, until about the middle of January, when she will be delivered to the government to be put in actual service as the flagship of Rear Admiral Fiske of the Northern Atlantic fleet.

The ship is now tied up at the dock at the shipyard, being made ready for the final delivery. Painters are touching her up here and there and the machinery which behaved splendidly on the trials is being tuned up.

The popular idea of Preparedness for Christmas consists in going on a shopping trip the day before the holiday when every clerk has about 17 people to wait on all the time.

IN DECEMBER

Maud Scofield Beeson

O sullen sky and leafless tree,
And brown field freezing fast,
And wintry wind, you chill not me,
For I am home at last!

At last! Dear home! My heart and I
Perpetual summer know,
Blow, icy blast! Within my high
The fire of love's own glow.

I kneel before the grateful flame,
And, shielded, safe, and warm,
Forget the bitter way I came,
And feel no more the storm.

At home at last! At home to stay!
Oh, mercy unsurpassed!
God grant all wanderers find the way
Into their home at last!

TOO GOOD TO KEEP

Edgar Beverly, from the time he was born, was all boy. There was absolutely nothing feminine about him. When he was three years old a doll was presented him with a doll. His father was not in sympathy with this gift, averting that dolls were exclusively for girls. But the aunt insisted that boys, as well as girls, in their infancy played with dolls. So a doll was provided, with a china head, flaxen locks and a pair of beautiful blue eyes. He had barely received the doll, when he was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats. He had barely received the doll, when he was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

When Edgar was ten years old he lost his mother and was turned over to a bachelor uncle of thirty. Robert Coole, the uncle, had been a wild fellow and was just beginning to realize the chances he had taken and the time he had wasted in sowing his wild oats.

PLAY WELL PRESENTED

A cat may look at a king, but a ten minutes view of Teddy, or the Runaways, given under the auspices of Team 15 of the Bethany Women's Union Alpha Hall Monday evening at a meeting of the School Committee Tuesday evening, following a report of the subject submitted by Supt. Barbour.

As planned the course will be one of two years and the girls will be taught dressmaking, millinery, cooking, home nursing and home economics in addition to an academic course. The school will be supported in a similar manner as the industrial schools are now. That is half the cost is paid by the state and half by the city.

It is proposed that the school will be conducted in a dwelling house to be rented for that purpose. It will afford a special opportunity for girls who have not the time or means to take the four year course at the High School, and who desire the time spent in school to be for a completed education along some definite line.

Similar schools are now being conducted in Somerville, Cambridge, Newton, Holyoke and other cities. It was pointed out that the expense to the city would not be as much as it now is to give a girl a four year course at the High School.

After hearing the report of the superintendent the committee voted to adopt it and to establish the school Sept. 1, 1916. The superintendent was instructed to work out the details as to cost and the amount necessary will be included in the budget of the new year.

A petition was received from the elementary teachers asking for an increase in salary. Accompanying the petition was a schedule showing what was being paid in other cities about Boston.

The committee voted to raise the maximum salary of the elementary teachers from $700 to $750 a year to take effect January 1, 1916.

Owing to the unsatisfactory conditions of the present rooms of the committee, it was voted to lease rooms in the Cliven building, now being erected on Hancock street by Henry M. Faxon which they will occupy as soon as the building is completed.

The committee will have practically four rooms in the new building. Those will include a general reception room, office of the superintendent, office of the attendance officer and school nurse and a main room.

Use of the school halls at Atlantic and the High School were granted for No-License meetings Sunday evening.

Miss Marion Neilson was appointed a clerk in the office of the school department.

A petition was received from the Montclair Improvement association asking that additional school nurses be appointed. Taken under advisement.

Messrs. McPherson, Foster and Dr. Hunting were appointed a special committee to consider the advisability of maintaining a Gamewell fire alarm system in the school buildings.

It was voted to open an evening school for foreigners in the Washington school building as soon as possible in response to a petition on the part of the Syrian residents.

The resignation of Juliette C. Bostwick of the High School was accepted and Miss Marion Gales was appointed to fill the vacancy.

W. Russell Parker was appointed an instructor in electricity at the industrial schools.

It was voted to expend the income of the Rock Island Fund in the purchase of reference books for the High School.

Messrs. Hunting, Newcomb and McPherson were appointed a special committee to prepare the annual report of the School Committee.

The financial statement to date was reported as follows:

FINANCIAL STATEMENT
Administration	Expended Balance
Instruction	$6,290.10 209.90
Text Books	137,612.75 17,972.25
Stationery and Supplies	4,420.34 329.66
Operation and Plant	6,430.81 69.19
Maintenance	22,529.85 1,686.88
Miscellaneous	197.84 52.16
Evening Schools	2,736.31 461.69
Total	$182,415.43 $21,236.30
Independent Industrial School	9,793.49 838.78
Industrial Evening School	1,845.50 504.50
Grand Total	$194,054.42 $22,579.58

PRESENT COMEDY

"Tag lag lusin ganger on forlorn-else," a comedy, was presented by the amateur club of Fribet Lodge, of Good Templars in Colonial hall Saturday evening, before a large audience. Dancing was enjoyed after the show. Present were members of various lodges of Boston and vicinity.

In the cast were Arthur Langford, Miss Olga Oberg, Miss Elvin Nelson, Edward Mattson, Mrs. Ida Mattson and Martin Gronberg.

EIGHTIETH BIRTHDAY

James M. Harris one of the oldest residents of Quincy Neck but now residing in South Quincy, was celebrating his eighty birthday, the day being also the anniversary of his birth, he having reached the eightieth milestone in his life's journey.

The house was prettily decorated and many of his old neighbors called during the day to extend congratulations. Many stories of the olden days were told which were very interesting.

Mr. Harris received post cards and gifts from friends out of, as well as in the city. He enjoys good health and is interested in the many changes that have taken place since Quincy changed from a town to a city.

DELIGHTFUL DAY

A more delightful day than Sunday would be hard to find. The air was warm, the sky clear. In fact the weather was ideal. By the number of automobiles that passed through City Square one would almost think it was in the early fall. Some say that the weather was a weather breeder and that day was a weather breeder and that soon we will have some severe winter weather to make up for all the fine fall weather we have been having.

—The Lowell Courier-Citizen can't see any reason for criticism if British army officers play bridge for diversion and if tea is served sometimes in the trenches. Right. If the boys that are doing the hot work of the war are to be kept in the trenches, they will have some severe winter weather to make up for all the fine fall weather we have been having.

SCHOOL BOARD MEET

A cat may look at a king, but a ten minutes view of Teddy, or the Runaways, given under the auspices of Team 15 of the Bethany Women's Union Alpha Hall Monday evening at a meeting of the School Committee Tuesday evening, following a report of the subject submitted by Supt. Barbour.

As planned the course will be one of two years and the girls will be taught dressmaking, millinery, cooking, home nursing and home economics in addition to an academic course. The school will be supported in a similar manner as the industrial schools are now. That is half the cost is paid by the state and half by the city.

It is proposed that the school will be conducted in a dwelling house to be rented for that purpose. It will afford a special opportunity for girls who have not the time or means to take the four year course at the High School, and who desire the time spent in school to be for a completed education along some definite line.

Similar schools are now being conducted in Somerville, Cambridge, Newton, Holyoke and other cities. It was pointed out that the expense to the city would not be as much as it now is to give a girl a four year course at the High School.

After hearing the report of the superintendent the committee voted to adopt it and to establish the school Sept. 1, 1916. The superintendent was instructed to work out the details as to cost and the amount necessary will be included in the budget of the new year.

A petition was received from the elementary teachers asking for an increase in salary. Accompanying the petition was a schedule showing what was being paid in other cities about Boston.

The committee voted to raise the maximum salary of the elementary teachers from $700 to $750 a year to take effect January 1, 1916.

Owing to the unsatisfactory conditions of the present rooms of the committee, it was voted to lease rooms in the Cliven building, now being erected on Hancock street by Henry M. Faxon which they will occupy as soon as the building is completed.

The committee will have practically four rooms in the new building. Those will include a general reception room, office of the superintendent, office of the attendance officer and school nurse and a main room.

Use of the school halls at Atlantic and the High School were granted for No-License meetings Sunday evening.

Miss Marion Neilson was appointed a clerk in the office of the school department.

A petition was received from the Montclair Improvement association asking that additional school nurses be appointed. Taken under advisement.

Messrs. McPherson, Foster and Dr. Hunting were appointed a special committee to consider the advisability of maintaining a Gamewell fire alarm system in the school buildings.

It was voted to open an evening school for foreigners in the Washington school building as soon as possible in response to a petition on the part of the Syrian residents.

The resignation of Juliette C. Bostwick of the High School was accepted and Miss Marion Gales was appointed to fill the vacancy.

W. Russell Parker was appointed an instructor in electricity at the industrial schools.

It was voted to expend the income of the Rock Island Fund in the purchase of reference books for the High School.

Messrs. Hunting, Newcomb and McPherson were appointed a special committee to prepare the annual report of the School Committee.

The financial statement to date was reported as follows:

FINANCIAL STATEMENT
Administration	Expended Balance
Instruction	$6,290.10 209.90
Text Books	137,612.75 17

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, December 4, 1915

WEEKLY	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thurs	Fri	Sat
ALMANAC	Rises	Sets	Morn	Even	Rises	Sets	Morn
Dec. 4	6.55	4.15	8.45	5.15	4.20	7.00	4.15
Sunday	6.55	4.15	8.45	5.15	4.20	7.00	4.15
Monday	6.55	4.15	8.45	5.15	4.20	7.00	4.15
Tuesday	6.55	4.15	8.45	5.15	4.20	7.00	4.15
Wednesday	6.55	4.15	8.45	5.15	4.20	7.00	4.15
Thursday	6.55	4.15	8.45	5.15	4.20	7.00	4.15
Friday	6.55	4.15	8.45	5.15	4.20	7.00	4.15
New Moon	6.55	4.15	8.45	5.15	4.20	7.00	4.15
Full Moon	6.55	4.15	8.45	5.15	4.20	7.00	4.15

DO NOT FORGET

In the excitement of a strenuous city campaign for the election of the head of the ticket there should not be overlooked a very important matter on the bottom of the ticket, that is "Shall licenses be granted for the sale of intoxicating liquors in this city?" Our citizens have all voted upon this question. It is in 32 years since Quincy had a licensed saloon and it is expected that the voters will again register themselves against the "Licensed Saloon." If the time should come when the citizens should not interfere in keeping the city in the "dry column," the history of other places has been that the rum element would soon be at work and it would be only a matter of a few very far years before Quincy would be a doubtful city as to its vote on this question.

Q. H. S. GERMAN CLUB.

If the attendance at the first meeting is any assurance, the success of the newly organized German club of the High School is assured. Miss Zeller, the teacher of German of the High School, presided at the first meeting of the club, held in the High School hall, Thursday afternoon. The club is composed of pupils taking up the study of German and was organized to promote interest in the German language.

The officers for the coming year were elected at the meeting Thursday. John Mahoney was elected president. Miss Priscilla White, vice president and Evelyn Lake secretary. Three members were chosen to serve on the entertainment committee but four were chosen for the refreshment committee, as this was considered the most important.

Frederick F. Johnson operated a phonograph and played some of his wonderful records, notably Wagner's "Der Meistersinger," whose life he later read. German games were played and three songs sung. Refreshments were served. The next meeting of the club was announced as December 13.

WHIST AND DANCE

Over 200 people attended the whist and dancing party of John Adams society, Fraternal order of Eagles in Electa hall Thursday evening. There were 30 tables in play. The affair, one of the most successful ever held in the city, was the first of its kind held by the Eagles.

The prizes were awarded to Miss Evelyn Jones, Miss Mary Phelan, Mrs. Frank Slavin, Mrs. H. Smith, James Gamble, Edwin Liberty, Frank J. Brown, Ice cream and cake was served. Music for the dancing which followed was by Stack's orchestra. William McEwan was chairman of the committee of arrangements.

MAPLE LODGE

Mrs. Bertha McCurdy, a well known resident of this city, has been elected president of Maple lodge, Knights and Ladies of Honor. Other officers chosen were:

Irving Fletcher, vice president; Mrs. Anne G. Fletcher, secretary; Miss M. Lizzie Fernald, financial secretary; Mrs. Alberta Hewson, treasurer; Mrs. Elecia Field, chaplain; Miss Bertha Davenport, guide; Miss Elizabeth Merrill, guardian; Mrs. Sarah C. Williams, sentinel; Mrs. Edie L. Rhines, pianist; Mrs. Rose A. Reid, Mrs. Mary E. Powers, Mrs. Lizzie Murray, trustees.

CLIFFORD H. WHALL

Clifford H. Whall, 72 years, of 50 Webster street, Atlantic, died at his home Thursday. He was a manufacturer of fibre products and with his son Frank W. Whall conducted a factory at Wilmington, Del. The Boston office was at 17 Summer street.

Mr. Whall was a native of Boston. He was educated at the Dwight and Chaucey hall school. For many years he was in the shoe findings trade and assisted in the organization of the Alana Fibre Co., at North Cambridge, of which he was manager until 1895, that year he went into business with his son.

He was a Civil War veteran, having served in Co. E, 44th Regt. M. V. M. and was a member of Gettysburg Post, G. A. R. 191 of Boston. He leaves a widow, a son Frank with whom he was in business, and an only son, Howard. His funeral will be Saturday at 2 P. M.

QUINCY TRUST CO.

The new banking rooms in the Silberman block where the Quincy Trust Co. will make its home are being made ready so the institution can throw open its door on Dec. 15. Fixtures are being installed and large vaults are being built in the basement. It is expected that the clerical force will take possession of the rooms the latter part of next week.

HIGH SCHOOL HONOR LIST

First Quarter
1915—William McMahon.
1916—Alfred Clough, Mildred Harrison, Hilary.
1917—Esther Bagg, Mary Dalpe, Hildegard Ducey, Russell C. Johnson, Agnes McCarthy, Mary McCue, William Martin, Esther Miller, Henry Peterson, Dorothy Priest, Priscilla White.
1918—Madeline Coulson, Lawrence Curtin, Violet Finn, David Gering, Flavia Gustafson, Esther Jackson, Alma Lawry, Marjorie Leach, Sara McCabe, Lillian Walters, Royal Weymouth.
1919—Harriet Barbour, Ernest Bizzozero, Ruth Chandler, Margaret Dalton, Everett Emerson, Richard Ericson, Ruth McGrath, Catherine Main, Rosa Olson, Judith Page, Dorothy Partridge, Harry Shapiro.

JUBILEE ENTERTAINMENT

The annual show entitled "Jubilee in my old Kentucky home" given Wednesday evening filled the assembly room of St. Chrysostom's parish house and was a most creditable performance. It certainly outdid anything of its kind ever attempted in Quincy. A real southern mansion was erected on the stage and the electric effects alone were well worth seeing. The cedar boughs around the veranda with numberless colored lights added to the beautiful scene. Every thing was done to make it a first class event and those in charge were heartily congratulated on the success. The performance is to be repeated this evening. The large chorus was exceedingly good, the vocal selections well rendered giving the latest popular songs, the numerous local hits were well gotten off, all achieved equal distinction, showing that the training the talent had done their part well.

Mr. Field's selections of "Looking for a job," "Travelling in a Pullman" and "Our flag" were admirably given. It was a typical picturesque southern scene as the host and hostess welcomed the company, the audience greeted them by unstinted applause. From start to the end when the guests waved small flags and Mayor Campbell unfurled a large ensign of the United States every one singing "The Star Spangled Banner" there was not a dull moment. It was most refreshing, satisfying, unalloyed enjoyment and the audience was warmly appreciative.

Mayor Campbell made a brief speech saying he was glad to be here and congratulated the parishioners on their production of an entertainment of such character.

THE SCENE

A country village in Kentucky—Mr. and Mrs. Montson invite their friends to an outdoor entertainment at their home.

CHARACTERS

Mr. Montson—Benjamin G. Lamont
Mrs. Montson—Mrs. B. A. Hobson
Guests: Mrs. F. Waite, Mrs. L. Frusell, Miss Elsie A. Thompson, Miss Elsie A. Whithead, Miss Bernice A. Hobson, Miss Beatrice A. Hadfield, Mrs. Geo. A. Poch, Miss Annette M. Shultz, Miss Mildred Tirrell, Miss Fern Bent, Geo. E. Allen, Miss Edith Hooton, Mrs. W. J. Newby, Miss Nettie Parke, Miss Helen Ketchum, Mr. W. Atkins, P. A. Buzzell, John A. Severance, Wm. Guilphoe, E. Smith, Geo. Horie, Mrs. J. A. Aubach.
Soloist, Edman, Eldo—Bert Price, "nd, "Jubilee in my Old Kentucky home"; J. W. Newby, end, "Monocle and a Woodman Spare that tree"; Frank Fulton, end, "Somewhere, 'Knock'; H. K. Ellis, end, Jack Ramsey, end, "The Dream I had Last Night"; Charles Wilbert, end, "I'm a Lonesome Melody"; John A. Severance, end; Herbert F. Price, "Good Bye Girls"; Archie Briggs, "When I Dream of Old Erin"; Miss M. E. Buzzell, "On the Banks of the Brandywine"; Marion Orr, "On the Banks of the Brandywine"; Miss Catherine Morrison, Little House upon the Hill; "Loyal Safford, Miss Vesta Newby, "Love Moon" and "Good Night"; W. F. Follett, "When I leave the World Behind"; Vernon A. Field, Monocle; Grand finale of the entire company.

COMMITTEE ON ARRANGEMENTS

Herbert F. Price, Chairman; Miss Louisa A. Ross, President; Charles V. Pratt, Frank Fulton, Printing; H. F. Price, H. K. Ellis, Tickets.
Stage Manager, Harry Griffin; Carpenter, E. F. Parlee, George Horton; Stage Secretary, designed and painted by Messrs. Schenkel, Griffin; Louis Marger, Electrician.
Ushers—J. W. Hallett, E. R. Retzel, H. J. Landry, Roger Allen, Elsie MacTear, Roy Walker, Herbert Atkins.
No formal program featured the opening of the fair. The attendance was good and considerable money was realized from the tables. Music during the evening was furnished by Mrs. Bahr. The boiled dinner, contributed by Johnson Bros, was awarded to W. Morrison, Mrs. Jackson Marvin served the $2.50 gold piece and other winners were Miss Marion Hewson of Glenwood way and Miss Dorothy Lord of Wollaston.

N. OF Y. FAIR

The fifth annual fair of Col. Abner Packard camp, Sons of Veterans, opened auspiciously in the renovated Faxon hall Wednesday evening and will close on Saturday evening. The members of Post 88, G. A. R. were the honored guests.

Booths, set up in the hall, for the sale of various articles were well patronized. The Sons of Veterans Auxiliary table, where fancy articles and candy is on sale was in charge of Mrs. A. E. Merritt. Mrs. Exelis Nason had charge of the table of Rebecca Wiscell tent, Daughters of Veterans, where luncheon was served. Mrs. Eliza A. Pennington and Mrs. Annie Morrison had charge of the table of the Women's Relief Corps, B. W. French of the candy wheel, Edward Prouty of the ice cream and Charles P. Stratford of the Sons of Veterans table. Other members of the organizations assisted them.

No formal program featured the opening of the fair. The attendance was good and considerable money was realized from the tables. Music during the evening was furnished by Mrs. Bahr. The boiled dinner, contributed by Johnson Bros, was awarded to W. Morrison, Mrs. Jackson Marvin served the $2.50 gold piece and other winners were Miss Marion Hewson of Glenwood way and Miss Dorothy Lord of Wollaston.

The visitors during the evening examined the hall which has been in the permanent possession of the camp since July 1st. Extensive repairs have been made and although there is a splendid improvement the members say it is not yet finished.

The woodwork has been stained a dark oak, and the walls and the ceiling have been frescoed, and striped with red, white and blue. The ceiling decorations consist of two large circular medallions of falling health. He was born in Dorchester in 1834 and lived in that district all his life.

TO BE EXTRADITED

Papers were prepared Tuesday so Robert Robinson, wanted in Quincy for alleged violation of the furniture laws could be extradited from New York where he is under arrest. Police Capt. Goodhue presented the papers to Gov. Walsh today for his signature.

The police say that Robinson purchased furniture from Henry L. Kincaid & Co., on a lease, made one payment and then sold the furniture. The complainant charges him with concealment of property valued at $115. They also say that the value of the furniture involved is $215.85.

FIRST PARISH FAIR

The annual sale and supper under the auspices of the Fragment society of the First Parish church was held Wednesday afternoon and evening in the chapel. There was an unusual interest in the fair this year. From the fact that the proceeds, over and above a certain amount were to be devoted to the renovating of the church grounds, in which all members of the parish are taking a deep interest.

The various tables were arranged in an attractive manner about the sides of the chapel and contained many useful and fancy articles, suitable for gifts or for the purchasers' own use. So attractive were they that the sign "Sold Out" could have been posted on some of the tables early in the evening.

The centre booth was given up to the sale of home-made candles and it is hardly necessary to say that there were but few boxes of the sweets remaining unsold, after supper.

The supper which was served at 6.30, was a most appetizing one and so many were there to partake of it, that it was necessary to set two tables.

The supply was abundant however and those at the second table did not want for anything.

The menu consisted of cold ham and tongue, salads of various kinds, macaroni, rolls, coffee, home made pies, mince apple, squash and chocolate frosted, and homemade cake.

The ladies in charge of the supper round and the young ladies who assisted as waiters were very solicitous and saw to it that the wants of everybody were well looked after.

Mrs. Edward B. Marsh, president of the Fragment society was in general charge. Those assisting on the several tables and in the refreshment room were as follows:

FANCY TABLE IN CHARGE OF

Mrs. W. B. Nichols, assisted by Mrs. Frank S. Patch, Mrs. Moreton T. Swallow, Mrs. C. A. Price, Mrs. E. R. Atwood, Mrs. John Conway, Mrs. Ralph L. Lovell, Mrs. P. Simpson, Mrs. G. W. Abele, Mrs. Porley F. Barbour, Mrs. J. B. Croce, Mrs. H. M. Paxton, Mrs. H. G. Crocker, Mrs. Luther W. Glover, Miss Harriett Pierce, Mrs. James H. Stetson, Mrs. Henry R. Holden.

Fragment table in charge of Miss Maria E. Whitney, assisted by Mrs. F. A. Wilkie, Mrs. Osborne Rogers, Mrs. Henry Day, Mrs. George T. Mace, Miss Dorcas Edwards, Mrs. C. W. Grant, Mrs. L. Pratt, Mrs. M. Madison Cannon, Mrs. James P. Hinds.

Candy table, Mrs. M. E. Tisdale, chairman, Mrs. Mark L. Read, Jr., Mrs. J. C. Morse, Sr., Mrs. J. H. Slade, Mrs. Arthur W. Hall, Miss Carrie Crane.

Mysteries, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Miss Constance Fryer, Miss Dorothy Hall, Miss Beatrice Johnson, Miss Natalie Saville, Miss Ruth Whitton, Miss Edith Bixby, Miss Maria Schenkelberger, Miss Josephine Smith, Miss Norma Johnson, Miss Ethel Roache.

Grabs, Miss Ethel Hervey.
Supper: Mrs. H. I. George, chairman; Mrs. E. Piner, Mrs. C. W. George, E. Pfaffmann, Mrs. J. S. Crap, Mrs. George Hall, Mrs. Myron Ryder, Mrs. H. W. Atkins, Mrs. Lewis N. Curtis, Mrs. R. Smith, Mrs. F. C. Gilbert, Miss Elizabeth Atwood, Miss Marion Edwards, Miss Marjorie Brooks, Miss Ruth Bass, Miss Dorothy Packard, Miss Arleta W. Bond.

COMMUNITY ENTERTAINMENT

The ability of one actor to give a play successfully was shown at the reading of "Under Cover" in the Water Street Presbyterian church, Wednesday evening. The third of the ten attractions to be given in the Community Entertainment Course.

Mrs. Margaret McLean, a teacher in the Leland Powers School of Expression, of Boston, gave the speaking, and to some extent, the acting of the principal characters so well that there was hardly a doubt as to the progress of the complicated plot at any point through the three acts.

The play is woven around the workings of the secret and customs service of the United States government. The plot develops around the attempts of a government official, who is known only by the aliases, H. J. and Stephen Denby, to capture a crew of black-mailed by the customs service. He has been allowed to come into the country without paying duty on a $200,000 necklace in order that the customs official may later black-mail him.

The black-mailed man, Miss Ethel Cartwright's help through his knowledge of her sister Amy's misconduct in securing money from a security company, by falsely declaring stolen, a pawned ring. The society girl loves Stephen Denby; but also her sister. The complications resulting from her attempts to be equally faithful to both are the basis of the play.

Stephen Denby's identity is not known to Ethel; nor is Ethel's connection with the black-mailed man clear to her lover Stephen. Both regret the parts they have to play until the last act, when Stephen Denby's identity is disclosed after his capture. His successful attempt at bribery of one of the customs men.

The play comes to a very happy ending when Denby answers in the affirmative to Ethel's query: "Have I really got you Steve?" The popularity of the play may be surmised from the fact that it was this sentence which originated the expression, "I got you Steve!"

Before and after the entertainment, Mrs. McLean was entertained by Rev. and Mrs. Campbell at their home on Quincy street.

JOHN L. BIRD

John L. Bird who was in the wholesale drug business for many years, died Tuesday at his home, 122 East Cottage street, Dorchester, after several months of failing health. He was born in Dorchester in 1834 and lived in that district all his life.

Mr. Bird was also well known in Quincy, for he made his summer home at Houghs Neck for many years.

Entering business at the age of fourteen, he was continuously active in business affairs ago. He started as a clerk in the N. E. T. & T. Co. and was promoted to his present position as a partner in the firm of J. A. and W. Bird, and afterward went into business with N. J. and William A. Rust, under the firm name of Rust Bros. & Bird, in Hanover street.

He was a member of Union lodge, A. F. and A. M., Dorchester Royal Arch chapter, Boston commandery, K. T., Jewel lodge, Knights and Ladies of Honor, and the Ancient Order of United Workmen. He married twice, first, Miss Rebecca Teale Richardson of Belmont, who died in 1879. From that union three children survive: Mrs. Julia R. Norris of Braintree; Elsie A. Bird of Beach street, Wollaston Park; and Mabel R. Bird, wife of Newton Centre.

CHRISTMAS SALE

Patrons were not lacking at the annual Christmas sale, supper and entertainment in the vestry of the Washington Street Congregational church, Wednesday evening. The hall was never so full as on this night. From the fact that the proceeds, over and above a certain amount were to be devoted to the renovating of the church grounds, in which all members of the parish are taking a deep interest.

The various tables were arranged in an attractive manner about the sides of the chapel and contained many useful and fancy articles, suitable for gifts or for the purchasers' own use. So attractive were they that the sign "Sold Out" could have been posted on some of the tables early in the evening.

The centre booth was given up to the sale of home-made candles and it is hardly necessary to say that there were but few boxes of the sweets remaining unsold, after supper.

The supper which was served at 6.30, was a most appetizing one and so many were there to partake of it, that it was necessary to set two tables.

The supply was abundant however and those at the second table did not want for anything.

The menu consisted of cold ham and tongue, salads of various kinds, macaroni, rolls, coffee, home made pies, mince apple, squash and chocolate frosted, and homemade cake.

The ladies in charge of the supper round and the young ladies who assisted as waiters were very solicitous and saw to it that the wants of everybody were well looked after.

Mrs. Edward B. Marsh, president of the Fragment society was in general charge. Those assisting on the several tables and in the refreshment room were as follows:

FANCY TABLE IN CHARGE OF

Mrs. W. B. Nichols, assisted by Mrs. Frank S. Patch, Mrs. Moreton T. Swallow, Mrs. C. A. Price, Mrs. E. R. Atwood, Mrs. John Conway, Mrs. Ralph L. Lovell, Mrs. P. Simpson, Mrs. G. W. Abele, Mrs. Porley F. Barbour, Mrs. J. B. Croce, Mrs. H. M. Paxton, Mrs. H. G. Crocker, Mrs. Luther W. Glover, Miss Harriett Pierce, Mrs. James H. Stetson, Mrs. Henry R. Holden.

Fragment table in charge of Miss Maria E. Whitney, assisted by Mrs. F. A. Wilkie, Mrs. Osborne Rogers, Mrs. Henry Day, Mrs. George T. Mace, Miss Dorcas Edwards, Mrs. C. W. Grant, Mrs. L. Pratt, Mrs. M. Madison Cannon, Mrs. James P. Hinds.

Candy table, Mrs. M. E. Tisdale, chairman, Mrs. Mark L. Read, Jr., Mrs. J. C. Morse, Sr., Mrs. J. H. Slade, Mrs. Arthur W. Hall, Miss Carrie Crane.

Mysteries, Miss Beatrice Morrison, Miss Constance Fryer, Miss Dorothy Hall, Miss Beatrice Johnson, Miss Natalie Saville, Miss Ruth Whitton, Miss Edith Bixby, Miss Maria Schenkelberger, Miss Josephine Smith, Miss Norma Johnson, Miss Ethel Roache.

Grabs, Miss Ethel Hervey.
Supper: Mrs. H. I. George, chairman; Mrs. E. Piner, Mrs. C. W. George, E. Pfaffmann, Mrs. J. S. Crap, Mrs. George Hall, Mrs. Myron Ryder, Mrs. H. W. Atkins, Mrs. Lewis N. Curtis, Mrs. R. Smith, Mrs. F. C. Gilbert, Miss Elizabeth Atwood, Miss Marion Edwards, Miss Marjorie Brooks, Miss Ruth Bass, Miss Dorothy Packard, Miss Arleta W. Bond.

COMMUNITY ENTERTAINMENT

The ability of one actor to give a play successfully was shown at the reading of "Under Cover" in the Water Street Presbyterian church, Wednesday evening. The third of the ten attractions to be given in the Community Entertainment Course.

Mrs. Margaret McLean, a teacher in the Leland Powers School of Expression, of Boston, gave the speaking, and to some extent, the acting of the principal characters so well that there was hardly a doubt as to the progress of the complicated plot at any point through the three acts.

The play is woven around the workings of the secret and customs service of the United States government. The plot develops around the attempts of a government official, who is known only by the aliases, H. J. and Stephen Denby, to capture a crew of black-mailed by the customs service. He has been allowed to come into the country without paying duty on a $200,000 necklace in order that the customs official may later black-mail him.

The black-mailed man, Miss Ethel Cartwright's help through his knowledge of her sister Amy's misconduct in securing money from a security company, by falsely declaring stolen, a pawned ring. The society girl loves Stephen Denby; but also her sister. The complications resulting from her attempts to be equally faithful to both are the basis of the play.

Stephen Denby's identity is not known to Ethel; nor is Ethel's connection with the black-mailed man clear to her lover Stephen. Both regret the parts they have to play until the last act, when Stephen Denby's identity is disclosed after his capture. His successful attempt at bribery of one of the customs men.

The play comes to a very happy ending when Denby answers in the affirmative to Ethel's query: "Have I really got you Steve?" The popularity of the play may be surmised from the fact that it was this sentence which originated the expression, "I got you Steve!"

Before and after the entertainment, Mrs. McLean was entertained by Rev. and Mrs. Campbell at their home on Quincy street.

JOHN L. BIRD

John L. Bird who was in the wholesale drug business for many years, died Tuesday at his home, 122 East Cottage street, Dorchester, after several months of failing health. He was born in Dorchester in 1834 and lived in that district all his life.

Mr. Bird was also well known in Quincy, for he made his summer home at Houghs Neck for many years.

Entering business at the age of fourteen, he was continuously active in business affairs ago. He started as a clerk in the N. E. T. & T. Co. and was promoted to his present position as a partner in the firm of J. A. and W. Bird, and afterward went into business with N. J. and William A. Rust, under the firm name of Rust Bros. & Bird, in Hanover street.

He was a member of Union lodge, A. F. and A. M., Dorchester Royal Arch chapter, Boston commandery, K. T., Jewel lodge, Knights and Ladies of Honor, and the Ancient Order of United Workmen. He married twice, first, Miss Rebecca Teale Richardson of Belmont, who died in 1879. From that union three children survive: Mrs. Julia R. Norris of Braintree; Elsie A. Bird of Beach street, Wollaston Park; and Mabel R. Bird, wife of Newton Centre.

THE WOMEN'S CLUBS

The Wollaston W. C. T. U. met for their monthly meeting in the vestry of the Congregational church Friday afternoon. Mrs. Bates was the speaker, subject, "Mercy."

Meetings of the Riverside club for the month are: Dec. 1, business at the home of Mrs. Spooner, 64 Revere road at two o'clock; Dec. 8, fair at Wistaria bungalow at two o'clock and dance at eight o'clock; Dec. 22, business at the home of Mrs. Spooner at two o'clock.

Mrs. Eugene Atwood of Putnam street was hostess this week for the meeting of the Friday club and Mrs. Ernest Coahyne in charge of the program, the subject of which was Richard Second.

Adams Chapter Daughters of the Revolution of Quincy go to South Braintree for their December meeting, which will be held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Oakes A. Bridgman, 985 Washington street. The meeting is called for half past two. Quincy members will take the 1.50 P. M. car from City square.

Miss Abigail B. Wood is arranging the program for the Junior Friday club meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Miss Edith Randall, 57 Spear street when the study of the day will be continued.

Next week "Today" the State Society of the Daughters of the Revolution is to have a sale of fancy and useful articles in the hall room of Hotel Westminster, Boston, at which members of Adams chapter of Quincy will assist.

Only one meeting of Quincy Alliance is to be held this month on account of the busy holiday season. The meeting will be a Christmas meeting in charge of Mrs. George E. Prattmann and Mrs. Laurence H. Sturtevant, and will be held Dec. 15.

Next week Thursday evening the Harvard Glee club is to give a concert at Alpha hall for the benefit of the Hospital Aid Association. It is not often this association makes an appeal and when they do a goodly sum is raised. Mrs. P. R. Blackburn, president and members have the tickets and arrangements in charge and it looks as though it was to be a crowded house. A dance will follow the concert.

The regular meeting of Quincy Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held in "Elecia hall, Wednesday evening, Dec. 8, at three o'clock. All ladies are cordially invited to be present.

Mrs. G. H. Pendergast has made the Somerville woman an exceptionally reasonable offer of her home for a clubhouse. The house is situated on a corner with a frontage of 100 feet on Broadway and 120 feet on Sagamore street. The price asked is $20,000, $10,000 to be paid down, and $10,000 to remain on a five per cent mortgage for a long term. The house is well known to almost every club woman in Somerville, as Mrs. Pennington, a prominent club woman, and has given the use of the hall at the top of the house for many philanthropic objects. The matter is being brought before the different women's clubs for action, as the option expires December 15.

HOME MAKING SCHOOL

The recommendation of the superintendent of schools adopted by the school committee at its meeting Tuesday evening, that the City establish next September a school for girls in home-making, was given the go-ahead by the school committee. The school will be held in the evening and will offer opportunities for girls which parallel in a way those that boys now enjoy. Having a shorter course than the high school, two years, the work would be much more intensive than the present Household Arts department in the high school. More than half of the time in school would be devoted to the manual work, the balance going to academic work which would be closely related. The course of study would include dressmaking, millinery, home-nursing, cooking, laundry work and all the manual arts which go to make a home. The school would be held in the place for the maintenance of such a school would be in a large dwelling house, sufficiently near the high school, so that the management of the high school lunch room might be taken over as one of the projects of the school.

The mothers of the members of the Young Women's Club were entertained at the Adams Academy Thursday evening. The feature of the evening was an entertaining talk on Robert Louis Stevenson's "Happily Ever After" by Mr. Otto Hayward. An exhibition basket ball game was given by the mothers and the evening was enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB

While November was an unusually busy month for the Quincy Women's club and its committee, December promises to be quiet on account of the Christmas season, only the regular meetings being held.

Dec. 14 at Alpha hall Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, will deliver the address. The speakers will be: Mrs. E. F. Tenney of the Northfield conference.

The mothers of the members of the Young Women's Club were entertained at the Adams Academy Thursday evening. The feature of the evening was an entertaining talk on Robert Louis Stevenson's "Happily Ever After" by Mr. Otto Hayward. An exhibition basket ball game was given by the mothers and the evening was enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES

Whether one accepts the doctrine of New Thought or rejects it, he usually can see that the power which the mind has over the physical, moral, and mental health is of paramount importance. This is what Orison Swett Marden endeavors to show in three of his books which the Library has lately added.

"The Miracle of Right Thought," "Every Man a King," and "Peace, Power and Plenty" are the titles of these books. They teach that the habit of always expecting that things will turn out right often has influence in bringing it about.

What the A. A. A. booklet says of all—"Emphasizes the potent influence of the mind in shaping a person's material as well as spiritual welfare and teaches the wisdom of compelling the thoughts to keep always in lines of sanity, harmony, brotherly love and aspiration."

MISS MILLIE O. SCOTT

Miss Millie O. Scott, sister of John Scott, business agent of the Quincy branch of the N. E. T. & T. Co., died suddenly on Thursday at her home at 38 Roslin street, Dorchester. She was in her 52d year.

Miss Scott enjoyed good health until Tuesday of this week when she suffered a shock. Her funeral will take place this afternoon at two o'clock. Burial will be in Forest Hills Cemetery.

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, December 4, 1915

Single Copies & Cents.
For Sale at
The Patriot Office,
Brown & Co.,
H. P. Kittredge,
J. P. O'Brien,
C. F. Carlson,
L. A. Cook,
H. H. Smith,
Sprague & Hobart,
Shunk's Periodical Store,
Thomas Gurney,
Branches & Martens,
Peters & Litchfield,
E. H. Doble & Co.,
Edward F. Drohan,
Mrs. Lark's Store,
J. J. Hammers,
South Terminal Station,
Quincy,
City Square,
38 Hancock St.,
near Quincy Depot,
Quincy Point,
Quincy Point,
Quincy Point,
Wollaston,
Atlantic,
Quincy Adams,
West Quincy,
Brewer's Corner,
East Milton,
Boston.

SWEDISH TEMPERANCE RALLY

Officers of the Scandinavian Temperance Society in Quincy have been elected as follows: Chairman, Rev. H. H. Hokenson; vice president, Rev. Carl O. Dahlin; treasurer, Rev. A. G. Spontrom; secretary, Rev. Newton F. Spontrom.

During years past it has been the custom in Quincy for the four Swedish congregations to hold a union temperance rally in one of the Swedish churches on the Sunday evening previous to election.

There will be no deviation in this custom this year. If anything the meeting will be more powerful in its influence than any hitherto held. The committee of arrangements have planned with foresight and wisdom and as a result it is expected that the rally will be well attended. The meeting will be held in the Swedish Lutheran Salem church Sunday Dec. 5 at 7:30 P. M. The Swedish Lutheran church was chosen as the meeting place as it has at present a large seating capacity than any of the other churches.

Temperance people have awakened to the fact that they must be up and doing if the saloon is to be kept out of Quincy. There is a tendency in some cities to view the liquor problem as a factor in the temperance rally. Especially is this the case when the saloon has been kept out of a city for some time. If people who advocate temperance would always remember that America's arch-foe—the rum never sleeps, but that temperance people do, they would be wiser. It is well to remember this spiritual verse: "But while men sleep, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way." If Quincy's people do not awaken before election day, they will find out that they have made a tremendous mistake too late to rectify it.

The Scandinavian people proved a few weeks ago at their National Festival that they are awake, and that they as a people want to work for the physical, intellectual and moral welfare of our fine city and are going to do it by the temperance rally. As a people they stand for temperance in the truest sense of the word. Sad to say there are a few Scandinavians who cannot do without their whiskey and beer but we believe they are in the minority. We are going to have a true and kindhearted and try to educate them to the fact that alcohol is one of the worst enemies to mankind.

Swedish people in general as well as others have a feeling or opinion that alcohol is detrimental to the health of the individual and to the people. What every individual and every man, woman and child in America ought to have is an overwhelming conviction that alcohol is one of the world's most diabolical enemies of mankind. To create this conviction in the heart of every living person is the work of every true reformer, every mother and father, every loyal temperance worker. It is education and enlightenment that the world needs in regards to the awful, destructive ravages of alcohol.

Ignorance is one of the deepest roots of evil, and especially is this the case of strong drink. This far-reaching conviction cannot be created through pretty phrases and the putting forth of illusive and delusive abstract sentiments, bombastic, imaginative, speculative and overdrawn statements on paper or in speech. The truth must be given as a result of deep study and investigations in conditions as they really are. One must know the effect of alcohol on a person physically, intellectually and socially, on a nation politically, and on the world commercially. If these facts are brought before the people in a clear, intelligent and concrete way, there will be created a mighty conviction in the hearts and minds of people that the saloon is really the worst enemy of the individual, the home, the city and the nation, and that the conviction will sweep the saloon not only from fair Quincy, but from all American and all the world.

This will be the main object of the annual Scandinavian Temperance meeting in the Swedish Lutheran church. May all plan to attend.

WHIST PARTY

An enjoyable whist party was held at the Victoria bungalow Monday afternoon in aid of the candy table at the fair of the Fragment society of the First Parish church to be held Wednesday. Ten tables were in play. The souvenirs for the best scores were awarded Mrs. Walter P. Eld, Mrs. J. S. Crapen, Mrs. Warren H. Riden, Mrs. Laurence H. Sturtevant, Mrs. Carleton C. Lane, Mrs. H. E. Ricker and Miss May.

The committee in charge were Mrs. Mary A. Tisdale, Mrs. M. L. Read, Jr., Mrs. James H. Slade, Mrs. A. W. Hall, Mrs. Harry W. Porter, Mrs. J. C. Morse and Mrs. F. H. Smith, Miss Carrie Crane.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A successful birthday party was the verdict of many friends of Miss Evelyn Moller Monday evening, after the party held in honor of her arrival to her eleventh year, at the home of Mrs. Alma Weston on East Howard street. She was the recipient of many pretty gifts. Music was rendered by some of the young people present.

Miss Moller is a girl of the West, although formerly of Quincy. She is spending the winter here with her mother residing in Quincy, after a long stay in San Francisco.

—Daniel Webster made this statement. Nothing will ruin the country if the people themselves will undertake its safety; and nothing can save it if they leave that safety in any other hands but their own."

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING

Orders calling for appropriations amounting to $220,000 were offered at the special meeting of the City Council Monday evening. The meeting was called by Mayor Campbell. There were but two matters in the call. To draw jurors and to receive and act on communications from the Mayor forwarding plans for new school buildings at Quincy Point and Norfolk Downs.

Mayor Campbell, City Clerk Crane and Councilman Beaman drew the following jurors: Eugene A. Darrow, Michael McCall, William R. Gay, James S. Whitting and Lawrence H. Abbott.

The Mayor forwarded communications from the School Committee approving the plans and specifications of Cleveland and Godfrey for sixteen room school buildings at Quincy Point joint committee on Finance and Public Buildings.

On motion of Councilman Griffin the order appropriating $100,000 for a school building in Quincy Point was referred to a subcommittee. He then offered a substitute order for $100,000 for a new sixteen room building in Ward Two. Referred to joint committee on Finance and Public Buildings.

Both orders were practically alike, each amount being borrowed on a ten year loan at six per cent. The call for the eleven notes of one thousand dollars each, every year. This means $22,000 a year, for the next year, provided the orders pass. The bonds are dated December 1.

Adjourned at 8 o'clock.

QUANTUM MEN'S CLUB

A social organization to be known as the Quantum Men's club is to be formed at a meeting in Nelson hall Wednesday night. There has already been a temporary organization and permanent officers will be elected at Wednesday night's meeting.

The club is composed of members of the Quantum Improvement association and its object is to promote sociability in the community. The first tournament will be started at once, and other events will include parties at which lady guests will be invited.

The membership committee consists of John Holmes, chairman, James Loughan and Russell Rich; tournament committee, James Loughan, John Fitzpatrick, and John Depon; and by-laws committee, John R. Nelson, Carl Lindgren and E. A. Rich.

GEORGE KELLEY

Typoid fever, contracted it is believed while visiting a friend in the Barre, Vt. hospital suffering from that disease, caused the death of George Kelley of South Quincy, a tool sharpener who has made his home in that city for some time and who married a Barre girl 14 months ago who survives him.

His body was brought to Quincy and his funeral was held this morning at St. John's church where a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Fr. John J. Casey. The musical portion of the mass was by the regular choir under the direction of John Mahan, organist. The soloists were Mrs. Eva Rice Restell, Mrs. Mary Burns King and Miss Josephine McCarthy.

Besides his wife, the deceased leaves his mother, Mrs. James Kelley of 24 Highland avenue and several sisters.

ATLANTIC STAR COURSE CONCERT

Lovers of music had a rare treat in Memorial congregational church Monday night when the first entertainment of the Atlantic Star course was given by the Lotus Male Quartette; assisted by Miss Nita Cowlishaw as accompanist and soprano soloist, and Miss Miriam Davenport Goo as the reader.

Before the hour of starting the concert arrived every seat in the auditorium was taken and the chapel and gallery was opened to accommodate the audience.

The program opened with the Quartet singing "Sunrise."

Miss Gow read "The World's Greatest." Her encore being a selection "Going to the Dentist" which was very amusing.

Nelson Raymond sang "Two Grenadiers" after which the quartet sang "Sweet and Low."

Frank Cannell gave a base solo "I Fear No Fox."

On request Miss Cowlishaw to sing Annie Laurie accompanied by the quartet in the distance giving something of the effect of the echo.

The quartet then sang "Twilight is Loveliest" and Miss Gow read "The Sign of the Cross" the quartet singing in the distance and Mr. Hicks sang "Song of the Soul."

The concert closed by the quartet singing "Sunset."

The plan of the committee is to give a course of five high class entertainments for the good of the community.

EXHIBITION DANCE

Miss Mary McEachern and John Coffey were awarded the first prize at the exhibition dance held in Alpha hall Saturday evening, and Miss Marion Belcher and Thomas Curry were awarded the second prize. The couples were given $15 and $10.

Both couples were the last ones on the floor and the dancing was in full swing when the music was discontinued by the judges who were well applauded. Mr. Coffey is one of the so-called old school dancers, but in the opinion of the judges, is superior to any they have seen in Quincy. Half a dozen other couples entered the contest and were eliminated gradually.

For a time it appeared that Miss Belcher and Mr. Curry were to be the winners, but Mr. Coffey came through. All four will dance at the annual party of the Owl Club in Alpha hall on Dec. 6, and will be among the aids of the evening.

MRS. MARY K. NELSON

Mrs. Mary B. Nelson, 85 years, for more than a score of years a resident of Quincy and a strong, vigorous woman until recently, died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alice Larson of Ryden street. The primary cause of death is thought to have been old age.

Mrs. Nelson was very well known among the Swedish people of Quincy. She was a member of the Lutheran church and deeply interested in its affairs.

Besides Mrs. Larson she leaves a son, and two daughters, Mrs. White of Quincy, and Mrs. Emma Peterson of Newton center.

LEFT NO WILL

The only person who would have inherited the $10,000 accumulated by Alexander Nugent, late care taker of the grounds at the Thomas Crane Public library, who died Nov. 26 without leaving a will and without known relatives was a sister who died three years ago in the home conducted in Boston by the Little Sisters of the Poor.

Nugent was a native of Ireland and was a resident of Quincy for years. During the lifetime of the late Charles Francis Adams, who conducted the Mt. Wollaston farm, he had charge of the famous Adams herd. The interest taken by the Adamses in all their employees led to the amassing of Nugent's first $5,000. When the farm was discontinued 15 years ago Nugent became a gardener. Between then and his death he increased his capital by nearly $5,000.

Friends and physicians who came in contact with him at various times advised him to make a will. He could not see the immediate necessity of it, however, and when he died left no directions as to how his savings would be disposed of. Unless a relative is discovered the money will go to the state and be put in the general fund.

Nugent always said, according to persons who knew him, that he would leave his money to charity and to Mary, daughter of Mrs. Henry Allen of 101 Adams street where he boarded and where he was cared for during his last illness.

It is said that several bills will be presented against his estate.

CLUNEY-MATHESON

William Cluney, chief water tender on the U. S. Destroyer Tucker under construction at the Fore River shipyard, and his bride of Saturday, Marion Matheson of Washington street, are on their way to Norfolk, Va., where they will stay a month before returning to Quincy to make their home, and not until today was it generally known they had been married.

The ceremony was performed at the St. John's parish house Saturday by Rev. Michael J. Owens, pastor, after which the wedding party had dinner at a Boston hotel.

Miss Matheson is a popular young lady and until recently was employed at the store of Remick Bros., at 1517 Hancock street. She is a member of the Thistle Club, a prominent organization of local young ladies.

Only the immediate members of her family and a few friends were aware of the ceremony.

Miss Matheson was dressed in white chiffon, over white satin, trimmed with chintilly lace and pearl trimmings. Her hat was of white velvet with gold lace crown and trimmed with ermine. She carried brides roses.

Miss Grace Lennon, her bridesmaid, was dressed in yellow crepe de chine and wore a gold hat. She carried yellow chrysanthemums.

Richard Burke of Everett was best man.

The couple were acquainted until the groom was assigned to Quincy as an inspector on the Tucker.

ASK FOR APPROPRIATION

The public service commission before whom the hearings are being held on the petition of the Bay State Street railway for an increase in fares and change in transfer privilege, have made a request to the executive council for a special appropriation in order to make a careful investigation of all properties of the railway.

The engineering force of the public service commission, assisted by a special committee of investigation, will start the investigation next week, so the commission may have its own estimate of the value of the Bay State properties independent of the Bay State's estimate and of another investigation begun by an organization of cities and towns opposing the 6-cent fare petition.

The commission lacks enough funds to carry the investigation through, and the executive council will be asked to make provision from its emergency fund in order that the investigation may be completed before Feb. 1, when the 6-cent fare hearings will be resumed.

HELL FROM BICYCLE

George Glover of 1051 Hancock street was cut and bruised about the face and sustained a slight injury to the nose when he fell from his bicycle Saturday night.

Glover was riding down Washington street about five o'clock on his way to the Fore River shipyard where he is employed. It is reported that rather than get into a pocket formed by two autos coming from different directions, at good speed he turned his bicycle toward an electric car which was coming to a stop at Germania avenue.

When he brought up against the car he was thrown to the street. He was treated by Dr. Charles W. Garey and taken to his home.

MORE PRIZES

Eleven first prizes, four medals, one cup and $87 in cash, what "Nimrod" Eloek secured at the Boston Dog show last week. It is reported that the dogs won out in all the classes, winning as easily in Boston as in Frisco a few months ago.

First prizes were secured for puppy dogs, bitches, novice dogs, limit dogs, open dogs, novice bitches, limit bitches, open class, and the dog class.

The champion medal judges cup, offered for the champion bitch was secured and the judges cup, also four medals offered by the Brunswick club. "Satan" was declared to be the best hound in the show. The cash prizes amounted to $87.

WELCOMED HOME

Rev. Clarence E. Campbell, pastor of the Water street Presbyterian church, who was married Thanksgiving day afternoon, occupied his pulpit as usual Sunday morning, but after the service was obliged to hold an informal reception, during which he and his bride received a warm welcome. A similar reception was also accorded them after the evening service.

On their arrival from Pouliding, they were met by a committee of the church ladies presented with a handsome electric reading lamp.

It has been announced that although Mrs. Campbell is an accomplished musician she will not sing in the choir. The parishioners of the church however will have an opportunity on other occasions to enjoy her musical accomplishments.

FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

Matthew McNamara, the sturdy right guard of this year football team at Quincy High school has been chosen captain of the football team for 1916.

McNamara is a member of the Class of 1917 and lives in West Quincy. This season was his first in the game. He is a hard worker and is ambitious to become a real football player. His development was gradual but sure. He will be a splendid man for the coaches to build an eleven around next season.

Dean's Rheumatic Pills for Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Entirely vegetable. Safe. 4 cent.

MRS. BARBARA MALCOLM

Mrs. Barbara Malcolm of Upland road died early Wednesday at the Quincy City Hospital, where she has been a patient for a few days. She was 64 years of age. She leaves a son and a brother, who are in Scotland. So far as known, she had no relatives in this country.

Although a widow and in poor health, Mrs. Malcolm had the thrift which is characteristic of her race and was able to buy a two-family house on Upland road a few years ago where she has since lived, occupying one tenement and renting the other.

LAUDER-FORBES

A very pretty wedding took place November 24th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell of Edison Park when Catherine Maudie Lauder and John Forbes also of Edison Park and John Lauder of Farnum street were united in marriage by Rev. Stephen C. Lang.

The bride was handsomely attired in a gown of white crepe de chine with shadow lace and pearl trimming and a veil with wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a beautiful bouquet of bridal roses and white carnations.

Miss Helen Russell Kelly of Marlboro, a niece of the bride was bridesmaid. She wore a dainty dress of white satin with chiffon trimmings, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The bills will be presented to the manufacturers for action at their meeting next Monday evening. A committee will probably be appointed to confer with a committee of the workmen to discuss the proposed changes.

CUTTERS' BILL

The granite cutters ask for a minimum of 50 cents an hour, four dollars a day from March 1, 1915 to March 1, 1916 and $4.25 per day from March 1, 1916 to March 1, 1917, all work to be cut by the hour. An important feature of the proposed change is a clause stating that all surfacing machines must be placed 50 feet away from the cutters or shed, where the dust will not enter the shed, and that each 50 feet of another machine, unless air suction is used to take care of the dust. They demand an eight hour day five days per week and four hours on Saturday.

TOOL SHARPENERS

The tool sharpeners demand 50 cents an hour or $4 per day from March 1, 1916 to March 1, 1917, and $4.25 from March 1, 1917 to March 1, 1918, for each gang of from 11 to 13 men with no man to sharpen for more than 15 men and 55 cents to be allowed for each extra man.

Piece men to be 25 cents a man for three years from 1916 and 37 cents for two years from 1919. They also demand eight hours for five days a week and four hours on Saturday.

POLISHERS

The polishers demand 50 cents an hour minimum rate, $4 per day for three years from March 1, 1916 and $4.25 per day for two years from March 1, 1917.

The polishers also demand that their work on Saturdays cease at 11:15 A. M., and that drinking water with sanitary bufflers must be furnished in every mill.

ENGINEERS

The engineers demand a minimum rate of $25 for a 48 hour week in a first class plant and a minimum wage of $21 in a second class plant, and $18 in a third class plant.

QUARRY WORKERS

The quarry workers demand 24 cents per hour for quarrymen tripod drill runners, pneumatic air drill runners and derricks, and 25 cents a minimum wage for powder men, channel bar drill runners, riggers and general repair men. A wage of 26 cents is demanded for inexperienced men and laborers for six months and then regular quarrymen's pay until the termination of the agreement. The demands are to be in effect from March 1st 1916 for a number of years to be decided upon by conference committee. They demand Saturday afternoon off.

Just what the developments will be in case the manufacturers do not grant the demands is hard to say. It is predicted that a labor trouble of a most exciting nature will follow. The Italian cutters are said to be in control of the local granite cutters branch and many believe they will hold out or strike in case the new demands are not granted. Such action would influence the other local unions.

It is reported that the more conservative granite workers are willing to settle upon the same terms that Barre, Vt. settled upon and that the manufacturers as a rule are willing to settle on that basis. The I. W. W. element is expected to exert itself in the settlement as they did in Barre.

RECENT HEARINGS

Anthony Arnoux, a journalist of 2 Greenwood avenue, Quincy and Eliza A. Schroeder of Boston were married recently at Lexington, according to a return filed at the city hall. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harold L. Pickett of Lexington.

Mr. Arnoux is the military critic for the Boston Journal and is now on a staff trip. His marriage was a quiet one.

Three other marriages also became public knowledge through the same channels: Elvin Arnold of 22 Ellerton road and Frances Atkinson of 21 Summer street, on Nov. 25, by Rev. William C. Wright of 312 Washington street and Bessie Evelyn Keene of Weymouth, on Nov. 13, by George M. Young, justice of the peace, at Boston; Nicol d'Angelo of 9 Cottage street and Antonia Chella, of 60 Brackett street, on Nov. 23, by William N. Marden, justice of the peace. The latter bride was but 16 years of age and the consent of parents were necessary before the ceremony could be performed.

CITY FINANCES

The report of City Auditor Fairbanks will be read with general interest at this time. One of the interesting items in the report is that there has been a net decrease in the city debt of $169,585.64.

The report is as follows:

NET VALUATION
1912 $34,322,539
1913 36,596,064
1914 40,668,240

Three years average $37,362,272. At Debt, Jan. 1, 1915 340,321.16
Bonds matured Dec. 1, 1915 152,463.64
492,785.80
Bonds issued and authorized 72,650.00
Borrowing margin Dec. 1, 1915 420,106.80

TOTAL DEBT

Jan. 1. Paid Issued Net
Municipal $593,735.64 $12,432.44 $72,650.00 $515,353.00
Parks 15,000.00 7,300.00 15,000.00 7,700.00
Street Improvement 62,800.00 31,000.00 25,000.00 37,800.00
Sewer 628,500.00 65,500.00 15,000.00 628,000.00
Water 120,000.00 15,000.00 105,000.00

Decrease $210,535.64 $273,235.64 $112,650.00 $1,951,950.00

GRANITE WORKERS' BILL

New bills of prices from five unions were submitted Wednesday to Granite Manufacturers Association and the Granite Quarry Owners Association of Quincy, to take effect on March 1st of next year. The bills were filed in keeping with the existing agreement that either side desiring a change on that date must file its claim on Dec. 1 of the preceding year.

The bills are from the granite cutters, quarry workers, polishers, tool sharpeners and the engineers. All specify that eight hours shall constitute a day's work and provide for increases.

The bills will be presented to the manufacturers for action at their meeting next Monday evening. A committee will probably be appointed to confer with a committee of the workmen to discuss the proposed changes.

INTERNATIONAL ROAD CONGRESS

The Chamber of Commerce of Worcester, Mass., has arranged for the first International Road Congress to be held December 14 to 17. It will be the first time that a gathering of this kind has been held in New England. The convention sessions will be held in the Bancroft Hotel ballroom, and the material exhibition will be held in the auditorium, adjoining.

As the congress is under state, federal and international patronage, the program committee has been assisted in securing the ablest men of the country to deliver addresses. These country wide known men will not appear at any other road congress this year.

The program committee has arranged four big days. The opening day, December 14, will be "International Day," and the Hon. Grafton D. Cushing, Lieutenant-governor of Massachusetts, will preside. His address will be the governor of all of the New England states to attend. Each of the governors will deliver an address. "Road Builders' Day" will be December 15. The session that day will be held under the auspices of the Massachusetts Highway Association. This day has a particular significance to men actively engaged in wrestling with the problems of road construction. Some of the most prominent men internationally will discuss various phases of road building. The Hon. Harold Parker, formerly chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Commission will preside.

The Hon. George M. Wright, Mayor of Worcester, will preside at the sessions on "Country and City Day," December 16. In addition to the members of the leading cities of the country, there will also be addresses given by prominent federal and municipal experts.

Friday, December 17, is "Automobile Day." Prominent automobile men and members of the state highway commissions will discuss the relationship of the automobile and the permanent highway.

All of these addresses will be highly educational, as the congress is probably the only big event which makes possible the bringing together at one time of so many men, all interested in good roads and better construction of permanent highways.

The entertainment feature of the big show has not been neglected. Ladies accompanying delegates will find much to take up their time and attention. Afternoon concerts and evening entertainments will be the rule each day of the congress. The night of "Road Builders' Day," the program committee has arranged the Grand Theatre and a 7000-foot film of the Lincoln Highway will be shown free to the delegates.

Six thousand engraved invitations have been issued by the Chamber of Commerce, under whose auspices the congress is to be held. These have been sent to the selectmen of every town in the six states, all the mayors, street commissioners, the state highway commissioners and the six governors of the New England states. In addition, there have been sent invitations to men holding similar positions in other states and in the larger cities of the Dominion of Canada.

NEW YORK WEDDINGS

Brides Gowns and Bridesmaids Frocks—Travelling Costumes—Jewels and Evening Dresses

Town weddings this month are picturesquely and impressively staged in the sombre cathedral-like interiors of the big churches with their vaulted naves, and many colored windows. Color schemes are usually varied—Maude, orchid and yellow are favorites. Pink and blue and silver lace the selection at a recent ceremony, made a delightfully effective scheme.

BRIDAL GOWNS

The old time satin dress, severely simple, has quite disappeared, in fact, except for the court train attached at the shoulders, very little satin is visible in the latest brides' gowns. Dainty, elegant elaboration is the "key note" of such attire now, and jewelry that is the groom's gift, or that has family association, is worn quite as much as old family lace.

AT ST. BARTHOLOMEW'S

At a fashionable wedding in St. Bartholomew's Church, which was decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums and autumn leaves, the bride wore a novel frock of white chiffon.

The old time satin dress, severely simple, has quite disappeared, in fact, except for the court train attached at the shoulders, very little satin is visible in the latest brides' gowns. Dainty, elegant elaboration is the "key note" of such attire now, and jewelry that is the groom's gift, or that has family association, is worn quite as much as old family lace.

At a fashionable wedding in St. Bartholomew's Church, which was decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums and autumn leaves, the bride wore a novel frock of white chiffon.

LOOK FOR THE TRIANGLE TRADEMARK

Sold in many styles and sizes at all hardware and general stores.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATERS

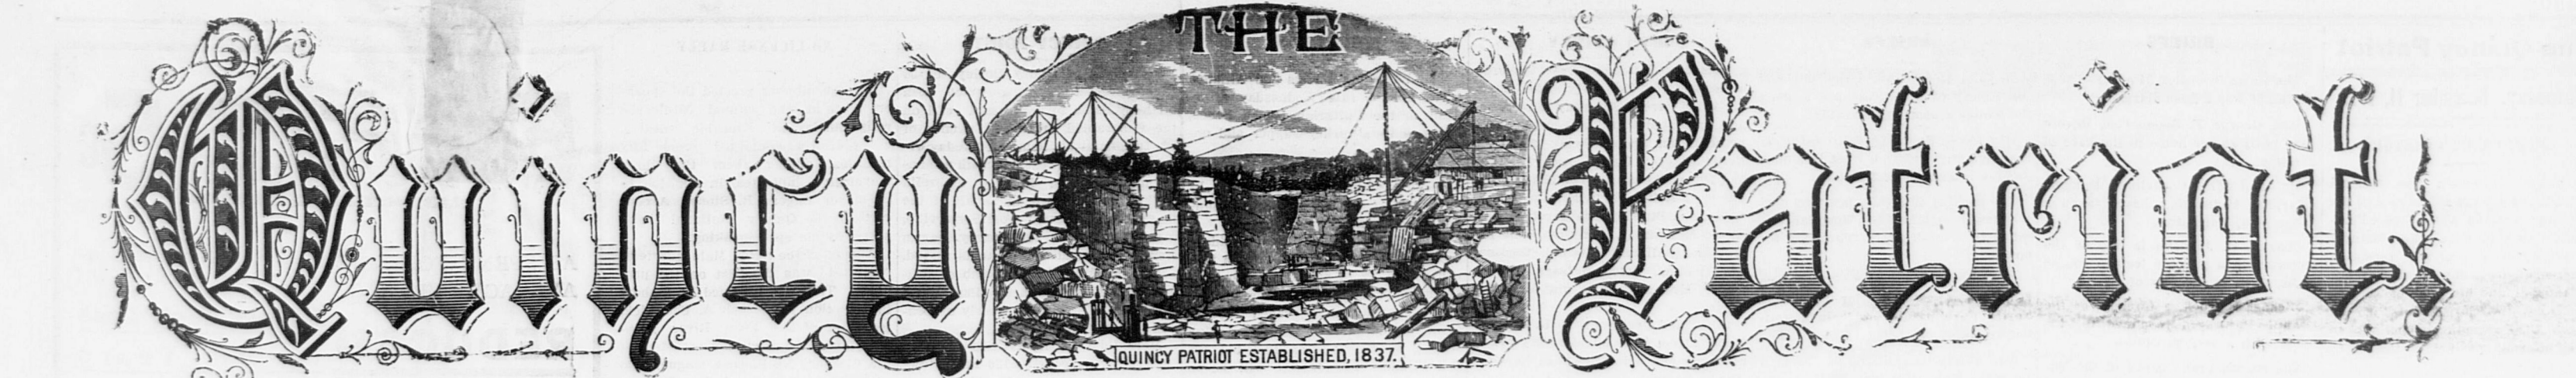

Look for the Triangle Trademark. Sold in many styles and sizes at all hardware and general stores.

Look for the Triangle Trademark. Sold in many styles and sizes at all hardware and general stores.

Look for the Triangle Trademark. Sold in many styles and sizes at all hardware and general stores.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES

Axel G. Ahlstrom to Barbara H. Coy, Huntley road.
Mary A. Brazier to Minnie A. Green, Conant road.
James E. Callaghan to Thomas J. Larkin, Freeman street.
John T. Cavanaugh to R. C. Archibald Boston, Sea street, Manet avenue.
Edward Chapman to Lydia L. J. Roberts, Kemper street.
Hattie A. Coombs to Nellie E. Merrill, Cummings avenue.
Frank G. Coombs to Margaret E. Forsyth, Cummings avenue.
Reginald P. Dee to Charles F. Miller, John street.
Fredo Diflora to Cesidio Di Bona, Trafalgar street.
Wilton A. Dunham to Corinne E. LaBrecque.
Paul H. Fox to Bertha E. Fox, Oxenbridge road.
Oscar F. Frick to Adolf E. Severin at Dale avenue.
Daniel A. Gilden to George B. Gilden, Grand View avenue.
Sarah E. Gurney to Cora E. Wilson, Tyler street.
Otto A. Gustafson to Victor E. Okanen Filbert street, Common street.
William V. Hayden to Mary J. Hoge, Standard road.
William H. London to Angeline Izzo, Beale road.
Mary S. Monk to Luther M. Bradbury, Centre street.
Estella M. Morse to Dora O. Brannan, Meane avenue.
James R. Murphy to Eliza to Wilton A. Dunham.
Bertha G. Nickels to Emma F. Jago, Billings street.
Ernest L. Piper to Wilton A. Dunham Adams shore.
Charles R. Sherman to David Hansen, Hillside avenue.
Charlotte A. Sutherland et al to Mary E. Gardner Sea street.
Charles Treadway to Ellen P. Holmes, Tyler street.
Carl L. Watson to Evelyn F. Weaver Channing street

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 50.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot

Established in 1827.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUB. CO.
(INCORPORATED.)
OFFICE, No. 1424 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephone Quincy 425.
Quincy 1910.

Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Established in 1889.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE

BRAINTREE OBSERVER

Weekly Established in 1878.

H. T. WHITMAN

AGENT FOR THE

Adams Real Estate Trust

LAND FOR SALE

MERRYMOUNT

Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance

QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.

BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street

Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY

Established in Quincy in the year 1840 by

W. PORTER

Insurance effected in reliable and safe

By W. PORTER & CO.

At No. 20 Killy Street, Boston.

Residence, Hancock Street, Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank

ESTABLISHED 1845.

New Savings Bank Building

President, JOHN Q. A. FIELD

Vice President, RICHARD D. CHASE

Treasurer, CLARENCE BURGIN

BOARD OF INVESTMENT

JOHN Q. A. FIELD, RICHARD D. CHASE

R. D. CHASE, HERBERT T. WHITMAN

BANK HOURS

Every Business Day except Saturdays

8:30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Deposits placed on interest on the first

Tuesday of January, April, July and October

Connected by Telephone.

Quincy, March 25, 1912

Incorporated 1837

Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.

Amount at Risk, $29,091,723.16

Cash Assets, 176,001.40

Total Assets (including re-insurance), 24,645.05

Amount of Cash Surplus, 249,246.38

Unpaid Claims, 111,351.33

Total Available Assets, 317,202.29

Dividends are now being paid on five-year policy, 40 per cent; on three-year policy,

30 per cent; on one-year policy, 20 per cent.

JAMES V. NOYES, President.

THEODORE T. MARSH, Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS:—Pres. E. D. McCall, Dedham; Frederick D. Ely, Dedham; Samuel

Gannett, Milton; James J. Lyons, Dedham; Joseph H. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

Lyons, Dedham; Samuel H. S. S. S. S.

ORDER YOUR KINDLING WOOD NOW

We have it now: we shall be out of it very soon

The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company

Offices:
Neponset, Boston, Tel. 1040 Dorchester
166 Devonshire St., " 3184 Main
1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

When U Want
Plumbing and Heating
Work Done

In any part of your home, store or factory, and want it done in first
class style.

SEND FOR US

The Wm. A. Bradford Co.
Sanitary Plumbing
GAS FITTING
FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK
No. 5 Maple St.,
Quincy, Massachusetts

Frost Coal Co.

SUCCESSOR TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.

488 Neponset Avenue,
Neponset. Telephone
1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.

JOHN A. BOYD CAMP

William L. Brennan, quartermaster at the Hingham Arsenal, has been re-elected Commander of John A. Boyd

Camp, Spanish War Veterans. The installation will be Jan. 7.

Peter Cusack, an Indian fighter, who was retired from the regular army with the rank of ordnance-sergeant after a 35 years service was instituted to membership. He enlisted in 1875 and was in the Indian wars from 1875 to 1888. He is now attached to the Hingham Arsenal.

It was reported that the camp was in a flourishing condition. Other officers elected were: Harry L. Bailey, senior vice commander; John F.

Johnson, junior vice commander;

James J. Black, chaplain; George F.

Phillips, officer of the day; Thomas

C. Brown, officer of the guard; Walter C. Carman, trustee; Walter F.

Carman, adjutant; Carl W. Weisler, quartermaster; Thomas C. Brown, delegate to the department convention; George F. Phillips, alternate.

ERICKSON—WESTRIN

A pretty marriage took place at 98

Crane street, Saturday evening, when

John F. Erickson Jr., a well-known

South Quincy baseball player, took as his wife Miss Esther C. Westrin, also of Quincy.

The ceremony took place at the home of the groom, in the presence of over fifty immediate relatives of the bride and groom. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. G. Sparrow, of the Swedish Congregational church, in a room prettily decorated with potted plants and flowers.

The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Gustave Erickson at the piano, as the couple marched into the room followed by Miss Esther

Erickson, a sister of the groom as maid of honor, and Gustave Westrin

a brother of the bride as best man.

The bride was given away by her uncle, Nils Anderson, and the groom

by his father, John F. Erickson, Sr.

The couple are to live on Crane street and will be at home to their friends in two weeks.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS

Letters remaining unclaimed at the Quincy post office Dec. 4: Mrs. N. J.

Anthony, Mrs. William Barker, John

W. Bradley, Mrs. Alice Barry, Alfred Castle, Talpaup, Cynnyng, E.

Wendell Gibbs, Woly Herr, Miss B.

Jardine, Miss Emma Larson, Emil

Marquis, Allan McDonald, Miss Katherine McKay, H. Melnik, F. S. Nicholson, H. Samson, Perry Smith, John

Sullivan, Antonio S. Tmkiev, Mr.

Wardene.

LIL' BRACK FEET

Lillian Barker Beede

My h'a't gits sad an' lonesome now

When 'o'clock comes 'round.

An' fru de cabin do' I heah

But happy 'la'sed soon.

Oh chilluns laughin' de dey come

Atrippin' down de street.

Wif schoolbooks undnest dey alms.

An' music in dey feet.

An' den I tries to jes' fo'git.

An' make 'b'ev dat it's true.

He's comin' fru de alleyway

Wif all dem chilluns too;

De path on his 'li' 'lar' feet.

I kinder seems ter heah.

An' tu'n's my back dat he can't see

That ugly lookin' 'teah.

I mos' kin see dat 'li' brack face

Er peepin' fru de do'.

He's bright eyes spakin' wif delight.

Jes' kase he knows fo' sho'

Dat Mammy's roasin' possum meat.

An' taters, too, fo' him.

An' waitin' fo' his 'li' chile—

Huh po' 'li' hungry him.

But all dem 'li' brack feet pas' by.

A-trampin' on my h'a't.

An' jes' a green grabe ober dere

Am all dat I got.

Dem 'li' brack feet what 'longed ter me.

Somehow dey couldn't stay

In dis ery cabin in mine.

So dey jes' slipped erway.

Dere's music in er banjo-string.

Dere's melody in song.

I lubs ter heah de mockin' bird

Er singin' all day long.

But all de deas don't work

Ter me ain't half so sweet

As dat so' pittah-pattah ob

A pa' ob 'li' brack feet.

THE ACE OF SPADES

Fifty years ago when the gold fields of California were being opened up, a party of men were playing cards in

San Francisco. There were Denton and Andrews and Peterson and Green and Blake and Patsy Denton.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

They were playing cards in the

club house of the city.

THE SEVERED ROPE

then he wrote another one and pinned

it in his coat pocket.

"I don't suppose one of those chaps would go down after my body," he muttered grimly, for he had had reason to lose faith in his four partners.

The fifth one, Patsy Denton, was the most decent of the lot, and the day before he had fallen over the brink of the precipice.

The claims which the six prospectors had happened upon simultaneously seemed fastened on the western slope of the Panamanian range. They had found gold, but the vein was petering out.

"The fewer the men the greater share of honor," quoted Blake. "With

Denton and I gone there will be a fair share for four. Divided by six it would have skimmed shares a bit

Here goes!" I may as well take a chance going after poor Denton as to risk a shot in the back!"

He closed the door of the shack and went out to the overhanging cliff. The mountains lifted grim, dark shoulders to the bright sunshine.

The four men were in consultation

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, December 11, 1915

RECEPTION TO PASTOR

Pretty decorations, a fine musical program and a large attendance of the parishioners of the Water Street Presbyterian church, were the features of Wednesday evening at the reception tendered to the pastor, Rev. Clarence E. Campbell, and his bride of a few weeks, by the parishioners of the church. The reception which was in a way informal was held in the vestry of the church.

It followed the little surprise which the pastor gave his people a few weeks ago when he quietly stole out of town and journeyed to Portland, O., where he was married. The wedding day, to Miss Grace Alden, Copeland, one of the fair daughters of that city, the wedding being the outcome of a romance which had its beginning at the time Rev. Mr. Campbell was the pastor of the church in that city.

The evening's program opened with the entrance of twelve young ladies active workers in the church. They were followed by Rev. and Mrs. Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bishop, who assisted in receiving. As the party entered and passed down the aisle lined on each side with the church people, James Preston, who presided at the piano played the wedding march from Lohengrin.

The decorations of the chapel were very attractive and were arranged by members of the Christian Endeavor society under the direction of George McDonald. Streamers of blue and gold hung over every doorway, and window and around every supporting pillar as well as across the room and from the pillars to the chandeliers.

The receiving party stood in front of the platform at the head of the vestry, potted plants and drooping, twisted streamers forming a pretty background. Mrs. Campbell wore a becoming gown of dull rose crepe de chene.

Following the reception during which the pastor and his bride were extended the congratulations of those present there was a musical program which opened with a solo by Louis Marini, who was introduced in a witty manner by Alfred Bishop, superintendent of the Sunday school who was in charge of the musical program.

Mrs. Thomas Gammon rendered a solo accompanied by Hilton Marr which was followed by a cornet solo by Wendell Clark. Mrs. Gammon responded to an encore and Mr. Clark for his encore rendered "Evening Star" from Tannhauser. Other numbers on the program included vocal solos by Miss Lillian McKay accompanied by her sister Mrs. Sears and a solo by Everett Clark of the Schubert quartet accompanied by Hilton Marr.

It is hardly necessary to say that every number was encored and the artists graciously responded.

Alfred Bishop who introduced the first created no end of laughter by his witty introductions and at the conclusion he made a brief address in which he closed with a request for remarks from the pastor. Mr. Campbell in his brief talk told the parishioners how much he appreciated what they had done for himself and Mrs. Campbell. Mrs. Campbell was not expected and when called upon responded briefly closing with "You have been very good and kind to me, I thank you."

Cakes, coffee, and ice cream were served by the following young women: Annie McLeod, Minnie May, Emma McLeod, Charlotte McLennan, Ruth McLeod and Flora Thompson. The committee in charge of refreshments were: Mrs. L. Tinney, chairman, Mrs. D. Muckle, Mrs. A. Smart, Mrs. A. Cowe, Mrs. D. McLennan, Mrs. C. Ross, Mrs. J. McKay and Mrs. E. Collins.

The committee of arrangements were: Mrs. Craig, Mrs. L. Tinney, Mrs. Thomas Bishop, Alexander Smart, Mrs. A. Cowe, Mrs. D. McLennan, Alfred Bishop, M. Lamont, Charles Clark, William T. Cumming and Alexander Clark.

The twelve sisters in charge of Miss Margaret Michael as head usher were: Jessie Shirley, Ruth Kemp, Mary Morrison, Alice Jones, Jean Crammond, Bessie Miller, Margaret McIntosh, Mildred Moyle, Annie Cumming, Elsie McLennan and Margaret E. McLeod. Their work was greatly appreciated.

Chairs by some of the young men present, closed the reception.

HOME FROM LABORATOR

Dr. Harold Thomas, Harvard Medical School 1915, of Newton street, Wollaston, returned this week from Labrador and Newfoundland, where he has been for the past six months in the service of the International Grenfell association at the Indian Harbor and St. Anthony hospitals.

The medical work at Indian Harbor carried him up and down the Labrador and 150 miles inland to the head of the Great Hamilton inlet. In an auxiliary yawl he travelled 750 miles of coast.

His work was for the most part among Newfoundland fishermen, 20,000 of whom go down on the Labrador for the summer fishing, because of the shortness of the fishing season. They depend on a few weeks work for their winter subsistence and work night and day, neglecting their own bodily illnesses until frightful conditions result. The work of the doctor calls for the most versatile of men, outside of a knowledge of surgery and medicine, an acquaintance with plumbing, engineering, masonry and general construction is almost a fundamental necessity.

The "Iviveys" (Labradorians) are suffering greatly from the present slump in the fur market. Hundreds of trappers disposed of their furs to the companies as best they could, for mere bawble. Because of the high price of food materials, a condition of near starvation exists. If the fur buyers do not go down this desolate coast this mid-winter there is bound to be much suffering.

Dr. Thomas left St. Anthony the last of November in three feet of snow with drifts nine feet high.

Dr. Thomas begins an internship of twenty months at Hartford hospital, Connecticut, Jan. 1.

DAUGHTERS OF VIKING

Circle Daughters of Viking, Foresters of America held a whist and dancing party in Electa hall Thursday evening which was largely attended. The committee was in charge of Miss Ruth Gullikson.

Souvenirs to high scores at the whist party were awarded to Mrs. Selma Lindholm, Mrs. Mrs. Elvira Backman, Mrs. G. Nielsen, O. G. B. and Mrs. L. A. Jakobsen, who played a "gents hand" throughout the evening.

BRIEFS

The alarm from Box 54 at 6:15 Tuesday night was a false alarm.

Mrs. George F. Spooner of Revere road is ill at her home in the care of a nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Duggan, (Marjorie Penniman) have taken a house at 65 Park lane.

Charles H. Johnson is one of the lecturers in a popular lecture course to be given in the city of Lynn.

Michael E. Cook, a foreman of the Granite Railway is confined to his home with a serious illness.

The second grand dance of the Tubular-Ring employees is to be held in Alpha hall on Friday, January 14.

A small fireproof shed for the storage of paper is being erected in the rear of Welch's block on Hancock street.

Ernest McConnell, who sustained a broken leg some months ago and has been in the City hospital is slowly recovering.

The high wind and tide carried the water high over sections of Sea street Monday. The current had to run through a good-sized stream.

Henry F. Tilden and E. C. Sargent obtained the two highest scores at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City Club Wednesday evening.

The annual meeting and mid-winter banquet of the Granite Manufacturers' Association will be held at the New American House Boston next Tuesday evening.

The engagement is announced of Miss Edith Alice Dawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dawson of Newton Upper Falls, to Luke Henderson of Quincy.

The rooms used by the Democratic City Committee as headquarters during the recent campaign have been closed and the typewriter put away until another year.

Ex-Mayor John O. Hall has been appointed one of the legislative committee of the Mayor's club, to look after legislative matters during the coming winter.

Charles H. Johnson of this city addressed the students of the Tuckerman school at 25 Beacon street on Saturday morning on the topic: "Social work in our Sunday Schools."

Congressman Olney of the 11th congressional district which includes Quincy is a member of the committee on Military Affairs, one of the most important committees of this congress.

George Schwartz, pedler of Quincy is a petitioner in bankruptcy. His liabilities are $3,110.76 and assets $966.25 including a horse, wagon and automobile valued at $575. He also has debts due amounting to $125.

The Board of Health have been asked to assume the duties of the office of inspector of meats and provisions by Mayor Campbell. Several weeks ago Walter Field, who held office, resigned to take effect on Dec. 1.

Rev. Alan Hudson of Cambridge is to be the preacher at the Sunday services at Bethany church. Mr. Hudson was pastor of a church in Brockton until a year or so ago when he resigned to devote himself to lectures and writing.

Mr. William Sampson of the Fore River, and Mrs. Sampson, who have been making their home with Professor and Mrs. W. H. Wigley of Bigelow street, sailed Friday on the "Cameronian" for a three months visit to her people in Scotland.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hayden, will celebrate the 25th anniversary of their wedding at their home on Elm street this evening. They are well known in Quincy and are the parents of the Misses Blanche and Pearl Hayden, and Sherman Hayden.

The annual Boston meeting of the Quincy School Masters' Club will be held at the Quincy House, Boston next Tuesday evening. The speaker will be Prof. E. C. Moore of the Department of Education, Harvard University.

The Puritan Whist club met Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Wragg of Boston. The first prize for ladies was taken by Mrs. Wragg, for men by Mr. Wardwell and booby by Mr. Wragg. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable evening passed.

Out of respect for Frank E. Burrell, who was one of our best loved public officials who held office in Quincy and who died Wednesday evening, six weeks after he was retired from the office of chief of police, Mayor Campbell ordered that the flag on City Hall be flown at halfmast until after the funeral.

About thirty candidates responded to the call for material for the Quincy school basketball ball team Tuesday. Boston, Prout, and Weymouth were with last year's five and it is expected that a very successful team can be picked from the good material that has responded to practice, Tuesday and Wednesday.

None of the several applicants will be appointed inspector of wires by Mayor Campbell before his term expires. The office was created several weeks ago by the passage of an ordinance by the council. Mayor Campbell said Thursday that out of courtesy to Mayor-elect Bates, he would not make the appointment.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold E. Diehl were hosts at an informal theatre party Saturday evening, when they witnessed a performance of "The Only Girl" at the Schubert theatre. A dinner at the Rathskeller followed the performance. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bergfors, Miss Reynolds, daughter of a former U. S. Army officer, now retired and E. E. Bergfors.

The funeral of the late Barbara Malcolm was held Friday afternoon from the undertaking rooms of John Hall. Religious services were conducted by the Rev. C. E. Campbell. Burial was at Mount Wollaston. True to the racial spirit, twenty-four ladies of Scottish birth attended the funeral, although the deceased was practically unknown to any of them and Loyal Ladies lodge sent flowers.

Morris Burg, of the Quincy Public Market has recently learned of his brother's injury "Somewhere in France." Joseph Burg is now in an English hospital and his brother believes that he will be allowed to come back to this country on recovery from his injuries. He has had many experiences since enlisting at the beginning of the war and was captured by the enemy early in the war, but later released.

BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Hitchcock and son Emory of Marshfield are passing the winter season in Cambridge.

Rev. A. G. Sporrang is to speak at the High street church West Duxbury, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The body of Eliot M. Luce who died Wednesday at the City Hospital was buried at West Tisbury, Thursday for burial.

James Ford, better known as "Chickie," has left for Pinehurst, North Carolina to work in a well-known hotel of that city.

Mrs. Harry Gattrell who has been ill for some time with typhoid is improving. She is a patient at the Homeopathic hospital.

"Rus" Bates has charge of the Annual five which is to meet the High school boys in a basket ball game on December 21.

A. H. Smith has accepted the position of manager of the E. C. Gray Co., Hancock street store made vacant by the resignation of J. J. Black.

Lillian May Heron, the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Heron of Claremont avenue is slowly recovering from a severe attack of tonsillitis.

Mrs. Walter Barnard has been quite sick at her home threatened with Intermittent Fever, but under the careful treatment of Dr. Martin she is able to be about again.

George W. Pearce, 79 years, died at the Salter's Shug Harbor Thursday morning. He was the second inmate to pass on within two days. His body will be interred in the cemetery on the grounds.

The officers and directors of the Quincy Trust company have issued invitations to an inspection of its new banking rooms 1482-1486 Hancock street from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. Wednesday, December 15.

At the whist party held by the Dixie social club Thursday evening George Charles received first prize, L. Tinney and C. Carson tied for the second and the consolation prize went to Frank Townsend.

At the matinee whist of the George L. Gill Associates Thursday afternoon at Old Fellows hall, souvenirs were awarded to John Gills, Mrs. E. Davison, Mrs. H. E. Walker, Mrs. A. Orr, and Mrs. Julia Thomas.

The light which has illuminated the transparency in front of the Republican headquarters for the past few weeks has gone out, and probably will not again show forth its welcome until another year has passed.

The Fore River Corporation will probably submit bids for the two high speed submarines, which will be opened by the Navy Department Feb. 16. Specifications for the boats which have been sent out call for a surface speed of 25 knots.

The executive council on Thursday confirmed the appointment of Lawrence W. Lyons, clerk of the district court of East Norfolk, in this city. The appointment was made a week ago by Gov. Walsh for a term of five years. The confirmation was unanimous.

The new stereopticon recently purchased at the High school is in very general use there. Being portable it may easily be taken from class room to class room and the large number of slides of an educational value which accompany it are of great value in instruction.

Bills to be presented to the legislature are being prepared by Representative A. L. Whitman of the Fifth Norfolk district. Mr. Whitman stated Thursday evening that he would confer with well informed citizens of the city, and public officials before filing the bills.

The new stereopticon recently purchased at the High school is in very general use there. Being portable it may easily be taken from class room to class room and the large number of slides of an educational value which accompany it are of great value in instruction.

Red Cross Christmas seals go on sale today at the Quincy and Wollaston post offices. The proceeds this year as in years past goes to aid tuberculosis work in Quincy and it is hoped every one will buy generously. Many of the merchants are already using them on their letters.

A meeting of Christ Church Men's Club is to be held Monday night in the parish house when the nominating committee will make its report and the club be fully organized. Benjamin E. Morse of Canton will tell the story of lumbering operations in the Maine woods, illustrated by pictures taken by C. S. B.

Bliss Knapp, C. S. B., a member of the board of lectureship of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, is to lecture Sunday afternoon at half past three in the Opera house, Weymouth, under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Quincy, to which the public is invited.

The Holy Club held its third whist party at the home of Mrs. Mary McNeil, 52 Mount avenue, North Weymouth, Thursday evening. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Margaret Edna Robinson, who enjoyed a wedding trip to Bermuda, are residing at 17 Flint street, Norfolk Downs where they will be at home to friends after December fifteenth.

The Larkin Societies association Circle No. 29 of Quincy met with their president Mrs. Abbie E. Stockford of Hollis avenue Wednesday with a large attendance. Among those present from out of town, were President Mrs. G. L. Wildes, Secretary Mrs. W. O. Gibson and six members of Weymouth Circle No. 29; President Mrs. Bates and three members of Braintree Circle No. 68; also Larkin special representative Mrs. Ruth F. Bates of Braintree. There was a concert by a Larkin Symphonietta and refreshments were served by members of the circle.

The Eureka Club of Wollaston met at the home of Mrs. A. E. Stockford of Hollis avenue Thursday evening with sixteen members present. Whist was played and refreshments were served by Mrs. MacKay, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Newby. George C. Thatcher of Norfolk Downs was elected as Deputy Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, held Tuesday evening at the Marine Temple, Boston. The new Grand High Priest is Arthur D. Prince. Charles E. Mann of East Bridgewater was appointed as Deputy Grand High Priest of the 7th Chapter district which includes St. Stephen's chapter of Quincy.

The closing night of the annual fair at the Park and Downs church was a very successful one. Many articles found a ready sale and a fine hot roast beef supper was served by a committee consisting of: Mrs. W. Brown, Mrs. Fred Maxwell, Mrs. John O'Neill, Mrs. Frederick Arneberg, Mrs. Charles W. Jaycox and Miss Hattie Baehler.

WILLIAM NOLAN

Relatives of William Nolan, who died at the Salter's Shug Harbor Monday in his 75th year, called there Tuesday and took the body to South Boston with them. Nolan died before he was able to give the name of a brother he wanted buried. Relatives learned of his death through the newspapers. Nolan was an inmate of the home for five years. In his younger days he commanded a small ship which plied between New England ports.

KARL LEAF

Karl Leaf, a well known resident of Quincy, who has conducted a store at 407 Water street for the past six years, died suddenly Wednesday. Acute dilation of the heart is thought to have been the immediate cause of death. Mr. Leaf was in his 47th year, and besides his widow leaves two children Anna and Karl. He has a wide circle of friends. Previous to entering business he was connected with the store of Brown and Crowell at South Quincy.

SOUTH QUINCY

Miss May McIsaac was tendered a pleasant surprise party at her home on Pearl street Saturday afternoon, and presented with a pendant, the presentation speech being made by Nellie Elder. Games were played and refreshments served. Those present were Nellie Elder, Miriam Griffin, Margaret Buckley Margaret Cahill, Annie McConarty, Dorothy Osborne, Margaret Sullivan, Elizabeth Tesslin, A. Tesslin, Helen McIsaac, Marion Butler, Mrs. McConarty and Mrs. McIsaac.

Oliver and Bert Smith of R. E. Foy's Water street store sent a very pleasant week-end with friends in Newport Rhode Island.

Alexander Hall is absent for his place of business at the corner of Water and Franklin streets because of a bad attack of grip.

After January 1, 1916 the regular meetings of English Ivy lodge, No. 116 Order Daughters of St. George will be held the second and fourth Fridays of the month except on Sunday. The meetings were previously announced to the Orient. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. B. Bulkley of Loomis street, formerly of the Beverly Unitarian church, where the ceremony took place. The matron of honor was Mrs. Alyce Winslow, and the best man was Walter L. Alley of Beverly.

John Dwyer of School street has returned to work with the M. O'Keefe company of Hancock street after a few days' illness.

WEST QUINCY

George Donahoe of Common street left Monday for Bath, Maine.

Frank Kelly of Crescent street has accepted a position with John Cashman & Sons Co.

William J. Corcoran, of the firm of William J. Corcoran & Sons is seriously ill with tonsillitis at his home on Grove street.

William Guald of Bates avenue has started work with John Cashman & Sons.

Frank Lemieux of Cross street has accepted a position with the Slater & Morrell shoe company of Braintree.

Lawrence Butler, well known as "Ben" Butler of West Quincy is dangerously ill with pneumonia at the Quincy City Hospital.

The second grand dance of the Manchester Social club has been announced for New Year's eve in St. Mary's hall.

No new officers of the Division 4, A. O. H. were elected at its meeting for the election of officers held in St. Mary's hall, Wednesday evening. All the present officers being re-elected for the ensuing year. Edward Finn is president of the division, Bernard Griffin, vice president, John Reynolds, financial secretary and Daniel Scully, recording secretary. After the election a talk on "Unity" by Doctor Ash was listened to with interest.

Miss Mary Drohan, of Copeland street has accepted a position with T. J. Rogan & Co., of West Quincy.

James Halligan has his new two story house on Rogers street nearly completed.

Arthur Lambert of Copeland street suffered a serious injury Thursday afternoon while stopping a razor. His finger was nearly severed.

"Lara Henderson of St. John's, N. B. arrived Tuesday for a visit to Mrs. Susan McLeod and friends of Hall place.

Mrs. Bessie Flaherty of Bates avenue is slowly recovering from a recent illness. She was about for the first time Thursday.

Joseph E. Belanger of Willard street has accepted a position as engineer with a firm building a new theatre in Brockton.

Miss Mary McGowan of Crescent street, formerly with a large Boston shoe store for many years, has opened a boot and shoe store on Copeland street.

Seventy friends of Edward McPherson of Common street gave him a great surprise Wednesday evening when they planned for him a party. Henry Ryan and Arthur Buckley were successfully carried out. He was the recipient of a handsome Waltham watch. Games were played and refreshments served until a late hour.

NORFOLK DOWNS

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Poland celebrated their silver wedding at their home on Buckingham road. Relatives and friends from Quincy, Norfolk Downs, Boston, Lynn, Lowell and New York were present. The rooms were very prettily decorated with potted plants.

The evening was spent in playing games, dancing and singing, and was an enjoyable one for all. During the evening a supper was served by Burleigh & Martin. Mr. and Mrs. Poland were the recipients of many pretty gifts and the very best wishes of many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Wallace, nee Edna Robinson, who enjoyed a wedding trip to Bermuda, are residing at 17 Flint street, Norfolk Downs where they will be at home to friends after December fifteenth.

The Larkin Societies association Circle No. 29 of Quincy met with their president Mrs. Abbie E. Stockford of Hollis avenue Wednesday with a large attendance. Among those present from out of town, were President Mrs. G. L. Wildes, Secretary Mrs. W. O. Gibson and six members of Weymouth Circle No. 29; President Mrs. Bates and three members of Braintree Circle No. 68; also Larkin special representative Mrs. Ruth F. Bates of Braintree. There was a concert by a Larkin Symphonietta and refreshments were served by members of the circle.

The Eureka Club of Wollaston met at the home of Mrs. A. E. Stockford of Hollis avenue Thursday evening with sixteen members present. Whist was played and refreshments were served by Mrs. MacKay, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Newby.

George C. Thatcher of Norfolk Downs was elected as Deputy Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, held Tuesday evening at the Marine Temple, Boston. The new Grand High Priest is Arthur D. Prince. Charles E. Mann of East Bridgewater was appointed as Deputy Grand High Priest of the 7th Chapter district which includes St. Stephen's chapter of Quincy.

The closing night of the annual fair at the Park and Downs church was a very successful one. Many articles found a ready sale and a fine hot roast beef supper was served by a committee consisting of: Mrs. W. Brown, Mrs. Fred Maxwell, Mrs. John O'Neill, Mrs. Frederick Arneberg, Mrs. Charles W. Jaycox and Miss Hattie Baehler.

WOLLASTON

The Wollaston Ladies Aid Alliance is to hold a sale Wednesday afternoon in the Unitarian parish house, followed by a turkey supper and entertainment.

St. Chrysostom church has been placed on the National flag by Archibald H. Briggs' last year's Sunday school class.

Several Wollaston school children are planning to go to Watertown Saturday Dec. 18 to see a living exhibit of the girls manual training department, showing the grade course from kindergarten through high school, at the Perkins Institute for the Blind. The exhibit will be in the main building of the Institute from 2 until 5 o'clock and is free to the public and nothing shown will be for sale.

Miss Mary Lafavour Woodberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Woodberry of Lothrop boulevard, Beverly, on Dec. 3 became the bride of Robert Hinkley Sibley of Boston, formerly of Grand View avenue, Wollaston and they are now on route to the Orient. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. B. Bulkley of Loomis street, formerly of the Beverly Unitarian church, where the ceremony took place. The matron of honor was Mrs. Alyce Winslow, and the best man was Walter L. Alley of Beverly.

John Dwyer of School street has returned to work with the M. O'Keefe company of Hancock street after a few days' illness.

William Guald of Bates avenue has started work with John Cashman & Sons.

Frank Lemieux of Cross street has accepted a position with the Slater & Morrell shoe company of Braintree.

Lawrence Butler, well known as "Ben" Butler of West Quincy is dangerously ill with pneumonia at the Quincy City Hospital.

The second grand dance of the Manchester Social club has been announced for New Year's eve in St. Mary's hall.

No new officers of the Division 4, A. O. H. were elected at its meeting for the election of officers held in St. Mary's hall, Wednesday evening. All the present officers being re-elected for the ensuing year. Edward Finn is president of the division, Bernard Griffin, vice president, John Reynolds, financial secretary and Daniel Scully, recording secretary. After the election a talk on "Unity" by Doctor Ash was listened to with interest.

Miss Mary Drohan, of Copeland street has accepted a position with T. J. Rogan & Co., of West Quincy.

James Halligan has his new two story house on Rogers street nearly completed.

Arthur Lambert of Copeland street suffered a serious injury Thursday afternoon while stopping a razor. His finger was nearly severed.

"Lara Henderson of St. John's, N. B. arrived Tuesday for a visit to Mrs. Susan McLeod and friends of Hall place.

Mrs. Bessie Flaherty of Bates avenue is slowly recovering from a recent illness. She was about for the first time Thursday.

Joseph E. Belanger of Willard street has accepted a position as engineer with a firm building a new theatre in Brockton.

Miss Mary McGowan of Crescent street, formerly with a large Boston shoe store for many years, has opened a boot and shoe store on Copeland street.

Seventy friends of Edward McPherson of Common street gave him a great surprise Wednesday evening when they planned for him a party. Henry Ryan and Arthur Buckley were successfully carried out. He was the recipient of a handsome Waltham watch. Games were played and refreshments served until a late hour.

"Lara Henderson of St. John's, N. B. arrived Tuesday for a visit to Mrs. Susan McLeod and friends of Hall place.

Mrs. Bessie Flaherty of Bates avenue is slowly recovering from a recent illness. She was about for the first time Thursday.

Joseph E. Belanger of Willard street has accepted a position as engineer with a firm building a new theatre in Brockton.

Miss Mary McGowan of Crescent street, formerly with a large Boston shoe store for many years, has opened a boot and shoe store on Copeland street.

Seventy friends of Edward McPherson of Common street gave him a great surprise Wednesday evening when they planned for him a party. Henry Ryan and Arthur Buckley were successfully carried out. He was the recipient of a handsome Waltham watch. Games were played and refreshments served until a late hour.

"Lara Henderson of St. John's, N. B. arrived Tuesday for a visit to Mrs. Susan McLeod and friends of Hall place.

Mrs. Bessie Flaherty of Bates avenue is slowly recovering from a recent illness. She was about for the first time Thursday.

Joseph E. Belanger of Willard street has accepted a position as engineer with a firm building a new theatre in Brockton.

Miss Mary McGowan of Crescent street, formerly with a large Boston shoe store for many years, has opened a boot and shoe store on Copeland street.

Seventy friends of Edward McPherson of Common street gave him a great surprise Wednesday evening when they planned for him a party. Henry Ryan and Arthur Buckley were successfully carried out. He was the recipient of a handsome Waltham watch. Games were played and refreshments served until a late hour.

"Lara Henderson of St. John's, N. B. arrived Tuesday for a visit to Mrs. Susan McLeod and friends of Hall place.

Mrs. Bessie Flaherty of Bates avenue is slowly recovering from a recent illness. She was about for the first time Thursday.

Joseph E. Belanger of Willard street has accepted a position as engineer with a firm building a new theatre in Brockton.

Miss Mary McGowan of Crescent street, formerly with a large Boston shoe store for many years, has opened a boot and shoe store on Copeland street.

Seventy friends of Edward McPherson of Common street gave him a great surprise Wednesday evening when they planned for him a party. Henry Ryan and Arthur Buckley were successfully carried out. He was the recipient of a handsome Waltham watch. Games were played and refreshments served until a late hour.

"Lara Henderson of St. John's, N. B. arrived Tuesday for a visit to Mrs. Susan McLeod and friends of Hall place.

Mrs. Bessie Flaherty of Bates avenue is slowly recovering from a recent illness. She was about for the first time Thursday.

Joseph E. Belanger of Willard street has accepted a position as engineer with a firm building a new theatre in Brockton.

Miss Mary McGowan of Crescent street, formerly with a large Boston shoe store for many years, has opened a boot and shoe store on Copeland street.

Seventy friends of Edward McPherson of Common street gave him a great surprise Wednesday evening when they planned for him a party. Henry Ryan and Arthur Buckley were successfully carried out. He was the recipient of a handsome Waltham watch. Games were played and refreshments served until a late hour.

QUINCY POINT

The plans of Henry Dorley of 34 River street to spend a quiet 18th birthday came to a pleasant end on the unheralded arrival of twenty of his friends at his home on Sunday evening. He was presented with a programed silver handled umbrella by his brother Paul on behalf of the many friends present from Somerville, Wintthrop, Boston and Quincy. Games were played and refreshments served.

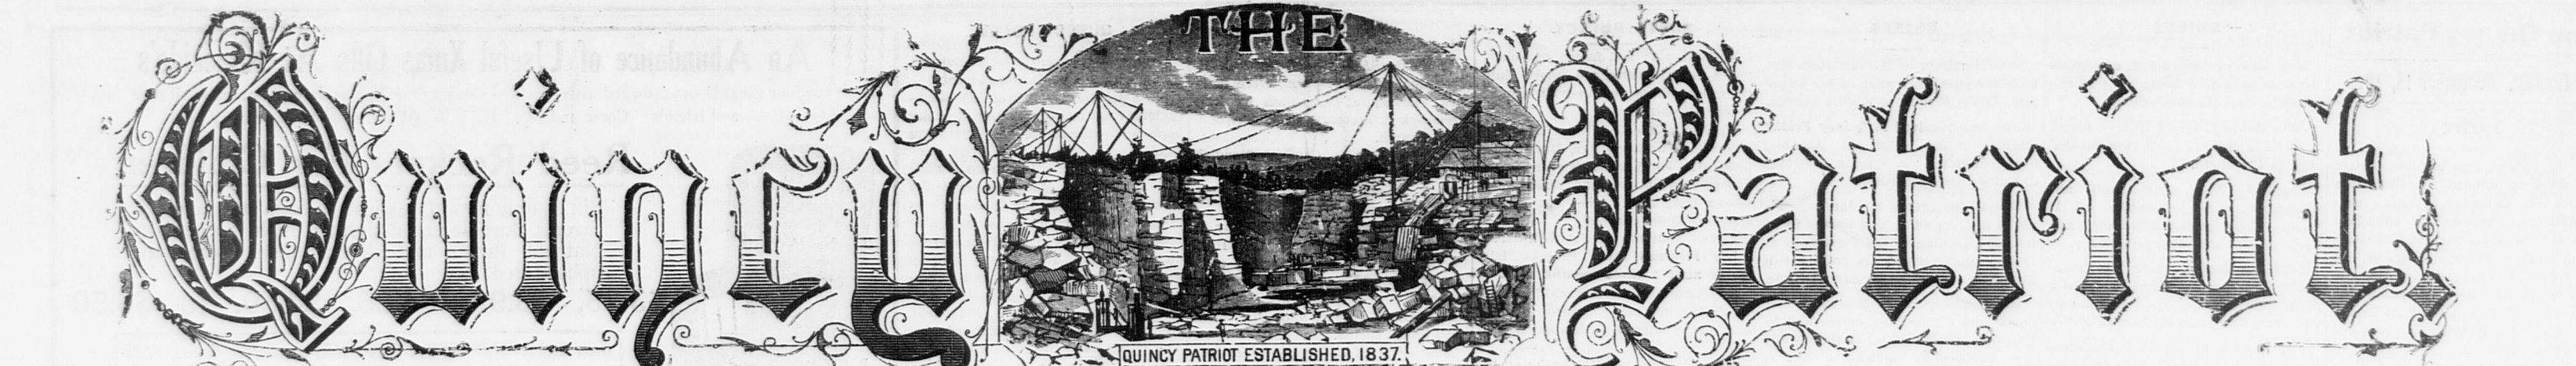

Mr. and Mrs. W. Newcomb of Edinboro street entertained Miss Marie Lorensen of Revere, formerly of Beach street, Quincy, over Sunday.

More than twenty friends of Mrs. George W. Sargent of 120 East Howard street spent an enjoyable Sunday evening at her home in celebration of her birthday. Refreshments were served and music furnished by some of those present, George W. Sargent presiding at the piano.

Mrs. Herman formerly of Glenwood way has moved to Cherry street.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose of 580 Washington street are shortly to move to Glenwood way.

Myrick Jones, formerly with H. H. I. Smith & Sons, has moved to Atlantic with his family. He is now employed by the T. D. Baker company of Boston.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1915.

VOL. 79. NO. 51.

FIVE CENTS PER COPY; $2.50 PER YEAR.

The Quincy Patriot
Established in 1827.
PUBLISHED SATURDAY MORNING BY
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBL. CO.
(INCORPORATED)
OFFICE, No. 142 1/2 HANCOCK STREET
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second Class Matter.
Telephones: Quincy 435,
Quincy 1910.
Subscription Price, $2.50 per year.
A reduction of fifty cents will be made
when paid one year in advance.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established in 1888.
Subscription Price, $6.00 per year.
A reduction of $1 will be made when
paid one year in advance.

ALSO PUBLISHERS OF THE
BRAINTREE OBSERVER
Weekly Established in 1858.

H. T. WHITMAN
AGENT FOR THE
Adams Real Estate Trust
LAND FOR SALE
AT MERRYMOUNT
Mt. Wollaston Farm
Real Estate, Mortgages, and Insurance
QUINCY, 21 Adams Building.
Tel. 847-W
BOSTON, 220 Devonshire Street
Tel. Fort Hill 591

INSURANCE AGENCY
Established in Quincy in the year 1880 by
W. PORTER
Insurance offered in reliable and safe
terms and Mutual offices.

By W. PORTER & CO.
At No. 20 RILEY STREET, Boston.
Residence: Hancock Street, Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank
ESTABLISHED 1865.
New Savings Bank Building
137 1/2 Hancock Street
President, - - - JOHN O. A. FIELD
Vice President, - RICHARD D. CHASE
Treasurer, - CLARENCE E. BURGIN
BOARD OF INVESTMENT
JOHN O. A. FIELD, RICHARD D. CHASE, R. D. CHASE, HERBERT T. WHITMAN
BANK HOURS
Every Business Day except Saturdays
8:30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
Deposits placed on interest on the first Tuesday of January, April, July and October.
Connected by Telephone.
Quincy, March 29, 1912

Incorporated 1827
Dedham Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.

STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $9,291,723.10
Cash Assets, 176,091.40
Total Assets (including
re-insurance), 24,654.05
Amount of Cash Surplus, 241,846.38
Contingent Assets, 141,031.35
Total Available Assets, 382,877.73
Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies, 10 per cent; on three-year policies,
8 per cent; on one-year policies, 5 per cent.

Norfolk Mutual Fire Ins. Co.
DEDHAM, MASS.
STATEMENT JANUARY 1, 1915.
Amount at Risk, $2,053,297.27
Cash Assets, 644,729.80
Total Assets (including
re-insurance), 2,698,027.07
Amount of Cash Surplus, $438,054.06
Contingent Assets, 284,697.25
Total Available Assets, 722,751.31
Dividends are now being paid on five-year
policies, 10 per cent; on three-year policies,
8 per cent; on one-year policies, 5 per cent.

DORCHESTER
Mutual Fire Insurance Company
BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS.
INCORPORATED 1855
HOME OFFICE, - IN CENTRAL STREET
Telephone, Main 1040.
William A. Muller, President
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
Edward C. Mason, Secretary
William A. Muller, Treasurer
DIRECTORS
Paul R. Blackburn, Attorney
Clarence Burgin, Treas. Quincy Savings
Bank
W. D. C. Curtis, Vice-President
T. J. Falvey, Pres. Mass. Bonding and
Ins. Co.
Henry Hornblower, Hornblower &
Weeks
Louis K. Liggett, Pres. United Drug
Company
Wm. J. McGuffee, Vice-Pres. Thomas
W. Sullivan, Pres. Bay State Street
Railway Co.
John P. Squire, John P. Squire & Sons
Ralph J. Wild, Pres. Wellington
Wild Coat Co.
Charles J. Willis, Bice Hill National Bank
We reduce your Insurance Rate One-
Fifth.

ORDER YOUR KINDLING WOOD
NOW
We have it now: we shall be out of it very soon
The A. T. Stearns Lumber Company
Offices:
Neponset, Boston Tel. 1040 Dorchester
166 Devonshire St., " 3164 Main
1 Sudbury St., " 578 Haymarket

When U Want
Plumbing and Heating
Work Done
In any part of your home, store or factory, and want it done in first
class style.
SEND FOR US
The Wm. A. Bradford Co.
Sanitary Plumbing GAS FITTING
FURNACE & SHEET METAL WORK
No. 5 Maple St.,
Quincy, Massachusetts

Frost Coal Co.
SUCCESSOR TO
GEORGE E. FROST & CO.
488 Neponset Avenue,
Neponset, Telephone
1500 Dorchester

Only Coal Wharf in Neponset.
PHILIP J. HALVOSA
Major James M. Curley of Boston, members of the Boston City Council, reporters of Boston newspapers who "covered" City Hall, as well as de-lators from men prominent in the labor movement, from the Newspaper Workers' Union of Boston, the Granite Cutters Union of Quincy and from Granite Lodge Order Sons of St. George, were present Friday, Dec. 10, at the funeral service of Philip J. Halvosa, who died Tuesday following a few weeks illness of pneumonia.
The services were held at Christ Episcopal church and were conducted by Rev. William Grainger, rector of the church.

The body was escorted to Mt. Wollaston cemetery by members of the Sons of St. George who conducted their committal service at the grave.
Over the family lot is a beautiful granite memorial of the "Rock of Ages" done by Mr. Halvosa himself in memory of his sons.
The pall bearers were C. O. Galvin and John A. McGowan of the Boston American; Forest P. Hull of the Boston Transcript; Donald G. Babitt of the Boston Advertiser; Clifton Loring of City Hall press room; and William Warrington.

BUILDING PERMITS
A drop in the number of permits for dwellings issued by George E.
Thomas, inspector of buildings for the week ending Dec. 11 over the week previous is shown by the following list this week.
John Mattson, dwelling Kidder street.
Horatio N. Hardy, dwelling, Atlantic street.
Mrs. Nellis A. Farmer, dwelling
Summer street.
Carmain Grazios & Nicola D'Angelo, dwelling, Glorioso street.
J. M. Nowland, dwelling, Edgewood circle.
Charles Q. Tirrell, dwelling, Hamden circle.
Hattie A. Jefferson, dwelling, Kemper-street.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS.
Letters remaining unclaimed for at the Quincy Post Office.
Lillian Adams, A. George Anthony,
Mrs. F. R. Barnes, Mrs. E. Bartlett (3)
Alceste Berna, Mary F. Flaherty, Jacob
Frankenberg, Alex. Fraser,
Frank Capron, E. A. Gould, Joe. Hane,
Mr. Herman, Miss Elina Linquist, Domenica Liseno (2) Miss Louise B.
Loomis, Henry W. Norb, A. Papagni, Romano Righetti, Angelo Torticelli.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING
When you start out for the city,
To the shops so gay and pretty,
With a list of Christmas gifts you want to buy,
You may think it will be fun,
But before you've gotten one,
Your patience, certain things will sorely try.

THE BOND OF SYMPATHY
The girl rode with her chin on her shoulder, for she had lost her way, and behind her was a rapidly sinking ball of red fire. Already the sky to the north and south, shot with green and lilac, blended to a pale combination of pink and azure in the east, proclaiming an early October sunset.
If she could only gain her way, she would have been a good deal better than the ruddy, dun pony, astride the saddle hills, would know the way home.
"Oh, Snip! Dear little Snip!"
she begged. "Climb this one fast, and I do believe we shall see something familiar on the other side!"
Her voice died almost in a sob.
Snip doubted his speed at the sound of her "blessed sight"—a flat country, and in the distance, the white buildings of the Somerhill ranch.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reasonably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in
the lecture by Bliss Knapp, C. S. D., a
member of the board of lecturership
of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,
Boston. Mr. Bliss' subject was
"Christian Science: The Revelation of
Divine Power." He said:
Before Jesus went away he promised to send another Comforter. That no
misconception might arise, he took the
precaution to explain the nature of
this promised Comforter. It should not
be a man, nor a person, but rather
the impersonal "Spirit of truth." He
explained further that the "Spirit of
truth" would lead mankind into all
truth, even to the very source of truth
which is God, and it would testify of
him. Now the spirit of truth is its
law—the law which communicates
God's healing power to humanity.
That law, moreover, requires a science
which can interpret it and be reason-
ably understood. Since the law is divine, its Science must be a divine or
Christian Science. That is what
Christian Science is—the spiritual understanding of divine law as applied to
the needs of humanity. It is not an invention. It is the discovery of what
has always been true, and what always must be the real Comforter to
suffering humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Weymouth, Braintree and Quincy
people attended the Christian Science
lecture Sunday afternoon at half past
three in Bates Opera house, Wey-
mouth, and were much interested in the lecture by Bliss Knapp

Saturday, December 18, 1915

NOTICE

As the Patriot goes to press earlier next week on account of Christmas coming on Saturday, regular correspondents, pastors of churches, chairmen, organists and those having news or Christmas programs, are urged to forward them early in the week that they may not reach the office of publication later than Thursday night. Attention to this request will be appreciated.

QUINCY TRUST COMPANY

A new Quincy institution, standing for the interests of Quincy, and for her advancement, both from the merchants' standpoint and that of the individual, opened its doors to the public Wednesday at nine o'clock.

The Quincy Trust Company certainly had an auspicious opening. At the hour for opening some twenty persons vied with each other to get naturally to be the first depositor. This was true of each of the three special departments which the bank offers the Commercial, the Savings and the Christmas Savings Club.

The agitation for additional banking facilities for our fast growing city covers a period of twenty years. Several times during that period applications for a charter have been made but on account of various reasons each application has been rejected. The Quincy Trust Company, with a "Leave to withdraw," the demand for additional banking facilities grew however and several merchants took the matter up again. They secured the assistance of Mayor Campbell and after the numerous hearings before the Finance Committee a charter was granted by unanimous vote of that board.

The arrangement of the new bank is ideal, with two entrances, one on Hancock street and the other at the junction of that street and Cottage avenue, making approaches of a most satisfactory character. A buffet work is all mahogany and the furniture is a perfect match. As you enter from the junction you find at the right a large commodious open office space where Mr. Herbert E. Curtis the treasurer has his desk. In the same enclosure, Mayor Campbell who is president of the bank, has his desk. Leading from these offices is the Directors Room, all finished in mahogany.

Opposite the entrance is the Savings Department, the Commercial Department and the Christmas Savings Club Department in the order named. The entire equipment of the bank is most up-to-date and the slogan of all seems to be Enthusiasm coupled with Preparedness for what the bank stands for.

The honor of being the first depositor in the Commercial Department fell to Morgan & Bolt the contractors, that of the Savings Department to Mrs. Minnie C. Provost and the Christmas Savings Club to Mrs. Minnie C. Craig—all of Quincy.

Mr. Herbert E. Curtis the Treasurer, so well known he hardly needs an introduction to the citizens of Quincy. For several years he has been with the Mt. Wollaston Bank and during that time made many friends in the business line in the city and surrounding territory. He has been for the past year assistant manager of the Fidelity Trust Co. Branch in Boston.

Mr. Burns the Savings Department teller has been paying teller at the Exchange Trust Co. of Boston and is well fitted for the responsible position he will hold with the new bank. Mr. Earle Bates, assistant teller, is well known locally. He is the son of Walter F. Bates, the local manager of A. J. Richards Co. of this city.

Miss Edwards and Miss Grundberg are young ladies well known in Quincy and many of their friends have taken the opportunity to express their pleasure at their being connected with the new bank.

Many floral expressions of good will were extended, among which were beautiful bouquets from the Granite Trust Co., the Quincy Savings Bank, Quincy Daily Ledger, Quincy Evening Telegram, Col. Henry J. Kincaide, Dorchester Trust Co., Fidelity Trust Co., National Shawmut Bank, Stoughton Trust Co., H. Dangle & Co.

In addition to the floral pieces there were large bunches of chrysanthemums here and there, and vases and on the outside of the building is several hundred feet of greenery, artistically draped over the front of the building and around the entrances. That part of the decorating was by William Patterson of Wollaston.

Refreshments were served during the day in the directors room where a large bowl of lemonade set on a table, surrounded by little cakes, and presided over by two colored waiters.

FOR CHRISTMAS FUND

Nearly $50 was raised for the Christmas fund of the Quincy Catholic Church through a sale held after the business meeting in the rooms of Quincy council, Knights of Columbus Thursday evening. The sale, a list of which was published in the Patriot, also returned the "mile of pennies" and the amount collected will be used to purchase Christmas gifts for children.

Articles of every description, contributed by the members were on sale. The household table was in charge of Miss Angela and Miss Josephine McCarthy. Miss Bertha Trepanier and Miss Julia Ford presided over the fancy table and Miss Julia Duffy held the grab bag.

It was announced at the business meeting that on request of Quincy council, Knight of Columbus, a list of needy families had been submitted so Christmas dinners could be donated to them. Committee reports were also received.

TENDERED A RECEPTION

Mrs. Leander Hokenson, wife of Rev. L. A. Hokenson of the Swedish Lutheran church was tendered a reception at her home at 28 Cottage street Tuesday by the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. The occasion was in honor of her birthday anniversary and she was presented with a carved wood box filled with money and a bouquet of flowers.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Andrew Andrews of the society. She spoke of the assistance rendered by that school working in conjunction with the church. The reception and presentation came as a real surprise to Mrs. Hokenson. She thanked the members of the society for their interest in her. There was also a short address by Rev. Mr. Hokenson. A collation was served.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Edward Richardson of 45 Gay street is on a few weeks visit to relatives in East Hartford, Conn.

John Kenley, Jr., of Hudson street is to leave Monday for a two months' stay in Cleveland.

Frank J. Wade and family and Thomas E. Walsh, formerly of 19 Cherry street moved into their new home on 88 Union street Thursday.

Benjamin Bean a Quincy dry goods peddler, 95 Summer street has filed a petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities are given as $4,691, assets $1,864.

City Auditor Fairbanks is installing a new system of bookkeeping in all the offices at City Hall. The new system is to go into effect January 1.

Mayor Campbell has signed the orders appropriating $20,000 for new sixteen room school buildings in Ward Two and Ward Six.

It was announced Wednesday at City Hall that the million dollar mark in collections in the Tax Collectors department for the year had been passed that afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Schaffer, and daughter have returned to their home in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, after a stay with friends on Elm street.

The Misses Mildred and Hattie Healey of Canton were entertained over the week-end by their sister, Mrs. James Callahan of Spear street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Rendle of 21 Chestnut street are entertaining their daughter and her husband of Maine.

The subject of the address of Robert Lincoln O'Brien before the First Parish club next Tuesday evening has been changed to "The newspaper as a Republic of the World."

Frank Grant a popular employee of the Nathan Ames Hardware store will be registered at the Lake Grove House in East Annam Lake and in Leeds Centre over Christmas.

As is its usual custom the Granite City club will keep open house on Tuesday night before Christmas. A buffet lunch will be served continuously in the dining room and an orchestra will furnish music.

John Adams Commandery is quietly working to add to their membership and everyone is doing their utmost to outdistance last year's record of fifty new members.

The annual inauguration night banquet of the City Council and city officials is to be held on the evening of Monday Jan. 3, at the New American House, Boston.

At the weekly worst tournament of the Granite City club Wednesday evening the two best scores were made by W. W. Mitchell and Ralph J. Lovell.

At the session of the Norfolk probate court at Dedham Wednesday administrations were granted on the estates of Alexander Nugent and Ellen Huller Fuller of Quincy.

The Central station auto combination, auto truck and Chief Billings responded on a still alarm at 7:28 Wednesday evening for a chimney fire in the house of V. E. Miller on Russell Park. The damage was slight.

Joseph Ecker of Dorchester has commenced the forming of a glee club of members of Weymouth council, Knights of Columbus. Mr. Ecker is well known in Quincy and has been a frequent soloist at local performances.

Russell Damon, quartermaster of the Teneadores a United Fruit Steamer, is visiting in Quincy. The Teneadores got in Tuesday from Costa Rica. Mr. Damon states that the storm outside was very heavy.

Prof. Ernest C. Moore of Harvard was the chief speaker at the home of Franklin avenue, Wollaston Park, on both sides with pneumonia and his younger son is also confined to his bed.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton N. Merrill of 25 Rawson road are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, born Thursday Dec. 9, who has been named Alvin Abbott Merrill.

Two pigs and a horse were burned to death Tuesday when a hut off Newport avenue which Frank Curry 50 years, shared with them, was destroyed by fire. Curry was badly burned and was put on the dangerous list at the City Hospital, dying soon after.

Mr. George Pock of John street, Montclair is confined to his home by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Luther have moved from Montclair avenue, Montclair, to Pawtucket, R. I.

Mr. Reid and family have moved from Sharon to Ruthven street. Mr. Reid is candy master, cashier and bookkeeper of the Wollaston Golf club.

Theodore Vail and Miss Tina Libby of Brookline, New Brunswick, are spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fulton of John street, Montclair.

Theodore N. Vail of 40 John street, namesake of the president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and Althea S. Libby of the same address were married Dec. 15 according to a return filed at City Hall Thursday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Wollaston of Wollaston. The groom's occupation as given on the return is a varnish maker.

Many PATRONESSES

The patronesses for the dance to be given for charitable work by the Kathryn Crane Memorial club, Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 28, from two till half past five o'clock, at Alpha hall, are: Mrs. Eugene Atwood, Mrs. Charles Alden, Mrs. Perley Barbour, Mrs. Thomas E. Dixby, Mrs. Clarence Burgin, Mrs. Walter E. Burke, Mrs. Paul R. Blackman, Mrs. E. S. Bennett, Mrs. Frederick Bresly, Mrs. Albert I. Barbour.

Mrs. M. M. Cannon, Mrs. Horace Crocker, Mrs. Daniel Deasy, Mrs. W. H. Doble, Mrs. Herbert Drake, Mrs. Walter E. Hall, Mrs. Arthur Harris, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick, Mrs. Franklin Horton, Mrs. Carl Homer.

Mrs. Henry Ivers, Mrs. Joseph W. Johnson, Mrs. F. E. Jones, Mrs. Carlton C. Lane, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, Mrs. Ralph Lovell, Mrs. George Mead, Mrs. E. E. Miller, Mrs. S. A. Miller, Mrs. Victor Moore, Mrs. J. C. Moore, Mrs. M. J. Nolan, Mrs. Geo. E. Plankin, Mrs. Frank A. Page, Mrs. M. F. Read, Jr., Mrs. Alfred Remick, Mrs. Elmer Ricker, Mrs. George Ryder, Mrs. Charles Sampson, Mrs. George G. Saville, Mrs. P. Shepherd, Mrs. Fredrick Soley, Mrs. Frederick Smith, Mrs. H. G. Smith, Mrs. J. I. Whitton, Jr.

NAOMI CLUB

A goodly number of members were present Tuesday evening at the Naomii Club meeting, held at the home of Mrs. C. Anderson of Grant street.

During the evening several piano solos and readings were given by Rev. A. G. Sporrang, Miss Esther Bergers and Miss Hazel Johnson. At the business meeting two new members were admitted. Refreshments were served.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Hamilton of Williamstown has been the guest this week of her sister Mrs. Albert Wright of Saville avenue.

News was received in Quincy Friday morning of the death of Ann Wilson, Conn., of Rev. C. J. Wigren, formerly of Quincy aged 64 years.

One of the events for January already announced is The Revels to be held the evening of the fourteenth at Quincy Music hall when society will attend en masse for its annual frolic.

Red Cross Christmas seals are being sold at the post offices and by Mrs. Frances Able, Jr., of Quincy and Mrs. Herbert W. Pinkham of Wollaston.

Mrs. Beatrice Porterfield of Hancock street leaves today for Stoughton, Ct., where she will be the guest of her sister for the winter. Mrs. Porterfield hopes the change will be a benefit to her health.

Miss Jessie Dozier of Lynn formerly of Quincy was the soprano soloist at the offertory, Boston, Thursday afternoon at the observance of "Tea Party Day" by the State Society of the Daughters of the Revolution.

A diamond studded Knights of Columbus charm was presented to Peter M. Sullivan, past grand knight, at the meeting of Quincy council in Colonial Hall Thursday evening. The presentation was made by Grand Knight Michael M. Barrett.

The Salvation Army of Quincy is preparing to do its share toward the Christmas day pleasant for some of the unfortunate of the city. Capt. Arling Friday said that 30 baskets, containing seven or eighth dinner each, will be distributed.

Over 300 residents of Quincy and the South Shore attended the ladies night of Quincy lodge of Moose in Alpha and Union halls Thursday evening. The special officers were the officers of East Weymouth lodge and a member of the lodge at Logansport, Indiana.

A meeting of the G. A. R. association has been called for Saturday evening January 1 in the Council chamber, City Hall. The meeting is to be an important one and a large attendance of members is desired, and friends of the Grand army are invited and urged to attend.

Mrs. Abbie Orr of Weymouth was the high scorer and winner of the first prize at the weekly nativity wheel party of the George L. Gill Associates in Odd Fellows Hall Thursday evening. Souvenirs were also awarded to Mrs. William Prout, L. I. Brotherton, Mrs. E. Newcombe, Mrs. Annie I. Pushee, Mrs. Glass.

NORFOLK DOWNS

The funeral of Mrs. Eva Bryant Minot of Wollaston Park who passed away as the result of a fall down stairs was held from her home on Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. Joseph Wollaston of the Wollaston Baptist church officiated. The service was most impressive and the beautiful floral offerings bespoke the love and respect in which Mrs. Minot was held. Her neighbors gave a large wreath of pink roses. The body was taken to Kingston for burial.

Joseph Ecker of Dorchester has commenced the forming of a glee club of members of Weymouth council, Knights of Columbus. Mr. Ecker is well known in Quincy and has been a frequent soloist at local performances.

Russell Damon, quartermaster of the Teneadores a United Fruit Steamer, is visiting in Quincy. The Teneadores got in Tuesday from Costa Rica. Mr. Damon states that the storm outside was very heavy.

Prof. Ernest C. Moore of Harvard was the chief speaker at the home of Franklin avenue, Wollaston Park, on both sides with pneumonia and his younger son is also confined to his bed.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton N. Merrill of 25 Rawson road are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, born Thursday Dec. 9, who has been named Alvin Abbott Merrill.

Two pigs and a horse were burned to death Tuesday when a hut off Newport avenue which Frank Curry 50 years, shared with them, was destroyed by fire. Curry was badly burned and was put on the dangerous list at the City Hospital, dying soon after.

Mr. George Pock of John street, Montclair is confined to his home by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Luther have moved from Montclair avenue, Montclair, to Pawtucket, R. I.

Mr. Reid and family have moved from Sharon to Ruthven street. Mr. Reid is candy master, cashier and bookkeeper of the Wollaston Golf club.

Theodore Vail and Miss Tina Libby of Brookline, New Brunswick, are spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fulton of John street, Montclair.

Theodore N. Vail of 40 John street, namesake of the president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and Althea S. Libby of the same address were married Dec. 15 according to a return filed at City Hall Thursday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Wollaston of Wollaston. The groom's occupation as given on the return is a varnish maker.

Many PATRONESSES

The patronesses for the dance to be given for charitable work by the Kathryn Crane Memorial club, Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 28, from two till half past five o'clock, at Alpha hall, are: Mrs. Eugene Atwood, Mrs. Charles Alden, Mrs. Perley Barbour, Mrs. Thomas E. Dixby, Mrs. Clarence Burgin, Mrs. Walter E. Burke, Mrs. Paul R. Blackman, Mrs. E. S. Bennett, Mrs. Frederick Bresly, Mrs. Albert I. Barbour.

Mrs. M. M. Cannon, Mrs. Horace Crocker, Mrs. Daniel Deasy, Mrs. W. H. Doble, Mrs. Herbert Drake, Mrs. Walter E. Hall, Mrs. Arthur Harris, Mrs. Sydney Hardwick, Mrs. Franklin Horton, Mrs. Carl Homer.

Mrs. Henry Ivers, Mrs. Joseph W. Johnson, Mrs. F. E. Jones, Mrs. Carlton C. Lane, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, Mrs. Ralph Lovell, Mrs. George Mead, Mrs. E. E. Miller, Mrs. S. A. Miller, Mrs. Victor Moore, Mrs. J. C. Moore, Mrs. M. J. Nolan, Mrs. Geo. E. Plankin, Mrs. Frank A. Page, Mrs. M. F. Read, Jr., Mrs. Alfred Remick, Mrs. Elmer Ricker, Mrs. George Ryder, Mrs. Charles Sampson, Mrs. George G. Saville, Mrs. P. Shepherd, Mrs. Fredrick Soley, Mrs. Frederick Smith, Mrs. H. G. Smith, Mrs. J. I. Whitton, Jr.

NAOMI CLUB

A goodly number of members were present Tuesday evening at the Naomii Club meeting, held at the home of Mrs. C. Anderson of Grant street.

During the evening several piano solos and readings were given by Rev. A. G. Sporrang, Miss Esther Bergers and Miss Hazel Johnson. At the business meeting two new members were admitted. Refreshments were served.

The first Quincy High school calendar ever issued appeared Thursday with the 1916 number. It was prepared by the Senior English class and the drawing classes.

It is printed on strong light-yellow paper and is an excellent piece of work. The cover design is a large half-tone of the Quincy High school building. The calendar is made up of fourteen leaves on twelve of which is the monthly dates with an appropriate verse or prose for each season. The Winter border was designed by Ruth Cropper of the class of 1918; Spring by Evelyn Luke; Summer by Florence Tobin and Autumn by Sumner Swingle of the class of 1917.

The verses and prose in the calendar were composed by Edward Lamb, Sherman Brooks, Helen Townsend, Annie L. Jenkins, Helen Rogers, Florence Wetmore, Marion Walther, G. E. Yule, Leon Bigness, Isabel Zirlstein, Anna Campbell, Lillian Palmer, Elizabeth Butman, Pauline Randall, J. H. Martin, Hester C. Harkins and Mildred B. Harrison.

The Athletic Association will receive the benefit from the large sale that have been reported.

SOUTH QUINCY

Victor Serber and family of Nelson street are preparing to move into their new home on Kendrick avenue before Christmas.

Mrs. John Reed of Forest Hills was entertained by her sister, Mrs. Walter G. Field of Verchard street over Sunday.

Frederick Manley and family have moved from their home on Cranch street to Quincy street.

James Fontaine of the company daily has returned from Presque Isle, Maine after a three months' stay.

Mrs. Laura Glover of Franklin street is closing her home and is to make her winter home with her son in Milton.

John Hanson, 151 Kendrick avenue, who was struck by an auto during the storm of Monday, sustained a fractured rib, and was more seriously hurt than at first supposed. The auto which struck him is said to have been without lights.

Ground has been broken for the new storehouse to be built for E. V. Fitts & Co. on Federal avenue.

William Walsh who is to go to a Boston hospital to be operated upon, is not the William Walsh of the Walsh Drug Co., as reported. Mr. Walsh is in good health and is at the Franklin street home of the company daily.

"Nothing paid out or nothing promised," was written on an election expense return filed with City Clerk Crane at City Hall Wednesday by Robert T. Foye, who ran for the council from Ward three and was defeated.

WEST QUINCY

J. Lawrence Martin of Bondsville, was in West Quincy over Sunday renewing acquaintances.

The body of Mrs. Thomas Dillon of 57 River street, Dorchester, whose funeral was held Saturday was brought to West Quincy for burial in St. Mary's cemetery.

The funeral of Antonio Pascolini, 22 years, of Quincy street, who died at the City Hospital as the result of injuries received when he tried to leave a moving train at West Quincy at midnight Friday, took place Tuesday from the undertaking rooms of John Hall. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

John Casey of Miller street is erecting a stone garage near his home for his two automobiles.

John Brown of Whitwell street, formerly with the Quincy Home Washing Co. is now past owner of the Central Laundry of West Quincy.

George McDonald of Willard street has a postal with the Quincy Plumbing & Supply Company of Brockton.

Walter McKenna of Crescent street is confined to his home with a sprained ankle received in a bad fall from a staging in the Fore River shipyard Tuesday.

Ernest Costello of Bryant avenue is at the Quincy Hospital for treatment.

George Stewart of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., is in town for the Christmas holidays, a guest at the home of his brother A. D. Stewart of Quincy.

William Corcoran of William Corcoran & Sons is about again after an attack of tonsillitis.

Miss Elizabeth E. J. McNeil of Crescent street and a number of friends attended the performance of Richard III at Boston College Wednesday evening. The play was given by the Sheelans gave a good rendering of the part of the Duke of York.

Joseph F. Rogers of Copeland street has accepted a position as mechanical instructor with the Reid automobile school on 91 Church street, Boston.

Joseph O'Rourke of the Goodrich Rubber Tire Company is spending a two weeks' vacation at his home on Willard street.

John Powers of Lynchburg, Va., of the Smith, Briscoe Shoe Company is being entertained by his sister-in-law Mrs. Mary E. Burns of Cross street.

ANNUAL VISITATION

Lodges of Greater Boston were represented at the annual visitation of Grand officers to Maple lodge K. L. of H. in Protector hall, Wollaston, on Wednesday evening. Delegations were present from Malden, Lynn, Unity, Friendship, Wakefield, Green, Warren, Evening Star and United Lodges, to the number of 75.

The visiting grand officers were: District Deputy—Mrs. Cora Prescott. Past Deputy—Mrs. Nellie M. Hallock. Grand Protector—Henry Steves. Grand Vice Protector—Mrs. Agnes G. Fletcher. Grand Secretary—Samuel Hathaway. Grand Guide—L. B. Houghton. Grand Past Protector—Mrs. Effie L. Hicks. Grand Guardian—Mrs. Lottie McCue. Grand Chaplain—E. Wall. Grand Treasurer—J. E. Bridge.

A program was carried out under the direction of a committee consisting of Mrs. Anna T. Morrison, Mrs. Annie I. Smith and Miss K. Lizzie Purnell.

It was announced that the installation of Mrs. Benjamin McCurdy as protector and the other officers would be on Jan. 5. Harry W. Tirrell was nominated as trustee to succeed Mrs. Anne A. Reed who resigned. The auditing committee appointed was Mrs. Effie L. Rhines, Mrs. Nellie M. Hale and Mrs. Annie I. Smith.

The Christmas dinner was awarded to Louise Duncanson, 90 Washington street.

Q. H. S. CALENDARS

The first Quincy High school calendar ever issued appeared Thursday with the 1916 number. It was prepared by the Senior English class and the drawing classes.

It is printed on strong light-yellow paper and is an excellent piece of work. The cover design is a large half-tone of the Quincy High school building. The calendar is made up of fourteen leaves on twelve of which is the monthly dates with an appropriate verse or prose for each season. The Winter border was designed by Ruth Cropper of the class of 1918; Spring by Evelyn Luke; Summer by Florence Tobin and Autumn by Sumner Swingle of the class of 1917.

The verses and prose in the calendar were composed by Edward Lamb, Sherman Brooks, Helen Townsend, Annie L. Jenkins, Helen Rogers, Florence Wetmore, Marion Walther, G. E. Yule, Leon Bigness, Isabel Zirlstein, Anna Campbell, Lillian Palmer, Elizabeth Butman, Pauline Randall, J. H. Martin, Hester C. Harkins and Mildred B. Harrison.

The Athletic Association will receive the benefit from the large sale that have been reported.

WOLLASTON

Benjamin S. Smith and Gertrude E. Brewster, both of Boston, were married Tuesday at Wollaston by Rev. Frederick H. Stearns of St. Chrysostom's church.

Miss Frances G. Cain of Standish avenue came home today from Harrisville, Rhode Island, for the Christmas recess.

On Christmas morning Saturday at St. Chrysostom's church, the Holy Communion will be celebrated at 7 o'clock. At 10 o'clock there will also be a service of the Holy Communion morning prayer, shortened form with brief address.

Stanley Weld of Winchester was the guest this week of the George E. Thomas of Newton street.

Mrs. John E. Thoma who has been seriously ill at her home on Standish avenue for two weeks is not allowed to sit up or to see friends yet.

From 2 until 4 o'clock Friday afternoon in the parish house there is to be a Christmas entertainment and party for the children. The entertainment will consist of vocal music under the direction of Mrs. Herbert V. Follett and humorous recitations by Vernon A. Field. Refreshments will be served.

The many friends of Mrs. Agnes Times of West Howard street will be pleased to learn that she is recovering from a recent operation for appendicitis at the Quincy hospital and is now with her mother, Mrs. Timothy Day, 23 South street.

Mrs. Alex. Pitts and family, formerly of Mill street have moved to 721 Washington street.

On Monday evening, the new evening school for foreigners was opened in the Washington school building with two teachers and about 15 men, all of them Syrians. This school was opened in fact at the request of the Syrians who presented a petition to the board of the school. They might be provided with a school near their homes and boarding places.

George Kenyon, the Quincy Point druggist notes improvement in his land which he badly lacerated on a spindle a few days ago.

Peter Delory is rebuilding his barn in the rear of his home on Germantown avenue into a two story house.

James Thomas Barry, a steam fitter at the shipyard and Mabel Elizabeth Moore of Quincy Point were married in Dec. 12 by Rev. Stephen C. Lang, according to a return filed at City Hall today. Mr. Barry lived at 186 E. Broad street. His bride was a waitress at the same place.

The Quincy Point Helms Ladies Whist club held its regular meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ida Winick on Washington street. The prize winners were Mrs. Tillie Herman, Mrs. Jennie Silverman and Mrs. Fannie Sternberg. The consolation prize went to Mrs. Fannie Abrams.

The cruiser Des Moines built at the Fore River yards some years ago has been ordered to Alexandria.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL ASSO.

Present facilities were taxed at the monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association held at the Washington school on Wednesday evening. A large attendance of interested members and friends were present, as well as a large number of pupils of the fourth and fifth grades.

All were interested in the speaker, of the evening, Miss Amelia Ward, whose subject was "Story Telling" and her many illustrations were greatly enjoyed. She told stories of the South and Southern "Mammies." The dialect stories were especially pleasing to the children. Serious stories and fairy stories were also read.

"Good stories are of a great benefit, while others do much harm." Other advice, as to moving pictures was also given. "Good does not come to us; we have to seek it," she declared.

After the story of St. Laurence, the telling was concluded.

Pleasant solos by John Parry were also given. The meeting closed with a short business session in charge of Thomas Griffin, vice president of the association, in the absence of Mrs. Helen Parry, the president.

Mr. Parry was called to the new piano and other subjects of interest brought up.

SURPRISE PARTY

The lights did not dim in any way at the surprise party given Miss Lillian Haney at her home, 17 Hill street Wednesday evening, by nearly seventy-five of her many young friends, even after an unused lamp was broken in the gateway.

No one could mistake her genuine surprise on her entry to find her many friends present not her pleasure over the presentation of a gold locket and chain by Herbert Gay on behalf of the committee, Elizabeth Hastings, Charles Hodges and Elsa Seward, and the company, many of whom were members of the Girls G. L. C. club of Hilbert street and the boys' club of the street.

Games of post office, forfeits and others, as well as the piano music by Elizabeth Hastings and Elsa Seward, and comical solos by Joseph Caravaggio, one of the K. of C. minstrel show, contributed to the assertion of the guests, at a late hour, that "it certainly was a swell time."

A PLEASANT SURPRISE

Several members of John Hancock Lodge, L. O. O. F., of Wollaston braved the storm Monday evening to call on Brother N. P. Brown of Austam lodge of Nevada City, Cal., who is making his home at 1 Linden street, Atlantic. The occasion was his eighty-first birthday.

He was completely taken off his guard as the brothers filed into the room, but was glad to meet the boys and a royal good time was enjoyed.

Mr. Brown has been under the care of the lodge for some time owing to trouble with his eyes. He was presented with a pound of smoking tobacco as a reminder of good fellowship. Noble Grand Charles Cummings made a few well chosen remarks and the chaplain John Leland read original verses suited to the occasion.

Mrs. Louise Sullivan, sister of the bride was maid of honor and John E. McEwan, a brother, was the best man.

Mr. and Mrs. McEwan are now on a honeymoon to Bath, Me., on their return they will live in Quincy.

QUINCY POINT

George W. Sargent is enlarging his garage on 126 East Howard street.

Mrs. Benjamin Smith of 563 Washington street has been confined to her home with illness for the past five days.

Members of John Adams Commandery, Knights of Malta attended the morning service at the Quincy Point Congregational church Sunday. The company in the order for the altar 40 members and had as guests, office members and members of the Grand Commandery of Massachusetts also commanders from Brockton, Wakefield, Somerville and Boston Commanderies.

The Companions marched from their headquarters, Colonial hall, to the church where they were greatly edified by an excellent sermon by the pastor of the church, Rev. S. C. Lang special music being rendered by the choir and an excellent quartet. The entire service was greatly appreciated by the company.

After the service the Compan

The Quincy Patriot

Saturday, December 25, 1915

TO PATRIOT READERS

With this issue the Quincy Patriot completes its seventy-ninth volume entering Jan. 1, 1916 upon its eightieth year. The new year brings changes and our readers perhaps will not recognize the Patriot in its new form for on that date it is to be consolidated with the Quincy Daily Ledger and become a daily instead of a weekly paper.

The Patriot as now published is of unusual size, necessitating having the paper made to order and if the size were changed would mean a new press, therefore it seems wise to consolidate the two papers into one, believing thereby the readers of both will be better served.

The giving up of the Patriot has been considered for several years but the subscription list has been so large and the sentiment so strong that it seemed almost an impossibility. So strong is the faith in the Patriot that there are subscriptions paid two and three years in advance and the paper goes into nearly every state in the Union and to Canada and abroad.

By the consolidation however the old name will be retained and each Saturday the subscribers whose subscriptions have been paid in advance are to date will receive the Saturday Ledger-Patriot, and although of different size and form it will have many of the old features as well as new ones, which will make it an interesting and welcome visitor each Saturday.

In keeping the name of "The Quincy Patriot" in addition to that of the Ledger in the consolidation, tribute is paid to the older residents of the city and old subscribers, also to the publishers who own up to considerable sentiment so far as the Patriot is concerned. Monuments in cemeteries are enduring and the Patriot will be, so to speak, a monument to the city. For over fifty years the late George W. Prescott was identified with the Patriot and up to the time of his death it never went to press without his personal supervision. So out of respect to his memory and to his large family of readers, the Patriot will be, for many years to come, welcome not only in the older homes of the city but in the newer ones.

To one and all The Patriot wishes a "Merry Christmas" and "A Happy New Year."

George W. Prescott Publishing Co.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S SOCIAL CLUB

The regular meeting of the newly formed St. Chrysostom's social club Monday evening was not as well attended as the previous ones, owing no doubt to the activities of many kinds which always precede the week of Christmas, but as President Joseph J. Felt said at the close, "These absent do not know what they have missed."

The committees in charge fully sustained the promise given that all would be satisfied with the entertainments furnished this winter.

The participants in the musical part of the program were: Mr. Felt, first director of the church conducted agreeable music pleasingly varied. Their rendering of the different selections was admirable and delighted the audience every number was heartily applauded and enjoyed.

Talbot's spirited playing was appreciatively received, and she was obliged to repeat her second number. Mr. Field's second appearance in the assembly room showed, he undoubtedly had many admirers his novelty in manner of telling them in his inimitable way, facial expression, all carried him safely into the laughter zone. Notwithstanding the fact he was suffering from a cold he was compelled to double his numbers on the program.

At the request of Rev. Mr. Stearns, Mrs. Follett delightfully sang two numbers, "Grey days" and "Mighty lak a rose."

With the exception of Mr. Abbott who is the soloist at the Union church, Boston, the participants in the entertainment are all residents of Wollaston.

Refreshments of sandwiches, doughnuts, cheese and coffee were served by young men under the direction of Mrs. Daniel C. Miller and Mrs. William J. Croucher.

The program was by Mrs. Jeanette C. Follett, soprano; Miss Carolyn Lewis, contralto; Miss Augusta Talbot, violinist; Miss Marion Harmon, pianist; J. Russell Abbott, tenor; H. Y. Follett, basso; and Vernon Field, reader and was as follows:

Violin, "Poesmes Hongrois" Hubay Reading, French Canadian Dialect—"George Washington."

Solo, "Spirit Flower" Campbell-Tipton Violin, "Hungarian Dance" Jeno Hubay, "Practice of Medicine" Adams Solo, "Star of India" Adams Solo, "When I Leave the World Behind" (By request) Berlin Reading, "Longhanded Dipper" (Yawob) Adams Quartet, "Good Evening" Smith

ST. AMBROSE COURT

The election of officers for the St. Ambrose court Foresters, No. 172, M. C. O. F. held in St. Joseph's hall on Monday evening resulted practically in a re-election. The installation is to be held in the same hall on Monday, January 3. The vice chief ranger is the only new officer among the following:

Chief Ranger—Mrs. Catherine Martin Vice Chief Ranger—Mrs. Georgianna O'Brien

Financial secretary—Miss Mary Pickering Recording secretary—Miss Elizabeth Farrell

Treasurer—Mrs. Annie G. Watson Senior Conductor—Mrs. Ellen O'Connell Junior conductor—Mrs. Bridget Sullivan

Inside sentinel—Mrs. Mary McDonnell Outside sentinel—Mrs. Mary Keller

Physician—Dr. John H. Ash Trustees—Mrs. Bizzozzo, Mrs. Shine and Mrs. Saville.

Delegates to the state convention to be held some time in the Spring are: Mrs. Catherine Martin and Mrs. Catherine O'Brien. Alternates: Mrs. Alice G. Ash and Miss Catherine Shea.

BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Smith of Hill street are being congratulated on the birth of a son on Sunday.

Miss Annie Sanderson is visiting her mother Mrs. John Sanderson of McDonald street over the holidays.

The United States submarine M-1 is being made ready for its trials to be held early in January off Provincetown. The ship has been in dry dock and returned Monday.

The alarm from Box 24 at 5:07 Monday night was for a fire on the awning in front of the Mills' Tea store near the Durgin & Merrill block. The awning was destroyed.

The Sunday school of the Universalist church will hold a Christmas concert Sunday evening at 5 o'clock in the church.

Mrs. H. H. Kilson, Mrs. John D. Mackay, Miss Georgiana C. Lane, Mrs. George E. Adams and Delevere King are arranging for this year's Revels to be held at Quincy Music hall Jan. 14th.

Mr. and Mrs. Lew Morton Atkins of Goffe street, Presidents hall are at Annapolis for two months and during their absence the Percival Footes are occupying their home.

Henry C. Low and sister Miss Emma C. Low have come over from New York to spend the Christmas season with the Russell C. Low of Presidents hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Pierce and family and Wellington W. Mitchell all of Greenleaf street left Wednesday to spend the holidays in Hartford, Conn.

Cars on the street car lines will run on Sunday time Christmas day. All the late trains will however be met.

Paul Larkin end of the football team of Worcester Academy this year and last years all-intercollegiate end is here for Christmas.

Henry Ford, not of Detroit, but the son of Timothy Ford, a member of the freshman class Holy Cross college is here for the holiday season.

John Kenley, Jr., of Putnam street left Wednesday for a Christmas and New Year's visit with relatives at Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. George Warren of Revere road left on Friday for Larchmont, N. Y., where they will spend the holidays.

Mrs. Charles Hart who has recently recovered from a serious illness is reported as improving. Mr. and Mrs. Hart are the guests of their parents on Butler road.

Benjamin Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Johnson of Adams, where he is a student at Munsion Academy.

At the weekly tournament of the Granite City club Wednesday evening the two best scores were made by Nathan Ellis and Samuel T. MacQuarrie.

The annual banquet of the Board of Trade may be held in Wollaston this evening. Negotiations are reported as underway to secure the banquet hall of the new Masonic Temple on Beal street for the occasion.

The session at the High school closed Thursday with a concert given by the chorus assisted by one or two visiting singers. This concert is an annual feature and is greatly enjoyed by the student body.

Twenty-five needy families were cared for this year by Quincy council, Knights of Columbus. Christmas dinners were purchased and each family received one on Christmas eve.

Miss Marion Fisher of Bangor, Maine, who has been the guest for a few days of Mr. and Mrs. George Warren of Revere road left for Bermuda, Saturday, where she is to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Hauck and baby of Fairmount way, Presidents hall are in Brooklyn, New York for the holidays. Mr. Hauck returns at the New Year but Mrs. Hauck will probably stay with her people for a few weeks longer.

Miss Edith Randall of Spar street left last week to join her sister Mrs. Zenas Arnold in Washington, D. C. for the holidays. Mrs. Arnold is making her home this winter with her son John R. Arnold, leaving Quincy in November.

Miss H. Lord, entertained a number of friends at her home on Caruth street, Sunday evening. During the evening Mr. R. Summers gave a most interesting and delightful account of his extensive travels.

The ladies' club of Adams Shore were entertained at the home of Mrs. N. C. Reed. There was a Christmas tree and entertainment which included readings and story telling, music and an original poem. Refreshments were served.

A house warming party was held by some of the many friends of Matthew Pay of P. H. Crane & Sons at his new home on Alton road on Sunday evening. Refreshments were served and the party was rendered by Robert Albionetti after the presentation of an electric table lamp.

Anna Stancovich of Maple street is at the Quincy City Hospital where she is being treated for burns. On Monday the chimney fell from a lamp Miss Stancovich carried. In picking it up she bent over the flame and her dress ignited. She was badly burned before assistance reached her.

The marriage of Miss Millie Purpura, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustinus Purpura, a well known resident of this city and Stephen Union, proprietor of a fruit stand in the store of Henry P. Kittredge in City Square will take place on the morning of Jan. 9 at the St. John's rectory. Invitations to the reception to follow in January have been issued.

Edward Carson's trip to South Boston Monday evening was not an ordinary one and his many friends will be pleased to learn of the announcement that he will be spending the Christmas season at St. John's rectory. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Locke, of Lockport, N. S. Professor and Mrs. Locke leave Sunday for the west.

When Miss Hazel Marvin of 27 Chestnut street left home for what she has been led to believe was a ball in Roxbury Monday evening, she quietly wondered why her companion Mrs. Josie Evans took her by way of Alpha and Union halls. Her wonder increased when she was persuaded to enter Union hall, where she was very much surprised to find over thirty friends assembled before her, and her companion became the champion at a successful surprise party.

BRIEFS

George Bell of Sea avenue has gone to Groveland, Mass., for the holidays.

William Thomson is quite ill at his home, 82 Gloucester place.

Patrolman Patrick Milford is improving after an illness of many months and is able to be about.

The Quincy Tennis Club hall is a feature of the holidays followed early in January by The Revels.

Mrs. Agnes G. Fletcher of Garfield street, an active member of Maple lodge, K. and L. of H. and Paul Revere Women's Relief Corps is ill and threatened with pneumonia.

Gordon Adams came on from Detroit Friday to spend the holidays with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Warren W. Adams of Greenleaf street.

The Christmas spirit, even in the shopping district was shown Tuesday when a nurse left a $5 bill anonymously with a prominent local shoe store to be used in giving shoes to the poor on Christmas.

A stereopticon lecture entitled, "A Trip through the Holy Land" is to be given by the Rev. Daniel J. Carney of Melrose in the church of the Most Blessed Sacrament at Houghs Neck on Tuesday evening, December 28 at eight o'clock.

Major Fred L. Jones, surgeon of the 5th Regt. M. V. M. of Quincy, has been appointed president of the Medical Officers of the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia and has assumed the duties and responsibilities that go with the office.

William Cluney, a well known government inspector of the Fore River yards and his bride last month, were married after a wedding trip to Norfolk, Virginia. His wife was Miss Marion Matheson of Washington street and a popular member of the Thistle club and a clerk in the store of Remick Bros.

A block of six or eight stores will be erected on the Col. Porter property at Adams and Hancock street by Morris Norris, the present owner, according to an announcement made today. The main store is to be at the junction of the two streets and either three or four will front on those streets.

The pupils at the St. John's parish school celebrated in a quiet way on Wednesday. Christmas trees were held in the rooms and appropriate programs were carried out. Present during the afternoon were Fr. M. J. Owens, pastor of St. John's parish and Fr. Walter A. Quinlan. Candy, cookies and pop corn was distributed.

Each pupil was also given a small picture of religious nature.

LOCKE-HARDY

Three clergymen took part in the wedding services at the Wollaston Baptist church, Wednesday evening.

John J. Hardy, the bridegroom, was the bride of Professor Cyril Durrant Locke. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Irad B. Hardy of the First Baptist church, East Gloucester, cousin of the bride and he was assisted by Rev. Joseph Walther of the Wollaston Baptist church and Rev. Isaiah W. Smith, D. D. of the Wollaston Congregational church.

The best man was Charles Thompson, Hamilton 13 of Mercersburg, Pa., a friend of the groom and Miss Marion Cameron Hardy, sister of the bride was maid of honor. Two little flower girls, cousins of the bride, Miss Elva Hardy and Miss Tina Hardy, scattered rose petals as the wedding party proceeded up the aisle.

The bride was given away by her father Eben Hardy and Mrs. George K. Drew played the wedding march. The ushers were: Fred A. Lloyd, of Somerville, Prof. Robert Henderson, Princeton 12 and Prof. John Cheever, Bates 12 both of Mercersburg, Pa.; George A. Lloyd, Tufts 13, of Somerville and Stuart Walther and William Bullock of Wollaston.

The bride was attired in a costume of duchess satin, draped with Bruges and Duchess lace. She carried a silver bouquet of lilies of the valley. The veil was caught up with clusters of orange blossoms. The maid of honor wore a gown of pussy willow silk over net, with garniture of pink rosebuds. She carried Killarney roses. Christmas decorations were in evidence at the church while palms and potted plants formed a background for the ceremony.

A reception at the Hardy residence on Wollaston avenue directly followed the wedding. Here the happy couple received in front of a bank of evergreen and pinks. They were assisted in receiving by the parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. George K. Drew, the former a brother of the groom. The mother of the bride wore a costume of silver grey crepe meteor and silk net draped with opalescent trimmings. She carried Hadley roses. Pink and green was the color scheme at the house and the dining room decorations of smilax, pinks and Killarney roses was especially effective.

The guests present to the bride were a pendant of sapphires, diamonds and pearls. He presented the best man with cuff links and ushers with pearl scarf pins. The bride's present to the maid of honor was a pendant of pearls and gold dress pins to the flower girls.

The bride is a graduate of Quincy High school, class of 1909, and attended Oberlin College, where she took up music. She has gained prominence as a singer and was a pupil of Rose Stuedes. She has been active in the social life of the community and her departure from Wollaston will cause many regrets. She is the daughter of Eben Hardy, a well known jeweler of Wollaston and Boston.

The groom is a native of Lockport, N. S. and a graduate of Acadia, class of 1911 and Yale 1915. He is at present superintendent of schools at Red Deer, Alberta, where the couple will make their future home. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Locke, of Lockport, N. S. Professor and Mrs. Locke leave Sunday for the west.

The fact that Kansas City, Kansas will close its sixth year of commission government with a surplus of more than $300,000 in the city treasury doesn't necessarily mean anything except the negative virtue of no extravagance. The significant thing is that Kansas City, Kansas has the surplus after having another year of good government—of government that has really taken care of the city.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

SOUTH QUINCY

August Viden of the Meth. Me., Iron Works is in town for the holidays with relatives on Penn's hill.

K. K. Soule's station agent at the Quincy station is Mrs. Mrs. Soule are to spend the Christmas holidays with relatives in New York.

Mrs. Clarence Cutter of Parkhurst street is spending the holiday vacation in Portland, Maine.

Richard Dalton, a popular clerk of E. B. Curry's grocery store is confined to his home in South Braintree with a touch of pneumonia.

James McElath who has been seriously ill at his home on Franklin place is improving.

Over one hundred Knights, from Natik, Waltham, Brockton, Newport and Quincy were present at Clan MacGregor hall Monday evening at an initiation by the degree team of the Brockton convales, Knights of Sherwood Forest. Quincy convales, No. 160 were the hosts. Two Quincy applicants, Otto Gelotte and John Ford were initiated beside eight from outside cities.

Miss M. E. Prescott of Federal avenue is spending the holiday with her cousins, the Eben Prescotts of Braintree.

N. H. Savage of Franklin street has accepted a position as manager of the Adams & Pacific Tea company's store on Hancock street.

The Seneca Social club of Franklin street wish to arrange games with other social clubs of Quincy for a series of bowling matches.

James McGraw has been seriously ill with pneumonia at his home on Franklin place for the last week.

Many South Quincy people have purchased land on Federal avenue preparatory to building. A two story house for Miss Mary Connors of Garfield street has been begun.

After a hunt of several hours, Monday evening a horse belonging to the Brown & Greenwell company of South Quincy, reported lost by Frank Goodhue, the driver, was found in Weymouth Landing. His route takes him through Weymouth and Braintree and he was lost in Weymouth. A blanket was the only loss.

Foul play is the theory advanced by friends in explaining the disappearance of 19 year old Hazel Taylor of 10 Rodman street, South Quincy. A weeks inquiry by William Taylor, her father, and a greater search of the hospitals of Greater Boston has failed to produce any trace of the girl.

H. Hammond Pride of New York University is to spend the holidays with his parents 302 Franklin street. The evening school men of the Adams school building gave an entertainment Wednesday night in the school hall for the pleasure and that of their friends who chose to come. The entertainment was almost entirely instrumental and was the source of much enjoyment, closing with the salute to the flag and the singing of America.

WEST QUINCY

Patrick Cain, ticket agent of West Quincy railroad station is in New York to spend the holidays.

A Watch Night service is to be held at the Hall Plains M. E. church the last night of the old year. An especially interesting program has been arranged which will be followed by special services of prayer during the first two weeks in January.

James J. Sullivan of West street is employed by the directors of the Port of Boston as carpenter in that city. Leo Sullivan has returned for the holidays to his home on Copeland street after several months visit in New Hampshire.

The bride was given away by her father Eben Hardy and Mrs. George K. Drew played the wedding march. The ushers were: Fred A. Lloyd, of Somerville, Prof. Robert Henderson, Princeton 12 and Prof. John Cheever, Bates 12 both of Mercersburg, Pa.; George A. Lloyd, Tufts 13, of Somerville and Stuart Walther and William Bullock of Wollaston.

The bride was attired in a costume of duchess satin, draped with Bruges and Duchess lace. She carried a silver bouquet of lilies of the valley. The veil was caught up with clusters of orange blossoms. The maid of honor wore a gown of pussy willow silk over net, with garniture of pink rosebuds. She carried Killarney roses. Christmas decorations were in evidence at the church while palms and potted plants formed a background for the ceremony.

A reception at the Hardy residence on Wollaston avenue directly followed the wedding. Here the happy couple received in front of a bank of evergreen and pinks. They were assisted in receiving by the parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. George K. Drew, the former a brother of the groom. The mother of the bride wore a costume of silver grey crepe meteor and silk net draped with opalescent trimmings. She carried Hadley roses. Pink and green was the color scheme at the house and the dining room decorations of smilax, pinks and Killarney roses was especially effective.

The guests present to the bride were a pendant of sapphires, diamonds and pearls. He presented the best man with cuff links and ushers with pearl scarf pins. The bride's present to the maid of honor was a pendant of pearls and gold dress pins to the flower girls.

The bride is a graduate of Quincy High school, class of 1909, and attended Oberlin College, where she took up music. She has gained prominence as a singer and was a pupil of Rose Stuedes. She has been active in the social life of the community and her departure from Wollaston will cause many regrets. She is the daughter of Eben Hardy, a well known jeweler of Wollaston and Boston.

The groom is a native of Lockport, N. S. and a graduate of Acadia, class of 1911 and Yale 1915. He is at present superintendent of schools at Red Deer, Alberta, where the couple will make their future home. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Locke, of Lockport, N. S. Professor and Mrs. Locke leave Sunday for the west.

The fact that Kansas City, Kansas will close its sixth year of commission government with a surplus of more than $300,000 in the city treasury doesn't necessarily mean anything except the negative virtue of no extravagance. The significant thing is that Kansas City, Kansas has the surplus after having another year of good government—of government that has really taken care of the city.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

Consider, for instance, that in addition to the ordinary conveniences of city life the municipal government is supplying the people of Kansas City, Kansas, with electric light at a little more than half what the people of Kansas City, Mo., are paying.

WOLLASTON

Miss Miriam A. Rhodes has come from Lyndonville, Vermont, to spend the Christmas recess with her family the Albert E. Rhodes of Safford street.

Granville W. Winslow of North Central avenue is spending the week end with his cousin Mrs. P. Warren Cameron of Tewksbury.

Mrs. William E. Rowe, president of the Wollaston Woman's club will be at home informally to club members on New Year's day from two-thirty until five-thirty at her home at 132 Wintrop avenue.

Miss Helen King has come from Dana hall school, Wellesley, to spend the Christmas recess with her mother Mrs. Edgar A. King of Clay street.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Clark and daughter Miss Evelyn Clark have come up from Worcester to spend the week end with Mr. Clark's mother, Mrs. George D. Tripp of North Central avenue.

Miss Marion Moonhouse the well known cellist is to be the soloist all next week with the Boston Ladies orchestra which is to play at the Park Theatre, Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bovingdon, nee King, of Cambridge are receiving congratulations on the birth Dec. 14 of a son who has been named Hugo. Miss Aurelia Merrill is very ill at her home on Fayette street.

A very pretty Christmas party was enjoyed by Miss Corlew's dancing class Dec. 17th, in Unity hall.

The hall was attractively decorated and near the stage were two small Christmas trees. The numbers were a favor German and Malcolm Anthony as Santa Claus handed out the favors from these two chimneys. A bouquet of pinks was presented Mrs. Russell T. Anthony, the organizer of the class, as a mark of appreciation. Cider and doughnuts were served by a committee consisting of Mrs. S. H. Couch, Mrs. Clarence Thorne, Mrs. Aylmer Hatch and Mrs. Emerson.

There were 212 children on the floor at the Christmas party of Miss Corlew's afternoon dancing classes, in Wollaston Masonic hall Saturday afternoon, which closed the first term. The second term opens the first week in January.

QUINCY POINT

Mrs. S. B. Collins of Amesbury is spending the winter in Quincy with her daughter Mrs. A. L. Whitman of Thompson street.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Nolan of Belchertown are spending the week end with their daughter Mrs. A. L. Whitman of Thompson street.

Miss Ruth Elizabeth of Billings street is on a ten days' visit to relatives in Springfield.

Mrs. William C. Blunt of Ocean street is confined to her home by illness.

Friends of Miss Elizabeth J. Glover of Atlantic street, will be glad to know that she is convalescing after a severe attack of the grip.

Miss Grace Cook Parker has come from Lincoln, New Hampshire to be with her family the Theodore Parkers of Russell street for the Christmas recess.

Miss Ruth Elizabeth of Barclay of Russell street entertained her friends Saturday afternoon in observance of her eighth birthday. Music and dancing were enjoyed. Games were played, the children being assisted by Eleanor Phillips, Gladys Barclay and Florence Priest. Those present were Edna Jackson, Marguerite and Marie McBurnie, Bethan Lovett, Helen Gardner, Marjorie Forsythe, Grace Croxy, and Mildred Barclay of Roxbury. Mrs. Barclay received many gifts.

Miss Ruth W. Parker came on from Brooklyn, New York, Wednesday to spend ten days with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Parker of Russell street, Atlantic, will spend the week end at Cotuit with relatives. Wednesday with the other members of the Onitla Club with which she is affiliated she helped in the distribution of presents to 10 children.

Miss Rita Robinson of Glover avenue will be the holiday guest of Miss Isabelle Healey, of Providence, R. I. Miss Robinson is a teacher at the Methuen High school at Methuen.

Susan Alexander, widow of Daniel Alexander, died Tuesday at the home of her son, James D. Alexander of 140 Main street. She was in her 81st year. Besides her son she leaves one daughter who lives in Albany, N. Y.

The pen used by Mayor Campbell in signing the order appropriating $10,000 for a new school house in Ward six is to be presented to Councilman Beman of Atlantic.

THE GREAT WHITE SLAVE PLAY "LITTLE LOST SISTER"

As Dramatized from the famous book of Virginia Brooks

Will be

